By the Clerk—

City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 5, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:
Gentlemen:—I am in receipt to-day of the following communication from the Executive Board:

"E. A. Fisher, Esq., City Engineer:
"Dear Sir:—The Executive Board is in receipt to-day of a communication from the Superintendent of Public Works, calling attention to the necessity of adjusting the grade of the city sewers crossing the canal to conform to the grade contemplated in the improvement of said canal; and the superintendent further states that all these changes must be completed before the 20th day of April, next.

"The Executive Board, therefore, requests you to inform the Common Council of the requirements of the state authorities, to the end that such prompt action may be taken as to meet the emergency thus presented.

"Respectfully,
"THOS. J. NEVILLE,
"Clerk."

The sewers referred to in the above communication, requiring immediate attention, are a 3in.x3 1-2in. sewer in Spring alley, which must be lowered under the canal a depth of about one foot; and a 24-inch cast-iron pipe sewer which crosses West avenue and the Erie canal a short distance west of the West avenue bridge and connects with the sewer in Elizabeth street, which must be lowered to about the same extent.

I am having plans made for this work, and will be able to present ordinances for them at your next meeting, if so directed.

The other sewers referred to are at South St. Paul street, Exchange street and one between Lyell avenue and Smith street. The sewer in South St. Paul street will be abandoned upon the completion of the new Griffith street overflow sewer; and that portion of the sewer in Exchange street which crosses under the Erie canal will be constructed at the time the new Exchange street bridge is built. The work of lowering this sewer on the north side of the canal should be done as soon as definite plans of the bridge are adopted and the exact grade is known, so that when the work of constructing the bridge is commenced there will be no delay to the work of the bridge in waiting for the construction of this portion of the sewer. The sewer between Lyell avenue and Smith street is an old abandoned sewer. Nothing will be required at this point. There remains at present, therefore, only two sewers to take care of, viz.: Spring alley and West avenue. Will you please give me such instructions as you see fit as to how this work shall be done.

Yours very truly,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Adams—

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Joint Committee appointed to consider the claims for damages to water rights, beg leave to recommend a settlement of the claim of Cora J. Trimmer at the sum of $1,800. We have estimated the future damages to this property upon the same basis as the settlements made in the cases of Henry E. Boardman and William Hamilton and the amount thus calculated is $1,896.22. We do not believe, however, that the situation of the Trimmer property is the same as that of the Hamilton and Boardman property. The former is vacant property while the latter is occupied by valuable mills. In the former, the damages are the difference in the values of the land by reason of the acts of the city, while in the latter they are the difference not only in the value of the land but in the value of the structures upon the same. We therefore have decided to recommend $1,000 as the amount to be allowed for future damages. This estate also has a claim for past damages for which suit was brought in 1885. We understand that offers of settlement have been made by the city of the claim for past damages for $800. We therefore recommend in settlement of all past future damages to the Trimmer property the sum of $1800.

Your Law Committee would also recommend the appointment of the following named persons as Commissioners of Deeds.

Henry N. Brayer, Robert B. Brown, John M. Brown, Alvin Block, T. Sanford Campbell, G. G. Campbell, Roswell S. Clark, Percy B. Dutton, William J. Debus, Isaac DeMalle, Henry S. Eldredge, George E. Graves, Frank H. Hovey, Franklin S. Hutchinson, Julius W. Kohler, John Karweick, Canrad Kuehles, William B. Lee, Henry W. Mathews, Emilie A. Major, R. H. Murray, G. L. Meade, Walter H. Ald. Adams gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the Board he would offer to amend rule 6 of the rules of the Board by adding thereto the following: "He may declare the Board adjourned at 11 P. M. until the next appointed regular meeting, when the Board is in session at that hour."

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the Executive Board be, and hereby is, directed to negotiate for the rights of way and lands necessary for the extension of Raines park under final ordinance No. 6,430, adopted at this meeting.

Adopted.

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the Executive Board be, and hereby is, directed to negotiate for the right of way and lands necessary for the extension of Pierpont avenue under final ordinance No. 6,431, adopted at this meeting.

Adopted.

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the Lamp Committee be, and hereby is, directed to place an electric arc lamp on Phelps avenue, between Lake avenue and Fulton avenue, and an arc lamp on Glenwood avenue, corner of Champion street; one on Flower City park, one on Ridgeway avenue, one on Gates avenue where it intersects Deep Hollow gully, one on Sixth street near the Erie canal, one on Locust street west of the gully.

Referred to Lamp and Electricity Committee and City Electrician.

By Ald. Selye—Whereas, The Rochester Railway Company has replaced the octagon poles on Lake avenue by unsightly round cedar poles, contrary to its contract with the people of Lake avenue at the time the change was made from horse to electric power.

Resolved, That a committee comprising the aldermen of the wards through which Lake avenue runs be appointed by the Chair to confer with the officers of the Rochester Railway Company, to the end that any differences between said railway company and the property owners on said street may be adjusted.

Adopted.

By Ald. Selye—Whereas, Under the present city charter it is provided that if walks are not cleared after twenty-four hours' notice, the street superintendent may clean them at the expense of the owner of the premises; and

Whereas, At the end of twenty-four hours the snow has packed down hard, and if in the meantime the weather has moderated the snow becomes ice, thereby making the walks dangerous to walk upon, and the labor of cleaning more difficult and expensive. And

Whereas, The time to clean the walk is immediately after the snow falls, not twenty-four hours afterwards. And

Whereas, Under the present provisions of the charter, another objectionable feature is, that the duty thrown upon the shoulders of the street superintendent is not mandatory, but permissive. And

Whereas, A snow fall is notice enough to the property owner without employing a vast number of sidewalk inspectors to notify the property owner that there is snow on the sidewalk or on the ground. And

Whereas, The sending of bills for work done in cleaning snow and the collection of the same amounts to an enormous cost in the course of the year.

Resolved, That the Charter Amendment Committee be, and hereby is, directed to prepare an amendment to the city charter, providing that it shall be the duty of the street superintendent to cause snow and ice to be removed from sidewalks whenever the same should be done, without notice.

Adopted.

Henry B. Hathaway and Frederick Cook being severally sworn depose and say and each for himself says: That they are the commissioners of Mt. Hope cemetery mentioned in the foregoing report and that they know the contents thereof; that the same is true, except as to those matters alleged upon information and belief and as to such matters they believe them to be true.

Frederick Cook,
Henry B. Hathaway,
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of January, 1897.

THEODORE S. PULVER,
City Clerk.

Received, filed and published.
By Ald. Dewey—
Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with your resolution authorizing the Executive Board to negotiate for the land necessary for the opening of Averill park, the board invited the owners to call at the office and state what price would be accepted for the land. The owners gave a price, which in the opinion of the Executive Board, may be above its market value, and it is, therefore, deemed expedient to suggest that the Corporation Counsel be authorized to commence the usual condemnation proceedings.

Respectfully,
THOS. J. NEVILLE,
Clerk.

Received, filed and published.
By Ald. Dewey—Whereas, No agreement for the purchase of lands necessary to be taken for the opening of Averill park under final ordinance No. 6,426, can be made, therefore,
Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be, and he hereby is directed to take and institute such proceedings from time to time as may be necessary to acquire the lands or right or easement therein necessary for said opening, as provided by section 174 of the city charter.

Adopted.

By Ald. Wilson—

Rochester, N. Y., January 19, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with your resolution authorizing the Executive Board to negotiate for the land necessary for the widening of Columbia park, the Board invited the owner to call at the office and state what price would be accepted for the land. The owner gave a price, which in the opinion of the Executive Board, may be above its market value, and it is, therefore, deemed expedient to suggest that the Corporation Counsel be authorized to commence the usual condemnation proceedings.

Respectfully,
THOS. J. NEVILLE,
Clerk.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Wilson—Whereas, No agreement for the purchase of lands necessary to be taken for the widening of Columbia park under final ordinance No. 6,427 can be made, therefore,

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be and he hereby is directed to take and institute such proceedings from time to time as may be necessary to acquire the lands or easement therein necessary for said widening, as provided by section 174 of the city charter.

Adopted.

By Ald. Cook—

Office of Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—At a meeting of the Executive Board held January 15, 1897, a resolution was adopted requesting the Common Council to authorize the City Treasurer to pay the guaranty due on the following named improvement:

East avenue brick pavement, O. No. 4,395; contractor, William H. Jones & Sons, assigned to Central Bank. Guaranty expired October, 27, 1896. Amount of guaranty $5,308.80.

Respectfully,
THOMAS J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be and he hereby is directed to pay to Central Bank, assignee of William H. Jones & Sons, contractors for East avenue brick improvement, ordinance No. 4,395, the sum of $5,308.80, being the amount retained by the city of Rochester as security given by said contractors for the repair and maintenance of said improvement for five years; said guaranty period having expired October 27, 1896, and the Executive Board having certified the same to be in good order.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Cook, Pauckner, Kelly, Stimmelnk, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—19.

By Ald. Ford—

City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I beg leave to submit the following report relative to a first ordinance introduced at this meeting for repairing and rebuilding the stone cover of the Scott alley and Spring alley sewers across the Erie canal.

This ordinance has been prepared in compliance with a resolution of your honorable body adopted at your last meeting, providing for lowering the sewer crossing the canal at Spring alley as required by the Superintendent of Public Works.

A careful examination of the sewer was made and it was found that the requirements of the Superintendent of Public Works could be met and the efficiency of the sewer not impaired by removing the present semicircular stone arch and substituting a flat stone cover, without lowering the bottom of the sewer.

As the sewer was found badly obstructed by deposits of sand and gravel, the cleaning from Spring street to West Main street is included in the proposed ordinance.

Yours respectfully,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

By the Clerk—

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Permit me to call your attention to the fact that the work of the East Side Sewer Commission is practically at an end, and has been for some months. It would seem that such work as may be necessary to finish up the contracts and complete the sewer in all respects could be done under the supervision of the City Engineer and Executive Board, thus making a direct saving to the people. I can see no good reason why this commission should longer continue in existence, and I would suggest to your honorable body that you request them to show cause at once why they should not turn over their affairs to the city and adjourn without day.

Respectfully yours,
ALVIN H. DEWEY.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the East Side Sewer Commissioners be and they hereby are requested to show cause before this Council, at its next regular meeting, why they should not transfer their affairs to the city and adjourn without day.

Adopted.

By Ald. Cook—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that at present we have no bonds from the several banks holding the general funds of the city. I referred this subject several times to the former chairman of the Finance Committee, but from pressure of more important business, he no doubt inadvertently omitted to attend to the same. If agreeable to your honorable body, I will obtain sealed proposals from the several banks now holding the general funds of the city, as to what rate of interest they will pay on the same the present year, and submit said proposals to the Finance Committee for their inspection and instructions. I would suggest that the bonds from the banks be those of some approved guaranty companies, rather than the personal ones of their respective directors.

The expense of such a bond would be very small and I think the directors would be pleased to be released from the personal liability.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS, Treas.

Received, filed and published, and referred to Committee on Finance.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the Treasurer be instructed to procure sealed proposals from the several banks now holding the general funds of the city, as to what rate of interest they will pay for the money the present year, and submit said proposals to the Finance Committee, as soon as possible, for their instructions; said proposals to state if a personal bond, or a guaranty company's bond, will be given the city for the safe keeping of the funds.

Adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

By Ald. Dewey—

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

The petition of the undersigned, Henry B. Henderson, captain commanding the Eighth Separate Company, N. G. S. N. Y., L. Bordman Smith, captain commanding the First Separate Company, N. G., S. N. Y., and Edward N. Walbridge, lieutenant commanding the Second Separate Naval Division, respectfully represents to your honorable body,

First. That the organizations named are duly constituted portions of the National Guard and Naval militia of the state of New York, and are the only bodies, members of such National Guard and Naval militia, stationed in the city of Rochester.

Second. That the said companies and division are now quartered in the New York state arsenal, so called, the building being situated facing Wood street, in said city, and bounded on the easterly side by South Clinton street; on the southerly side by Monroe place, and on the westerly side by South street.

Third. That said arsenal building was constructed in or about 1866, at an approximate cost, including the site, of $80,000, and is now the property of the state of New York.

Fourth. That the building has ever since been occupied as an armory by the local organizations of the militia of the state; that it has not been substantially improved and that it is now wholly inadequate to the demands of the service as it exists, and especially for the drill of the three bodies named, under the modern system of tactics.

Fifth. That your petitioners and the members of the organizations which they command, are united in the belief that it is necessary to the fullest efficiency of the organizations named that a new and modern armory be provided at the earliest moment. Your petitioners have consulted with many members of the legislature of the state, representing districts within this county and elsewhere and feel assured that an act providing for the transfer to the city of Rochester of the present arsenal property, upon condition that the city shall purchase and deed to the state a suitable site for a new armory, would be favorably received and would become a law.

Sixth. Your petitioners further represent that the value of the land occupied by the said arsenal has greatly appreciated, since its purchase by the state, and that, if assessed upon the same basis as is adjacent property, the amount of the assessment for the land would be approximately $25,000, while its actual value is not less than $35,000. The building is still in good repair, and while inadequate to the needs of the organizations named, would be useful for many other purposes. Your petitioners are informed that the building is fairly worth $40,000 making the total value of the arsenal property $75,000.

Seventh. Your petitioners believe that a suitable site for a new armory can be purchased for a sum far less than this, to wit, for not more than $35,000 and that, if the sanction of your honorable body is given, an exchange may be effected with the state, whereby the city may become the owner of the fee of the arsenal property, for no other or greater consideration than the cost of such site.

Eighth. Your petitioners, in common with other citizens, believe that the time is near at hand when it will be necessary for the city that a high school be provided for the use of the people of the East Side, and they are convinced that no site for the purpose could possibly be secured which would offer so many advantages and would cost so little. They are also convinced that, pending the time when the erection of such a school building is deemed desirable the present arsenal building would be of great public advantage, if owned by the city, as it would offer a meeting place for conventions, and other large gatherings and would permit the city to bid for these. At the same time, your petitioners believe that the building would be a source of large income to the city, as it is in constant request for many purposes.

Wherefore, Your petitioners pray that your honorable body will take such action as is deemed fit to make possible the presentation to the proper authorities of the state of a proposition looking to such an exchange, in order that legislation may be had to that end. And your petitioners will ever pray.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Last summer I petitioned Alderman Pauckner to have an electric light put in on the north side of Highland avenue, nearly midway between South avenue and Mount Hope avenue, but as yet the lamp has not been put in. Mount Hope avenue and South avenue have been improved during the last summer with a new pavement, and there are electric lights on both these streets, but no light on Highland avenue between South avenue and Mount Hope avenue. This part of Highland avenue is densely shaded, and on the grounds of Mr. Warner is a dense mass of shrubbery, which furnish a hiding place for foot-pads and other criminal characters to such an extent that it is not safe for a man or woman to pass that way at night. This is a rendezvous for bad characters. An electric light at this locality would remedy the evil. At the time I called attention to this matter before, I enclosed an account from the Democrat and Chronicle of a case of assault in this spot.

Allow me, therefore, to petition again that an electric light be put in at the point indicated. In case you comply with my request, I should be glad to be consulted before the light is put in, since Mr. Warner has mapped a street, not yet constructed, about midway between South and Mount Hope avenues, opening on Highland avenue, at the corner of which street this new lamp should be located.

Hoping this may receive your attention, I remain,

Yours truly,

CHAS. A. GREEN.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Cook—

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your finance committee begs leave to present the following report on the salary question for your consideration.

In fixing the salaries under the direct jurisdiction of this council, your committee has taken into consideration the prevailing hard times; the stagnation of business; the necessity for retrenchment on all sides, and the increased purchasing power of money. While material reductions are recommended we are of the opinion that they are warranted for the above reasons, and that no injustice will be done any of the city employees. The total reduction which will be effected, if the recommendations of your committee be adopted by your honorable body will amount to $9,735.

A decrease in the salary of the city treasurer from $4,500 to $4,000 is recommended, with the understanding that the city will pay for his bond, the net reduction in his salary thus effected being about $300.

Your committee feels warranted at this time in asking your honorable body to join with it in the recommendation to the executive board and the police commission, that salaries in their departments be also reduced, so far as may be consistent with the good maintenance of the different departments. We do not, however, believe in the reduction in the salaries of either the patrolman or the ordinary fireman. While we do not presume to dictate to these departments, yet we are satisfied that considerable money can be saved to the taxpayers by a reduction of salaries in those departments; and we trust that the gentlemen having the funds of these departments under their control will deem it wise and for the best interests of the city that a most careful revision of their salary list be made.

While we are of the opinion that no excessive salaries are being paid, yet the condition of business and of the city's finances is such that we feel keenly the necessity of retrenchment on all sides in order that the people may not again be burdened with such an excessive tax rate as that of the year just past.

We, therefore, recommend that the executive board and the police commission be requested by this council to revise their salary list and make such reductions as they in their judgment may deem wise and justifiable.

Your committee recommends that the salaries of the various officials and employes whose compensation is under the immediate jurisdiction of the common council be fixed as follows for the fiscal year of 1897:

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council: Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee begs to report as follows upon the various matters referred to it by your honorable body, for its consideration and investigation:

In relation to the resolution of the Executive Board to your honorable body requesting that the sum of $13,000, being the amount advanced from the Water Works Fund for the payment of the Boardman claim for damages as per resolution of your honorable body, be credited back to that fund, we would suggest that after due investigation and consultation with the members of the Executive Board that the request be denied.

In the matter of the application of the West Side sewer commission for additional time for the payment of the claim of the city against them of $25,000, your committee finds that the bond of the commission falls due the 24th of next month. The commission were anxious to have an extension of time, as they desired to use all available funds on hand for the extension of some much needed work on the sewer. It seemed to your committee, however, that the city had carried the loan long enough, and should have its money. So far the city has made a trifle over $800 on the transaction, but at the present time your committee felt that the Treasurer would not be warranted in renewing the loan. At the suggestion of the Treasurer the committee has made arrangements with five of the city's banks of deposit to take $5,000 each, thus giving the city its money for immediate use, and not embarrassing the West Side Sewer Commission in any respect. This plan meets with approval of the City Treasurer and the Corporation Counsel, and we would respectfully recommend that the Treasurer be authorized to close the transaction at once.

The application of the Park Board for an advance of $5,000, from the Maintenance Fund and in anticipation of the tax levy, was duly considered. After due investigation and consultation with members of the Board, your committee is of the opinion that an allowance of $2,000 at his time would be ample and would therefore recommend that the city's note be issued for that sum in anticipation of the tax levy.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
HENRY G. COOK,
M. B. ADAMS,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
JOSEPH C. WILSON,
J. MILLER KELLY,
Finance Committee.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the request of the Executive Board that the Water Works Fund be reimbursed to the amount of $13,000, paid from said fund to Henry E. Boardman in settlement of his claim for damages to water rights on Honeoye creek, or that $13,000 be placed to the credit of the Sinking Fund, be and the same hereby is denied.

Adopted.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is directed to surrender to the West Side Sewer Commission the certificates of indebtedness issued by the commission now held by him to the amount of $25,000, as collateral for the payment of city's bond for a like amount, on receipt of the sum of $25,000 and interest from January 1, 1897; that the Treasurer apply the amount so received to the payment of the bond known as the West Side Sewer Bond, due February 24th, issued by the city in aid of the West Side Sewer Commission, under authority of a resolution adopted by this Common Council June 11, 1895.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 26, 1896

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval so much of the finance committee's report, and the resolution adopting the same, as fixes the salary of the city electrician at $600 a year, for the following reasons:

The city electrician is paid for his services as such $600. He is also paid by the executive board $2,100 as superintendent of the fire alarm system. In addition to this he paid $3,000 a year by the state for services rendered to electrical inspectors, his services beginning July 20, 1896, making in all $5,700. In addition the executive board pays $1,200 for the services of an assistant superintendent of the fire alarms.

The statute under which the city electrician receives a salary from the state, provides that his services shall be at the disposal of the state whenever called upon. No matter how much his services be needed by the city in the performance of the duties of his offices here, even if our fire alarm system should be so seriously injured that it needed his immediate attention yet if the state should call upon him, he would have to leave the city's service to perform the duties required of him by the state, leaving the city's business to be attended to, as it has been done in the past, by the assistant superintendent.

The duties of the city offices and that of the state are inconsistent with each other. He should select which one he will fill. In the office of the superintendent of fire alarms and city electrician we should have a person whose time the city could command at any and all times, and not be compelled to wait for him to first get through with the duties of his state office. It will not be assumed that the state pays $3,000 for services without expecting a fair return therefor. And if his services were worth but $2,700 a year to the city when the city was entitled to all his time, how much less is it worth when the state has the first right to his services at a salary of $3,000. In the absence of the city electrician and superintendent of fire alarms from the city, all the work is performed by his assistant and the several linemen in the city's employ. If the city electrician and superintendent should devote all of his time to the city's service there would be no need of an assistant.

The salary of the city electrician should be reduced to a mere nominal sum, and the executive board should also reduce the salary paid by them a considerable sum, if he still retains the position in the employ of the state.

Very respectfully,
 GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.
 Received, filed and published.

Ald. Adams moved that the communication lie on the table until the regular meeting of February 16th and that the subject matter thereof be referred to the Finance Committee. Carried.

By the Clerk—
 Mayor's Office,
 Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval so much of the report of the finance committee, and the resolution adopting the same, which fixes the salary of the city treasurer, for the following reasons:

The salary of the city treasurer is reduced from $4,500 to $4,000, which would seem to be a saving to the city of $500. The committee say, however, "The reduction is made with the understanding that the city will pay the expenses of his bond, the net reduction in his salary being about $300." To arrive at this reduction of about $300 it is evident that the costs of the bond is fixed at about $200, which taken from the former salary of $4,500 would leave the treasurer's salary $4,300, now reduced to $4,000, being the reduction of $300 named. The finance committee could have ascertained the exact amount of the treasurer's bond and the cost thereof, and stated the same in their report. I am unable to say by an examination of this report what the amount of the treasurer's bond will be, or what the expense of paying for the same will be to the city of Rochester.

The bond now required of the city treasurer is $100,000. If it is the intention of the finance committee that the city should pay the charges for procuring such a bond from a guarantee company, then the expense to the city of securing the bond will be $1,000, making the expense to the city as follows:
 For salary $4,000 00
 For bond 1,000 00

Total $5,000 00
 Or an increase in the expense of $500 a year. If the bond should be for $50,000 then the expense will be $500, and there will be no saving to the city.

I am not willing to approve of this portion of the report until I am informed as to what the expense of procuring this bond for the city treasurer will be, as if it is going to increase the cost of the office, I should not be in favor of the same.

Very respectfully,
 GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.
 Received, filed and published.

Ald. Adams moved that the communication lie on the table. Carried.

By the Clerk—
 Mayor's Office,
 Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval so much of the finance committee's report and the resolutions adopting the same, that fixes the salaries of the civil service boards and the secretary thereof, for the following reasons:

The salary of the secretary is reduced from $500 to $300, or 40 per cent.; the members of Part Two from $300 to $200, or 33 1-3 per cent., and of Part One from $100 to $75 or 25 per cent.

The average reduction made by the finance committee on all the salaries under their jurisdiction is 8 1-2 per cent., and it varies from 5 per cent. on the salary of the corporation counsel to 17 per cent. on the salary of his stenographer, this being the largest decrease outside of the civil service board and the clerk of the plumbing board.

The entire salary drawn by the seven gentlemen composing the civil service board is but $1,700. This is proposed to be reduced $575, or a reduction of between 29 and 30 per cent. If this percentage of reduction had been carried out in all the salaries, a considerably larger sum would have been saved than has been. Why this particular board was selected as the one in which to make the largest reduction is not stated by the finance committee.

From a thorough knowledge of the work performed during the past year by this board and the secretary, I can say that double the salary paid them last year would not have compensated them for the time necessarily spent in the performance of the duties of their offices. What has been said of last year applies with equal force to the present year. A large examination is being finished, for all positions under the educational department of the city; and examinations will be held next month for positions under the police and fire departments, and it will be necessary to hold a number of other examinations during the present year, which will occupy the members and secretary a considerable period of time. A complete record of these examinations must be kept by the secretary, and all certificates to the appointing powers are made by him. The duties of the secretary require of him a large amount of labor. In the various examinations held the members of these boards unite and are assisted by the secretary.

Any one familiar with the workings of the civil service board of this city will say that the salaries paid are very small. If the finance committee had thoroughly understood the amount of work required of them they would not have reduced the salaries.

I also return without my approval the resolution reducing the salary of the secretary of the plumbing board from $400 to $120.

In my opinion before so large a reduction was made the party affected thereby should have been given a hearing; this I understand was not done. The secretary claims that the annual report does not show all the work done by him, as it only shows six meetings, when there were twenty held, and that he is required to do considerable work in addition to that required at the meetings. The reduction is so large I have concluded to disapprove it so as to enable the finance committee to give the party a hearing if they so desire.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

Ald. Adams moved that action on the matter disapproved by the Mayor be postponed until the regular meeting of February sixteenth. Carried.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I return to you without my approval the resolutions awarding the printing to the Democrat and Chronicle, Post-Express, and Union and Advertiser, for the following reasons:

A year ago, after a careful examination of the subject, the printing resolutions were vetoed on the ground that bids should have been solicited for the same, involving as it did the expenditure of several thousand dollars. The veto was sustained, and the common council thereby placed themselves on record as in favor of soliciting bids therefor. I see no reason why the same rule should not be adopted at the present time, and all the papers given a chance to compete therefor. A large amount of immaterial reports and matter are printed which are of no benefit to any one, and the same should be therefore printed as cheaply as possible. Reference is made to the several communications in reference to the printing filed a year ago for additional reasons why bids should be solicited for the same.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Adams moved that action on the resolutions disapproved by the Mayor be postponed until the next regular meeting. Carried.

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I desire to call your attention to the veto of the resolution authorizing a committee to visit the cities of New York and Buffalo, and the action taken in reference thereto.

This veto was filed with the clerk before the meeting of December 29, 1896. It was presented at that meeting, and action on the resolution disapproved was postponed one week. On January 5, 1897, action thereon was postponed two weeks; on January 19th action thereon was again postponed until your next meeting.

The charter provides: "That when a veto is filed with the clerk the common council must proceed to consider the same at either the next meeting, or at such a time as may be designated by it." The next meeting was December 29, 1896, the veto was not voted upon at that time, but the common council availed themselves of the provision of the charter, and postponed action thereon until the meeting of January 5th, thereby designating that as the time at which action upon the veto should be taken. By once fixing the time at which this veto should be considered, the common council exhausted all the powers conferred upon them by the charter in relation thereto. By not bringing the same to a vote on January 5th, the veto was then sustained and postponement of the same again to a future date was void.

If the common council can postpone action on a veto from meeting to meeting, then they can by such a method deprive the veto power of all force and effect. Such a course has been adopted by the common council in the past; but in the future I shall take the position that vetoes must be acted upon at the times provided for in the charter, or else they will be treated as sustained, and so considered in all future action in reference to the matters disapproved by the vetoes.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval final ordinance No. 6,432, for the extension of Dartmouth street, for the following reasons:

The land proposed to be taken is a strip forty feet in width, extending from Thayer street to Park avenue, and two on Thayer street. The persons owning these lots do not desire this extension, and they will not be benefited thereby. They are not responsible for the fact that the sides of their lots will adjoin this extension, yet by the terms of the proposed ordinance a portion of the expense of this extension will be assessed against these four lots. This extension will be of no practical use unless a further ordinance is passed for the grading and paving of the same, and provision made for curbs and sidewalks thereon. The expense of this latter improvement will have to be borne entirely by the owners of these four lots. They will not only be compelled to pay for the extension, but also for the entire expense of the improvements thereon. This is not fair or equitable. The persons desiring this improvement and who will be benefited by the opening and the expense of the improvement thereof should pay for the same.

In my opinion the ordinance should be amended by leaving out the four lots from the territory to be assessed for the opening, and also providing that the expense of improving the same should not be borne by them. The first ordinance provided for the grading of the extension, the setting of the curbs and the building of sidewalks thereon, at the expense of the whole territory to be assessed. Some such provision should be made in the present ordinance, and justice would then be done to all parties.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 28, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

The total amount of the salaries under the jurisdiction of the common council, and which were reported upon at your last meeting, was about the sum of $115,000, on this amount a reduction was made of $9,735, or eight and one-half per cent. This reduction varies from five per cent. of the salary of the corporation counsel, to sixteen per cent. of his clerk's, and seventeen per cent. of his stenographer's; the executive board, eight and one-half per cent.; city physicians, ten per cent.; municipal court judges, seven per cent.; stenographers, eleven per cent.; city clerk, ten per cent.; messenger, sixteen per cent.; city engineer, seven per cent., and various other reductions. To find the reasons for these various reductions we find from an examination of the report of the finance committee that it states, "We are of the opinion that no excessive salaries are being paid, yet the condition of business and of the city's finances is such that we feel the necessity of retrenchment, and that your committee in fixing the salaries has taken into consideration the prevailing hard times, stagnation of business and the increased purchasing power of money."

Starting out with the reasons stated by the committee as a guide, I respectfully submit that there is no justice or equity in the various reductions made. There is not the slightest pretense or claim made that the salaries were reduced for the reason that the various officials affected by the reduction were not earning their former salaries, and that the sums to which the reductions have been made actually represent the value of their services to the city. We can examine the report of the committee on these points, but the examination will be in vain as no such thing is set forth, but on the contrary, the committee has stated that no excessive salaries have been paid. Just why the salary of one official drawing five hundred dollars should be reduced two hundred dollars, or forty per cent., and an official drawing five thousand dollars should be reduced two hundred dollars, or five per cent., while a stenographer is reduced from nine hundred dollars to seven hundred and fifty dollars, or seventeen per cent., and a clerk from twelve hundred dollars to one thousand dollars, a reduction of sixteen per cent., or the members of the executive board from thirty-five hundred dollars to thirty-two hundred dollars, a reduction of eight and one-half per cent., and numerous other such instances, the report of the committee informs us, and we find, therefore, from that it is on account of the "prevailing hard times and increased purchasing power of money."

Taking these as the reason, it is clearly apparent that the prevailing hard times did not affect all our officials upon the same basis; yet the committee make the same reduction upon a four thousand dollar salary as upon a five hundred dollar salary, the prevailing power of the four thousand dollar salary must be considerably more than the five hundred dollar one, yet this is one of the reasons why the same reduction should be made on each salary. What the committee meant was that the two hundred dollar reduction from each salary represented the same amount of purchasing power, and for that reason the reduction was made.

The two salaries mentioned have been used as an illustration, but the report is full of just such inconsistencies. There is another fact that the report is silent upon, and that is why the salaries of all the officials were not reduced. After an examination of the report, we find that a number of salaries have not been reduced, the reason why is not stated. The purchasing power of their salaries must be the same as the rest of the officials', and the prevailing hard times is just as good a reason for their reduction as in the others. The reduction cannot be justified by reason of the facts stated. If, as a matter of fact, the salaries have been reduced for other reasons, that should have been stated. The only logical reduction, and the only one which can be justified by the report of the committee, is one that would be uniform, and one that would affect all the employes under the jurisdiction of the common council. Taking the reasons as given by the committee, a reduction of ten per cent. on all salaries under two thousand dollars, and of fifteen per cent. on all over two thousand dollars would be better, such a reduction would have resulted in twice the saving to the city. If there are any reasons why some of the smaller salaries should not have been reduced, such reasons should have been stated in the report. A careful examination of the report shows that the officials with the smaller salaries fared worse in the reductions than the officials with the large salaries.

The only reasons why salaries should be reduced are either that the salaries of the officials have been practically too much (and the reduction then should have been made to such a sum as would fairly compensate them for the services rendered by them), or if it is made for the reasons assigned by the committee, then the reduction should have been a uniform one upon all of the employes.

A number of the employes of the city are drawing salaries which are too large, while others receive but a fair compensation for the services they have rendered. Take, for instance, the municipal court judges and their employes; from a long experience in that office, and being perfectly familiar with the work required of the judges and their employes, and the time necessary to be spent in the examination of the cases after they are tried, I am satisfied that the salaries paid to the members of the court are none too large. To properly fit them for the duties of judges, as in the case of the teachers in our schools, a number of years of careful study and preparation is necessary in order to qualify them for the duties of their office, and in the salary of such officials this is a fact to be taken into consideration in fixing their salaries.

I have concluded to approve most of the changes rather than to veto them, but I place my approval upon the ground that the reductions in a large number of cases can be placed upon the reason that the salaries paid before were too large. The matter should be further investigated by the common council.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

Should you order the payment of this account at to-night's meeting, it will be necessary to issue the city's note for that amount. While the credit balance in the Water Works Fund is all right, it is simply a book credit, represented by taxes outstanding. We have not the cash in the General Fund to pay the amount of the order.

To the Finance Committee:

Gentlemen:—The claim of J. G. Wagner for $786 is hereby approved at $672, as final.

The further investigation of this claim, confirms me in the conclusion stated in my communication of November 30, 1896, to the Common Council, that it is much in excess of what should be justly paid.

In making this allowance, I have, in order to avoid possible injustice to the claimant, based upon the highest estimates then obtained as therein referred to, while this might possibly be materially modified, and a lesser amount allowed, in view of lower estimates then submitted and others supplemental since yet as the figures adopted have been re-affirmed by the same party, without modification as a fair and just estimate, I have considered the same as a basis for the allowance made.

The amount approved is in my opinion all that can be established as a valid claim upon the city.

Respectfully,
A. S. MANN,
Auditor.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I am directed by the Executive Board to inform your honorable body that it will be necessary to make provision for replenishing the Highway Fund to the amount of at least $20,000 or such amount as will be necessary to carry on the work of the department until the appropriations for the ensuing year are determined and fixed.

The following brief statement will show the amounts expended since the first of the year:

Balance to the credit of the Highway Fund on Jan. 1st.....	$ 584 08
Appropriation advances by the Common Council	20,000 00
	$20,584 08

Disbursements for pay roll, Jan. 8,	$3,757 91
Disbursements for pay roll, Jan. 15th.....	3,800 71
Disbursements for pay roll, January 22	3,818 00
Common Council, miscellaneous expenditures ...	3,722 26

$15,098 88

Balance $5,485 20

I am also directed to state that it will be necessary to provide the estimated sum of $16,000 for the Fire Department as the pay roll for the current month will require about that amount as follows:

The balance in this fund, January 1st was, $1,266 99.

The budget for the month of January including the pay roll is $17,119 99.

It will, therefore be seen that the sum of $16,000 is needed to meet the current expenses this month. Aside from the miscellaneous expenses, the Fire Department monthly pay roll is $14,700, so that some provision should also be made for the month of February if there is a possibility that the annual appropriations shall not be determined by the first of March.

Respectfully,

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The Executive Board authorizes me to inform you that they are in receipt of a communication from the Corporation Council stating that all the necessary releases have been executed by William Hamilton for damages to water rights or otherwise to property owned by him at Honeoye Falls and recommending that the sum of $15,600 be paid for such damage; and that the Clerk of the Executive Board draw an order on the City Treasurer for said amount in accordance with the terms of a resolution adopted by your honorable body on November 10, 1896.

The Executive Board respectfully suggests, that it will be inexpedient to pay that sum from the Water Works Fund unless the said fund will be subsequently reimbursed for the amount so taken for the payment of this account.

In view of the fact, that the expenditure for the care and maintenance of the Water Works system for the current year is to be met by the income for a shorter period, owing to a change in the fiscal year made by law; it is, therefore, deemed inadvisable to pay this amount from the proceeds or income of the Water Works system, as the payment of such a sum may create a deficiency in the fund after meeting the necessary expenses of the current year.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Aid. Cook—

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In relation to the veto of his honor the Mayor affecting the salary of one O'Kane, appointed Clerk of the Examining Board of Plumbers, which veto is now before your honorable body for consideration, your committee feels warranted in offering the following explanation of its action. In the consideration of the salaries of the different city officials, each and every one was given careful examination as to the duties which he performed before definite action was taken.

In the matter of the salary of Mr. O'Kane, the committee found upon examination of the annual report of the examining board of plumbers submitted by him, that the expenses of that board have been $940.76 for one year, and the income to the city of Rochester only $40. This naturally led the committee to look into the affair more closely and see where a reduction could be made. Upon examining the law, we found that the salaries of the examiners were fixed in the statute, but that the salary of the clerk was left to the discretion of the appointing power. Mr. O'Kane's salary for last year was $400. The number of meetings held, as per the report submitted by him was only eight, and the total number of people to whom certificates of competency were issued was only four. Taking these facts into consideration, combined with the additional fact that, as the committee saw it, the board held not to exceed twelve or fourteen meetings a year, and the clerical work at each meeting was of minor importance, they felt themselves justified in recommending that the clerk be paid the same salary as the examiners themselves, that is, $120 a year.

This portion of the resolution, however, was vetoed by his Honor, the Mayor. It would seem after reading this veto that the mayor, in his infinite wisdom and his thirst for research and knowledge, must have acquired some information which the committee was not in possession of. Far be it from this committee's desire, and we believe the desire of the common council, to do injustice to any employe of the city in adjusting the salaries for the present year. We believe, however, that we are in possession of sufficient information on this matter to warrant the reduction recommended and adopted by the council, and to the end that we may be in possession of full facts in the case that no injustice be done Mr. O'Kane, we would recommend that the finance committee be directed to summon the examining board of plumbers and their clerk before them, with their books of account and record, and submit to a thorough investigation of the affairs of this board.

We offer this recommendation in a spirit of honesty and in the interests of fair play. If Mr. O'Kane has been reduced beyond a reasonable limit, it should be the duty as it is the pleasure of this committee to rectify any error of that kind. On the other hand, if the information which this committee may possess leads it to believe that even $120 may perhaps be excessive for the duties of this office, the facts in the case should be brought out and the matter submitted to your honorable body for its further consideration.

In the matter of the veto of the Treasurer's salary, your committee is of the opinion that the veto should be sustained by this Council. When your committee adjusted the salary of this official they were under the impression that the bond which he gave the city was costing him $350 a year. We have since learned that the point raised by the Mayor is right and recommend that the veto be sustained.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By Ald. Ford—Whereas, The following state of facts exists:

The premises at the corner of Prospect and Troup streets, assessed to Rebecca J. Frazer, have recently sold at foreclosure sale. The referee who made the sale is desirous of paying at once out of the proceeds of the sale, all the taxes and water rates which stand against the property. The water rates for the period ending December 31, 1896, amounting to $11.74, are unpaid. The sale was made since January 1, 1897, and consequently the Water Works Department are unwilling to receive this money. As the City Treasurer has not yet received the new tax rolls in which the water tax will be included as a part of the city tax, he is also unwilling to receive the money. It is quite important that the referee should make all the payments which the law requires him to make and file his report within a short time, and it is therefore desired, that the Council should authorize the City Treasurer to accept this money now instead of waiting until the tax rolls for 1897, are in his hands; therefore,

Resolved, that the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is authorized and directed to accept at once and give a receipt therefor, the sum of $11.74, being the amount of the water rates upon the premises assessed to Rebecca J. Frazer at the corner of Prospect and Troup streets, which water rates became payable before January 1, 1897, and would otherwise be included in the city tax of 1897.

Adopted.

By Ald. Rauber—Resolved, That the property owners assessed for Scrantom street asphalt pavement, ordinance No. 5,151, be given one year from October 2, 1896, in which to pay their assessments with interest on payments so deferred at 6 per cent. from that date.

Adopted.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the resolution adopted by this Council January 5, 1897 directing that an order be drawn upon the Health Fund for $1,492.76, in favor of the Flower City Reduction Company, be reconsidered.

Adopted.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the aforesaid resolution, directing that an order be drawn upon the Health Fund for $1,492.76 in favor of the Flower City Reduction Company, reconsidered at this meeting be amended to read as follows:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to draw an order on the Treasurer, payable from the Health Fund, for $1,492.76, in favor of Hascal A. Hogel, receiver of the Flower City Reduction Company, being for services rendered in the collection and disposition of garbage for the month of December, 1896, as per contract, said services having been rendered by said company subsequent to the time when said Hogel was appointed receiver for said company.

Adopted.

By the Clerk—
Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

The contract for lighting our city with electricity expires on July 1, 1897. If a contract is made for five years from that date (being the same period for which the present contract was made) it will involve an expenditure of one million dollars, provided the price then paid remains the same as the present one.

It therefore becomes the duty of the common council to begin at once to take all necessary steps to secure for the city as advantageous a contract as possible. To do this, it will be necessary to begin agitating the subject very soon, so as to secure competition.

If bids are solicited by March 1st, it will enable the Citizens' Light and Power Co. to bid and give it ample time in which to increase its facilities if necessary, so that if the contract should be awarded to it, it would be ready to begin its contract on July 1st.

If companies from other places should desire to bid, or if new companies should be organized they could bid with knowledge that they could have until July 1 to perfect their plants. If bids should not be solicited until about the time the present contract expires there might be but one company in a position to bid, and the city might not secure as favorable a contract as it otherwise would if the matter was taken up in time. The subject is of great importance, involving as it does the expenditure of a large sum of money, and it should receive careful attention.

All companies should be placed on an equal footing by soliciting bids by March 1st.

Yours respectfully,
GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.
Received, read and published, and referred to Committee on Lamps and Electricity.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATION OFFICERS, BOARDS AND DEPARTMENTS.

By Ald. Cook—
City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester, N. Y.:
Gentlemen:—As per your directions, I have this day placed with each of the banks named below, West Side sewer bonds to the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

These bonds were delivered to me as Treasurer by the West Side Sewer Commissioners; the proceeds, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to be used in the payment of the city's bond of same amount, which matures February 24th.

I have deposited this money temporarily with the Security Trust Company, where it will draw interest at the rate offered by the banks holding the general funds of the city.

I thought it better to place the funds separate in this manner, than to deposit it in the general fund.

The banks taking these bonds were German-American, Central, Flour City National, Traders' National and Commercial.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS, Treas.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is directed and authorized to deposit the money of the city in the following named banks, and that said banks be required to furnish a bond for fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) given by a surety company, German American Bank, Traders' National Bank, Central Bank, Commercial Bank, Flour City National Bank. Interest to be paid the city at the rate submitted at the last meeting of the Common Council.

Adopted by the following vote:
Ayes—Ald. Tracy, Callhan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Cook, Simmellink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—17.

By Ald. Selye—
City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 28, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I hereby certify that the Executive Board have notified me that the works or improvements authorized under ordinances hereinafter mentioned have been completed; that I have, pursuant to the provisions of the charter, ascertained the entire and aggregate expense of, and connected with the same respectively, including any interest that the city shall incur or is entitled to for the use of its funds, and that the respective amount thereof are as follows:

Ord. and improvement. Expense.
6,329—Thrush street cement walk. $1,707 37
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the resolution adopted by this Council December 8, 1896, appearing at page 717 of the proceedings of 1896, ordering an assessment for Thrush street cement walk and other improvements, be reconsidered.

Adopted.
By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That said resolution be amended by substituting $1,707.37 as the amount to be assessed for the Thrush street cement walk improvement, ordinance No. 6,329.

Adopted.
By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That said resolution as amended be adopted.

Adopted by the following vote:
Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Cook, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—17.

By Ald. Cook—
City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—I hand you herewith communication from the State Comptroller's office in regard to unpaid taxes on state property; also copy of statement sent from this office in reply to same. You will please notice the suggestion in regard to an appropriation to pay these taxes.

Yours respectively,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Comptroller's Office,
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22, 1897
Samuel B. Williams, City Treasurer, Rochester, N. Y.:

Dear Sir:—Quite a number of bills for local improvements in your city, aggregating a large amount, have accumulated in this office. In most cases the notices required by the provisions of section 20, chapter 317, laws of 1894 (which act repealed chapter 435, laws of 1886, although practically re-enacting much of that law,) have been defective. In that said notices did not fully comply with the provisions of the law. It has been ascertained, also, that many, if not all of said bills, include interest charges, which cannot be allowed. It is believed further that bills for sprinkling and cleaning streets cannot properly come under the head of local improvements, within the meaning and intent of the law.

It is deemed highly desirable that some steps be taken towards the final disposition of these matters, hence you are requested to furnish this office with a detailed list of all accounts standing charged to the state on your books, giving net amount of assessments, without any additions in the way of interest, fees, or penalties; locating and fully describing the property assessed, and citing the law under which the assessment is authorized.

The funds now available for paying assessments for local improvements, will not pay one-tenth of the bills that have been received from all over the state, and it is suggested, that when these accounts have been examined and approved by this department, you apply to the Legislature for an appropriation to cover them.

Respectively yours,
WILLIS E. MERRIMAN,
Second Deputy Comptroller.

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 29, 1897.

The following is a list of unpaid taxes and assessments on property in this city, assessed to the state of New York. These amounts do not include any interest.

Office of Superintendent of Schools,
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

Mr. T. S. Pulver, City Clerk:

Dear Sir:—The following estimate was adopted by the Board of Education of this city at a regular session thereof held February 1st inst.:

Respectfully,
MILTON NOYES,
Clerk of Board.

Commissioner Brown, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the following:

FINANCE ESTIMATE.

To the Board of Education:

Gentlemen:—We have been requested by the Finance Committee of the Common Council to prepare and present to it at this time an estimate of the amounts necessary and proper to be raised for the support of the city public schools for the fiscal year 1897.

Accordingly we present herewith such an estimate, and pursuant to your rule 63 report the same for your action.

We have considered the detailed estimates of expenditures for all purposes and believe that the several sums named herein are necessary in the economical operation of our public schools for the current year.

With regard to new buildings and additions, the Board could use to advantage the sum of at least $150,000.

May street annex, Carter street and Lake Avenue annexes need buildings. No. 6 Kindergarten should be built, the present location having been condemned. Schools 17 and 26 require finishing of upper stories; No. 8 on Conkey avenue is so crowded that nearly 100 pupils are in an annex, and that school should have relief; No. 27 is in need of an addition, and No. 25 requires an improvement; Nos. 30 and 28 both need two-room additions; No. 33 needs at least two rooms, while both 12 and 19 require rebuilding. As the latter will cost at least $30,000, it is suggested that an extra appropriation be asked for such purpose, as it would be impossible to do all other work inside the charter limit of $50,000.

Respecting the wants of the Teachers' Fund, the Teachers' Committee has already placed before the Council committee the wants in detail. We cannot recommend any less sum than already asked for.

The Repair Fund is in need of its full limit, $15,000, to make necessary repairs, pay rentals, etc., for the year.

Many school buildings are in a dilapidated condition and the full appropriation here can be used to advantage.

The Library Fund has always a constant call in order to keep pace with the demands of its patrons. Hundreds of books are exchanged daily and new ones are needed to replace those constantly wearing out, in addition to the purchase of new works coming on the market for readers.

The Contingent Fund now remains to be considered. The chairmen of the various committees have given a careful estimate of the wants making up this fund, based on the experience of the past few years, and but little account has been taken for the natural increase in number of pupils which are annually enrolled and attend our public schools.

Increased numbers always involves increased expenses, and our school system, however economically administered, cannot go through the year on the same expenditures that were necessary when only 10,000 pupils attended and twenty schools was the limit in Rochester.

The foregoing are some of the reasons for asking the annual appropriations.

The following are the several amounts so required from the city on behalf of the public schools:

Building Fund.....	$ 50,000 00
Repair Fund.....	15,000 00
Library Fund.....	3,000 00
Teachers' Fund.....	286,000 00
Contingent Fund.....	121,753 00

Total.....$475,753 00

The Contingent Fund wants are made up from detailed estimates furnished to your Finance Committee by the several committees herein named as follows:

Free Academy Fund.....	$ 1,500 00
Supply Fund.....	28,000 00
Text Book Fund.....	4,986 00
Printing Fund.....	3,075 00
Miscellaneous Fund.....	3,210 00
Truant School Fund.....	4,187 00
Salaries.....	45,000 00
Fuel and Fire Fixtures Fund....	31,795 00

Total.....$121,753 00

Annexed hereto is the verified statement of the average number of resident pupils enrolled in the several public schools but once during the last ten school months. We therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That this Board does hereby determine and certify pursuant to sub-division 11 of section 131 of the city charter as amended by section 12 of chapter 777 of the laws of 1896, that the foregoing sums respectively stated and aggregating $475,753 are necessary and proper to be raised by the Common Council of the city of Rochester for the several purposes above set forth in support of the city public schools for the current fiscal year 1897.

Resolved, That a copy of this certificate and estimate be forthwith forwarded to said Common Council.

Respectfully submitted this 1st day of February, 1897.

(Signed) J. M. BROWN,
 (Signed) JAS. F. O'NEIL,
 (Signed) CHAS. H. JUDSON,
 (Signed) VAL STEUERWALD.
 Finance Committee.

The foregoing was adopted.

The following is the statement referred to in the foregoing estimate, as required by subdivision 6 of section 129 of the city charter as amended by chapter 542 of the laws of 1894.

State of New York, Monroe County, City of Rochester—ss.

Milton Noyes being duly sworn says that he is the Superintendent of Public Schools of said city; that the average number per month of resident pupils enrolled but once in the several public schools of said city for the school year (ten school months) ending January 8th inst., is according to the verified monthly reports of the several principals of said schools covering that period, twenty-one thousand nine hundred forty-three (21,943).

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

To the Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen: In reply to your communication of January 22d to the East Side trunk sewer commission, we would say that it has been the desire of the commission to complete its work and disband at the earliest possible date, and should probably have been able to do so this spring except for the additional work already commenced by request of your honorable body in a communication to the commission December 12th, 1896, which must be completed by this commission unless the legislature who erected the commission shall direct otherwise. The expense of continuing the commission is merely nominal, we having no employes or expense of any kind, except the per diem allowance to the commissioners, which is for services already rendered and for the occasional temporary services of a clerk to keep the records of the commission.

While the commissioners would be pleased to be relieved from further duty, we are convinced that the commission must continue to exist until everything pertaining to the completion of the sewer is completed, unless otherwise ordered by the legislature. And in view of the fact that the assessment has not yet been made, we deem it unwise to tamper in any way with the law creating the commission. We have consulted with the corporation counsel and he fully concurs in our opinion. Very respectfully yours,

H. H. EDGERTON,

President East Side Trunk Sewer Commission.

By the Clerk—

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: The Hemlock lake commission beg leave to report as follows:

The law creating this commission is known as chapter 1018 of the laws of 1895, and is entitled "An act to provide for the sanitary protection of the sources of water supply of the city of Rochester by the acquisition by said city of real property and interests therein necessary for that purpose, and by the abatement and removal of sources of pollution."

In and by said act certain commissioners therein provided were authorized and empowered to acquire the title of so much of the watershed of Hemlock lake as was contained in a line drawn 200 feet from high water mark around the lake, and including also lands under water.

For the purpose of carrying out the purposes of said act, the common council of said city was authorized and directed to issue the bonds of said city to be known as the watershed bonds of the city of Rochester, to run for a period not exceeding fifty years, at a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent., and in an amount not exceeding $200,000.

The commissioners provided by said act were appointed by the supreme court on the 8th day of July, 1895, and shortly thereafter duly qualified and entered upon the performance of their duties.

The duties of the commission as expressed in the law were apparently simple. The question before the commission was how to perform those duties most advantageously to the city of Rochester.

Upon investigation it was found that the city had laid its intake water pipes upon property in the bottom of the lake, the title to which it had not acquired; that there were upwards of two hundred cottages, barns, hotels and other buildings on the shores of the lake, and that the construction of more were in contemplation; that parties had been and were actively engaged in buying the vacant land around the lake to sell for cottage lots; that the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company had constructed its road directly to the shores of the lake, thus enabling the public to reach one of the most delightful of lake resorts in only an hour's time from Rochester, and in but a little longer time from Buffalo; that for some time there had been a strong and growing opposition to the city of Rochester's absorbing and retaining for its own use this beautiful inland lake; and that the passage of the law creating this commission made this sentiment more strong and vigorous.

After a careful consideration of these and other matters; after consulting those opposed, as well as those favorable, to what the city proposed; and after conferring with many of the thinking citizens of Rochester, both officials and laymen, the commission reached the conclusion that it was the best policy to pursue a course whereby the city could and eventually would come into possession of all the territory around the lake and within a certain distance therefrom.

To this end the commission proceeded with its work. It was thought that the land at the north end of the lake upon which the intake water pipes were placed should be acquired without delay. This 123 acres of lake bottom was secured. By this purchase the city was protected from a bad featured claim on account of its pipes occupying private property, and it also prevented the north end of the lake from becoming an ice supply for commercial purposes, with its attendant evils.

The existence of the Lehigh Valley railroad to the very edge of the lake, enabling it to land excursionists and travelers upon the shores, seemed to threaten injury to the city's water supply. As a result of friendly interviews and negotiations with the superior officers of that road, they have generously agreed to remove their tracks a little more than 200 feet from the shore of the lake, and allow the city to move the highway which now runs along the north shore, back across their property, outside of the 200-foot limit, and to build a fence on the south side of said highway nearly 200 feet from high water; thus shutting off approach to the water of the lake, and also making it possible to change the course of a polluting stream which now empties into the lake. The nominal cost of removing the railroad tracks is to be a city expense.

In order to arrive at a proper and just price for land around the lake, the commission took into consideration, among other things, the prices for which the land had been bought and sold in years passed, the value of land in the vicinity of other inland lakes, and comparative surroundings and the facilities for reaching the property.

The value of the buildings was arrived at by employing practical and reliable builders, well acquainted with the kind of buildings there. These experts made estimates by actual measurement, and carefully computed the value of the material in every building around the lake. By adding to the figures thus obtained our estimates of the value of the land, we arrived at a basis for negotiation.

The commission were unable to find a reliable map of the lake and land surrounding same, and it was deemed absolutely necessary in order to avoid mistakes and prove the correctness of the work, that a map be made, showing the ownership of all land around and in the bed of the lake; the county, town and lot lines and all data usually shown by such maps.

The city engineer has efficiently rendered all the assistance possible, has detailed a corps from his office to make the surveys and profiles, and is now at work upon the map at his office. The commission has paid for this work, exclusive of the wages of men, and the magnitude of it is such that the necessary expenditure has been considerable.

The titles to land at the lake are found to be very defective. People have apparently purchased, occupied and erected buildings on property to which they had very little, if any, legal title. Defects in titles run back 60 years or more, heirs have to be traced throughout the country, and in some instances money is demanded for quit claims of record title, and in fact, very few properties are found without some flaw in title.

The corporation counsel and his assistants have given valuable aid in these matters; and his office which examines and passes all titles is very exacting; and prudently so, in insisting that every cloud on title be removed before any certificate for payment is issued; no money being paid for land without such certificate. As the property purchased is located in other counties, and all searches of title are made by the city to insure reliability and correctness, the cost of doing this part of the work has been large.

While the law gives the commission the right to condemn property, there has not been a single condemnation proceeding. In consultation with the corporation counsel, the commission was advised that such proceedings are necessarily expensive, and would be unusually so where the property is such a distance from the city.

The commission has found that when exorbitant prices have been asked, by conferring in a friendly and business manner with the prospective seller, comparing the prices of other property with his, and showing him where and in what way he is thought to be unfair in his demands, the property has been purchased at comparatively reasonable prices and the seller apparently satisfied.

All steamers which have been plying upon the lake, carrying excursionists and others, making the lake a popular pleasure resort, a source of much pollution to the water, have been controlled, abandoned and removed from the lake, and in consequence cottage property is not as accessible as heretofore.

The attention of the board of health has been directed to sources of pollution existing at the lake, and the health board rules have been amended and made more stringent, and all amendments suggested by the local board have been thus far approved and passed by the state board.

The amount of garbage collected from the cottages and buildings at the lake has been much reduced; during the year 1896, it was not one-half of what it has formerly been.

The commission desire to say that it has received much valuable assistance from many of the officials of the city, including the chief engineer of the water works department, whose intimate knowledge of all matters connected with his department and the surroundings of Hemlock lake, has made his advice helpful, and has been kindly given whenever asked.

Of the 84,000 feet of lake shore front the commission has purchased about 42,000 feet, so that with the frontage the city previously owned for gate house, etc., gives it over half the front.

There were 123 cottages with their out-buildings, around the lake, and 63 of them have been purchased. There were several hotels, restaurants and cafes, dispensing entertainment to travelers, excursionists and cottagers, all of which have become things of the past, except one, and the business of this one has been greatly reduced.

Of the 1,800 acres in the bed of the lake, 950 have become city property.

For the total purchases about $180,000 will have been expended when all the contracts have been completed.

The purchases thus far made are of the more valuable properties, many of them having been sources of pollution. The remaining portion is not as expensive, and can without doubt be acquired for comparatively less than that heretofore purchased.

A portion of the buildings purchased, a little more than half, have been publicly sold to the highest bidder by the executive board, something over $2,000 having been realized for them, which amount has been transferred to the sinking fund of the city.

The remaining buildings purchased will be ready for sale as soon as the contracts for their purchase have been fulfilled.

The back titles of all land around the lake have been brought down within a few years, and hence the cost for remaining searches will be comparatively small.

The entire lake has been mapped and the surveys nearly completed, and many other expenses to which the commission has been subject in conducting the business will be avoided as it is deemed best to secure the remainder of the land around the lake.

The report here submitted is not final in its character and the commission will from time to time make further reports as the work in hand nears completion.

Respectfully yours,
IRA L. OTIS,
CHAS. T. CHAPIN,
SOL WILE,

Hemlock Lake Commissioners.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council: Gentlemen:—The Citizens Light and Power Company, which is composed of well-known residents of the city of Rochester, and the entire capital stock is owned by its citizens, desire at the proper time to offer to furnish the public streets of the city with electric light.

Understanding that the present contract expires on the 30th day of June next, the Citizens Company respectfully asks that your honorable body give this your earliest consideration so that final action may be taken not later than March first.

It will readily occur to you that the company having the present contract can arrange for a new one on very short notice, but if our company were to be awarded the contract just a short time before the expiration of the present one, we would not be prepared to deliver light to all parts of the city on time; hence, we think it only fair that four months be allowed so as to enable us to procure the additional machinery necessary, and lay the wires, in case we should be ultimately awarded the contract.

It will also readily occur to you that if final action on the subject should be postponed until a day too late to enable us to prepare to fill the contract on time, this de-day would amount substantially to denying us the opportunity to bid for the lighting. The old company would then be in position to say that they, and they only, were prepared to fulfill on short notice, and that company would be substantially the sole applicant. Hope your honorable body will give this your careful consideration.

Very respectfully,

P. V. CRITTENDEN,

President.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

To the Honorable Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee beg leave to submit the following report.

The January salaries of the secretary of the civil service commission, of the members of part II. of the commission, as well as that of the city electrician, were omitted from the budget passed at the last meeting of your honorable body, for the reason that the action of the common council in determining the salaries of these officials had been disapproved by his honor, the mayor.

It has been customary to pay the salaries of these officials monthly, whereas the salaries of the members of part I. of the civil service commission, of the members and clerk of the plumbing board, in respect of which the mayor also interposed a veto of the council's action, have been paid quarterly. Pending action on the mayor's vetoes affecting the salaries of these officials, it was thought advisable to defer payment for the month of January. It is proper to state that this decision to omit the names of Messrs. Benedict, Barnes, Moulthrop, Adams and Elwood from the budget was not reached until after an intimation had been received from his honor, the mayor, that contrary action would be officially disapproved by him.

Since then, however, the secretary of the civil service commission has made an informal demand for his January salary and with the previous assurance of his honor, the mayor, that such action will receive his approval, your committee has decided to recommend the adoption of a resolution for the payment of the January salaries of the secretary of the civil service commission, of the members of part II. of the commission and of the city electrician; such payment to be based upon the compensation of such officials during the year 1896.

On the matter of the salaries to be paid to these officials during the remainder of the year, which has been referred back to the finance committee consequent upon the mayor's veto thereon, your committee expects to be able to present its conclusions at an early date.

Respectfully submitted,

Action on the resolution authorizing the President to appoint a committee to visit different cities being in order, Ald. Selye presented the following:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Common Council:

Several weeks ago to-night with considerable trepidation I introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, The existing charter provision in the matter of the local assessment for local improvements result in hardship in the matter of the assessments to tax payers, in that, under the present requirements, assessments for local improvements are made payable immediately, and in one or two years from the approval of the assessment roll and in three and five years in exceptional cases, and

"Whereas, It is the custom in many cities to give from ten to twenty years in payment of local assessments by the issuance of local assessment bonds, thereby greatly lightening the burdens of those who believe in and realize the benefits of local improvements to property, and

"Whereas, The interest account both of the city at large, and the taxpayers of local assessments can be greatly lightened by a proper charter amendment for such purpose, and

"Whereas, It will require the service of a committee long used to the workings of local assessments.

"Resolved, That the president of this board be, and hereby is, directed to appoint a committee of three, which shall, with the corporation counsel proceed to the city of Buffalo and the city of New York to inquire into the workings of the local assessment laws and assessment bonds provided for in the charter of said cities, to the end that said committee may report back to this board for its consideration an intelligent local assessment charter amendment, that our taxpayers may no longer labor under the disadvantages that they have in the past. Under this resolution, Aldermen Selye, Adams and Crane were appointed as such committee and the president of the board on motion was added to the committee."

This resolution having been shown to and read twice by the then chairman of the finance committee, by the chairman of the charter amendment committee, to the aldermen of the 1st, 8th and 15th wards, and offered to for the purpose of reading to all or nearly all of the aldermen present at said meeting and which in its inception was regularly considered by the law committee of your common council and was passed by this body without a single dissenting voice, has been vetoed by the mayor on the ground that a two-cent postage stamp will furnish all the information we need and he implies that the proposed journey is nothing but a junketing trip. He also says that a perfect charter amendment was drawn up by the charter amendment committee last winter and only failed the governor's signature because it was mixed with a school teacher's amendment of the charter.

Now, Mr. President, as I have said I offered my resolution with considerable trepidation for the reason that one of the most complex things to handle, under our existing financial conditions and even in the abstract, is a charter amendment providing for the issuance of local assessment bonds, which of necessity implies the consideration and amendment of our entire local assessment laws.

The work of the charter amendment committee of last winter to which the mayor refers was but a partial amendment to the laws of 1894, which was but an amendment of the laws of 1882, which again was but an amendment of the assessment law of 1880 and so on down.

The amendment of last winter permits as did the law of 1894 the issuance of local assessment bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 it is too broad in its scope and allows the common council to build anything from a private vault to a reservoir in or outside of the city and there is no limitations to the sum which the common council can spend for any one purpose up to said sum of $1,000,000. The amendment of last winter is fatal in that it makes too easy the spending of the tax payers' money. It should have provided only for the issuance of local assessment bonds for limited purposes, say street improvements and openings and the larger appropriations should go through the slow action of a special legislative enactment that the larger matters be not adopted by snap judgment or at the whims of persons who seem to have no idea of how fast bonded indebtedness aggregates.

Speaking of the amendment prepared by the charter amendment committee last winter, the mayor in his careless, easy-going way of conducting the city's affairs, says: "There was no defect in the local improvement amendment which prevented it from becoming a law, and if it had not been for the mistake in the school bill of the city, the city would have a perfect law in reference to the issuing of bonds for local improvements." He further says: "The committee which prepared this amendment did not find it necessary to travel from city to city to draw a bill, but found material enough at home to prepare a carefully and well devised plan for the issuing of local improvement bonds." Now let us see what this charter amendment founded on material found at home is. It essentially differs only from the enactment of 1894 in that it provides for eight year bonds instead of ten year bonds, and that when it takes less than eight years to pay for an improvement real estate shall not be assessed for more than 5 per cent. of the assessed value thereof. This was defective, for instance, when a strip a few feet wide of a lot is left by a street extension and hence valueless, it would require a small assessment to be extended to an eight year term for the reason such strip assessed at 5 per cent. per annum would take eight or more years to pay the same when perhaps all the rest of the property under the assessment at an annual assessment of 5 per cent. of its assessed value would pay the same in one year, thus making pretenses for long-time payments when short-time only is necessary. The amendment of last winter which the mayor refers to as a "perfect measure," makes no provision for any penalties for non-payment of annual assessments when they become due except that an annual charge of 5 per cent. shall be added to the assessment until paid, which may not be for twenty years or for an indefinite period, for the reason that the tax payers would often find it easier to be the city's creditor at 5 per cent. and invest their money elsewhere at 6 per cent. than pay their assessments. Provisions should be made that at some stated time in the order of payment for assessments, some penalties for non-payment, should be attached for non-payment of assessments else the accumulations under the provided low rate of interest would eventually swamp the city treasury. But such penalties should not be made in the interest of the tax buying sharp as they at present are.

To show how easily mistakes are made in charter amendments, even in clerical matters, I wish to state that while the law of 1894 provided that the city can maintain, improve, embellish and protect any public square or area in said city the word street was left out, which certainly impaired the use of the amendment.

Under existing conditions it is necessary to learn if limited local assessment bonds can be issued specifically against a specific assessment and payable only when such assessment becomes due.

It is also necessary to inquire into and find if the East Side sewer assessment law which provides for periodic partial assessments on property benefited and which imposes no lien on property further than the immediate partial assessments thus relieving property owners from the immediate payment of taxes when owners mortgage, or sell their property, is applicable as a charter amendment.

It is also desirable to get rid of what is known as "Contractor's Certificates," which bears 6 per cent. interest when accepted, by being indorsed by the city treasurer. These certificates take up so much of the loanable funds in the city banks that it creates an abnormal demand for money to the great detriment of our local business men's interests.

The present way of handling these certificates is this: The contractor upon certification from time to time of a certain amount of his city work being done by the City Engineer takes it to the executive board who thereupon issue what is called a time certificate which does not become payable in any part for six months after the completion of the work and at stated periods from then on. Under the custom which has grown up, the city treasurer indorses these time certificates and they are afterwards known as "city acceptances" bearing interest at 6 per cent. These the contractor offers for sale in the local money market in competition with individual paper, and renders hardships to the taxpayer in that it compels him to pay the necessary shave on these certificates which have been computed by the contractor when making his bid and as I have said creates an unnatural demand for local money.

The great desideratum is, how can the issuance of these "city acceptances" be avoided and can they be taken out of the local money market by being issued as a lien against the property to be assessed for the improvement against which they should be issued. An arrival of these facts can only be got at by personal interviews with the attorneys of the loaning institutions where we have hitherto sold our bonds. Another thing, we have now some $900,000 in past due local assessment taxes. Cannot some such law as the "Jersey City Martin Law" be enacted whereby without the present extreme penalties, this vast sum can be shortly covered into our city's treasury by rational compromise in the matter of interest. Our present law is notoriously defective in that it often compels the owner of adjacent lots, one to pay 12 per cent. interest, the other whose arrears of taxes have not been bought in by individuals to come before the common council assessment committee and beg off at a 6 per cent. rate or at no interest rate at all.

The law should contemplate that the term of payment should be co-extensive with the length of the guarantee of the improvement. And guarantees can be had extending from five to twenty years.

The amount per foot cost of an improvement should govern the length of time given for payment else all sorts of demands for long time on trivial improvements will be made. These must be determined.

Some one may ask why it is necessary to send four or five men on this trip when one alderman and the city attorney would be sufficient. I answer that upon so intricate a question as the matter of local assessments I do not care, as an alderman, to take the responsibility alone. Several years' service in this board has taught me to be modest in the estimate of what I can do in the matter of charter amendments.

Now let us review what common council committees have wrought in the past in these so-called junketing trips.

I have been on several committees, constituted and unconstituted by the board of aldermen, on specific missions of inquiry and for specific purposes.

"Eaten bread is soon forgotten."

Shortly after my first coming into this board, I moved that a committee be appointed to proceed to Albany and endeavor to get the legislature to make restitution of its share of the cost of building the Rowe street sewer for the reason that the sewage from the canal required the sewer to be built larger than it would have been had not the seepage existed. The resolution was carried by a small majority of this board. Intimations were freely made that this was but a junketing trip. I was the only alderman that went to Albany on this mission at that time. Accompanied by the then city surveyor, General Quimby, and Lawyer D. C. Feely, we went to Albany and appeared before the proper committee, accompanied by our then Assemblyman Edward Maurer. Upon our representations the bill was reported favorable and passed the legislature which restored to the taxpayers of the assessed district half of the cost of the sewer, amounting to some $8,000. We could not satisfy the then superintendent of public works and the state board of public works as easily as we had satisfied the legislature as to the justice of our claims which entailed several trips to Albany at my own individual expense. We finally with the aid of Aldermen Kelly, Tracy, William Purcell, Matthias Kondolph and others succeeded by bringing the state board of public works upon the ground and in showing the justice of the claims of the tax payers of that section of the city, the award was duly made and paid into the city treasury, by the state, to the great satisfaction of the tax payers of the Rowe street sewer system.

At another time I accompanied Aldermen Kelly, Tracy and Fee as a committee on a similar errand in behalf of the Lyell and Saxton street outlet sewer tax payers. This so-called junketing trip resulted in the recovery, by the tax payers to said sewer system, from the state of some $32,000 on the same ground that the money was recovered from the state in the Rowe street outlet sewer matter.

I accompanied also a committee composed of aldermen, through whose efforts at Albany this council was granted the power to bond the city for the purpose of building the Driving Park avenue bridge, the Platt street bridge and the Alexander street bridge. The two former bridges were built without a dollar of local assessment, for the bridges themselves being paid, by the localities in which they were built, and the great traffic over them to-day shows the necessity of their having been built.

I accompanied another committee to Albany consisting of Alderman Tracy, Alderman Kelly and myself which succeeded in prevailing upon the state authorities to build the Rowe street lift bridge and the Emerson street lift bridge without a dollar of tax to the city of Rochester. Later on my successor in office, not satisfied with the bridges that the state was to build, had another $7,000 added to the cost of the Emerson street bridge, which additional $7,000 will be paid by local assessment. This trip saved the city some $14,000.

I accompanied another committee headed by Alderman Tracy, which succeeded in prevailing on the state authorities to build the Ford street lift bridge without a dollar of taxation, another $7,000 saved.

As chairman of a special committee on special feature of the water supply I went to Philadelphia, Buffalo, Providence, Pawtucket and Boston and succeeded in obtaining information that resulted in making the price of water to our tax payers uniform, and stopped that system of granting to corporations water at 3-1-2 cents a thousand gallons to users of 50,000 gallons and over, a day, when it cost the city from 10 to 14 cents a thousand gallons to furnish the water to these large corporations. It resulted in stopping for several years the headlong plunge into building a new conduit. It resulted in showing the benefits to our tax payers of selling water, as anything else, by measure for measure.

These last trips did not cost the city of Rochester a dollar, for I was too anxious to make a good record as an alderman and too earnest in the search for aldermanic knowledge to care for the cost to my own pocket. The information thus derived brought to the attention of the executive board a better system of preserving from useless waste our water supply and rectified a system whose fault was that it was founded from our own municipal experience without reference to the experience of other cities. There in that case as in the case under consideration, was lacking the element of a comparative study of municipal affairs.

After these successes on the part of the aldermanic committees with our state legislature it occurred to me that the state, if it wished to maintain canals, should not put localities to the expense of maintaining and paying for lift bridges. I went to and procured from the clerk of the executive board a certificate that lift bridges had cost the city of Rochester up to that time some $156,000. My method of procedure, as I then thought best, was to visit the cities and towns on the line of the canal where lift bridges were built and organize the various assemblymen and senators among such localities into a regular effort to recoup from the state the cost of lift bridges. I visited Syracuse and Utica, while they had lift bridges they seemed to look at me in amazement when I asked how much the locality had paid for them. I then went down to Albany and from the superintendent of public works received the statement that Rochester alone had paid for the building of lift bridges. I shortly afterwards resigned out of the common council and turned the matter over to Senator Parsons. A defective bill allowed the city of Rochester to present its claims for reimbursement in this matter was withdrawn from the governor's hands after its passage last winter. This common council at a late regular meeting recommended the proposed changes in the law admitting the claim for consideration by the board of claims. Now it may be said that it would have been an easy matter for me to have written to the superintendent of public works and obtained the information that Rochester alone had paid for lift bridges. I did write to the superintendent of public works for a list of the lift bridges along the canal, but it never occurred to me that Rochester alone had suffered the unjustifiable expense of building its own lift bridges and to whom else would it have so occurred.

This tour for special information was paid out of my own pocket, the result of which, however, will be a restoration to the city of Rochester of the cost if not of the maintenance of some half dozen lift bridges.

The committee on lamps and electricity, composed of the president of the board and the rest of the committee, went to New York and one or two other cities of the union and brought back the information that resulted in the beautifying of Main and State streets by a system of double lights, that as a factor of adding to the beauty of Rochester is too well known to need comment.

Now if we take the $8,000 recovered from the state on the Rowe street outlet sewer matter; the $32,000 recovered from the state on the Lyell and Saxton street sewer matter; the $7,000 recovered in the Rowe street lift bridge matter; the $7,000 recovered in the Emerson street lift bridge matter; the $7,000 recovered in the Ford street bridge matter, we have had committee works that have netted the city $61,000 in money. These committees cost the city less than $300. Then if we consider the rectifying of the methods of the water works department, the $156,000 that the city will probably be re-imbursed for in the matter of lift bridges built by it, the beautifying of our two main streets by an elegant system of lighting, the relieving of the city of the immediate payment for Driving Park avenue and Platt street bridges, we find that committee work redound to the profit of the tax payers of Rochester and to the embellishment of our city.

The executive board unquestioned sends delegates to the conventions held by the water work engineers, to conventions by the chiefs of fire departments and yet there are short sighted objections made by the people who do not know what they want as to the common council doing the same sensible thing.

But committees of the common council visiting and informing themselves on the ground and by interview, bring out a thousand things that would not occur to a letter writer to ask or inquire about.

A local assessment law, well and carefully drawn, contemplating an extension of time to payers for local improvements not so loosely drawn as to encourage all sorts of improvements as the present one does, but so drawn as to aid and encourage such as are of direct benefits to real estate owners. One that would do away with the present 6 per cent. contractor's certificate and which would reduce our interest account from 2 per cent. to 2 1-2 per cent., or from $18,000 to $20,000 per year on local assessments alone, the lack of which costs us $54 per day now, in past due assessments alone. A law that would make our streets as our houses are, in neatness and beauty a type for other cities to follow and still weigh as lightly as a feather upon our tax payers, is what the public sentiment calls for and what a progressive and yet conservative common council is bound to attempt to provide for, for our citizens. Such a law cannot be evolved from our own experience nor yet derived from the expenditure of a two-cent stamp, but must come from interviews and examinations of the officers of other cities who have local assessment matters to deal with under multitudinous conditions and multitudinous charter provisions. I freely declare that a committee that shall draw such a charter amendment for the city of Rochester shall not have lived in vain but shall have both told a story and sung a song for dear old Rochester.

Now, gentlemen of the common council, it all depends whether this veto should be sustained or not, as to whether your work should be of an as momentous character as is the water works department, the fire department which both annually send forth delegates to distant conventions to learn something for the betterment of their department. Year after year in a dillitanti way has this council attempted to provide local assessment bonds, and has resulted in imperfect laws, else why has not the $900,000 in local assessment bonds under the amendment of 1894 been issued?

I have said that I offered this resolution with considerable trepidation. I repeat it, I offered it reluctantly because of the weeks of hard work it will entail in its consideration, of the mechanical trips it will cost to other cities on this purely business matter, of the responsibility it will entail. In the three hundred thousand miles I have traveled by rail and the 100,000 miles I have traveled by water extending from the Aleutian islands to latitude 65-30 south, and twice across the Pacific and once across the Atlantic, I believe I can be excused in not wishing to travel more than I can help and I believe all the members of the committee are actuated by the same desire. Did not duty bid them to take upon themselves this municipal labor and in the face of an obvious helter skelter veto by a mayor who loves to see himself in print?

Now, gentlemen of the common council, you cannot say this resolution was sprung upon you. It was offered to all present to find fault with and the committee appointed under it cannot but feel a failure on your part to pass it over the veto will be a vote of want of confidence in your committee.

I know from the numerous felicitations I have received in this attempt to better the present conditions in the matter of local assessments that the tax payers are behind us, and you know as well as I do that we should do it, if it does entail expense and loss of time to the committee. I say expense to the committee. I have never yet went out of the town on city business but the incidental expenses which the city never pays far exceeded the mere cost of railroad fare and hotel bills. This occasion is vital in that you set a precedent that this common council cannot hereafter send any committee to the other cities to find examples of retrenchment. We have too long delayed this matter and as soon as a full council is present I shall force this question to a vote that, no longer shall the city be at a daily loss in the difference of 6 per cent. and 3 1-2 per cent. interest which on the $900,000 already past due on unpaid assessments amounts to over $50 per day, and which sum is being constantly increased with each improvement made. This catch-penny veto was not made in the interest of the tax payer but in the interest of those who have money to loan. The loss of $50 per day since this resolution was offered and passed in December already amounts to over $2,000. How long do you suppose our citizens will stand this kind of municipal economy? However, my record on the subject is clear, having offered to do our duty, willing to do our duty, and unlike the mayor able to do our duty, it rests with a small vote of this common council whether or not it shall be done. Some of you may stagger at the proposed committee's expenses to the amount of two or three hundred dollars, but take no account of the $50 a day that would have paid five times over the committee's expense had not this measure been vetoed. Don't you suppose the tax payer can see through such a transparent veto? I offered this measure because our whole charter is a hodge podge made up from our own experience and contains not one element of good economical government, in that it lacks comparative study in municipal affairs which accounts for the fact that American municipal government is economically the flattest kind of a failure openly and confessedly, without wisdom, without symmetry and without proportion and which will ever be so so long as we refuse to learn from one another.

Ald. Selve moved that action on the resolution authorizing the President to appoint a committee to visit different cities be postponed two weeks. Carried.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., February 12, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I have received from Austin Lathrop, superintendent of state prisons, a copy of Chapter 429 of the Laws of 1896, which provides among other things that certain articles, manufactured in state prisons, should not be purchased from other sources for the state or public institutions of the state, or the political divisions thereof. With said copy of law was transmitted a list of articles manufactured in the state prisons and a form for requisition therefor, which with said law are herewith inclosed for your consideration.

The claim is made that the city must purchase all articles mentioned on said list whenever needed by said city from the superintendent of state prisons. The question involved raises a question of law, which should be passed upon by the law committee and the Corporation Counsel. Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Office of the Superintendent of State Prisons, Albany, January 11, 1897.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find a copy of Chapter 429, of the Laws of 1896, to certain marked sections of which I desire to call your attention

Also a list of the articles I am prepared to requisitions for, in accordance with the provisions of said law, together with a list of those I shall be able to furnish soon.

Blank forms will be furnished you upon which to make requisitions for such of these articles as you may require from time to time.

Respectfully,

AUSTIN LATHROP,

Supt. of State Prisons.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By the Clerk—

State of New York,
Senate Chamber,
Albany, February 10, 1897.

To the Hon. George E. Warner, Mayor, and the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—My long connection with the government of the city of Rochester, together with a deep interest in the subject, as evidenced by previous efforts on my part for the erection and maintenance of free public baths, is my justification for calling your attention at this time to the subject.

Since 1895 the propriety or expediency of establishing and maintaining free public baths for the benefit of the people, looking at their welfare solely from a sanitary standpoint, has ceased to be a question which is open to discussion, for in that year, by the provisions of Chapter 351, the erection and maintenance of such baths is made mandatory in all cities of the first and second class. I take the liberty of quoting the act, which is as follows:

"Section 1. All cities of the first and second class shall establish and maintain such number of free public baths as the local board of health may determine to be necessary; each bath shall be kept open not less than fourteen hours for each day and both hot and cold water shall be provided. The erection and maintenance of river or ocean baths shall not be deemed a compliance with the requirements of this section. Any city, village or town having less than fifty thousand inhabitants may establish and maintain free public baths, and any city, village or town may loan its credit or may appropriate of its funds for the purpose of establishing such free public baths."

The terms and provisions of this act are clear and admit of no misconstruction. Every city described must comply with the terms of this statute. The necessity for the erection and maintenance of such baths, which should be absolutely free, is so apparent that it should not have been necessary for the Legislature to make imperative provisions. Our cities are now becoming so densely crowded, the conditions of life have so greatly changed from those which existed a half or even a quarter of a century ago, the demands of sanitary reform have become so potent, that the establishment of such baths should be conceded as a matter of course. Any citizen who has had the honor of being the mayor of a city like Rochester is made painfully aware of the hopeless and helpless condition of the poor, so far as the free and unrestricted enjoyment of water for bathing facilities is concerned. In most instances, the very poor occupy from one to two rooms. No water fixtures are provided except access to a common faucet. These habitations, insufficiently warmed and badly ventilated, obviously conduce to a vitiated atmosphere, which in turn results in disease which can only be successfully guarded against by the greatest opportunity for personal cleanliness. It is a strange thing that this country, which boasts of progress in so many directions, should be found so far behind in one of the chief essentials of a proper sanitary condition. Even England and Continental Europe are fifty years ahead of this country in this respect. It is a curious fact that the legislation referred to—which was amendatory of the original act passed in 1892, which was permissive—was the first and only general legislation ever enacted in any state in the Union.

We all feel a common interest in the progress and proper development of our city, and it should not be said of us that we are behind in anything that is proper and requisite for properly caring for our people. Our neighbor, the city of Buffalo, has not been slow to act under the provisions of this law. Upon its passage steps were taken to procure the preparation of proper plans for the acquisition of a site and the erection of the baths. A committee was appointed and careful investigation was made, and as a result the Common Council of that city appropriated the sum of $8,000, and for this comparatively small sum a public bath complying in all respects with the provisions of the act has been erected, and is now in successful operation, having been opened to the public January first last. Correspondence with the Mayor of Buffalo shows that this bath is operated at an expense of not to exceed $1,000 per year, two people—a husband and wife—being required to superintend its management. The baths are open for men from seven in the morning until twelve noon; for women from noon until five o'clock, and from five o'clock to midnight for men. While the Mayor feared, as he writes, that the baths might not prove acceptable to the public, the result shows that such fears were entirely groundless. The baths are constantly thronged with people from all parts of the city, who eagerly avail themselves of the privileges offered. These baths have a capacity for 1,000 bathers per day, allowing twenty minutes to each person. I might add that these baths are constructed on the rain or spray system—tubs are not used; hot and cold water is provided, care being taken that the temperature of the water used shall not in any case be sufficient to burn. Cold and hot water can be mixed so that any temperature desired may be had. A piece of soap and a towel are furnished to each person. The towels are laundered for fifty cents per hundred, the laundry company guaranteeing the city against loss. For purposes of economy the bath is located near one of the city buildings, where heat is readily obtained with small additional expense. Rochester being a smaller city than Buffalo, it is not unlikely that a bath costing less money would for the present meet the exigencies.

As the summer season will soon be upon us, I trust I may be permitted to bespeak the earnest and prompt consideration of this most important matter. If immediate steps are now taken, these baths can be in operation before the summer season sets in. I feel confident that this will meet with the favorable that the City Assessors be and they hereby consideration of the government of Rochester, as the city has never shown itself long deficient in carrying out desirable measures, especially those founded upon wisdom and designed for the benefit of the people.

I have the honor to be yours with the highest respect.

CORNELIUS R. PARSONS.

Rochester, February 3, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—With reference to the suggestions hereto attached, made by His Honor, the Mayor, to exclude certain from the published proceedings of the Common Council, which suggestions were referred to me for an opinion, I beg leave to say that I know of no legal objection to the adoption of all of the suggestions, except that relating to the condensation of ordinances for local improvements. To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with your resolution authorizing the Executive Board to negotiate for the land necessary for the extension of Raines park, the Board invited the owners to call at the office and state what sum would be accepted for the land. Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of the resolution presented at the last meeting with reference to the payment of certain costs in the case of Twist vs. city of Rochester, we recommend that the same be paid.

In the matter of the petition of J. B. Y. Warner for cancellation of certain unpaid assessments levied against property on Mt. Hope avenue formerly owned by the Oak Hill Cemetery Association, we recommend that there be credited by the City Treasurer upon the amount of unpaid taxes and assessments against this property the amount of the unpaid city taxes for 1890 and 1891, with any accumulation of interest, fees or expenses thereon.

We are informed by the Corporation Counsel that the two typewriter machines used in his office have been in constant use for four years and over, and are constantly in need of repair. We have asked for bids for new machines and find that they can be replaced for the sum of $110 by turning in the old machines. This proposition is made by C. Wisner, and we recommend that it be accepted.

In the matter of the claim of Harrison A. Lyon and Fannie G. Lyon against the city of Rochester for damages by reason of the pollution of Thomas creek by city sewage, your committee would report as follows: The parcel of land upon which said claim is based is part of town lot number 27 in the town of Brighton and comprises about ten acres of land. A summons and complaint was served upon the Mayor December 21, 1894, demanding the sum of $2,400 as damages to the above mentioned parcel of land. This is the only action ever brought by these plaintiffs. The plaintiffs now offer to settle with the city of Rochester for the sum of $600. We have investigated the merits of the claim and would recommend that the offer of the plaintiffs herein be accepted, and that the said claim for damages be settled upon the payment of $600.

In the matter of the settlement of damages for sewage pollution to the property owned by James H. Hooker, the resolution heretofore adopted was made to cover a period extending beyond the date of the diversion of the sewage by the East Side trunk sewer. Mr. Hooker objected to a settlement of his claim beyond that period and we therefore recommend that the resolution be amended so as to provide for a settlement down to the time of the diversion of the city sewage from Hobbie creek, to wit: September 15, 1893.

We recommend the appointment of the following Commissioners of Deeds: George J. Eberwein, John J. Quirk, George T. Roche, William S. Briggs, E. R. Springstead, Ina M. Bantel.

M. B. ADAMS,

HENRY G. COOK,

EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,

T. W. FORD,

D. W. SELYE.

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Cook, Pauckner, Kelly, Crane, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—20.

RAILROAD COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Railroad Committee would respectfully report as follows:

In relation to the resolution of Alderman Selye, asking for a report as to why the Rochester Railway Company has stopped the running of its cars on what is known as the New Boulevard, and as to whether said railway has not forfeited its charter by stopping the running of said cars, your committee would report as follows:

A communication was sent to the president of the Railway Company asking for information as to why cars were not being operated on the Boulevard. In reply the president of the company stated that before the operation of the cars was begun upon that track, the dirt was cleaned off the rail, and it was supposed that the track was put in proper condition for operation. The effect of the cold weather has been, however, to leave up the dirt which was filled in too thick between, and outside of the rails, with the result that it is not possible to use scrapers and thus keep the track clear for operation. He further says that the company cannot do any work upon this track until the spring, and it is not possible to operate cars until the dirt has been lowered outside of and between the rails, but that this work will be done as soon as the weather will warrant, whereupon the company will commence, and continue to operate its cars upon this line.

On the authority of the Corporation Council your committee would report that the company has not forfeited its charter by stopping the running of cars on this line.

In the matter of the petition of residents of Marietta street, asking for relief from a smoke nuisance that is being maintained by the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. on the south side of said street, your committee would report that assurances have been given your committee by Mr. Gould, representing the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co., that steps have already been taken to abate the nuisance and that every precaution will be taken in the future to prevent recurrence of it.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., March 1, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

In reference to the report of the finance committee and the resolution fixing the salary of the clerk of the board of plumbers at two hundred dollars a year, I desire to call your attention to the fact that such clerk is not appointed by the common council, but by the examining board of plumbers. The statute gives to such board, among other things, the power to employ a clerk. The authority thus given to employ necessarily includes the right to agree with the clerk upon the compensation to be paid him for the services to be rendered.

The subject should be referred to the examining board of plumbers, with the request to fix the salary at the same amount. If this is not done, the city may be liable to an action to recover the difference between the old and the new salary.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., March 1, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Several weeks ago the city treasurer received proposals from the Traders' National, Flour City National, German-American, Central and Commercial banks in reference to the rate of interest to be paid on the money of the city remaining on deposit in said banks. Each bank agreed to pay the same rate of interest and to give a bond. A resolution was afterwards adopted directing the city treasurer to deposit the money in said banks, each being required to furnish a bond of a surety company in the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

Several days ago, contracts signed by all of said banks excepting the Traders' National, with a bond attached signed by a surety company, were left with me to be signed. There is nothing upon the papers to indicate that the forms of the contract or bond have been approved by the corporation counsel, or that the sufficiency of the surety has ever been approved by the finance committee. Before signing the contracts the forms of the contract and bond should be approved by the corporation counsel, and the sureties by the finance committee. This has been the usual custom in the past. The Traders' National Bank has not as yet prepared a bond.

None of the contracts or bonds provide for the deposit of the local improvement funds. Those funds should be secured by a bond the same as the other moneys. A resolution should be passed designating with which banks such money should be deposited, and the amount of bonds required for the same.

The contracts as now drawn provide that the city will cause to be deposited in each bank such sum as the city treasurer may deem proper. The former contracts executed between the city and the banks provided that the same proportion of money should be deposited in each bank. This was undoubtedly the intention of the present resolution as each bank has agreed to pay the same rate of interest, and each is required to furnish a fifty thousand dollar bond.

Under the contracts as drawn, four-fifths of the money could be deposited in one bank secured by a fifty thousand dollar bond, while the other one-fifth could be deposited in the other four banks secured by two hundred thousand dollar bond.

If one bank is to have more than one-fifth of the money on deposit then the bonds to be required of such bank should be made larger than those required of the other banks. If it is the intention that the same amount should be deposited in each bank, then the contract should so provide. If that is not the intention, then the bank which shall have the largest sum on deposit should give the largest bond.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

The Executive Board deem it only necessary to state that they have already certified to the Common Council that the price asked by George D. Butler was reasonable and fair, and they now have only to add that that fixed by Charles P. Ament may be deemed a reasonable sum for property in the locality named.

By Ald. Englehardt—

City Engineer's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—In compliance with a resolution of your honorable body passed Jan. 19, 1897, the following report relative to the sewer in Central park, from North avenue to Hebard street, is respectfully submitted.

The sewer in Central park from North avenue to a point about 250 feet east of Scio street is built of stone 2 feet wide and 2 feet in height. The depth below the surface of the ground to the bottom of the sewer is about 13 feet at North avenue and about 9 1-2 feet at Scio street. The grade from North avenue to Philander street is at the rate of 1 foot in 500 feet, and from Philander street to Scio street at the rate of only 1 foot in 2,400 feet. From a point about 250 feet east of Scio street to Hebard street the sewer is a vitrified pipe 15 inches in diameter, laid on a grade of 1 foot in 1,200 feet. The depth below the street grade is from 7 1-2 feet to 9 1-2 feet, measured to the bottom of the sewer.

An examination of this sewer made on January 25th inst. showed a deposit of about 6 inches of mud at Philander street, 9 inches at Scio street, and about 6 to 8 inches in the 15-inch pipe sewer at a point about 400 feet east of Scio street.

The territory drained has been extended from time to time until it now covers over 51 acres and embraces the following streets: Central park to Alexander street, Philander street, Scio to Davis street, Huron street, Poplar street, Hebard street, Union street from Central park to Poplar street, Pennsylvania avenue from Union street to First avenue, Alexander street and First avenue from Pennsylvania avenue to Central park. The outlet is through North avenue to the East Side trunk sewer.

An examination of the records shows that the first sewer in this system was from North avenue to Scio street in German street (now Central park), thence through Scio street to the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. The final ordinance for this sewer was passed Oct. 9, 1874, the territory assessed was one tier of lots on each side of Scio and German street in front of which the sewer was built. The size was 2 feet by 2 feet and built of stone. The second section in German street extended from Scio street to Hebard street. The final ordinance was adopted June 18, 1875, the territory assessed was one tier of lots on each side of German street, from Scio street to Hebard street.

On May 6, 1884, a final ordinance was passed for the construction of a pipe sewer in Hebard street from a point 20 feet north of Huron street to the sewer in German street, and the territory assessed was one tier of lots on each side of Hebard street, from Huron street to German street. During the construction of this work it was deemed necessary to lower the grade of the sewer to pass under the water main in Hebard street. To do this 400 feet of the 2 by 2 stone sewer in German street was replaced by a 15-inch pipe sewer at the cost of the aforesaid territory in Hebard street.

It therefore appears that the original territory for which the sewer in Central park was built has been enlarged as previously stated to cover an area of over 51 acres. In order to drain this entire territory through Central park when the same is fully built up and the streets paved, the sewer in German street should be enlarged and the grade lowered as much as possible. The outlet at North avenue should be 38 inches in diameter, and from Scio street to Hebard street a 24-inch pipe is necessary. That portion of the street from Hebard to Alexander street has no public sewer. A pipe sewer 12 inches in diameter will be sufficient for this portion of the street.

It may also be stated that if some other outlet was provided for the additional territory draining into Central park the sewer in said street would be of ample size for the drainage of Central park and Scio street alone.

Respectfully submitted,

E. A. FISHER,

City Engineer.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—At a meeting of the Board of Health of the city of Rochester held February 25, 1897, the following communication was received and action taken thereon:

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 25, 1897.

Dr. G. W. Goler, Health Officer:

Sir:—I have made an inspection of the outlet of the Otis street sewer and beg leave to submit the following report on same:

The sewage from Warner street and Rogers avenue empties into the Otis street sewer. The three streets take in quite a large territory. The outlet for same connects with a ditch at the terminus of Otis street. The ditch formerly had a good flow of water to wash the sewage away, but since the West Side sewer has been constructed the water has been cut off, leaving the ditch in a very filthy condition, it being nothing more than a cesspool and detrimental to health and should be abolished at once.

There has been an ordinance before the Council for a sewer in Otis street, but has been postponed from time to time for the reason that some of the property owners do not wish the sewer to be constructed. The matter will come up before the Council on March 2d for a hearing.

Respectfully yours,

D. C. SMITH,

Inspector of Plumbing.

Commissioner Finucane moved that the communication be referred to the Common Council with the recommendation of the Board of Health that the sewer be put in a sanitary condition.

Adopted by the following vote:

Nays—Commissioner Warner.

Gentlemen:—I beg leave to submit the following memoranda relating to a proposed ordinance for a sewer in Otis street from a point east of the Charlotte branch of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. to Anne street.

The entire territory draining into the proposed sewer has been assessed for the present sewer in Anne street and therefore is entitled to its use for outlet purposes. This sewer in Anne street is a vitrified pipe 18 inches in diameter, discharging into the West Side sewer. While this sewer was sufficient to drain the undeveloped territory assessed

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I have a copy of resolution passed by your honorable body February 16th, as follows:

"By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the City Treasurer furnish to this Council, a list of the amounts unpaid upon local improvements, showing the following: Number of ordinance, name of improvement, amount of the assessment roll, amount paid, amount remaining unpaid, how amount unpaid secured."

It will be impossible for me to comply with this request at present, unless I can have an extra clerk. It will take a clerk one week's time to furnish the information asked for.

My regular force are fully engaged in the daily work of the office, and preparing the list for publication of all unpaid general city taxes for 1896; also in notifying parties interested, that local improvements falling due on or before March 1st will be added to the general city tax for 1897 if not paid before that date.

Will it not be just as well to furnish the list remaining in the Treasurer's hands, after the rolls past due are added to the general city tax for 1897, giving the information asked for, as well as when the time for payment on each improvement will expire?

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Permit me to call your attention to the following communication from his honor, the Mayor, with reference to the condensation of the published proceedings of the Common Council and the elimination of certain matter therefrom:

"To the City Clerk of Rochester:
"In pursuance of the resolution adopted by the printing committee, I make the following suggestions:

"First—Omit from the printed proceedings of the Common Council the Police Clerk's report.

"Second—Omit the report of the City Sealer.
Note—Give as to each of the above the amount received.

"Third—Omit the salary budget of the Common Council. Note—Print the resolution ordering the salaries paid and the amount of the salaries.

"Fourth—Omit the salary budget and bills of the Executive Board. (As they have been printed as a part of the Executive Board's proceedings.) Simply give the amount of the bills and the total of the salaries.

"Fifth—Omit the estimates of the Executive Board of the amount due contractors on contracts, and for street sweeping and sprinkling, and the orders of the Executive Board to pay the same, as they have been printed as a part of the Executive Board's proceedings. Simply give the amount of each estimate.

"Sixth—Omit from the Common Council's printed proceedings all that is printed by the Executive Board.

"Seventh—Omit petition for changing street names. Simply say: 'Petition for changing street names presented.'

"Eighth—Omit invitations to picnics, balls, etc.

"Ninth—In all the Common Council printed proceedings omit bills that are simply preresented and referred to the Finance Committee and the Auditor; as they are all printed again when ordered paid.

"Tenth—The ordinances for improvements of various kinds, including street sweeping and sprinkling, can be condensed, as they are printed as first ordinances and then by the City Clerk for allegation, and then as final ordinances. For the purpose of the foregoing, the following amount of printing would answer: 'By Ald. Ward—First ordinance, Amherst streets curbs and gutters, crosswalks, sidewalks and manholes, estimate, $2,300; assessment, one tier of lots on each side of Amherst street. Adopted.'

The report of the Erroneous Assessment
Committee could be shortened considerably.
Instead of printing the whole of the report, as now, and then a separate resolution as to each item covered by the report, the whole matter could be printed as follows:

"The committee report in favor of allowing John Doe a reduction of $.... on his lot No.; or the committee disallows the claim of to reduce taxes on his lot.
Report adopted.'

"Respectfully submitted,
"GEORGE E. WARNER,
"Mayor."

Corporation Counsel Rodenbeck, to whom the above communication was referred, has given your honorable body an opinion to the effect that there is "no legal objection to the adoption of all of the suggestions, except that relating to the condensation of ordinances for local improvements." The Corporation Counsel further says that, with the exception noted, "it is within the discretion of the Common Council to exclude from the printed proceedings the matter suggested and in place thereof publish only a summary of the same."

I would like instructions from your honorable body to guide me in the preparation of the copy for the published proceedings of the Council.

By the Clerk—

Assembly Chamber,
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I have received from the City
Clerk a copy of a resolution introduced by Alderman Johnston and adopted by your honorable body, which "deprecates any effort made to alter the city's charter, unless the proposed alterations or amendments are formally approved and recommended by this

I can not but think that Ald. Johnston has mistaken the character of the duties of his office.

I can find no provision of law which gives to the Common Council the sole power to propose amendments to the fundamental law of the city of Rochester.

While I recognize the value of the advice of the Council upon the subject of charter amendments, and shall at all times be glad to receive suggestions and recommendations from the Council, which, from its intimate knowledge of the practical workings of the various provisions of the charter, is unquestionably in a position to give valuable advice upon the subject, I am unwilling to surrender to your honorable body the exclusive control of the subject of charter amendments.

I shall, therefore, continue to offer to the legislature, the supreme law-making power of the state, such amendments to the charter as my judgment may approve, leaving to your honorable body, together with the Mayor, the constitutional right to take such action upon any bills that may be submitted for approval, before transmission to the Governor, as your honorable body and the Mayor may deem proper.

I remain, with great respect,

Yours very truly,

My Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of a copy of Alderman Johnston's resolution. As none of the municipal legislation has been intrusted to my care, the resolution does not affect any measures of which I have charge. I may be permitted to say, however, that in as much as the Common Council will have the opportunity to ultimately pass upon any local bill before it becomes a law, it seems to me that the interests of the city will be sufficiently conserved by simply following the rule prescribed by the constitution.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Cok—

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee begs leave to submit the following report on the subject of free text books:

Your committee has obtained information as to the cost of free text books from various towns and cities throughout the country where the plan has been in operation. The average cost per pupil, as thus ascertained, is as follows: Ithaca, 41 cents; Buffalo, 55 cents; Binghamton, 50 cents; Newark, N. J., 80 cents; Jamestown, 82 cents; Long Island City, 55 cents; Olean, 75 cents; Syracuse, $1; Yorkers, 79 cents; Mt. Vernon, 87 cents; Newburgh, $1.26 cents; Brooklyn, $1.20.

The conclusion to be deduced from these figures is that the cost of free text books varies greatly in different cities, from 41 cents per pupil in Ithaca to $1.26 in Newburgh. The comparatively small expense connected with the system in Buffalo and some other cities is explained by the fact that free text books were there introduced gradually, only readers being supplied the first year, arithmetics the next and so on until all books used by the pupils were those supplied by the city.

For the first year of free text books in the city of Brooklyn the expense was $1.20 per pupil; all books required by the pupils having been furnished by the authorities.

Based upon information in possession of your committee the expense involved in supply all text books free to the public school pupils of this city, might be estimated at $30,000 for the first year and at about $15,000 for each year thereafter. Even if public sentiment favored the experiment your committee does not believe that the present is an opportune time to adopt such an innovation, and impose the consequent large expense upon the taxpayers. Our citizens already complain under the burden of municipal taxation. The universal demand of the taxpayers is that city expenditures be reduced to the lowest point consistent with efficient and progressive municipal management.

Conducted along the most conservative lines, our public schools are necessarily a heavy expense to the city. During the last ten years numerous fads have been introduced and grafted upon the curriculum of our common schools. These have necessitated a large increase in the teaching force and have involved considerable expenditures for supplies.

Your committee is convinced that a large majority of the public school patrons in this city are not only able but willing to purchase text books for their children. Indeed, it is a significant fact that the strongest opposition to the plan of free text books proceeds from those, who being parents of children of school age, would most directly benefit thereby. Nor is there any doubt but that the children themselves are largely opposed to it. No self-respecting child want to use a book that some other urchin has thumbed and soiled. He would as soon wear a second-hand garment.

Free text books savor strongly of paternalism. The most strenuous advocates of the plan are found among the ranks of those who favor the doctrines of socialism, who would impose a tax upon thrift and a premium upon pauperism. We do not believe that such doctrines have any considerable following in Rochester. The free text book idea is strongly opposed by many of the most prominent educators in the country. It has been rejected in all but a comparatively few cities and towns in the United States. While your committee is not ignorant of the fact that many plausible arguments are advanced in support of the idea, it is unanimously recommended that the proposition to include a sufficient amount in the Board of Education's appropriation to enable that body to furnish all text books free to pupils in the public schools, be rejected and that the present plan of supplying text books to only such pupils as are unable to purchase their own books be continued.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: Your finance committee, in obedience to the requirements of the city charter, submits herewith the proposed tax levy for the current fiscal year.

Your committee has adopted the custom inaugurated last year showing in detail the expenditures for the preceding fiscal year of each department, the requests for the current year and the amounts allowed for various expenditures, in separate columns.

The total expenditures for the twelve months of 1896, for all purposes, were $2,457,292.08; and your committee has deemed it necessary to provide for the current fiscal year the sum of $2,294,200. Of this sum, $595,700 are provided by the various sources of income which the city has at its command, and the balance, $1,698,500, is the total sum which your committee finds it necessary to raise by direct taxation for the expense of maintaining the city government. The amount necessary to be raised for the interest has been reduced by the payment of $75,000 of Free Academy bonds, which bore 7 per cent. interest. The item for assessments represents amounts allowed during the past year. The item for local assessments on city property is also the amount which was assessed against real estate owned by the city for local improvements for the past year. The appropriations for the police pension fund and firemen's pension fund and the park loan sinking fund are fixed by law, and are not subject to change.

In making an appropriation for the maintenance of the park system, your committee has deemed it necessary to reduce the amount allowed last year, $40,000, to $30,000. In justification of this reduction, your committee needs only to call attention to the prevailing hard times, the necessity for economy and to plead the wisdom of postponing for the present work which is not absolutely necessary. Your committee has felt that the parks are to some extent a luxury, and that appropriations for the maintenance of parks should only be as large as are absolutely necessary to keep the parks in usable condition. Your committee has no reflections to cast upon the park board or the wisdom with which their expenditures have been made, but feel that it is absolutely necessary that economy should be observed in all directions, and trust that within a brief period more liberal allowances can be made for public park purposes.

To the board of health your committee has felt it necessary to give the sum of $51,000, and inasmuch as that item is used for the collection of garbage and the enforcement of sanitary regulations, and that every citizen of Rochester gets the benefit of the expenditure of this money, your committee feels that no excuse for this appropriation is needed. Your committee also desires to call attention in this connection to the fact that heretofore the poor department has been accustomed whenever an indigent person was afflicted with a contagious disease to have that person removed to one of the city hospitals, and the expense of caring for that contagious case was taken from the poor fund. The health department desires to have jurisdiction over such cases, and it is believed that that department could care for them to better advantage than the poor department, and the appropriations made for the health department were increased $1,000 on that account. A small increase has been made in the amount appropriated to the fund for lighting the city. This is made necessary by the constant demands from outlying sections for public lights, and your committee feels that it is justified in gradually extending the lighting system into portions of the city that are not adequately protected by the police department.

Your committee desires to call attention to the fact that the expense of maintaining the poor department is gradually being reduced. For the year 1896, the total expenditures were $87,560.88. The department's request for 1897 was $79,685.53. The amount allowed is $75,000, and this sum, it is believed, will be sufficient for all purposes for the year.

Your committee also desires to call attention to the fact that but $20,000 is allowed in the tax levy for the extension of a water service in the city. The expenditures last year for this purpose were upwards of $68,000 and liberal appropriations have been made each year for many years, with one exception, for water pipe extensions, and it has seemed to your committee that the necessity for further extensions has been greatly reduced, and that $20,000 is all that under present conditions should be used for that purpose this year. The chief engineer of the water department advises that in the near future a large distribution pipe will necessarily have to be extended into the north-eastern portion of the city, supplying territory in the seventh, eighth and seventeenth wards, but inasmuch as the expense of such an extension will be very large, and as the necessity for it is not pressing at the present time, it has been deemed advisable to postpone the appropriations of public money for that purpose until the matter can receive further study by the engineer and until financial conditions are somewhat improved.

The same idea has influenced your committee in making appropriations for the use of the board of education. For many years the full allowance permitted by the charter for building school houses has been made and frequently extra appropriations have been granted under authority of special acts of the legislature, notably in the case of No. 10 school, and more recently No. 3 school. It is safe to say that during the last ten years more than $500,000 have been expended within the city in the erection of school houses and additions to school buildings. Your committee has felt that in view of that fact they were justified in declining to make an appropriation for school buildings for this year. No pressing necessity exists for additional buildings, and it is believed that every child in Rochester can be accommodated with school facilities, and that for once the tax levy be adopted without including an appropriation for the building of school houses.

Your committee has also included an item of $41,434.94 to cancel a debit balance existing upon the city treasurer's books, being moneys advanced by him from the general fund for the completion of various river bridges built during the past few years. A detailed statement, showing the total cost of these bridges and the amount of money provided by the sale of bonds and local assessments for the payment of that cost, made by the city treasurer is annexed to and made a part of this report.

Your committee desires to call attention to the fact that more than $100,000 are credited to the sinking fund from the receipts of the city and from taxation required by law to be made. The bulk of this large item of the sinking fund credit comes from the receipts from liquor license fees, and in addition to this amount $75,000 from the same source are credited to the general fund.

The various items of receipts have been carefully estimated by the city treasurer and his assistants, and are believed to be conservative as to every item.

Your committee desires to congratulate the citizens of Rochester upon the fact that the tax levy for the current year is more than $400,000 less than that of last year and considerably less than the tax levy for the fiscal year ending April 1, 1895. Your committee feels that the financial condition of the city of Rochester is constantly improving; that the tax rate for the year will be lower than it has been for several years, and that with the retirement of the very large amount of 7 per cent. bonds which will soon mature, a portion of which will soon be paid, and the balance of which will undoubtedly be refunded at a low rate of interest, the future of the city so far as its financial affairs and matters of taxation are concerned, is full of hope.

Your committee desires to return its thanks to the very capable and efficient city treasurer and his valuable corps of assistants for the services rendered in the arduous duties of preparing the accompanying tax levy.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

By Ald. Cook—
To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee begs leave to report as follows upon the various matters referred to it by your honorable body for consideration:

In the matter of the application of the Park Board for an advance of $3,000 for the Maintenance Fund of the Board, in anticipation of the tax levy appropriation your committee has consulted with the Board's representatives and would recommend that the city's note be issued for the amount asked.

The request of the Hemlock Lake Commission for an appropriation of $10,000 was likewise considered. Your committee finds that the commission has practically no funds on hand with which to carry on its work and it is recommended that the city's note for $10,000 be issued and the proceeds credited to the Hemlock Lake Commission.

In the matter of the petition addressed to your honorable body by the commanding officers of the several military organizations of the city, requesting that the Common Council make an appropriation for the purchase of an armory site, your Finance Committee after consultation with the Corporation Counsel, has reached the conclusion that this Council has no authority, under the charter, to tax the city of Rochester for the purpose requested. Under existing laws it is made the duty of the county to furnish a site for the armory. Your committee is therefore compelled to recommend against the granting of the request.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY G. COOK,
M. B. ADAMS,
J. C. WILSON,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. MILLER KELLY,

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council:
 Gentlemen:—Your Law Committee beg leave to report as follows:

By resolution adopted February 16, 1897, your committee was authorized and directed to solicit proposals from the various English daily newspapers of the city for the printing of the official proceedings of the common council and executive board and report all bids to the common council for action with such recommendations as it might see fit to make. Your committee solicited such proposals and received bids from the Post Express, the Rochester Times and the Rochester Printing Company, which are hereto attached, and which may be referred to for the respective prices bid for the work called for. Your committee recommends the acceptance of the bid of the Rochester Printing Company. The bid of the Post Express was informal in that it was not accompanied by a sworn statement of the actual paid city circulation of the paper, which statement was required by the resolution referred to. It appears from the bid of the Rochester Times that it has a city circulation of 5,500, while the Democrat and Chronicle had a city circulation on February 16, 1897, of 10,942. The bid of the Rochester Times was not accompanied by a bond for the execution of the contract in accordance with the bid or with a certified check, which is also true of the Post Express, although the former paper knew that such a bond would be required. The Democrat and Chronicle was the only paper submitting a guarantee of its good faith in bidding. Its bid was accompanied by a certified check for $1,000. We have no means from the proposals made of comparing the relative advantages to the city of publishing the proceedings in the Post Express and the Democrat and Chronicle, because of the absence of any statement of the circulation of the Post Express. So far as the Rochester Times is concerned, we believe that it is for the best interests of the city to accept the propositions of the Democrat and Chronicle by reason of its greater circulation, although the prices bid exceed those of the other bidders.

In the matter of the petitions of property owners of Kenwood and Wellington avenues to have refunded certain moneys expended by them for sweeping and cleaning said avenues we beg leave to say that the property owners on those avenues have always treated said avenues as private streets, and the expenditure for which in part they now ask for reimbursement was done under a resolution of the common council recognizing said avenues as private streets. Your committee does not feel that it is warranted in establishing a precedent which would open the doors to similar applications of property owners who choose to preserve private ways and care for the same under a private park act. We therefore recommend a denial of the petitions.

We recommend the appointment of the following as commissioners of deeds: W. B. McVea, James W. Casey, Andrew Carle, John Bradley, Burton G. Bennett, J. F. Buckley, Wilbur L. Bishop, Mary L. Cross, Emanuel Detamble, Jr., J. H. Howe, Paul Stalbrodt, Theo. J. Vogel, Willis A. Wright, T. B. Langworthy, Detmer S. Poppen, John L. Sage.

Respectfully submitted,
 M. B. ADAMS,
 HENRY G. COOK,
 T. W. FORD,
 EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
 Law Committee.

Received, filed and published.
 By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the petitions of the property owners for reimbursement of moneys expended for sweeping and cleaning Wellington and Kenwood avenues be and the same are denied.
 Adopted.

PRINTING BIDS.

Office of Rochester Printing Company,
 Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1897.

Mahlon B. Adams, Esq., Chairman of the Law Committee of the Common Council:

CHARTER AMENDMENT COMMITTEE
REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your charter amendment committee beg leave to submit the following report:

In the matter of the application of the Eastman Kodak Company of Rochester, N. Y., for a supply of water from the water works mains of the city to the Eastman Kodak Company of Rochester, at that portion of its works located outside of, but near the corporate limits of said city, we recommend, that the Common Council approve of the passage of an act authorizing the Executive Board to supply water from the public water mains of the city at that portion of the works of the Eastman Kodak Company which is located and adjacent to the continuation of Lake avenue, northward and outside of, but near the corporate city limits. The Executive Board to collect for the water thus furnished, in addition to the rates established and in force for like uses of water in the city, such further sum as to the board may seem just and equitable. The entire expense of the construction of the water mains and the maintenance thereof to be borne by the Eastman Kodak Company. Your committee would also say, that the foregoing recommendations are approved by the Executive Board and Chief Engineer Kulchling.

Sec. 170. Whenever by order of the Common Council any new street or alley shall be laid out opened or worked in said city or any sewer, tunnel, drain, vault or bridge shall be extended to or beyond the city limits or any other public improvement is to be made, it shall be the duty of the Common Council to determine what portion if any of the expense thereof ought to be paid from the public treasury and what portion if any ought to be paid by local assessment and to direct that the whole expense to be paid by a local assessment be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land to be benefited thereby in proportion to the benefit which each will derive therefrom. The Common Council may maintain, improve, embellish and protect any public park, street, square or area in said city, and grade, sewer and pave the streets and alleys thereof and make, grade and improve sidewalks about the same or any part thereof. And they may cause the whole expense thereof to be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land where the parks, streets, squares or areas are situated in proportion to the benefit which each lot or parcel will derive therefrom. It shall be lawful for the Common Council by a three-fourths vote of the members elected to borrow from time to time by the issue of bonds an amount not exceeding one million dollars, bearing such rates of interest as it may deem proper to effect a sale thereof not exceeding five per centum per annum at not less than par for such period as said Common Council may determine, the proceeds of which shall be used in paying the costs, disbursements and other expenses incurred or to be incurred on account of work, labor, materials and local improvements heretofore or hereafter performed or furnished or constructed, not in conflict with the provisions of any contract however, therefor, under and by virtue of ordinances duly adopted as provided in this charter the expense whereof is to be afterwards collected wholly or in part by assessment from the property benefited by such improvement, but no moneys shall be paid out of the proceeds of said bonds except upon a certificate in writing from the head of the department having charge of such work, stating that the same has been acceptably performed, that a payment is due and the amount of such payment. All assessments heretofore or hereafter made or collected for local improvements shall be paid into a fund to be known as the "local improvement fund" to be applied in pursuance of this section and to be applied toward the redemption of the bonds issued in pursuance of this section and the payment of any orders that may be issued in pursuance of any contracts heretofore entered into for any local improvement. The proceeds of such bonds shall be deposited in a special account to be known as the "local improvement" account in whatever banks or trust companies the Council may from time to time designate.

The Treasurer shall keep a separate set of records for said local improvement fund and account which records shall show:

First. The proceeds of all moneys received by the issue and sale of bonds.

Second. The amounts of all orders paid, said payments to be classified and charged separately to the special improvement for which they were given.

Third. The amounts of all assessments paid, said payments to be classified and credited separately to the special improvement for which they are due; said payments to be sub-divided so as to show the amount of interest on all payments where interest is included.

The City Treasurer shall submit periodically to the Council a balance sheet either summarized or in detail showing the condition of said local improvement fund and account at the close of business during the months of March, June, September and December in each year or said balance sheet may be submitted monthly if practicable to do so. Any amount of surplus interest accruing through the local improvement fund and account shall be used exclusively for the payment of such of the city's bonded indebtedness as the Common Council may direct.

Sec. 38. Section one hundred and eighty, of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 180. If such report is not appealed from in thirty days as hereafter provided or whenever such report is finally confirmed, the Common Council, the Executive Board, the city or the commissioners of Mount Hope cemetery may take the lands and premises rights or easements specified in the report of such commissioners and which have been determined by the Common Council to be necessary for such improvement on paying the amount of damages or compensation awarded to the owners or occupants thereof in such report less the amount of any assessment made against such owner or occupant for any part of the expense of such improvement when such assessment has been made or depositing the same in some bank in the city of Rochester to the credit of the person to whom the same is awarded less such assessment if any as aforesaid. If the assessment for any improvement has not been made and the Common Council desires to get possession of the lands, rights or easements condemned it may cause the whole award to be deposited in some bank in said city to the order of the persons entitled to the same subject however to the deduction of any taxes and assessments that may be liens on the premises taken and any assessment that may thereafter be levied for the expense of the improvement and upon such deposit being made said city shall be entitled to the immediate possession of the premises condemned. At any time after the confirmation of such report the Common Council may direct that the duplicate copy thereof filed in the office of the clerk of Monroe county heretofore directed by section one hundred and seventy-eight of this act to be filed shall be recorded at full length in said clerk's office and said Common Council may also direct that any report of commissioners of appraisal in any proceedings instituted for the acquisition of lands in the city of Rochester heretofore filed in said Monroe County Clerk's office or a certified copy thereof shall be recorded at length in said clerk's office with the same effect as if such proceedings had been instituted or report made and filed after the amendment of this section. Whenever any proceedings shall have been taken by said city to acquire any lands rights or easements by condemnation and any improvement shall have been made by said city or any of its officers or departments on such lands rights or easements and it shall appear that all the interests in said lands rights or easements have not been cut off by such condemnation proceedings by reason of the failure to give notice of the proceedings or otherwise, said defect in such condemnation proceedings shall not invalidate such improvements or any assessment levied or to be levied therefor, but such assessment shall be valid and effectual notwithstanding such defect in the condemnation proceedings and said city shall upon the discovery of such defect make application to the Monroe county court to determine the amount of money to be deposited as security for the payment of the compensation which shall be finally awarded to the owner of the interest not theretofore acquired. Such amount as said court may direct shall be deposited by said city as directed as security for the payment of such compensation and said city shall proceed immediately to condemn by proceedings authorized by this charter or other law the interest not acquired and no action or proceeding shall meanwhile be brought against said city or its officers or departments by reason of such defect other than to compel proceedings to be taken to cause such deposit to be made and to condemn the interest not acquired. This amendment shall apply to condemnation proceedings improvements and assessments hereinafter as well as heretofore taken by said city its officers or departments.

Sec. 39. Section one hundred eighty-two of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 182. When any damages shall be awarded and any assessment for benefits of the improvements in respect to which such damages are awarded shall be made upon the same person or persons or in respect to the ownership of any parcel of land a part of which or a right or easement therein shall be taken for such improvement in that case the said city of Rochester shall become vested with the title to such land or right or easement therein so taken free from any and all liens and incumbrances of every kind and nature upon paying or depositing or directing the depositing according to the provisions of this act the excess of the amount so awarded over and above the amount so assessed and any other taxes and assessments which may be liens on the premises taken and in case the amount so awarded is less than the amount assessed then upon the confirmation of the assessment roll containing the application of such award upon such assessment. Any and all lands required by the city of Rochester for any purpose under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be acquired for public use.

Sec. 40. Section one hundred ninety-eight of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 198. Whenever the Common Council shall determine that the whole or any part of the expense of any improvement shall be defrayed by a local assessment and the expense of such improvement shall exceed in the aggregate the sum of one thousand dollars it may be paid one-third in cash and the balance in the city's notes payable in one and two years with interest thereon not exceeding six per centum per annum, and in case such expenses shall exceed ten thousand dollars it may be paid one-third in cash and the balance in the city's notes payable in one, two, three and four years respectively with interest thereon not exceeding six per centum per annum, and the city may get its notes discounted for the above purpose. The Common Council may determine at the time of fixing the amount to be assessed if the same shall exceed one thousand dollars, that the taxpayers pay their assessments in not more than three equal payments; one-third within sixty days from the time that the Treasurer shall advertise the same as heretofore provided, one-third within one year, and one-third within two years from the time of confirmation of such roll. And in case the amounts to be assessed ascertained as herein provided shall exceed ten thousand dollars the Common Council may determine, as aforesaid, that the taxpayers may pay their assessments in not more than five equal payments, one within thirty days from the time that the Treasurer shall advertise the same as hereinafter provided and the balance within one, two, three and four years respectively after such confirmation. The entire expense of every local improvement assessed and paid as aforesaid shall be ascertained by the City Treasurer including any damages or awards for the takings of lands, rights or easements together with any interest paid or to accrue on the orders or notes issued by the city to pay the expense of such improvement and interest on such sums shall be reckoned to the time the last installment of such assessment shall become due. Persons or the owners of land so assessed who shall make any payment previous to the maturity of said last installment therein shall be entitled to a discount at the same rate as is paid on the city's notes or orders issued to pay for such improvement. Instead of proceeding as heretofore provided in this section the Common Council may direct that the expense of any improvement heretofore or hereafter made to be defrayed in whole or in part by a local assessment, shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of local improvement bonds and in such case the assessments for such improvement shall be made as hereinafter provided in this section. Such assessments shall be extended over a continuous period so that the ratable amount due in any one year shall not exceed a sum equal to five per cent. of the assessed value of any piece of property involved as shown by the last annual assessment roll for general city taxes, provided however that such period does not exceed nine years. In case such computation makes the period exceed nine years then the aforesaid method of computation shall be disregarded and the time of payment shall be limited to nine years in equal annual installments as herein provided. The City Assessors or special commissioners shall note upon all such assessment rolls at the time of their presentation the number of years recommended for the payment of all assessments therein and they are hereby authorized to use in their discretion subject to the approval of the Common Council any smaller percentage than five in determining the time for payment to be recommended provided always that such time shall not exceed nine years. The first payment of any such assessment shall be due on the first day of the second month following the month in which said assessment roll shall have been received by the City Treasurer and succeeding payments shall be due on the first day of said month in each succeeding year. On all amounts not paid during the month in which they are due, the Treasurer shall charge interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum but nothing shall prevent the pre-payment in whole or in part of any assessment and in the event of such pre-payment the Treasurer shall charge interest on the amount pre-paid from the time the assessment was first due to the time in which such payment was made. The City Treasurer or other officials shall act promptly in all matters pertaining to the completion of the assessment rolls and placing them in the Treasurer's office for collection and it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to advise the Common Council at its first regular meetings in January, April, July and October in each year of any and all completed local improvements, whose assessment rolls remain unconfirmed. Whenever the expense connected with any improvement to be defrayed in whole or in part by local assessments shall be reported to the Common Council, it shall be the duty of the Common Council to adjust and report the same to the City Assessors, or special commissioners, to be assessed upon the property benefited as provided herein.

Sec. 41. Section two hundred and nine of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 209. The City Treasurer shall issue his warrant as aforesaid to a collector commanding him to collect the amount unpaid on such assessment with interest and fees as aforesaid and shall annex to such warrant either a list of such assessments taken from the assessment roll or the roll itself which warrant shall be in the form and the same proceeding shall be had as prescribed in the case of the collection of the general city taxes remaining unpaid and all the provisions of the charter in relation to the collection of such general city taxes, the warrant therefor, the appointment, duties, fees and security of such collectors the responsibility of the City Treasurer and his sureties for such collectors the jurisdiction of the supreme court in case of delinquencies, shall be applicable to every such assessment. In case any assessment or any installment shall have become entirely due and the whole or any part thereof remains unpaid and a warrant shall have been issued therefor and returned unsatisfied it shall be the duty of the City Treasurer to report the same to the assessors. Whenever any assessment or any installment thereof is so reported the assessors in preparing the next roll for general city taxes shall insert therein against the property on which it was assessed the amount of such unpaid assessment with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from the time when due, down to the first day of May thereafter. Such amount shall be in a separate column from the general city tax to be levied for the ensuing year. Upon the confirmation of such assessment roll, such amount shall be added to the general city tax and the entire amount shall be collected as hereinbefore provided in reference to general city taxes and if such amount is not paid, the lands shall be sold therefor as hereinbefore provided. When such tax is collected, the Treasurer shall credit the portion thereof which was due on any assessment to the proper fund. On assessments heretofore unpaid the property assessed may be sold for such assessments as heretofore provided by said charter.

Sec. 42. Section two hundred and fifteen of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 215. Every tax or assessment authorized by this act which has been assessed upon any lands, tenements, or real estate, or upon the owners or occupants thereof, shall be, and is hereby declared valid and effectual notwithstanding any irregularity, omission or error in any of the proceedings relating to the same, and shall be and remain a lien upon such lands, tenements or real estate in respect to which the same have been made, from the time of the passage of the resolution of the Common Council levying the same in the case of the annual city taxes, and from the time of the confirmation by the said Common Council of the roll containing the same, in the case of other taxes and assessments, and until the same shall be actually paid and satisfied. In case any assessment shall remain unpaid on account of any irregularity, omission or error in any assessment for a local improvement or of an annual city tax or in the proceedings relating thereto, or in case of error in the description of lands, tenements or real estate, or in the designation of the owners or occupants, the Common Council may, in their discretion, proceed to correct such irregularity, omission or error, and cause the amount so unpaid to be reassessed on the property deemed to be benefited by such improvement, or assessed in such general city taxes, or upon the owners or occupants thereof, and the Common Council are hereby authorized and empowered to have such reassessment made in the same manner as the original assessment should have been made, and to direct the Treasurer to correct any such irregularity, omission or error, and such reassessment or correction shall have the same effect as if the assessment had originally been properly made. COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

Mayor's Office,
 Rochester, N. Y., March 11, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I hereby return to you without my approval, the printing resolutions adopted at your meeting of March 2, 1897, for the following reasons:

The Rochester Printing Company's bid was twenty-nine cents an inch for printing the proceedings, and twenty-five cents an inch for printing the official notices; the Post Express Company's bid was twenty-two cents an inch for the proceedings and twenty-five cents for the official notices; the Times Printing Company's bid was eighteen cents an inch for the proceedings and the official notices; and the Rochester Union & Advertiser Company made no bid. The Post Express filed no affidavit as to its circulation nor any bond. The Times filed an affidavit as to circulation but no bond. The contract to print the proceedings and some of the official notices was awarded to the Rochester Printing Company. The Post Express Company and the Union & Advertiser were awarded the printing of all the other notices which were not to be printed in the Democrat and Chronicle, the same to be divided equally between them, at twenty-five cents an inch. The Times Company was awarded nothing.

Fourteen months' observation of the various proceedings of the Common Council and the Executive Board, has demonstrated beyond a doubt that all the important matters of business transacted by the Executive Board and the Common Council, including all committee reports, and the reports of the various city officials made to the Common Council, have been printed as city news in the five English daily papers and the two German papers upon the day after each meeting of the Common Council and the Executive Board. Thus all the matters of importance, in which the citizens of our city were interested, have been furnished to all the newspaper readers of the city the day after their occurrence, and every newspaper reader in our city has read or has been given an opportunity to read the same. This has been accomplished by the aid of intelligent, diligent and courteous reporters who have been constantly on the search for such items of news. For furnishing the same the papers are paid in part by subscriptions from their numerous subscribers, and such subscribers expect to be furnished with such news in return for the price paid for the papers.

The proposition of the Common Council is that after all this circulation and after every one has been furnished with the news, that it is a good business investment to print them again in a paper with a circulation of 10,942 at twenty-nine cents an inch, instead of in one with a circulation of 5,500 at eighteen cents an inch. With such a proposition I am unable to agree. If they had not been printed at all then there might be some force in the proposition.

Is it likely that any one who had not already read them as city news would read them when printed several days after their occurrence? In my opinion they would not reach an additional reader. Having been so thoroughly printed and circulated it would be just as well if they were never printed again. But as they are required to be printed as a matter of form, it should be done as cheaply as possible, and just as good results would be accomplished by printing them at eighteen cents an inch, and a large sum of money saved to the people.

A large number of street sprinkling, cleaning and sweeping ordinances are printed each year at an expense of about seven hundred dollars. They are passed as a matter of form each year. The people residing on the street affected know they are to be passed and know they will have to pay the expense. No one else is interested in them. They are printed in the official proceedings twice. Their printing might as well be omitted; but having to be printed, just as much good will be accomplished at eighteen cents an inch as at twenty-nine cents. As to the mere routine work of the Common Council and the Executive Board hardly any one is interested in the same. Not one person in fifty reads an account of it. It might as well be printed at eighteen cents an inch as at twenty-nine cents and no one will be harmed thereby.

The bid of the Times Printing Company was the lowest for printing the proceedings, and it should have been awarded the same. Much stress is laid upon the fact that the Times filed no bond; but by reference to the printing specifications it will be seen no bond was required, so that the Times' bid was in strict accordance with the printing specifications. The committee say they have no means of finding out the circulation of the Post Express as no affidavit was filed, and it was better on account of the larger circulation of the Democrat and Chronicle to give the printing to it rather than to the Times. Under the printing specifications the committee could if they desired examine the books of the Express, and see what was its circulation. As to the difference in the circulation of the Times and the Democrat and Chronicle I venture to say that if the Times had a circulation of 20,000 and the Democrat and Chronicle 10,000, and the Times' bid was eighteen cents and the Democrat and Chronicle's twenty-nine cents an inch that the contract would have been awarded to the Democrat and Chronicle just the same. The question of circulation would have been abandoned and the contract awarded to the Democrat and Chronicle upon the same principle that it has been awarded to the official papers for years past; viz: on account of the supposed good it has done the party instead of on account of the good it has done the public. The plea of circulation has been used simply as a cover for accomplishing the desired end.

As to the official notices, the Times' bid was eighteen cents an inch and the Democrat and Chronicle's and Post Express's twenty-five cents an inch. The Union made no bid. Why was the Times ignored and the printing awarded to the other papers? I have carefully examined the committee's reports to find an explanation, but none is given. In stating the reasons why the Times was ignored in printing the proceedings the committee say that the Democrat and Chronicle had a larger circulation than the Times. They did not know the circulation of the Express. Following these reasons the only thing which could reasonably be expected was the awarding the printing of the notices to the Times. The Times filed an affidavit of circulation at 5,500 the Post Express filed none, and no bond. As between the Times, Express, and the Union the only paper whose circulation the committee possessed any knowledge of was the Times, yet it was ignored and the printing given to the other papers.

This may be explained upon some proper business principle, but it is difficult to understand what it is. The Times' bid was the lowest and it should have been awarded this printing. A large number of these notices are intended to reach a few persons only. Take the street sprinkling ordinances. Bids are solicited for them in groups. There are not to exceed twelve persons engaged in that kind of work. Take the proposed improvement of State street with an asphalt pavement. We have only three companies who bid on such improvements. Take the other street improvements and sidewalk building, we have but a few persons engaged in that work. Persons engaged in the above kinds of work are on a watch for bids being solicited. They would be found if posted on a bulletin board in the Executive Board rooms. Yet it is considered necessary to print them at twenty-five cents an inch, when they can be printed and just as much good accomplished at eighteen cents an inch. Just as many bidders would read them in the Times as in the other papers.

Let as they are the printing contracts involve an increased expenditure of from twenty-five hundred to three thousand dollars, which might as well be saved, and I fail to find any good reason why I should be a party to such an unnecessary expense.

While on this subject I would recommend that an amendment of the charter be passed providing that street sprinkling and cleaning ordinances be not published at all; and that a thorough revision of the several sections of the charter providing for printing be made and a large amount of unnecessary printing omitted. If such changes are made a saving could be made to the city of at least five thousand dollars a year, and no interests would be prejudiced.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

The Chair stated the question to be, "Shall the resolutions stand, notwithstanding the disapproval of his honor, the Mayor?"

COMMUNICATIONS FROM OTHER CORPORATION OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., March 16, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—There is in the Security Trust Company to the credit of the city of Rochester, $891.75, this being the difference in rate of interest paid by the city of Rochester, on their bond issued for the benefit of the West Side Sewer Commissioners, and the rate of interest paid by the Commissioners on their certificates given the city as collateral for their loan.

If it meets with your approval, I would suggest that $881.75 of the above amount be transferred to the Sinking Fund, and that the balance, $10, be used in paying the rent of box in the Rochester Trust Co.'s vault, which was used for the safe keeping of the certificates.

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., March 11, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen: I have received from the Newburgh Savings Bank of Newburgh, N. Y., and given my receipt for same, coupon bonds of the city of Rochester, as follows:

Water works bond for $1,000.
14 Funding Loan bonds of $1,000 each—$14,000. Total $15,000.

The bank wishes these bonds exchanged for registered bonds. Have written the Union Trust Company in regard to the Funding Loan bonds, to ascertain if they have any blank bonds on hand of this issue.

Their reply just received says: "We have no certificates which could be used for converting city of Rochester Funding Loan coupon bonds into registered bonds."

On two former occasions, when parties wished to exchange their coupon bonds for registered bonds, and the city had no blank certificates to make the exchange in due and regular form, the coupons were destroyed by the City Treasurer in the presence of the Mayor, and every member of the Finance Committee.

These officials then signed a certificate prepared by the Corporation Counsel to the effect that they had witnessed the destruction of coupons—giving their number—and the number and issue of bond to which they had been attached.

This certificate was then sent to the Union Trust Company, with balance of bond left after the removal of the coupons, and these officials then registered same.

As to report of former proceedings of like action, I refer to the Common Council reports for years 1888-89, page 323 and 1892-93, page 185.

If it meets with your approval, I respectfully request that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to prepare the necessary papers, and that similar action be taken with the bonds above referred to.
Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

CITY PROPERTY COMMITTEE REPORT.
To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your committee on city property would respectfully report as follows:

With reference to the resolution authorizing the employment of one additional man and one additional woman in the care of the City Hall building, your committee would recommend that the Chairman of the City Property Committee be authorized to employ one additional woman to assist in the care of the building, believing that the force as thus increased will be sufficient to keep the building in good order.

Your committee would also recommend that the nuisance created by the storage of bicycles in the halls and corridors of the building be abated and that the chairman of the City Property Committee be authorized to adopt such measures and enforce such regulations as will accomplish this end.

Reference to the report of the Finance Committee fixing the salaries of the city employes discloses the fact that no provision has been made for the compensation of the person hitherto employed in caring for the city clocks. Your committee had, therefore, no alternative but to drop Mr. Emerich from the pay roll. We find, however, that he performed the usual service during the month of January, 1897, before the decision to discontinue his services was reached, and we therefore recommend the adoption of a resolution providing for the payment to Mr. Emerich of $25 for his services for the said month.

Respectfully,
T. W. FORD,
M. B. ADAMS,
MARTIN J. CALIHAN,
EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
City Property Committee.

AN ACT to amend the charter of the city of Rochester.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. Section fifty-seven of said charter is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. Section sixty-seven of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 67. It shall be the duty of the Police Justice, for the time being, on the first Monday in May and November, in every year, to deliver an account, verified by his oath, to the Mayor of said city, of all moneys, goods, wares and merchandise then remaining unclaimed in said police office, and immediately thereafter shall publish a notice once a week for three weeks in the official newspaper of said city of Rochester, to all persons interested in or claiming such property, that unless claimed by the owner with satisfactory proof of such ownership, before a specified day, the same shall be sold at auction to the highest bidder. On the day and at a place specified in such notice, all property remaining unclaimed, except money, shall be sold at auction by said justice, or under his direction. If any goods, wares, merchandise or chattels of a perishable nature, or which shall be expensive to keep, shall at any time remain unclaimed in said police office, it shall be lawful for said Police Justice to sell the same at public auction at such time and after such notice as to him and the said Mayor shall seem proper. The said justice shall, immediately after the sale of any property in accordance herewith, pay to the Treasurer of said city all moneys remaining unclaimed in his hands as such Police Justice, and all moneys received by him upon such sale, after deducting expenses thereof.

Sec. 3. Section eighty-one of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 81. For the purpose of paying such expenses the Common Council shall raise annually such sums as shall be estimated and reported by the Finance Committee as necessary in the manner hereinafter provided. The said Finance Committee may at any time require from the chairman of each of the committees of the Common Council, and it shall be his duty to furnish to the Finance Committee, and in such forms as they shall require, full and particular estimates of the amount needed by the various funds and departments in their charge, and especially for lighting the city, for the support of the police department, for the general contingent expenses of the city, for the support and relief of the poor, for the maintenance and improvement of public parks and squares, the expense of the Board of Health, and for all other necessary expenses of said city during the next fiscal year. The Finance Committee shall prepare, and on or before the first regular meeting of the Common Council in March in each year they shall present, to said Common Council, a statement in detail of the several sums which will be needed for said funds and to meet the expenses of the year for all proper municipal purposes, and showing what sums will be, in their opinion, necessary to be raised for other specific purposes. The Common Council may alter or amend such statement in their discretion, but not so that the aggregate amount to be raised shall exceed that so reported to them by the Finance Committee unless such increase be made by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, subject to the approval of the Mayor. The amount of the general tax must be determined by the first regular meeting in April in each year. A vote of a majority of all the members of the Common Council shall be necessary to fix such amount, and the statement as finally adopted shall be entered at large in the minutes. Said Common Council shall also raise annually by tax, with the general taxes of said city, an amount sufficient to pay interest upon all the bonds issued by said city, and all the principal or installments of principal of said bonds falling due within the then current fiscal year, for the payment of which, provision is not otherwise made. No member of the Common Council shall vote for the payment of any money out of any of the general funds herein named, or out of any other fund in the city treasury, knowing that such fund is without money to pay the same; and any person violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the Monroe county penitentiary for the period of ten days; and the District Attorney of the county of Monroe is hereby specially directed, and it shall be his duty, to prosecute all persons violating this provision, upon the complaint of any taxpayer of said city. In case the sums above specified, or any of them, shall prove insufficient for the purposes for which the same were raised, then the Common Council shall have power, by a vote of three-fourths of all the members elected, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to provide for borrowing, upon the credit of the city, so much money as may be deemed necessary to supply such deficiency, and the amount borrowed shall be assessed and collected as part of the city taxes of the ensuing year, in addition to the other sums provided for. In case the Common Council shall order the whole or any part of the expenses of any improvement or public work, or the amount of any proper municipal expenditure or liability, to be paid out of the public treasury of the city, and not by local assessment or otherwise, and the amount in the treasury, or already levied by general tax, shall not be sufficient for the purpose, the Common Council may borrow, upon the credit of the city, the necessary amount, and the same shall be raised in and paid out of the next general tax levy; except that in order to pay the same, or any part thereof, the Common Council may, at its election, cause to be issued the bonds of the city, maturing in not more than twenty years from their date, and bearing such rate of interest as may be found necessary to effect a sale thereof, at not less than par, or said Common Council may direct the note or other obligation of the city to be issued under this section, which, however, shall be payable in not more than eight months from its date, but nothing hereinbefore contained shall, in any wise, affect the right of the city to issue its bonds under any of the other sections of its charter or any other statute.

Sec. 4. Section eighty-three of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 83. The annual assessment of property in said city shall be made by the Assessors thereof by the second Tuesday of March in each year. The Assessors shall enter the assessments for each ward in a book provided for that purpose, and the assessments shall give a description of the property sufficient to identify it. They shall show in different columns the value of land and buildings separately, and the aggregate amount of the two parallel columns shall be the assessable value of each piece of real estate. They shall also show in a separate column the amount of personal property subject to taxation. COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATIONS, OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By Ald. Dewey—

Law Department,
Rochester, N. Y., March 30, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of the proceeding taken by Daniel W. Powers to review the amount of the assessment against his property known as the Powers block, I beg leave to say that the Supreme Court has decided in favor of a reduction of the assessment from $1,000,000 to $825,000. I believe that no such reduction should have been made and that if the decision is allowed to stand it will establish a precedent which may prove serious in future assessments of property for general city taxes. I recommend that an appeal be taken to the Appellate Division.

A. J. RODENBECK, Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published.
By Ald. Dewey—Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be authorized to take an appeal to a final determination in the proceeding instituted by Daniel W. Powers to review the assessment against the Powers block.

Rochester, N. Y., March 30, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:
Gentlemen:—I forward communication from Mr. Harold C. Mitchell in regard to the general city tax for 1896 assessed to Anna O. Rosenbrook. I am in receipt of similar communications quite frequently, and have in all cases forwarded the same to the Corporation Counsel for instructions.

To make it a matter of record, I wish you would refer this to the Law Committee, and request them to take such action as will be a guide for the treatment of communications of this nature, which will undoubtedly be received in the future.

If the property purchased with pension money is exempt from taxation, it should be after the owner has filed the necessary papers with the City Assessors and on taxes to be levied for the following year, otherwise the tax for current year's expense will be levied, and to clear are rolls of what has since been exempted will require further action of the Common Council.

In the tax of Anna Rosenbrook (bill of which is attached) the regular city tax is but $19.78, to which has been added, unpaid assessment for Warwick avenue asphalt pavement, $541.37, unpaid assessment for Maple and Colvin streets sewer, $23.58, and for unpaid water tax for 1895, $9.90, making a total of $594.63. This amount together with the additional 9 per cent. and the $1.50 added for advertising the cost and sale makes $649.68, the amount named in the communication.

In the Common Council proceedings for 1896, at page 356, I find reference to a petition made by the same party, but do not know what she asked for in her former communication.

Does the law exempting property purchased with pension money from general taxation also absolve it from local assessments and water charges?

To protect the city's interest, I have bidden in the tax in the name of the city of Rochester. If you wish to cancel the tax or any part of it, it can be done.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Rochester, N. Y., March 30, 1897.

S. B. Williams, Esq., City Treasurer:
Dear Sir:—You will please to take notice that the property of Anna O. Rosenbrook situate on the north side of Bronson avenue, in the 19th ward, which you have advertised for sale for the city tax of $649.68 is property that has been purchased and partly paid for with pension money; that said tax has been illegally assessed upon said property, and that you are hereby forbidden from selling said property for such tax. You are further notified that you and the city of Rochester will be held responsible for all damages suffered by said Anna Rosenbrook by reason of such advertisement and sale.

Yours, etc.,
HAROLD C. MITCHELL,
Attorney for Anna O. Rosenbrook.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:
Gentlemen:—The roll for the Andrews St. bridge assessment expired February 7, 1897, and all unpaid assessments on said roll should be added to the general city tax for 1897. Against property assessed to "Unknown" there is an unpaid assessment of $24,749.53.

The property upon which this tax is assessed is described as lot N. W. part of river bed, being 136 feet in width and about 318 feet in depth. What disposition shall I make of same?

Yours respectfully,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:
Gentlemen:—In regard to the payment for sprinkling and sweeping contracts for 1897:

To what fund shall I charge the orders as drawn by the Executive Board?
Unless some provision is made for the payment of same, the orders should not be issued. It has been the custom of this office to pay the orders from the Local Improvement Fund, and when any collections were made for sprinkling and sweeping, to credit the same to this account. This has been done from the fact that the city at large has not been charged for the work done, but property on certain named streets only; so that the tax is a local, and not a general one.

In the judgment of Alderman Johnston, the Treasurer was wrong in doing as above noted. I must have authority to make the city's note for this purpose, or your approval to charge the amounts to Local Improvement fund as formerly.

The rolls for sprinkling and sweeping for 1896 have not yet been received by the Treasurer for collection.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

By Ald. Wilson—

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Last year, after the passage of the ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on sidewalks, the wheel riders of the 19th ward formed an association for the purpose of constructing wheel paths on the unimproved streets of the ward. The association raised money by popular subscription and in various other ways and built nearly four miles of path last season, which have been of great benefit to the wheel riders of the ward, having been available for use nearly all winter. These paths are constructed between the gutter, or what should be called the curb line, and the sidewalk, and do not in any way interfere with that part of the street designed for wagons. Notwithstanding this, many drivers out of pure maliciousness drive on the paths, destroying their usefulness as wheel paths, and adding constantly to the expenses of the association in keeping them in repair.

In view of a very large number of wheel riders in our ward and believing that the example set by us will eventually be adopted in all outlying wards in the city, we would respectfully request that an ordinance be passed prescribing a penalty for driving on, or otherwise injuring paths built for the use of bicycle riders where same are built inside of the curb line of any street.

When a majority of the taxpayers on any street prior to the confirmation of any assessment on such street shall petition that an extension of time from five to fifteen years be given them to pay such assessment and where said improvement has been guaranteed for any number of years up to fifteen years, the Common Council may, by a majority vote of all the members elected thereto, with the approval of the Mayor and upon prior recommendation of the City Engineer, provide in any ordinance for any street or other improvement, the expense of which may be imposed and assessed upon the property benefited thereby, as provided by law, that the assessments therefor shall be and become due and payable in any number not less than five and not more than fifteen equal annual installments, but in no case longer than the time for which the city has been duly guaranteed to be held free from cost or expense in maintaining or keeping the same in repair; and that the first installment of any such assessment shall be due on the first day of the second month following the month in which such assessment roll shall have been received by the City Treasurer and that one of such installments, together with interest thereon from and after the date of the confirmation of such assessment at the rate specified in the bonds issued on account thereof, as hereinafter provided, upon the whole amount of the entire assessment remaining unpaid, shall be payable on the first day of said month in each succeeding year until the whole of such assessment and the interest thereon shall be paid.

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., March 30, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Law Committee beg leave to report as follows:

In the matter of the communication addressed to this body by Mrs. John S. Baker, claiming that her husband had not been fairly treated by the Board of Examining Engineers, we beg leave to say that after a hearing and examination of the facts in the case we find that Mr. Baker was examined on November 6, 1896, by the board of examiners and was given twenty days further time in which to prepare himself; that he was again examined December 4, 1896, and was formally rejected by the Board; that Mr. Dawson, who, it is claimed, secured Mr. Baker's position at the Reynolds library, had been in the employ of the N. Y. C. R. R. Co. until late in January, 1897, and did not apply for the position at Reynolds library until the latter part of February and did not go to work there until about March 1st. We think, after a review of the facts, that Mr. Baker has been more than fairly treated by the examining board, and has no cause for complaint.

In the matter of the petition of Ike Melenky, asking for a rebate of a pawnbroker's license paid by him, we beg leave to recommend a denial of the same.

In the matter of the claim of Bridget Clark for damages for personal injuries, we beg leave to recommend a settlement of the same for the sum of $45.

We also beg leave to report favorably upon the request of the Treasurer that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to prepare the necessary papers to effect an exchange of certain coupon bonds for registered bonds of the city.

In the case of the People ex rel. Ritzenthaler vs. Higgins, we recommend the payment of the costs incurred.

We recommend the appointment of the following for Commissioners of Deeds: J. G. Schieber, Jr., William A. Bloch, Peter G. Miller, Geo. H. Truex, Wm. D'Orville Doty, William N. Goldwater, Carrie M. Leggett, Chas. J. Bennett, Frank B. Decker.

Respectfully submitted,

M. B. ADAMS,
 EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
 T. W. FORD,
 DEVILLO W. SELYE,
 Law Committee.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That upon the certificate of the Corporation Counsel that proper releases have been filed with him, the City Clerk be authorized to draw an order payable from the Contingent Fund in favor of Bridget Clark for the sum of $45 in full for personal injuries received.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Pauckner, Kelly, Simmelnk, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—18.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That upon the certificate of the Corporation Counsel the City Clerk be authorized to draw an order, payable from the Contingent Fund, in favor of Edward F. Wellington, for the sum of $230.10, being the taxable costs in the case of the People of the State of New York ex rel. Bernard Ritzenthaler as Overseer of the Poor of the City of Rochester against Edward F. Higgins.

Adopted by the following vote:
 Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Pauckner, Kelly, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—18.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the City Treasurer, Mayor and Finance Committee of the Common Council, for the time being, be and they hereby are designated for the purpose of destroying coupon bonds received by the Treasurer from the Newburg Savings Bank of Newburg, New York, to wit: water works bonds for $1,000; 14 funding loan bonds at $1,000 each, total $15,000, and to provide for the due authentication of such destruction, and it shall be and hereby is made their duty to report to the Common Council at its next regular meeting after such destruction a full and detailed report of their action, and that upon such destruction the City Treasurer be authorized to send the balance of the bonds left after the removal of the coupons with a proper certificate to the Union Trust Company with the request to register the same.

Adopted.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report upon various matters referred to the committee as follows:

The City Treasurer having been advised that the Attorney General of the state has given an opinion to the effect that all assessments and taxes on state property for improvements other than sprinkling and cleaning are a valid claim against the state, your committee would recommend that an act authorizing an appropriation sufficient to pay the city's claim on this account be drafted by the Corporation Counsel and forwarded to Albany for introduction in the Legislature.

In the matter of the balance of $891.75 at the Security Trust Company, being the amount of the difference in rate of interest paid by the city on the bond issued in aid of the West Side Sewer Commission and the rate of interest paid to the city by the commission on certificates held as collateral security for said bond, we recommend that $10 of the amount be used to pay for the rental of box in which said certificates were kept, and that the balance, $881.75, be credited to the Sinking Fund.

The Hemlock Lake Commission made application to this Council under date of March 16, 1897, for an advance of $15,000. Your committee is advised that this amount is urgently needed by the commission in the consummation of its plans for the protection of the city's water supply, and would recommend that the Treasurer be authorized to procure the city's note to be discounted for $15,000, the proceeds to be placed to the credit of the aforesaid commission.

In the matter of the communication of the Mayor with reference to certain contracts and bonds with banks in this city for the deposit of city moneys, we beg leave to say that the contracts were prepared by the Corporation Counsel after consultation with the City Treasurer and are satisfactory in form to the Corporation Counsel, and conform to the provisions of the resolution under which they were prepared. We recommend that the contracts be approved and a similar contract with a proper bond be prepared with the Traders National Bank.

By resolution adopted February 16th the salary of the Clerk of the Plumbing Board was fixed at $200 per year from February 1st. The finance budget to be presented this evening provides for the payment of the clerk's salary for the months of February and March on that basis. He has not been paid for services rendered during the month of January. Your committee would recommend that an order be drawn in favor of Mr. O'Kane for $33.33 for his services during January, being at the rate of compensation allowed previous to the adoption of the resolution already referred to.

Respectfully submitted,

By Ald. Edelman—

City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., March 30, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Committee on Streets and Sewers beg to make the following report:

It has come to the knowledge of this committee that no proper record is kept in the City Engineer's office of private sewers, gas pipes, electric conduits and other underground construction owing to the failure of the persons or corporations laying such pipes to furnish necessary information for such record.

Your committee is convinced that a full and complete record of all underground work in the public streets and alleys should be on file in the office of the City Engineer. We are well aware that it would be impossible to get complete plans of all old work now in the street as no plans of much of the work are in existence. This fact, however, should not in any way operate to delay furnishing such plans by private persons or corporations as are available, of any underground work now laid, and requiring in the future as a condition of laying any private underground work maps and plans of the same.

For the purpose of carrying the above recommendations into effect your committee recommend the adoption of the accompanying resolution.

Your committee have also considered numerous requests that the unimproved streets in various parts of the city be surfaced with the road machine and would respectfully recommend that the Executive Board be requested to have the said streets graded and scraped with the road machine as early as practicable.

Respectfully submitted,

LEWIS EDELMAN,
WILLIAM S. BEARD,
WM. PAUCKNER,
WM. REICHENBERGER,
STEPHEN RAUBER,

Received, filed and published.

Edelman—Resolved, That the City Engineer confer with the proper officers of the various corporations having underground construction in this city, with a view of securing such information as may be available in regard to the location of said underground construction now built and of adopting a plan for records of future work.

Edelman—Resolved, That the Executive Board be requested to require from individuals and private corporations, desiring to lay any underground construction in any public street or alley, such as main and house laterals, sewers, main gas pipes, electric conduits, etc., a map similar to the record maps of the public sewers in the City Engineer's office, showing the location of such construction, said maps to be filed with the City Engineer.

Said Board is also further requested to cause the inspector of said work to keep a book in which shall be recorded similar information in regard to said construction as is required in the case of public sewers, said book to be filed in the City Engineer's office on the completion of the work supervised by said inspector.

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., April 13, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the resolution adopted by your honorable body authorizing the Executive Board to negotiate for the right of way for the Niesser, Kusse and Field street sewer, the Board invited the owners to call at the office and state the amount which they would accept for the easement proposed to be acquired. After several interviews with the owners, and finally a conference with them and the representatives of the taxpayers proposed to be assessed for the sewer, the City Engineer and a committee of your honorable body, it was determined that it would be somewhat problematical as to whether a satisfactory agreement could be arrived at or not, and it was therefore deemed the most expeditious way to arrive at a settlement of the question by suggesting that a commission be appointed to obtain the right of way by condemnation proceedings.

Respectfully,
THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk,

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The East Side Trunk Sewer Commission has deemed it expedient to secure from Mathias Kondolf and wife an additional right of way for the East Side Trunk Sewer which is constructed through his property situated on Monroe avenue; and it becomes necessary to reconvey to the above-named parties a portion of the old right of way heretofore secured by the Common Council, and to the end it is recommended that a resolution be adopted authorizing the Corporation Counsel to take the necessary steps to carry out this purpose.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk,

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to prepare a conveyance from the city to Mathias Kondolf and wife of the right of way heretofore conveyed to the city for the East Side Trunk Sewer which lies inside of the new right of way conveyed to the city March 26, 1897, and that the Mayor be authorized to execute the same attaching thereto the corporate seal.

Adopted.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., April 13, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I am instructed by the Executive Board to again call your attention to the urgent necessity of improving Court street, from the bridge to South Union street.

It will be remembered that the Executive Board many months ago suggested that this same improvement be made, and for good and sufficient reasons, it is presumed, the improvement was postponed, and repairs for the time being were made from moneys taken from the Highway Fund.

The condition of the street now demands immediate repair, and repairs of any value or permanency cannot be made except at such an outlay of money as the Executive Board feels able to expend, and, in fact, would not be warranted in making such expenditure from the amount of money at their disposal for the care and maintenance of streets. It is therefore respectfully recommended that your honorable body at once cause to be introduced an ordinance for the permanent improvement of this important thoroughfare.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk,

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Green moved that the communication be referred to the Public Improvement Committee. Carried.

By Ald. Dewey—

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—It has recently come to my notice that the assessment roll for Rowe street widening has not been confirmed, although the improvement was completed several years ago. The records of the Common Council show that the assessment for this improvement was ordered in February 1894. The roll was reported a short time later and confirmation delayed at the request of the alderman of the tenth ward.

The awards and commission expenses, aggregating several hundred dollars, were paid several years ago from funds in the treasury. I know of no good reason why the property owners benefited by the improvement should be allowed any more time in which to pay their assessments. As a matter of fact the roll should have been placed in the hands of the Treasurer for collection at least three years ago. In the present financial condition of the city the treasury should not be compelled to carry this expense any longer. I would therefore suggest the adoption of the accompanying resolution fixing the next meeting of this Council as the time when allegations will be heard on the confirmation of the roll.

Respectfully yours,
ALVIN H. DEWEY,
Alderman Twelfth Ward.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Dewey—Resolved, That the next regular meeting of this Common Council, appointed to be held April 27, 1897, be and hereby is assigned as the time when any complaints or appeals relating to the assessment roll for Rowe street widening, Ord. No. 4,872, will be heard.

By Ald. Edelman—

City Engineer's Department.
Rochester N. Y., April 13, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: In accordance with a communication from the executive board, presented by Alderman Adams, dated July 7, 1896, (see C. C. proceedings, page 459, 1896) calling attention to the confusion arising from duplicated names on our streets and alleys, your committee has caused to be prepared a complete list of such streets and alleys and find that in order to correct this deplorable condition of affairs, it will be necessary to change the names of about two hundred (200) thoroughfares.

We cannot place too much emphasis on the necessity of authorizing the completion of this work at once. An imperative reason for this is that our city is now being canvassed for the 1897 directory, therefore the work of making such changes should be done before the directory is issued. Many of our thoroughfares have too many names along the line of a continuous street. There are several instances where, in a long stretch of street, one short block will bear a different name from the remaining and larger portion, i. e. Weld street, Kenilworth terrace; St. Joseph street, Hyde park, and others, a system which should be abolished at once.

We also call attention to the fact that by mutual agreement or long usage, our city has divided into four quarters, viz: North and South of Main street and East and West of the Genesee river. We have, therefore, fallen into the error of misapplying the term designating direction. For instance, we say "North St. Paul street," "South Clinton street," "East and West Main street." This should be "St. Paul street, north," "Clinton street, south," "Main street, east," etc., as in many other cities.

Your committee would suggest that an ordinance be adopted by this common council to the effect that a list of the streets of the city of Rochester, bearing names in duplicate, shall be given to the aldermen of the various wards for consideration, and that the names of these streets shall be changed so that they will not in any way conflict by repetition. Also that the names of all new thoroughfares and such street names as are petitioned to be changed, shall be submitted to the common council and referred to the city engineer, who shall determine whether the names so submitted can be used and thus avoid this duplicating of names.

While discussing this wholesome and much-needed renovating in the names of our streets, we would again suggest that action in regard to house numbers be incorporated in this proposed ordinance. Most of our streets have been properly and systematically numbered, and the correct number for any house on these streets may be obtained on application in the city engineer's department. Rather than do this, many put up what they assume to be the right number; others will "pass off" from a street corner or other point and in each case find their numbers far out of order. This causes quite as much confusion as the duplicate street names. In all quarters of the city we have house numbers doubled, and sometimes more, for which state of affairs we have no remedy. This matter should also be placed in the hands of the street committee and referred to the city engineer's department on the same plan as in the naming of streets.

Respectfully submitted,
LEWIS EDELMAN,
WM. PAUCKNER,
WILLIAM S. BEARD,
WM. REICHENBERGER,
STEPHEN RAUBER.

Office of Rochester Railway Company.

Rochester, N. Y., April 22, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: The ordinances which have been passed recently by your honorable body, having reference to the improvements of streets in which the Rochester Railway Company has its tracks, are, as we are advised, illegal and void as against this company. Such ordinances we believe to be, as well, unfair and inequitable. This company, never, until such ordinances were introduced, has objected to any public improvement, although the unusual amount of sewer construction done, and street improvements made in the past three years has put upon it a great burden of expense and caused a heavy loss in its receipts for the time being.

This company is not desirous of putting itself in the position of antagonism to the city, in the courts or elsewhere, but the reduction in its receipts, due to depressed business conditions and other causes, has forced it recently to insist upon its strict legal rights in its relations to everybody, including the city.

At the same time, the company prefers to reach an agreement with the city with regard to street improvements, based on a fair and equitable principle, even if the result will be to put upon the company a part of the burden of the expense of such improvements, none of which expense can, we are advised, be legally imposed.

The representatives of this company are desirous of meeting your honorable body, or a committee designated by you for the purpose of frankly discussing the situation now presented, to the end that an agreement may be reached, if possible, which, while being fairly satisfactory to the city, will not be undue or improperly oppressive upon the company.

The Rochester Railway Company, therefore, respectfully requests a conference regarding these improvements, and begs leave to suggest that pending negotiations between the city and the company all actions under existing ordinances, where contracts have not been let, be suspended, and also that consideration of pending ordinances before your honorable body be deferred.

Respectfully submitted,

ROCHESTER RAILWAY COMPANY,
J. N. Beckley, President.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Railroads.

MAP AND SURVEY COMMITTEE REPORT

Rochester, N. Y., April 27, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council, of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Map and Survey Committee beg leave to submit the following report and recommendations relating to the City Engineer's office.

In the matter of a large blue print frame for the City Engineer's office, we find the office has been well equipped in all respects for blue print and photographic work with the exception of a large size blue print frame together with the necessary appurtenances for its use.

The office is now badly hampered in its work for the lack of this apparatus. The original plans for the equipment of the office included this frame and the Engineer in his annual report included the cost thereof in the estimated expense of the office for the present year. The City Engineer has obtained from the Morse Machine Co., of this city, an estimate of the cost of the said blue print apparatus of $150 complete. The price we believe is reasonable and we would recommend the City Engineer be authorized to have the said blue print apparatus put in as soon as possible, the work to be done under the direction of the Map and Survey Committee.

We also find that the office is in need of the following supplies: Two steel T squares with 48-inch blades; one pantograph for reducing or enlarging drawings; two steel triangles; the estimated expense of which is $51. We therefore recommend that the City Engineer be authorized to purchase the above supplies.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. GREEN.

5th. The construction of a sewer of suitable form and dimensions from the westerly side of said subway to the East Side trunk sewer in said University avenue, together with the necessary lot laterals, surface sewers, manholes, etc.

And whereas the City Engineer, under direction of this Council, has made an estimate of the expense of the work outside of that required to be done by the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. at its own expense, as per said contract, as follows:

For grading and masonry....	$10,000 00
For paving and walks.....	15,000 00
For sewer	13,000 00

Resolved, further, that the whole expense of such improvement, exclusive of that to be done by said N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co., under said contract, is hereby directed to be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land within the following portion or part of the city which this Council deems proper to be so assessed for and will be benefited by such improvement, to wit:

1. For the construction of said sewer, as follows: Beginning at the intersection of South Culver street and Leighton avenue, thence westerly along Leighton avenue including one tier of lots on the north side thereof, to East Henry street; thence still westerly along Leighton avenue excluding one tier of lots not exceeding 150 feet in depth on the south side thereof to North Goodman street; thence southerly along North Goodman street excluding one tier of lots not exceeding 150 feet in depth on the east side thereof, to University avenue; thence still southerly along North Goodman street including one tier of lots on the west side thereof, excepting the lots on the southeast and southwest corners of University avenue and North Goodman street to East avenue; thence westerly along East avenue, including one tier of lots on the north side thereof, to North Union street; thence easterly along East avenue, including one tier of lots on the south side thereof to South Culver street; thence northerly along South Culver street to the place of beginning.

2. For the paving with Medina stone and the construction of cement walks upon the lots and parcels of land situate on each side of such Medina stone pavement and cement walks.

3. For the expense of the rest of the improvement upon the lots and parcels of land owned by the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co., on each side of University avenue and Henry street.

When any horses, cattle or fowl shall be impounded as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the pound keeper where the same are impounded forthwith to make complaint before one of the judges of the municipal court of said city against the owner or owners thereof, if known, and thereupon a warrant shall be issued, and upon the return thereof, or the defendant having appeared, it shall be the duty of said judge to inquire whether the defendant has been guilty of a violation of the ordinance of the city complained of, and if the defendant be found guilty, judgment shall be rendered against him for the penalty, impounding fee, costs of sustenance, and cost of suit, and an order shall be entered that the horses, cattle or fowl shall be sold to satisfy said judgment in case the same shall not be paid forthwith, such order shall describe the horses, cattle or fowl and state the time and place of impounding.

Sec. 6. When the owner of any horses, cattle or fowl impounded shall be unknown, it shall be the duty of the pound-keeper when the same shall be impounded to make complaint as provided in the preceding section against the unknown owner, describing the horses, cattle or fowl, and thereupon the judge before whom such complaint shall be made shall issue a notice reciting such complaint that the owner is unknown, a description of the horses, cattle or fowl impounded, together with a reference to the section of the ordinance violated, and giving notice of the time and place where a trial shall be had, and such unknown owner may appear and defend. The day named in such notice shall not be less than six nor more than twelve days from the time of issuing the same, and it shall be the duty of the pound-keeper making the complaint forthwith to post three copies of said notice, one at the pound where such horses, cattle or fowl are impounded, one at the municipal court of said city, and one at the public bulletin board at the county clerk's office, and to return said notice with the time and manner of posting to said municipal court. Upon the return of the said notice, like proceedings shall be had as in the case of personal service or appearance. Nothing herein contained shall affect or abridge the right of the accused to a trial by jury.

Sec. 7. Upon the rendition of any judgment as herein provided, unless an appeal shall be taken and further proceedings stayed, the judge rendering the same shall issue to the pound keeper where such horses, cattle or fowl are impounded, an order commanding him to make the amount of such judgment and costs, stating the same separately, and the names of the parties and make due return thereof.

Sec. 8. Upon the receipt of such order the pound-keeper immediately shall post three notices as provided in section six, stating that certain horses, cattle or fowl, describing the same, were impounded and that judgment has been rendered and an order for such judgment and costs made, and that unless redeemed they will be sold at public auction for cash to the highest bidder at the public pound, describing the same, and on a certain day and hour. Said sale shall take place not less than three days after the posting of such notices, exclusive of Sundays, holidays and election days, and if such horses, cattle or fowl are not redeemed, the pound-keeper shall sell the same in accordance with said notices. It shall be the duty of the pound-keeper receiving such an order as prescribed in section seven, to return the same within twenty days from its date to the court issuing the same, with an indorsement showing when and how the same was executed.

Sec. 9. At any time before the sale of any horses, cattle or fowl impounded, the owner or owners thereof may redeem the same by paying to the pound-keeper the impounding fee and cost of sustenance as provided herein, and in case proceedings shall have been instituted before a judicial officer, the cost of such proceeding and the amount of the judgment recovered, together with subsequently accrued costs of sustenance.

Sec. 10. When the proceeds of the sale of any horses, cattle or fowl shall exceed the amount of any judgment and costs, and the expenses of sustenance, such excess shall be paid to the City Treasurer, and the owner or owners of such horses, cattle or fowl shall be entitled to a warrant on the City Treasurer for such excess, upon presenting to the Corporation Counsel satisfactory evidence of his right thereto. If such excess shall not be claimed within a year after the same shall be deposited the person otherwise entitled to the same shall forfeit all claim thereto.

Sec. 11. No person shall suffer to run at large in said city, any dog of ferocious and dangerous character or disposition; nor shall any person keep or suffer to be kept on the premises occupied by him within said city any dog in the habit of howling or whining at night, or barking at, or in any manner annoying any person. No female dog in time of heat shall be allowed to run at large within said city. Upon a second conviction for a violation of this section it may be a part of the sentence that such dog immediately be killed; and this sentence shall be executed forthwith by the city pound-keeper, to be designated by the magistrate imposing the sentence, and any owner or keeper of any such dog who refuses to deliver up the same in compliance with said judgment, shall be liable to an additional fine therefor. Any person harboring a dog for two days prior to any violation of this ordinance shall be held to be the owner of said dog.

Sec. 12. Whenever the mayor of said city shall deem it necessary, he shall issue an order prohibiting, for a certain time therein specified, any or all dogs from running at large in any public street or place within said city, unless such dogs be securely muzzled or led by a line or chain, so as effectually to prevent them from biting any person or animal, which order shall be published in the official newspaper of said city.

Sec. 13. No person shall molest nor interfere in any way with the city pound-keeper nor any of his assistants while engaged in carrying out the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 15. Any violation of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not less than two dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and in default of the payment of such fine any person so convicted shall be imprisoned in the Monroe County Penitentiary for a term not exceeding one hundred days.

Sec. 16. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Fire-Proof Construction.—The term "fire-proof construction" shall apply to all buildings in which all parts that carry weights or resist strains are constructed wholly of stone, burnt clay, iron, steel or concrete, and in which all stair and all elevator inclosures are made entirely of incombustible material, and in which all metallic structural members are protected against the effect of fire by coverings of a material which must be entirely incombustible and a slow heat conductor.

Skeleton Construction.—The term "skeleton construction" shall apply to all buildings wherein all external and internal loads and strains are transmitted from the top of the building to the foundation by a skeleton or framework of rolled or cast metal.

III. CLASSIFICATION OF BUILDINGS.

Sec. 5. As a means of reference in this ordinance all buildings erected in the city of Rochester shall be divided into classes as follows:

Class I.—This class shall include all buildings used for the sale, storage or manufacture of merchandise and all public livery, boarding or sale stables.

Class II.—This class shall include office buildings, schools, churches and assembly halls.

Class III.—This class shall include all brick dwellings or buildings used for residence purposes, whether called tenements, flats, apartments or hotels, and all asylums and hospitals.

Class IV.—This class shall include frame dwellings and private stables.

Class V.—This class shall include theaters and opera houses.

IV. REQUIREMENTS AS TO STYLE OF BUILDINGS.

Sec. 6. All buildings over seventy-seven (77) feet in height, except churches and grain elevators, shall be fire proof.

Sec. 7. All buildings hereafter erected to be used as hotels, hospitals, asylums or institutions for the care or treatment of persons, or used in whole or in part as a public school, the height of which exceeds thirty-five (35) feet, shall be fire proof.

Sec. 8. Boiler rooms, engine rooms and dynamo rooms, in all buildings of classes I., II., and V., shall be fire proof.

Sec. 9. All other buildings, except as above specified, may be of ordinary or of mill construction.

V. REQUIREMENTS AS TO CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS.

(a.) Excavations.

Sec. 10. Whenever an excavation is to be made for any building or other purpose and there shall be any wall or other structure wholly or partly on adjoining land or near the intended excavation, then the party causing such excavation to be made shall notify the owner of said adjoining premises of such intended excavation and also of the depth to which it is proposed to be made.

Sec. 11. The owner of the adjoining premises shall have the right to enter upon the property of the party causing such excavation to be made for the purpose of securing his building, at such time as he is notified that such excavations are about to be made, and within three (3) days after receiving such notice he shall proceed to make such building secure at his own expense.

Sec. 12. All excavations shall be properly guarded and protected by the person or persons causing the excavation to be made, so as to prevent the same from becoming dangerous to life or limb, and shall be sheet-piled where necessary to prevent the adjoining earth from caving in. The party making such excavations shall replace all damaged work, or material, in as good condition as it was before such excavations were made. Whenever an excavation of either earth or rock for building or other purposes shall be intended to be, or shall be, carried to the depth of more than ten feet below the street curb, the person or persons causing such excavation to be made shall at all times, from the commencement until the completion thereof, if afforded the necessary license to enter on the adjoining land, and not otherwise, at his or their own expense, preserve any adjoining or contiguous wall or walls from injury, and support the same by proper foundations, so that the said wall or walls shall be and remain practically safe as before such excavation was commenced, whether the said adjoining or contiguous wall or walls are down more or less than ten feet below the street curb. If such excavation shall not be intended to be, or shall not be, carried to a depth of more than ten feet below the street curb, the owner or owners of such adjoining or contiguous wall or walls shall preserve the same from injury and so support the same by proper foundations that it or they shall be and remain practically as safe as before such excavation was commenced, and shall be permitted to enter upon the premises where such excavation is being made for that purpose, when necessary.

(b.) Foundations.

Sec. 13. The foundations of every building erected within said city shall be laid on solid earth or level rock, except when solid earth or rock are not obtainable such foundations may be laid upon piles or ranging timbers. Foundations upon solid earth or piles shall be laid not less than four feet below the surface of the ground.

Sec. 14. The soil under any building may be loaded from four (4) tons per square foot for ordinary earth to ten (10) tons per square foot for hard pan and between these limits the Fire Marshal shall determine the bearing power of the soil.

Sec. 15. Foundations and footings shall be proportioned to carry the weight of the completed building and the floor loads called for.

Sec. 16. Piles intended for the support of a wall, post or pier shall not be less than five (5) inches in diameter at the small, or less than twelve (12) inches at the large end. They shall be spaced not more than three (3) feet or less than two (2) feet on centers and shall be driven to a solid bearing. No pile shall be loaded more than twenty (20) tons.

Sec. 17. Footing courses shall be constructed either of cement, concrete, stone, iron or steel beams or rails.

Sec. 18. If steel or iron beams are used as part of foundations, they must be thoroughly imbedded in a concrete, the ingredients of which must be such that after proper ramming, the interior of the mass will be free from cavities. The beams or rails must be entirely enveloped in cement mortar not less than one (1) inch thick.

Sec. 19. If concrete footings are used by themselves and without the insertion of iron or steel beams or rails, the offsets on top of same shall not be more than one-half the height of the respective courses and the narrowest course of such concrete foundation must not be loaded more than twenty thousand (20,000) pounds per square foot. The first, or bottom course, must not be less than twelve (12) inches thick, if re-enforced by iron or steel rails or beams, the load and offsets in the same must be so adjusted that the fiber strain upon the metal, if wrought iron, shall not exceed twelve thousand (12,000) pounds per square inch, or if steel, that the fiber strain shall not exceed sixteen thousand (16,000) pounds per square inch.

Sec. 20. Dimension stones must have uniform beds and the offsets in the same, where two (2) or more layers are used, must not be more than three-quarters of the height of the individual stones. They must be set with full beds of cement mortar under their entire arcs, and in such manner that they will not rock after being set.

Sec. 21. Rubble foundations and rubble walls must be built of approximately square and flat bedded stones, well and thoroughly bedded in both directions of the walls, each stone thoroughly bedded in mortar under its entire area in such manner that it will not rock, and all interstices between individual stones must be thoroughly filled with mortar, and if the spaces should be large, pieces of broken stone must be driven into the mortar. Whenever walls of any kind are used as curb walls, their exterior surfaces must be rendered approximately water tight.

Sec. 22. In all cases a connection with the street sewer, where the same exists, shall be established before beginning the work of laying foundations and where foundations are built in wet soil it shall be unlawful to build the same unless the trenches in which the work is being executed are kept free from water by draining, bailing, pumping or otherwise, if such is possible, until after the completion of work upon the foundations.

Sec. 23. The cement to be used in concrete footings for all buildings over 52 feet in height shall be a standard cement. Cement mortar for concrete shall be made in the proportion of one (1) of cement (quality equal to that before described) to three (3) parts sand mixed dry and then tempered with water. Enough of this mortar shall be used to completely fill the interstices between the stones. The use of concrete or mortar of all kinds, the ingredients of which are not thoroughly and completely mixed and which are not free from lumps or other unmixed portions of the ingredients is prohibited, and also the use of cement mortar which has become partly or wholly set before use.

Sec. 24. Stone used for making concrete for foundations must be clean and free from dirt and dust, and must be broken to pass through a two (2) inch ring. All sand must be free from admixture of loam and must be otherwise clean and sharp.

Sec. 25. All foundation walls shall be built of stone or brick laid in mortar made of cement or of lime and cement mixed, except foundations for buildings of class IV, and for buildings not more than two (2) stories in height, which may be built of lime mortar.

(c.) Heights of Buildings.

Sec. 26. The limit of height of buildings herein given for non-fire-proof buildings, except churches, shall be from the sidewalk level to the highest point of roof thereof. The limit of height of fire-proof buildings shall be measured from the sidewalk level to the highest point of roof, in case said building has flat roof, but if said building has a gable or hipped roof, then only half the height of said roof above the plates on which the feet of the rafters rest shall be taken in to consideration in measuring the height of the building. No building shall be erected in the city of Rochester which shall be more than four times the average of its least horizontal dimension.

(d.) Wind Pressure.

Sec. 27. In the case of any building, the height of which is more than one and one-half (1 1/2) times its least horizontal dimension, allowance shall be made for wind pressure which shall be figured at not less than thirty (30) pounds for each square foot of exposed surface. Where the dead weight of the structure is not sufficient to insure stability against wind pressure, the following precautions must be taken to give the required stability:

First. Wrought or steel pillars must be constructed in such manner as to pass through two (2) stories with joints breaking in alternate stories.

Second. Rigid connections must be made between vertical and horizontal members.

Third. A sufficient quantity of diagonal bracing must be included in the construction to insure absolute stability.

Fourth. Portal web bracing must be inserted where necessary.

In buildings deficient in initial stability, the use of cast-iron columns will not be allowed.

(e.) Walls.

Thickness of Walls.

Sec. 28. In buildings of Classes I, II, and III, except as provided for in section thirty-seven, all surrounding walls shall be made as indicated in the following table, to wit:

Stories.....	Base-ment.		Stories.
	Stone..	Brick..	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12

In walls of these thicknesses the widths of openings shall not exceed fifty-five (55) per cent. of the length of the wall, but this percentage shall not apply to front and rear non-bearing walls which shall be proportioned to their loads.

(f) Division and Party Walls.

Sec. 29. Solid division or party walls may be made as indicated in the following table, to wit:

Stories.....	Base-ment.		Stories.

The larger numbers to be used when fire-proof floors are used.

Sec. 30. The brick in these walls shall not be subjected to a compression of more than eight (8) tons per square foot for a twelve (12) inch wall; nine (9) tons per square foot for a sixteen (16) inch wall; ten and one-quarter (10 1/4) tons for a twenty (20) inch wall; and twelve (12) tons per square foot for a twenty-four (24) inch wall, if laid in good lime mortar, but if laid in cement mortar the limit of compression may be increased twenty (20) per cent.

Sec. 31. In isolated piers or piers or divisions forming portions of walls, the least dimension shall be taken as the thickness in determining the loads which such piers may carry.

Sec. 32. If outside walls are of pier construction the piers shall be graded in size according to weights to be carried; but not less than sixteen (16) inches for upper story and shall increase four (4) inches for each story below; they shall also be graded as to width of face according to span of bays. Such piers shall have a width of twenty-four (24) inches for an eight (8) foot bay, that is measuring from center to center of pier, and shall increase four (4) inches, in face width, for each two (2) feet or fraction thereof, that the width of bay is increased; thus for a ten (10) foot bay the pier must be twenty-eight (28) inches in width, for twelve (12) foot bay thirty-two (32) inches, etc.

Sec. 33. Such piers must be full size and must not be reduced by encroachment of any window frame or other wood construction. Curtain walls or panels between piers, shall be of brick and at least twelve (12) inches thick. Fifteen (15) tons per square foot for piers laid in lime mortar or eighteen (18) tons per square foot if laid in cement mortar shall be the limit of compression allowed on any pier in this kind of construction, within this limit the weight allowed on the various thicknesses of piers may be the same as that given for walls.

(g) Minimum Thickness of Walls.

Sec. 34. Walls surrounding stairways, elevator shafts, shaving pits and light shafts shall not be less than eight inches thick, but no eight (8) inch wall shall be built more than eighteen (18) feet in height without lateral support or anchorage, and the total height of any eight (8) inch wall shall not exceed fifty (50) feet.

Sec. 35. In the erection of buildings of masonry construction, no wall shall be carried up at any time more than one (1) story above another wall of the same building. The walls and skeleton framework of all buildings must be kept securely braced and otherwise protected against the effects of the weather during all building operations. All walls must have proper protection against the effects of frost, and frozen cement mortar shall not be used in any mason work.

Sec. 36. Foundation walls shall be at least four (4) inches thicker than the wall next above, to a depth of twelve (12) feet below said wall, and they shall be increased four (4) inches in thickness for every ten (10) feet or fraction thereof below said twelve (12) feet.

Sec. 37. One story buildings in class I. may be built of 8 inch walls above foundation if not more than 14 feet in height, provided that no span of joist or roof shall exceed 20 feet. Detached or semi-detached dwellings and private stables may be built of eight (8) inch walls above foundation, if not more than two (2) stories in height, with or without gables, provided also that no span of joists in such building shall exceed twenty (20) feet. Detached or semi-detached dwellings may be built three stories high under the same conditions as the above, provided the walls are of brick twelve inches thick in first story.

(h) Division Walls.

Sec. 38. In class II. corridor walls that support joists on one side only, not exceeding a span of twelve (12) feet, and the top stories where the joist spans do not exceed twenty-six (26) feet, provided also in both cases the height of the wall does not exceed fourteen (14) feet, may be of eight (8) inch walls.

Sec. 39. In all apartment houses, the dividing walls or partitions between the apartments provided for each family, where not separated by a hall or staircase, shall be made entirely of incombustible material, or of solid three-inch plank partitions plastered on metal lath. In the absence of definite subdivisions between the apartments of different families, eight (8) rooms shall be counted as the equivalent of one apartment. In all buildings of class II., not of fire-proof construction, there shall be for every eight (8) rooms in any one story, dividing walls or partitions of incombustible material separating these rooms from the contiguous spaces.

(i) Light Shafts.

Sec. 40. The inclosing walls of light shafts shall in all cases be built entirely of incombustible material, except in buildings three (3) stories or less in height, where they may be covered on inside with steel lath plastered full height and covered on out or shaft side with wood sheathing covered with sheet metal.

Sec. 41. In all cases where the weight of floors abutting upon light shafts is carried on a framing independent of the inclosing walls of such light shafts, the thickness of such inclosing walls may be eight (8) inches, but no part thereof shall be so reduced in area that the load upon the same will be more than the maximum load herein prescribed for the materials of which such walls are built.

Sec. 42. The use of hollow tile for the walls inclosing light shafts is permitted, but such inclosing walls shall be firmly anchored to the framing of each successive floor.

Sec. 43. If the walls of light shafts begin at any point above the foundations of the building their means of support shall consist entirely of incombustible material.

(j) Parapet and Fire Walls.

Sec. 44. Fire walls of brick, not less than twelve (12) inches thick, except for buildings allowed with 8 inch walls, shall be built extending above the roofs of all buildings if such roofs are flat, and also above the roofs of all buildings where the same abut against another building, or where the same stand upon any line of any lot, excepting street and alley lines. Such fire walls, where they stand upon lot lines, or where they are over the dividing walls between buildings or over the dividing walls in the interior of buildings where such are built, shall extend at least two (2) feet above the roof of such building. Fire walls upon street and alley lines shall extend not less than twelve (12) inches above the roofs of such buildings. Fire walls at street and alley lines may be dispensed with in all cases where the entire framing and material of the roof shall be made strictly fire-proof. The erection of parapet walls or of balustrades constructed entirely of incombustible material is permitted above the roof level of buildings of all classes, and in addition to the heights herein fixed for the same.

Sec. 45. No soft brick shall be used in any part of a building exposed to the weather, or in any internal or external piers, nor in any part of a wall, where there is a greater height than forty (40) feet of wall above said brick.

Sec. 46. The bond of brick work shall be formed by laying one (1) course of headers for at least every seven (7) courses of stretchers.

Sec. 47. Except in freezing weather all bricks shall be thoroughly wet before laying.

Sec. 48. No isolated brick pier shall be built whose height exceeds ten (10) times its least dimensions, and all such piers shall be bonded every alternate course, and where receiving concentrated loads shall have suitable bearing blocks of stone or iron, so proportioned as to properly distribute the load to come upon it.

(k) Hollow Walls and Hollow Tile.

Sec. 49. Where hollow walls are used their solid parts shall be bonded together, either with solid brick headers, or with metallic bond plates or anchors, once in every foot of length, of such wall, in every 7th course. If one of the solid parts of the wall is less than eight (8) inches thick, such wall shall not be used for supports for any building over two (2) stories in height. But if each of the solid parts of a hollow wall are eight (8) inches or more in thickness, such wall may be used as a bearing wall of four (4) inches less thickness than the aggregate thickness of the parts of the hollow wall exclusive of air space.

Sec. 50. Where hollow bricks or hollow tile are used as lining or furring for bearing walls, they shall not be included in the measurement of the thickness of such walls.

Sec. 51. The limits of stress to which the various kinds of stone used in buildings may be subjected shall be one-thirtieth (1-30) of the ultimate strength developed by tests. If, however, the beds of stone used are not dressed to uniform bearing over their entire surface, then the ultimate load to which they may be subjected shall not exceed one-fiftieth (1-50) of the ultimate strength of the stone as indicated by said tests. Stones with undressed beds shall be fully bedded in Portland cement mortar, over their entire surface, for all stress exceeding one-seventieth (1-70) of the ultimate strength of the stone up to the limit allowed, and if the beds are dressed they shall be bedded over their entire surface in the same manner for all stress exceeding one-fortieth (1-40) of the ultimate strength of the stone. It shall be permitted to leave a space of one (1) inch all around the outer edge of stones without mortar bedding. In walls built of brick and faced with ashlar, if used as bearing walls, the bricks must be laid in cement mortar. The ashlar facing shall not be less than four (4) inches thick nor more than six (6) times its thickness in height. Each stone must be backed off to a reasonably uniform thickness, but all the stones not necessarily to the same thickness. In such bearing walls, each stone must be anchored to backing with metallic anchors, one to each running foot of each course. When stone faced walls are used as bearing walls, they shall be four (4) inches thicker than required for solid brick walls under the same conditions.

Sec. 52. The backing of stone ashlar in fire-proof construction shall not be less than twelve (12) inches thick.

Sec. 53. Sills and lintels for doors, windows and other openings in masonry shall be made of incombustible material, except in buildings of Class III, three stories or less in height and all buildings of Class IV. Oak timber used for door sills and not less than eight (8) inches thick by the full width of the wall in which such sill occur, shall for the purpose of this ordinance be considered incombustible, but no other form or use of wood construction shall be considered incombustible. Wooden pillars and lintels shall not be used to support masonry in store front.

(l) Alterations of Existing Buildings and Walls.

Sec. 54. Excepting in cases where the immediate safety of the occupants of buildings is concerned, nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as requiring alterations in the construction or equipment of buildings existing at the time of the passage of this ordinance, and at that time complying with the ordinances then in force. If, however, it is desired to enlarge, or in any manner materially modify the construction of any existing building, or to make any change in its use or occupation which will transfer it from one class as recognized by this ordinance to another, then before such enlargement, modification, structural change, or change in use or occupation above mentioned may be made the entire building shall be reconstructed or modified in such manner as shall conform substantially with this ordinance and be approved by the Fire Marshal.

(m) Floors.

Sec. 55. For buildings of all classes, the floors shall be designed and constructed in such a manner as to be capable of bearing in all their parts in addition to the weight of partitions, and permanent fixtures and mechanism that may be set upon same, live loads for every square foot of surface of such floors as follows:

For buildings of Class I., used for stores and light manufacturing, 100 pounds per square foot.

For buildings used for warehouses, 150 pounds per square foot.

For buildings of Class II., 70 pounds per square foot.

For buildings of Class III., 40 pounds per square foot.

For buildings of Class IV., 40 pounds per square foot.

For buildings of Class V., 80 pounds per square foot.

Sec. 56. Hollow tile and porous terra-cotta may be used in the form of flat arches for the support of floors; such floor arches having a height of at least one inch for each foot of span. The arches must be so constructed that the joints of the same point to a common center; the butts of the arches shall be carefully fitted to the beams supporting them, and there shall be a cross rib for every six (6) inches or fractional part thereof in height. Such arches, whether flat or curved, shall have their beds well filled with mortar and the centers shall not be stuck until the mortar has set.

(n) Wooden Floor Construction.

Sec. 57. All wooden beams and other timbers in the party wall of every building built of stone, brick or iron shall be separated from the beam or timber entering the opposite side of the wall by at least four (4) inches of mason work. All trimmer and header beams shall be of sufficient size to sustain their loads within the limits of strains allowed by this ordinance. The ends of all wooden floor and roof beams, where they rest in brick walls, shall be cut to a bevel of three (3) inches on their depth. Wooden beams shall be trimmed away from all flues whether the same be a smoke, air, or any other flue, the header and trimmer beams to be kept at least one (1) inch from the outside of any chimney breast.

Sec. 58. Each tier of beams shall be anchored to the side, front, rear or party walls at intervals of not more than six (6) feet apart, with approved iron anchors. Where the beams are supported by girders, the girders shall be anchored to the walls and fastened to each other by suitable iron straps. The ends of beams resting upon girders shall be butted together end to end and fastened by approved methods.

Sec. 59. Every pier and wall, front or rear, shall be well anchored to the beams of each story with approved anchors. Each tier of beams front and rear, opposite each pier, shall be properly anchored. All timber and wooden beams used in any building shall be of good, sound material, free from rot, large and loose knots, shakes or any imperfections whereby the strength may be impaired, and to be of such size and dimensions as the purposes for which the building is intended require.

Sec. 60. No piping or conduits of any kind whatever shall be cut down into floor beams unless they are located, or sufficient and proper provision is made, so that the strength of such beams shall not be less than the provisions of this ordinance for similar uncut beams.

(o) Roofs.

Sec. 61. An incombustible roof, or one covered with incombustible material, within the meaning of this ordinance, shall be:

First. A roof covered with not less than four-ply, tarred or asphalted felt, each single ply weighing not less than 15 pounds per 100 square feet, the whole to be well nailed and swabbed with pitch or asphalt composition and covered with gravel. No pitch or asphalt roofs shall be allowed without a covering of gravel.

Second. A covering of slate, iron, tin, or burnt clay shall be considered incombustible.

Sec. 62. It shall be permitted to erect on the roofs of all buildings, skylights and inclosures for elevator machinery, the construction of all of which inclosures shall be incombustible material, as above defined.

Sec. 63. The roofs of all buildings of every kind and class shall be designed and constructed in such manner that they will bear a load in addition to their structure and coverings of at least forty (40) pounds for each square foot of horizontal surface, without straining the materials of construction beyond a point 20 per cent. less than the limits elsewhere fixed in this ordinance.

(p) Chimneys.

Sec. 64. In buildings hereafter erected, all chimneys shall be built of brick, stone or incombustible material. Brick chimneys shall have walls at least eight (8) inches in thickness, unless it has tile flue lining. Stone chimneys shall have walls at least eight (8) inches thick and shall also have such flue linings. Joists or timber are not to rest on chimney walls and are, in all cases, to be kept at least one (1) inch distant from outer face of such chimney walls. No fire-place shall be built with less than eight (8) inches of solid brick work at its back, unless said fire-place has a cast iron lining, with a one (1) inch air space, between it and the brick work, then four (4) inch walls may be used.

Sec. 65. All smoke flues of steam boilers, smelting furnaces or other apparatus that heat flues to a high temperature, shall not be less than eight (8) inches in thickness and for twenty-five (25) feet above the inlet shall be formed of double walls, with an air space between. The inner or flue wall shall be not less than eight (8) inches in thickness and in all cases the thickness of walls shall be sufficient to bring the stresses within the limits provided in this ordinance.

Sec. 66. Isolated chimneys shall be built with hollow walls and shall be so designed and constructed that the stress upon any part thereof, due to the weight of the stack itself and to wind pressure, shall not exceed the limits elsewhere fixed, in this ordinance, as the maximum stress for brick masonry.

Sec. 67. Metallic chimneys or smoke pipes over twelve (12) inches in diameter shall not be used inside any building in such manner as to pass through the roofs of the same, unless such pipes or chimneys are inclosed in brick or tile walls with an air space between the inclosing walls and the smoke pipe, its entire height through the building, except in one story buildings, in which case the metal smoke pipe may pass through the roof, if the wood work is kept at least six (6) inches away from such pipe and be properly protected by sheet metal.

Sec. 68. Where metallic smoke pipes of a diameter of twelve (12) inches or less pass through a wood or plastered stud partition, they shall be surrounded, either by a body of brick, hollow tile, or porous terra cotta, or other incombustible substance, measuring at least four (4) inches all around such smoke pipe. Or they shall be surrounded by a sheet metal thimble, made of two concentric rings of sheet metal, at least four (4) inches apart and the entire thimble so constructed that there may be a free circulation of air between the two rings forming the same. Six-inch pipes from ordinary stoves may have such thimbles with two (2) inch air space.

Sec. 69. All horizontal smoke pipes must be kept from any wood work a distance equal to their diameter, and, if nearer than twelve (12) inches, the wood work must be protected by sheet metal, porous terra cotta, or hollow tile or plaster, for a distance of one (1) foot on each side of such pipes.

(q) Buildings of Class V.

Sec. 70. The outside walls of all buildings of Class V., in which the roofs or ceilings are carried on trusses or girders of a span of fifty (50) feet or more, shall be as follows:

If the walls are of brick masonry, over fifteen (15) and not over twenty-five (25) feet high, they are to be not less than sixteen (16) inches thick. If more than twenty-five (25) feet high and not more than fifty (50) feet, they are to be not less than the following thickness: Twenty (20) inches for the first half, and sixteen (16) inches thick for the remainder of the height.

If more than fifty (50) feet high and not more than seventy-five (75) feet high, they shall be not less than the following thickness: Twenty-four (24) inches for the first one-third of their height; twenty (20) inches for the second one-third; and sixteen (16) inches for the remainder of the height.

For any increase in height over seventy-five feet, the thickness of walls shall be increased in the above ratio.

The heights of the walls shall be measured from the ground floor of the main auditorium at its lowest point.

An increase of four inches in the thickness of walls shall be made in all cases where walls are over 100 feet long without cross walls of equal height.

In case there shall be one or more stories built above the room devoted to the uses of Class V., such stories being carried on trusses or girders, the thickness of walls shall be increased by four inches for each two stories or part thereof, above every such room.

Sec. 71. If solid masonry buttresses are employed, and placed sixteen feet or less apart, and extended to the foot of the trusses or girders carrying the ceiling and roof, or if iron or steel pillars are inserted in such walls for the support of the super-structure, and at distances not more than eighteen feet between centers, such pillars extending to and carrying the superimposed trusses or girders, the thickness of such walls may be reduced in proportion to the increase of strength afforded by such buttresses or pillars but in no case shall any such wall be less than twelve inches thick in the top story, four inches being added going downward, for each twenty-five feet in height of wall.

Sec. 72. If iron or steel pillars are introduced in said walls, the brickwork around the same shall be bonded into that of the connecting walls, and each of such pillars shall have no less than eight inches of solid brickwork around it, the brick being measured from the extreme outer dimensions of such iron or steel pillars.

Sec. 73. If a Class V. building is of skeleton construction, and the steel framework carries the entire superimposed load of floors, roof and walls, then the inclosing walls shall consist of twelve inches of solid masonry, with two inches of hollow tile or four inches of hollow brick, on the inside, properly bonded together; and the other fire-proofing shall be as required for buildings of Class I.

Sec. 74. Buildings of Class V. shall have a frontage on at least one highway or street, and in such front or fronts there shall be means of entrance or exit.
