With its beautiful beaches, historic parks, popular R-Centers and a prodigious line-up of summer events, there is something for everyone to enjoy. The City of Rochester’s summer recreation line-up offers so many opportunities to get out and take advantage of the warmer months while learning something new and exploring our city.

From scenic trails to historic sites, the City’s many parks are sure to delight outdoors enthusiasts and history buffs alike. Many feature sports fields, playgrounds, picnic areas and rental lodges, making them the perfect place to play sports or host a family event. City pools, spray parks and beaches provide a fun, safe way to learn to swim, join a swim team or just beat the heat.

The City’s many R-Centers are jam-packed with programs and activities that inspire people of all ages to stay fit, be creative, learn something new and make friends along the way. R-Center offerings include magnet day programs for youth that focus on the arts, science, technology, sports, nature and the environment. R-Center ArtSmart and Youth Sports fee-based summer camps offer fun and affordable options for city families. Visitors can also take advantage of R-Center fitness facilities offered at several locations. We’re working hard to create safer neighborhoods, more jobs for our citizens and better educational opportunities for our children and our R-Centers are important resources for strengthening our community.

I invite everyone to make this a summer to remember by taking advantage of all the opportunities we make available. Have a fun, safe and active season!
