Sec. 75. In addition to the aforesaid entrances and exits on the public highway, there shall be reserved for service, in case of an emergency, an open court or space, open to the sky, on the side not bordering on the street, where such building is located on a corner lot, and on both sides of said building, where there is but one frontage on the street. The width of such open court or courts shall not be less than six feet, and said open court or courts shall begin on a line with, or near, the proscenium wall, and shall extend the length of the auditorium proper, to or near the wall separating the same from the lobby, foyer or vestibule, or may extend to the street. A separate and distinct corridor shall be built to the street from each open court, with continuous walls, floors and ceilings of brick, or other fire-proof material, the entire length of said corridor or corridors, where such open courts do not extend to the street.

Sec. 76. Said corridor or corridors shall not be reduced in width more than one foot less than the width of the open court or courts, and there shall be no projection into the same; the outer openings to be provided with doors or gates, opening toward the street.

Sec. 77. During the performance the doors or gates in the corridor shall be kept open by proper fastenings; at other times they may be closed and fastened by movable bolts or locks.

Sec. 78. The said open courts and corridors shall not be used for storage purposes or for any purpose whatsoever; except for exit and entrance from and to the auditorium and stage, and must be kept free and clear during performances. The level of said corridors at the front entrance to the building shall not be greater than one step or eight inches above the level of the sidewalk, where they begin at the street entrance, and there shall not be more than one step or eight inches from the floor of court to the ground floor of auditorium.

Sec. 79. To overcome any difference of level existing between exits from the ground floor auditorium into courts, and the level of the said streets, gradients may be employed in the corridors and courts of not over one foot in ten feet, with no perpendicular rises. From the auditorium opening into said open courts or on the side street, where building is placed on corner lot, there shall not be less than two exits on each side from the ground floor auditorium, balcony and each and every gallery.

Sec. 80. Each exit shall be at least five feet in width in the clear, and provided with doors of iron or wood; if of wood, the doors shall be constructed according to existing rules of said underwriters' association. All of said doors shall open outwardly and must be fastened with movable bolts, the bolts to be kept drawn during performances.

Sec. 81. There shall be balconies not less than four feet in width each side of the auditorium, of sufficient length to embrace the two exits, and from said balconies there shall be staircases extending to the ground level, with a rise of not over eight and one-half inches to a step, and not less than nine inches tread, exclusive of the nosing. The staircase from the upper balcony to the next below shall not be less than two and one-half feet wide in the clear, and from the first balcony to the ground floor, three feet wide in the clear.

Sec. 82. All the before mentioned balconies and staircases shall be constructed of iron throughout, including the floors, and of ample strength to sustain the load to be carried by them.

Sec. 83. Where one side of the building borders on a street, there shall be fire escapes, balconies and staircases erected as required by the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 84. The following limitations of floor levels in buildings of Class V, shall be observed in all cases of new construction, or reconstruction, or alteration, or improvement of existing buildings.

The ground floor of auditorium in buildings of Class V., where it connects with the lobby or foyer, shall not be a greater height above vestibule than five feet; said street vestibule to be not more than one (1) foot above the grade of sidewalk at its central entrance point.

Sec. 85. The only exception to the foregoing shall be the case of rooms containing less than five hundred seats, which, in fire-proof buildings may be located in any story thereof, but in such case there shall be at least two flights of stairs from the floor in which such auditorium is located, to the ground, and the width of such stairs shall not be less than four feet in the clear for each.

Sec. 86. In buildings of Class V, no auditorium containing more than one thousand seats shall have the highest part of its main floor at a greater distance than eight feet above the adjacent sidewalk grade.

Sec. 87. Stairs in Class V, shall be in width equivalent to eighteen inches for every one hundred seats in such building, fractional parts of one hundred being in each case counted as a full one hundred seats, but no stairway in such building shall be less than four feet wide in the clear. All stairways shall have railings on each side thereof. No stairway shall ascend to a greater height than eleven feet without a level landing, which, if its width is in the direction of the run of the stairs, shall not be less than three feet wide, or which, if at a turn of the stairs, shall not be of less width than that of the stairs.

Sec. 88. Distinct and separate places of exit and entrance shall be provided for each gallery above the first. A common place of exit and entrance may serve for the main floor of the auditorium and the first balcony, provided its capacity be equal to the aggregate capacity of the outlets from the main floor and the said gallery as hereafter required.

Sec. 89. Aisles in buildings of Class V, shall be in width equal to eighteen inches for every one hundred seats or fractional part thereof, the occupants of which will be required to use such aisles, but no aisle is to be less than two feet three inches wide in its narrowest part.

Sec. 90. Steps shall be permitted in aisles only as extending from back to back of seats, and wherever the rise from back to back of seats is less than six inches, the floor of the aisle shall be made as an inclined plane, and where steps occur in outside aisles or corridors they shall not be isolated, but shall be grouped together.

Sec. 91. The width of corridors, passages, hallways and doors shall be computed in the same manner as that herein provided for stairways and aisles, excepting, however, that no corridor shall be anywhere less than five feet in width, and no door less than three feet wide.

Sec. 92. All doors in buildings of Class V, shall open outward.

Sec. 93. In buildings of Class V, there shall be a solid brick wall not less than sixteen (16) inches thick, between the auditorium and the stage; this wall shall extend to a height of four feet above the roof, and above roof the thickness may be twelve inches. The main curtain opening shall have an iron or asbestos curtain, and all other openings in this wall shall have fire-proof doors.

Sec. 94. Each building of Class V, shall have a water stand-pipe and water plug, to be placed on the stage or platform, or in its immediate vicinity, which shall be connected with the water pipes or street water mains of the city, and shall be put in under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Executive Board or the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 95. Hose shall be attached to such stand-pipe of such size as may be directed by said Executive Board, to have nozzle and stop-cock attached thereto; such hose shall be of sufficient length to extend to the farthest limits of such building or place of amusement, and shall at all times be kept in good order and repair, filled with water under pressure, and ready for immediate use.

Sec. 96. All buildings of Class V., with accommodations for one thousand or more persons, shall have at least one three-inch stand-pipe and metallic ladder combined in the street or alley, with hose attachments close to a window or door at each floor or gallery.

Sec. 97. Such buildings shall also be provided with a fire alarm telegraph apparatus connected by the necessary wires with the headquarters of the city fire alarm telegraph, or such other place or places as the Executive Board shall direct.

Sec. 98. It shall be the duty of all owners, agents, lessees and occupants of such buildings of Class V. to provide such other fire-extinguishing apparatus at such points about the building as the Executive Board shall direct.

Sec. 99. All gas or electric lights in the halls, corridors, lobby or other part of said building used by the audience, except the auditorium, must be controlled by a separate shut-off located in the lobby and controlled only in that particular place. Gas mains supplying the building shall have independent connections for the auditorium and the stage, and provision shall be made for shutting off the gas from the outside of the building. All suspended or bracket lights surrounded by glass in the auditorium or in any part of the building devoted to the public, shall be provided with proper wire netting underneath. No gas or electric lights shall be inserted in the walls, wood-work, ceiling or in any part of the building, unless protected by fire-proof materials in all buildings of Class V. All lights in passages and corridors in said buildings, and whenever deemed necessary by the Fire Marshal, shall be protected with proper wire network. The footlights, in addition to the wire network, shall be protected by a strong wire guard, not less than two feet distant from side footlights, and the trough containing said footlights shall be formed of and surrounded by fire-proof materials.

Sec. 100. All border lights shall be constructed according to the best known methods, and subject to the approval of the Fire Marshal, and shall be suspended for ten feet by wire rope. All ducts or shafts used for conducting heated air from the main chandelier or from any other light or lights, shall be constructed of metal, and made double, with an air space between. All stage lights, if gas, shall have strong wire guards or screens, not less than ten inches in diameter, so constructed that any material contact therewith shall be out of reach of the flame of stage lights, and must be soldered to the fixtures in all cases.

Sec. 101. The stand-pipes, gas-pipes, electric wires, hose, footlights and all apparatus for the extinguishing of fire, or guarding against the same, shall be at all times made and kept in condition satisfactory to and under the control of the Executive Board and the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 102. Above the proscenium opening there shall be an iron girder covered with fire-proof material to protect it from the heat. There shall also be constructed a relieving arch over the same, the intervening space being filled in with hard burned brick of the full thickness of the proscenium wall. The molded frame around the proscenium opening shall be formed entirely of fire-proof materials; if metal be used, the metal shall be filled in solid with non-combustible material and securely anchored to the wall with iron. The proscenium opening shall be provided with a fire-proof metal curtain, or a curtain of asbestos, or similar fire-proof material approved by the Fire Marshal, sliding at each end within iron grooves, securely fastened to the brick walls, and extending into such grooves not less than six inches on each side. Said fire-proof curtain shall be raised at the commencement of each performance and lowered at the close of said performance, and to be operated by approved machinery for that purpose. The proscenium curtains shall be placed at least three feet distant from the footlights at the nearest point.

Sec. 103. There shall be no opening in the proscenium fire walls above the level of the auditorium ceiling.

Sec. 104. All seats in the auditorium, excepting those contained in boxes, shall be firmly secured to the floor. All platforms in galleries formed to receive the seats shall not be more than twenty-one inches in height of riser, nor less than thirty inches in width of platform.

Sec. 105. The aggregate capacity of the foyers, corridors, passages and rooms for the use of the audience, not including aisle space between seats, shall, on each floor gallery, be sufficient to contain the entire number to be accommodated on said floor or gallery, in the ratio of one hundred and fifty superficial feet of floor room for every one hundred persons.

Sec. 106. A separate and distinct system of automatic sprinklers, with fusible plugs, approved by the Fire Marshal, supplied with water from a tank located on the roof over the stage and not connected in any manner with the stand-pipes, shall be placed up and around the proscenium opening and on the ceiling or roof over the stage at such intervals as will protect every square foot of stage surface when said sprinklers are in operation.

Sec. 107. No part of any building in which any theater, concert hall, or any other place of amusement is maintained under a license from the mayor, shall be occupied for living purposes by any person other than the janitor of such building. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall work a forfeiture of such license, and the mayor shall revoke the same.

VI. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

(a.) Mill Construction.

Sec. 108. Wooden posts used in buildings of mill construction shall not be of smaller sectional area than one hundred (100) square inches, except the posts in top story, which shall not be of smaller sectional area than sixty-four (64) inches. Elevator inclosures in buildings of this class, and inclosures of at least one flight of stairs from ground floor to upper floor, shall be made entirely of incombustible material. If iron pillars, girders or beams are used in buildings of this class, they shall be protected as provided for fire-proof buildings; but the wooden posts, girders and joists need not be protected by fire-proof covering. The use of wood furring or wood laths shall not be permitted in buildings of this class.

Sec. 109. If cast-iron pillars are used in "mill construction," they shall be erected in the same manner as provided in buildings of skeleton construction at each line of floor or roof beams, where cast-iron columns are used, lateral connections between the ends of the beams and girders shall be made by passing wrought-iron or steel straps across or through the cast-iron columns in such manner as to rigidly connect the beams and girders with each other in the direction of their length. These straps shall be bolted through the wooden beams or girders.

Sec. 110. If wooden posts are used in "mill construction," they shall have metal caps of approved pattern, so constructed as to form a base for the next post above. The girders must be properly bolted to cap and must have wrought-iron straps on the outside in addition, from one girder to the other, and bolted through each girder.

(b.) Skeleton Construction.

Sec. 111. In the metal framework of buildings of "skeleton construction" the beams and girders shall be riveted to each other at their respective junction points. All pillars shall be made of rolled steel or cast iron, and their different parts shall be riveted or bolted to each other, and the beams and girders resting upon them shall have riveted or bolted connections to unite them with the pillars.

Sec. 112. In all buildings of "skeleton construction," when the walls are carried by the metal frame, the thickness of outside masonry must be not less than twelve (12) inches, including not more than four (4) inches of hollow brick or tile lining; the thickness of said walls shall be increased four inches for every fifty feet measuring downward from the top.

Sec. 113. If cast-iron pillars are used, each successive pillar shall be bolted to the one below it by at least four bolts, not less than three-quarter inch in diameter, and the beams and girders shall be bolted to the pillars.

Sec. 114. The strength of all columns and posts shall be computed according to formula given in standard engineering hand books or works accepted in best engineering practice.

Sec. 115. If terra cotta is used as part of such fire-proof inclosure, it shall be backed up with brick or hollow tile; whichever is being used, however, of such dimensions and laid up in such manner as to secure perfect bond between the terra cotta facing and its backing.

Sec. 116. Concrete shall not be used in buildings of Classes I, II, and IV., except for footings for foundations, cellar or basement floors laid on solid ground, and for leveling up floors on top of brick or tile arches. Other forms of construction may be used if approved by the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 117. Plastering on wire or metallic lath shall not be considered as fire-proofing for steel or iron structural members.

(c.) Ordinary Construction.

Sec. 118. A frame building may be raised for the purpose of erecting a basement story under the same, but the principal floor of such frame building shall not be raised to a higher level than six (6) feet above the sidewalk for two-story buildings, or twelve (12) feet high above the sidewalk grade for one (1) story frame buildings. The walls inclosing such basement shall be of masonry, and shall not be less than twelve (12) inches thick if built of brick, and eighteen (18) inches thick if built of stone. The foundation of such walls is to be constructed of stone not less than eighteen (18) inches thick. It is provided, however, that no frame building shall be raised for the purpose of constructing a basement under the same, to a greater height to the top of its roof than that elsewhere herein given, as the maximum height above grade for frame buildings. It is also provided that after there has been a basement story constructed under any frame building, such frame building shall not be raised again for any purpose whatsoever.

Sec. 119. No single frame dwelling shall be erected which shall contain accommodations for more than four (4) families. Double dwellings or blocks of dwellings may be built to contain accommodations for more than four (4) families, and each part of such building containing accommodations for four (4) families shall be separated from the next part on either side by a wall built as follows:

Sec. 120. This partition wall shall be an eight (8) inch brick wall or built of two by six (2x6) studding, with the spaces between studding filled full of mineral wool, or any other approved fire-proof material, from the wall in basement up to and close under the roof boards, the fire-proofing to be secured in place between joists by wood blocking properly secured, and these partitions must be plastered on each side on metallic lath with an approved plaster. If brick is used by fireproofing between studding, then partitions may be plastered on wood lath with lime mortar. All such partitions must be supported on a twelve-inch (12) brick wall or eight-inch (8) stone wall in the basement, which must be built from the cellar floor to the top of ground floor joist. Any opening in brick wall shall be closed by a fire-proof door.

Sec. 121. No frame dwelling shall be erected to contain more than two (2) stories, a basement and attic, and in no case shall the first or principal floor of a frame dwelling be more than six (6) feet above sidewalk grade.

Sec. 122. Frame buildings, veneered on the outside, not to exceed two (2) stories in height, exclusive of attic, with four (4) inches of brick or stone, may be erected with the consent of the Fire Marshal, but such brick or stone work must be erected on a continuous foundation of masonry and must be properly anchored to frame structure, and in all other respects they shall be treated as frame buildings.

Sec. 123. No continuous vertical recess, chase or flue shall be made to a greater depth than four (4) inches in a twelve (12) inch wall, and such recess, chase or flue may increase four (4) inches in depth with each increase of four (4) inches of the wall, and no recess of any kind shall be made in any eight (8) inch wall, except by a special permit from the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 124. All stone and brick work over openings exceeding over four (4) feet in width shall be supported with stone or iron lintels of sufficient strength to carry the superimposed weights, excepting where such stone or brick work shall be supported with properly tied and substantial stone or brick arches. All lintels supporting stone or brick work must bear on stone, brick or iron of sufficient strength.

Sec. 125. The strength of materials that are not herein specifically stated shall be computed according to the accepted formulas and rules of the best engineering practice.

(d.) Projections over Building Line and over and Under Sidewalks.

Sec. 126. No projection of any building over the street line shall be less than ten (10) feet above sidewalk, and the use of any part of the sidewalks for steps or for open areas is prohibited, except that porticos, columns, pilasters or other entrance features may be made to project upon the sidewalk by special permission of the Executive Board of said city.

The foregoing prohibition for the use of sidewalk space for steps or areas shall not apply to existing buildings, but if material alterations in or additions to existing buildings are to be made, then such steps and open areas shall be made to conform to the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 127. In all cases where the space under sidewalks is connected with the basement of any building, the covering of the same, and all supports, shall be made entirely of incombustible material, and the occupant of such space under any sidewalk shall be considered and treated as the tenant at will of the city of Rochester.

Sec. 128. Circular openings not to exceed twenty-four (24) inches in diameter may be placed in the outer edge of the sidewalks to receive coal. They shall be placed not more than eighteen inches from the inside edge of the curb to the outer edge of opening, and must have proper incombustible covering.

Sec. 129. When sheet metal cornices or external sheet metal gutters are used, their entire framework and covering shall be of metal, and the walls shall extend the entire length and height of such gutter and cornice, except with the special permission of the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 130. Wood shall not be used as a support for any gutter or cornice of buildings of Classes I. and II., nor on any buildings of Class III. over fifty-two (52) feet in height, except by special permission of the Fire Marshal.

(e.) Elevators and Hoists.

Sec. 131. Where elevators are to be entirely inclosed in any story the inclosure shall be a brick wall, hollow tile or wood studding covered on both sides with wood sheathing protected by sheet metal, or the studs may have steel lath plastered. Any opening used as a doorway shall be protected by a fire-proof door.

Sec. 132. All elevator openings which are not surrounded by inclosures as above, shall have on all sides of every floor an inclosure not less than seven (7) feet in height, of metal work.

Each elevator shaft shall be roofed over by a sky-light, or if the shaft be raised above the main roof sufficiently to allow proper lighting in the sides of the same, by a roof similar to the main roof.

Sec. 133. Overhead elevator machinery shall have underneath it an iron grille of proper construction and strength to protect the car from falling material. Every elevator shall be provided with an efficient apparatus to prevent the falling of the car in case of accident.

Sec. 134. No elevator shall be used in any building until after it has been inspected, and a certificate issued by the Fire Marshal. A certificate from an inspector for any responsible insurance company may be accepted by the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 135. The foregoing requirements as to brick or fire-proof shafts shall include all dumb waiters, except such as do not extend through more than three (3) stories in buildings of Class III.

(f.) Stairways.

Sec. 136. In buildings of Class I., which are used as workshops, or in which, if they are used as salesrooms, there is an occupation of the same at any time of one hundred (100) or more persons employed or engaged therein, there shall be at least two staircases, each not less than three (3) feet wide. If the number of persons so occupying such buildings exceeds three hundred (300), then the width of the stairs in the same shall be increased to five (5) feet. If the number of persons so occupying such premises exceeds eight hundred (800), three (3) stairways five (5) feet in width each shall be constructed. If the number of persons so occupying such premises exceeds twelve (1200), they shall be governed as regards the number and size and construction of stairways, by the regulations laid down for buildings of Class V.

Sec. 137. In all cases the stairs shall be located at as great a distance as practicable from each other, and in cases where the persons so occupying such buildings are not all on one floor, the widths and numbers of stairways in the several stories shall be governed as above by the total number of persons who will at any time be on any floor. All persons above any given story shall be counted in addition to the persons on that story.

Sec. 138. The foregoing specifications as to stairs apply to non-fire-proof buildings only. For fire-proof buildings one less flight of stairs than the above called for shall be required in each case.

Sec. 139. It shall be unlawful under any circumstances to close up or obstruct the stairs or fire escapes, or the approaches leading thereto, in any building, and no change in the position or construction of either shall be made unless the permission so to do shall first have been obtained from the Fire Marshal.

Sec. 140. The aggregate width of doors opening at the street level in buildings of Class I. shall be equal to the aggregate width of stairways hereinbefore specified, and such doors shall not be locked during business hours or while such buildings are occupied.

(g.) Provision as to Fire.

Sec. 141. All buildings in the city wherein manufactories are conducted and all buildings now erected, or that may hereafter be erected more than three stories in height, occupied by, or built to be occupied by, three or more families above the first story and every building already erected, or that may be hereafter erected more than three stories in height, occupied or used as a hotel, lodging house, or boarding house having more than fifteen rooms, and every factory, mill, office building, manufactory or workshop, hospital, asylum or institution for the care or treatment of individuals, and every building in whole or part occupied or used as a school or place of instruction or assembly, shall have constructed thereon good and suitable fire escapes, and such other means of egress in case of fire, as the Common Council may direct.

Sec. 142. The owners or occupants of all buildings mentioned herein shall have scuttles on the roofs of such buildings and shall cause to be constructed and maintained stationary iron stairs or ladders leading to said scuttles, which scuttles and stairs shall be kept ready for use at all times.

Sec. 143. When the Fire Marshal shall so direct, it shall be necessary for the owner or occupants of all buildings over two stories in height within the said city, except dwelling houses, schools, churches, office buildings and hotels to construct and maintain iron or other non-combustible shutters on every window and opening thereof, excepting on the front openings of buildings fronting on streets or open places which are more than thirty feet in width. Said shutters shall be closed at the close of business of each day. All shutters, opening on fire escapes and at least one row vertically in every three rows in the front window openings above the first story of any building, shall be so arranged that they can be readily opened from the outside by firemen.

Sec. 144. All fire escapes shall be connected with each floor above the first, well fastened and secured, and of sufficient strength, each of which shall have landings or balconies not less than six feet in length and three feet in width, guarded by iron railings not less than three feet in height, and embracing at least two windows at each story, and connected with the interior by easily accessible and unobstructed openings and the balconies or landings shall be connected by iron stairs not less than twenty-four inches wide, the steps not to be less than six inches tread, placed at an angle of not more than forty-five degrees slant and protected by a well-secured hand rail on both sides with a suitable twelve-inch wide drop ladder from the ladder platform reaching to the ground. The windows or doors to each fire escape shall be located as far as possible, consistent with accessibility, from the stairways and elevator hatchways or openings and the ladders thereof shall extend to the roof.

Sec. 145. Any other plan or style of fire escape shall be sufficient if approved by the Fire Marshal of the city, but if not so approved the Fire Marshal may notify the owner, proprietor or lessee of such building or of the building in which such establishment is conducted or the agent or superintendent or either of them in writing that any such other plan or style of fire escape is not sufficient, and may by an order in writing, served in like manner, require one or more fire escapes, as he shall deem necessary and sufficient, to be provided for such building at such location and of such plan and style as shall be specified in such written order, not how, ever, in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 146. Within twenty days after the service of such order, the number of fire escapes required in such order for such building shall be provided therefor, each of which shall be either of the plan and style in accordance with the specifications in said order required, or of the plan and style in this ordinance described and declared to be sufficient.

Sec. 147. If any person, firm or corporation shall neglect or refuse to construct suitable fire escapes and other means of egress in case of fire, as directed and required by this ordinance, the Fire Marshal shall cause such fire escapes or means of egress to be constructed and the expense thereof, and ten per centum in addition, shall be collected from the person, firm or corporation required to construct such fire escapes and means of egress.

Sec. 148. The owner or owners of any such building, upon which any fire escape may now or may hereafter be placed or erected shall keep the said fire escapes in good repair and well painted and no person shall at any time place any incumbrance of any kind whatsoever before or upon any such fire escape.

Sec. 149. Every electric wire for furnishing light, heat or power, led into any building from the outside thereof shall be arranged with suitable appliances to cut off the current on the outside of the building, and all wires placed inside buildings shall be properly insulated. In no case shall any such wire, appliances or currents be introduced into any building nor operated therein, except by the consent of the Fire Marshal and in accordance with the rules and regulations made by him.

(h.) Dangerous Structures.

Sec. 150. Every building or part thereof which shall appear to the Fire Marshal to be specially dangerous, by reason of bad condition of walls, overloaded floors, defective construction, lack of guards against fire, or other causes, shall be held to be unsafe; and the Fire Marshal shall immediately notify the owner or lessee to cause the same to be repaired and shall also affix a notice of the dangerous character of the structure in a conspicuous place on the exterior wall of such building, and no person shall remove or deface such notice so affixed. The owner or party having an interest in the unsafe building or structure mentioned in this section, being notified thereof in writing by the Fire Marshal, shall immediately cause the same to be made safe and secure, and if any such building shall be used for any purpose requiring a license therefor, the mayor may revoke said license on neglect of the owner to repair said building. Where the public safety requires immediate action, the Fire Marshal may enter upon the premises, with such assistance as may be necessary, and cause the said structure to be made secure or taken down without delay, at the expense of such owner or party interested.

Sec. 151. No wood fence upon the line of any public street within said city shall be constructed of greater height than seven (7) feet above the sidewalk grade, or seven (7) feet above the surface of the ground, where no grade is established.

Sec. 152. Every structure or part thereof erected or placed contrary to the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed to be a common nuisance, and the Fire Marshal may order the same removed; and in case the owner thereof shall neglect or refuse to remove such structure or part thereof, within five (5) days after notice to do so, the Executive Board may remove such structure or part thereof at the expense of the owner.

(l.) Change of Use.

Sec. 153. If buildings, the uses of which bring them within any of the before mentioned classes, are to be applied to the uses of any other class for which a better system of construction is called for by this ordinance, the construction and equipment of such buildings must first be made to conform to the requirements of this ordinance; and it shall be unlawful to apply such building to a new or different use than that to which its structure and equipment adapts it under this ordinance, unless the requirement of this ordinance for such new or different use shall first have been complied with, and a permit for such alteration or use shall have first been obtained from the Fire Marshal.

VII. PENALTIES.

Sec. 154. Any violation of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred and fifty dollars, and in default of the payment of such fine, any person so convicted shall be imprisoned in the Monroe County Penitentiary for a term not exceeding one hundred and fifty days.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., May 5, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I have called this meeting of the Common Council for the purpose of considering the Lyell avenue improvement ordinance, and to enable a reconsideration of the same to be had; and to allow the introduction of a new ordinance.

After several conferences with Aldermen Johnston and Kelly and the City Engineer it has been decided to introduce two ordinances: One for Medina block pavement with street car tracks in the center of the roadway, and one for asphalt pavement with street car tracks in the center of the roadway and Medina block between the car tracks and two feet on either side thereof.

One of these ordinances should be adopted at the next meeting of the Council as the improvement is needed and at best cannot be completed before the fall.

If the work is expected to be done in a satisfactory manner it should be commenced as soon as possible so that it may be completed before cold weather sets in.

A large portion of the property owners east of the bridge prefer the car tracks to remain in the center of the street, and their wishes should be respected.

The asphalt pavement with Medina block in the car tracks would be the cheapest as I am informed by the City Engineer and in my opinion would be satisfactory to a majority of the property owners upon the street.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATION OFFICERS, BOARDS AND DEPARTMENTS.

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., May 4, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Would it not be well to give notice in all the daily papers that the general city tax for 1897 is now due and payable?

The notice is now published in two papers only, as required by the charter.

The time for making payment having been changed, and the desire to notify the tax payers of said change, should be a reasonable excuse for the extra expense incurred. The cost of such notice would be small, and if published in all the daily papers, there would be no excuse for not having seen the notice, or in being ignorant of the time of payment.

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the Treasurer be, and he hereby is directed, to publish in all the daily papers of the city, for the balance of the month of May, the notice for payment of the General City Tax for 1897, as published in the official paper of the city. The expense of same to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callahan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Dewey, Cook, Kelly, Crane, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger.—18.

By the Clerk—

Law Department,
Rochester, N. Y., May 3, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In reply to the resolution of Ald. Kelly requesting an opinion as to whether or not the act to create the public school teachers' retirement fund requires the action of the local authorities, I beg leave to say that laws which relate to the property, affairs or government of a single city, or its departments, require the action of the local authorities. (State Constitution, Art. 12, sec. 2.)

The act in question relates to the affairs and government of this city because it imposes additional duties upon certain officers of the city government. If such an act could become a law without the action of the local authorities, the legislature might seriously interfere with the affairs or government of the city without giving the city an opportunity to be heard as provided by the constitution.

I am of the opinion, therefore, that the act referred to requires the action of the local authorities.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. RODENBECK,
Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office.

Rochester, N. Y., May 7, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Final ordinance number 6,738 for Boyd place opening is hereby returned without my approval for the following reasons:

No petition having been filed for this opening, I am unable to say how many people are in favor of it.

While the opening or continuation of Boyd place, from Wilmer to Oxford street, may result in some benefit to lot owners on that place, it certainly would, however, cause a great deal more injury to the owners of lots fronting on Oxford street, as it would change the private way between their lots into a public highway. This would result in destroying a dozen large and valuable shade trees, the tearing up of lawns, the removal of the fountain on Oxford street, and the changing of the street in front of the proposed opening. The result of all this would be to depreciate largely the value of these lots for residence purposes, for which they are now used.

The lot owners on Boyd place as it now is have access to Monroe avenue through Wilmer place.

The distance from Monroe avenue to Boyd place is very short; in fact not enough to call for a cross street from Wilmer to Oxford streets.

If this street should be opened it would result in compelling the two owners of lots fronting on Oxford street to pay for putting down about 150 feet of walk each, the setting of about the same distance of curb, and the grading of the roadway for about the same distance, all of which, when done, would not benefit them in the slightest. The whole benefit therefrom would be derived by others. They have not asked for this opening and their property should not be lessened in value, nor should they be put to this extra expense, when the improvement is not absolutely necessary.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. E. WARNER,
 Mayor.

Ald. Adams moved that the ordinance disapproved by the Mayor lie on the table until the next regular meeting. Carried.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

Rochester, N. Y., May 11, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

On the 22d of August, 1893, your honorable body passed an ordinance for the opening of a street from Central avenue to Granger street, opposite the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad station. The proposed street was to be ninety feet wide and one hundred and twenty feet long, which were also the dimensions of the lot of land belonging to Mathilde Schneider, of Chicago, formerly of this city, which was required for said street. Proceedings having been taken to condemn the said premises, the sum of $40,000 was awarded to Mrs. Schneider for the same. The value of the premises was somewhat enhanced by the fact that they had been leased for a period of twenty-five years, at a net rental of $2,000 per annum, the lessees agreeing to pay all taxes, insurance, etc., and, in addition, to erect upon said premises, within a reasonable time, a brick and stone building, covering the entire area thereof, not less than five stories high, which said building was to revert to the owner upon the expiration of the lease.

This award your honorable body refused to pay, and the City Attorney was instructed to institute proceedings for another commission to appraise the property. These proceedings were enjoined by an order of the Supreme Court, which was afterwards reversed upon an appeal to the General Term. An appeal to the Court of Appeals from the decision of the latter court was taken by Mrs. Schneider, but has never been pressed by either party. Pending this litigation, taxpayers, representing five-sixths of the property to be assessed for the proposed street, united in a petition to the Common Council, praying that the ordinance be repealed, for the reason that the improvement was not in the nature of a public improvement, and was not desired by any considerable number of citizens. This petition was referred to the Public Improvement Committee, which accorded a hearing thereon, but took no definite action in the matter. Still later, a more numerous signed petition, bearing the signatures of every taxpayer affected by the ordinance, with the exception of the lessees of the property in question, and a few others, whose aggregate property holdings are not one-tenth of the whole property to be assessed for said street, was presented to your honorable body, praying for a repeal of the ordinance, but that petition seems to have met the same fate as the other.

Having been assured by a large number of the members of your honorable body that said ordinance would be repealed and the said proposed street would never be laid out, Mrs. Schneider has been patiently awaiting the results of these efforts of the property owners. In the hope that she would not have to resort to litigation to clear her property from the cloud which has been resting upon it for nearly four years. Patience has, however, ceased to be a virtue, and I am instructed by Mrs. Schneider to inform you, that unless some action is taken in the matter within the next two weeks she will be obliged to apply to the courts for relief from the vexatious wrong which she has had to suffer, and still continues to suffer, by reason of the inaction of your honorable body.

Yours respectfully,

ELBRIDGE L. ADAMS,

Attorney for Mathilde Schneider.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Public Improvements.

LAMP COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., May 11, 1897.
To the Honorable the Common Council:
Gentlemen:—The West Side Improvement Association, by their representatives, appeared before your committee and stated that the property owners on West avenue, from Erie canal to Madison street, were about to improve that avenue by constructing new cement walks and removing all shade trees.

As there have been constructed underground conduits by the Bell Telephone Company and the Rochester Gas & Electric Company, which will accommodate all the wires on that avenue, the people ask that all wires, except the trolley wires, on said avenue be placed underground, and the street be lighted by the incandescent arc system, between the Erie canal and Madison street. In order to comply with this request it will be necessary to place the city wires underground. This expenditure, which will amount to about $1,200, was not contemplated when the appropriation was made for the Fire Department.

As your committee considers that the request of the West avenue property owners should be granted, we recommend that the Executive Board be directed to make the necessary expenditure for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN J. CALIHAN,
M. B. ADAMS,
T. W. FORD,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. MILLER KELLY.

By Ald. Callihan—Resolved, That the Executive Board be, and they hereby are, directed to make the necessary expenditure to place the city wires underground on West avenue, from the Erie canal to Madison street; and that the Lamp and Electric Committee be, and they are, hereby authorized to light West avenue, from the Erie canal to Madison street, with incandescent arc lights, and cause the removal of all overhead wires, except the trolley wires, on that section of West avenue.

LAMP COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., May 11, 1897.
To the Honorable the Common Council:
Gentlemen: Your lamp and electricity committee, to whom was referred the matter of a new contract for lighting the streets of the city, would most respectfully submit the following:

Your committee had prepared and printed a series of questions pertaining to the subject of street lighting, which was sent to the various cities throughout the country, and replies from fifty cities were received.

From the answers, your committee can assure your honorable board that the price paid per light in this city compares very favorably with prices paid throughout the country. While in a few cases the price is as low, or a trifle lower, in most cities the price is higher than paid here.

Acting under authority of a resolution passed by your honorable board, your committee advertised in the local papers for proposals for lighting the city, mention of which was made in all the electrical publications. Proposals were solicited on two plans. First, the lighting of the whole city; and, second, the lighting of all the lights in the city on either side of the Genesee river.

Later, at the request of some of our citizens, the second plan of the advertisement was changed to read "for lighting any quarter of the city," the divisions being made by the Genesee river, East Main street and West avenue. The advertisement in this amended form was continued for two weeks, at the expiration of which time your committee received the following bids: One from the Rochester Gas and Electric Co., for lighting the whole city, of 25 cents per lamp of 2,000-candle power, and 20 cents per lamp for 1,200-candle power lights, per night.

Also one for any quarter of the city of 27 1-2 cents per light per night, for 2,000-candle power lights, and 22 1-2 cents for 1,200-candle power lights.

The Citizens' Light and Power Co., presented a bid for lighting any quarter of the city, of 24 cents per light per night, for 2,000-candle power lights, and 20 cents for 1,200-candle power lights.

In accordance with the terms of the advertisement soliciting proposals, the bid of the Rochester Gas and Electricity Company was accompanied by a certified check for $30,000, and the bid of the Citizens' Light and Power Company with one for $10,000. These checks, which are a guarantee of good faith, and that the company whose bid is accepted by the city will enter into contract on the terms stated in their proposal, are now on deposit with the city treasurer.

The 2,000-candle power lights mentioned in the different proposals are the ordinary arc lights in use throughout the city, and the 1,200-candle power lights spoken of are the incandescent arcs used on the iron poles on Main and State streets and other places. There are in use 2,075 of the 2,000-candle power lights and 190 of the 1,200-candle power lights, making a total of 2,265 electric lights used.

The price named in the last five-year contract, which expires July 1st of last year, is 25 cents per light per night for 2,000-candle power lights. The 1,200-candle power lights were not used at the time the present contract was executed, and by special agreement with the Rochester Gas and Electric Company, the city is paying 20 cents per night per lamp for these lights.

The proposals received are based upon a clause in the advertisement to the effect that the company receiving a contract for lighting the city will construct ten miles of conduit (making five miles of streets), during the term of the contract. A company receiving a contract for a portion of the lighting will construct a proportional amount of conduit.

After careful consideration of the bids received, your committee has decided to present the above report for your consideration.

M. B. ADAMS,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. MILLER KELLY.

Lamp Committee.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Callihan—
To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—In response to the request for bids for lighting all or any quarter of the city, the Citizens' Light and Power Company bid twenty-four and twenty cents per lamp for one-quarter of the city. That was the lowest bid, and the company respectfully requests that the contract for lighting one-quarter of the city be awarded to it. There was only one other bidder, viz., the Rochester Gas & Electric Company. That company bid upon the entire city and upon three-quarters of the city. It is apparent from the form of the bid of the last named company, that it intended to compel the city to award it the entire contract by placing its figures on the three-quarters bid at a rate that is unnecessarily high. We respectfully request that the bid of the Citizens' Light & Power Company should be accepted, having been made in accordance with the terms of the notice, and being the lowest bid. If that is done, we request that the city re-advertise for bids for lighting the remaining three-quarters of the city and we hereby agree that if upon so re-advertising, our company does not furnish a bid with satisfactory guaranties of performance at figures not exceeding twenty-five cents for high tension and twenty cents for low tension, for said three-quarters of the city, the award of the one-quarter upon our present bid may be cancelled and become void at the option of the Lamp Committee and that the above named condition may be inserted in the contract for lighting the said one-quarter of the city.

Dated Rochester, N. Y., May 11, 1897.

Very truly yours,

The Citizens' Light & Power Company,

By P. V. CRITTENDEN, Prest.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Whereas, The Committee on Lamps & Electricity did, as directed by this Council, advertise for bids for lighting the city for a term of five years from July 1, 1897, and

Whereas, At a specified time those bids were presented and opened and it was found that the bid of the Rochester Gas & Electric Company for lighting the whole city would be a saving to the taxpayers of $68,182, for the five year term; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Mayor be and he hereby is directed to enter into a contract with the Rochester Gas & Electric Company for lighting the entire city for five years from July 1, 1897, at the prices specified in their bid for the whole city.

Ald. Ford moved as an amendment that the Citizens' Light & Power Company be awarded the contract for the lighting of one-fourth of the city according to the company's bid of 24 cents for 2,000 candle power lights and 20 cents for 1,200 candle power lights per night.

STATEMENT BY ALD. JOHNSTON—ASPHALT IMPROVEMENTS.

It is a practice of at least one of the asphalt companies to make a special contract with favored property owners who sign majority petitions in favor of asphalt pavements.

Since our last regular meeting I have been shown two separate contracts with different parties, signed by the officers of one of the asphalt companies, providing that said favored parties shall, indirectly, receive certain special money advantages for favoring a proposed new improvement.

These contracts were each made on a printed blank, reading as follows:

OFFICE OF THE Blank Company,
Rochester, N. Y., 189 .
Contract.

For, and in consideration of signing the petition for an asphalt improvement on

Blank street,
the Blank Company hereby agrees and contracts with

Blank individual that his net tax for said improvement shall be blank or less per foot front.

I do not think that the custom is in violation of any law, but its practice is obnoxious to all unselfish and honest people, and in effect it compels them to pay a greater price for their improvement than is paid by their more selfish neighbors.

I do not think it proper for the city authorities to countenance any practice that results in discrimination in exaction among classes of property owners.

If the profits of the asphalt business are excessive and the asphalt companies have more money than they need, some arrangement should be made whereby the property owners as a whole could have the benefit of the excess profits, instead of distributing them among a favored few.

I therefore offer the following resolution, for the purpose of learning whether any action can be taken that will abolish this pernicious practice:

By Ald. Johnston—Resolved, That the Public Improvement committee with the assistance of the Corporation Counsel and City Engineer be and hereby is requested to consider the special form of contract used by the asphalt companies in securing majority petitions for street improvements and advise this council at an early day what action, if any, can be taken to secure uniform rates of taxation on local improvements for all classes of property owners; also what action, if any, can be taken to prevent contractors from making special agreements to favored property owners.

Adopted.

There will also be taken for the opening of said Lake View park a private right of way or easement to pass and re-pass across the same to their respective property abutting thereon and to have the same kept open for their benefit in favor of each and every owner of a sub-division of lots 34 and 35 of the 20,000 acre tract, bounded east by the center of Lake avenue, north by the north line of said lot number 34, south by the south line of said lot number 35, and west by a line far enough from Lake avenue to contain sixty acres of land, reference being had for a further description of said lots 34 and 35 to liber 96 of deeds at page 570, and for a further description of said sub-division lots to liber 9 of maps at page 44, liber 10 of maps at page 20, and liber 5 of maps at page 89. missioners, having been duly sworn as required by the statute in such case made and provided, and having all met and acted upon the matters submitted to us at the Corporation Counsel's office in the City Hall building, Rochester, N. Y., pursuant to a notice of at least ten days, published according to law, and having taken a view of every part of the respective premises affected by this proceeding, and having inquired into and heard the allegations and proofs of the respective parties in interest, do thereupon determine and appraise the compensation which the owners and tenants of and others having any rights in the respective premises above described who are entitled to any compensation for lands and rights to be taken for the opening of said street will sustain by being deprived thereof, and fix the damages and compensation which said owners and the tenants and others shall receive therefore as follows. Said awards to be paid after deducting all taxes and assessments which have become a lien upon the lands above described as herein provided.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, May 21, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return without my approval, the Driving Park avenue sidepath ordinance, for the following reasons:

After a careful examination of the matter, I am of the opinion that the expense of this improvement, should not be borne by the lot owners adjacent to the proposed improvement.

The improvement will be of great benefit to the bicycle riders of the city, but it is objected to by the owners of almost all of the property to be assessed therefor. They claim that only a few years ago, they were assessed for a new pavement on this street, and that the same is still in fair repair and suitable for all travel.

After an examination of the same, I am satisfied that this is so, except that it might be made smoother for bicycle travel.

In my opinion, the lot owners having paid for a new improvement only a few years ago, and the same being now in fair repair, they cannot legally be compelled to pay for this improvement. If this ordinance be allowed to stand it will result in an action against the city, which could not be successfully defended, and would only result in a bill of costs against the city.

The fair and equitable way to dispose of this matter is to have the ordinance amended and make the cost thereof a charge against the city, as in all new pavements a certain part of the cost should be a charge upon the city as the lot owners do not receive the entire benefit therefrom.

While the expense of this improvement is small, the principle involved is an important one, and as this ordinance will be a precedent for others I consider that the best course to follow, is to return the same for further examination.

Yours respectfully,
GEO. E. WARNER,
Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Selye moved that the ordinance disapproved by the Mayor lie on the table until the next regular meeting. Carried.

Ald. Selye moved that the Driving Park avenue sidepath ordinance, vetoed by the Mayor, be referred to the Public Improvement Committee. Carried.

By the Clerk—

Department of Public Schools,
Rochester, N. Y.

To Theodore S. Pulver, City Clerk.

At a regular session of the Board of Education of this city, held May 17, 1897, the following proceedings were taken.

Respectfully,
MILTON NOYES,
Superintendent of Schools.

Com. Gillette, chairman of the Organization and Special Committees, submitted the following report:

To the Board of Education:

Gentlemen: It will be remembered that last year our generous hearted citizen, Mr. Henry Lomb, gave to pupils of the High School the benefit of free tuition in manual training and domestic sciences at the Mechanics' Institute. About 200 Academy pupils availed themselves of that offer, and those subjects were made a part of the Free Academy course of study. The course for 1897-98 will soon be formulated and it should be decided very soon whether the board will or will not continue such instruction. As nearly as can be estimated the cost will be about $9 per year for each pupil for tuition and incidental expenses. Mr. Lomb also granted last year similar free scholarships to 120 pupils of the ninth grades of grammar schools. All the pupils were very enthusiastic and received great benefits. Their parents have realized the great practical good and have asked that the board provide for a continuance, if possible, of those studies.

After a full consideration of these matters, realizing the splendid results derived and the universal favor with which such instruction was and is received, we report in favor of continuing the manual training and domestic science instruction at the Mechanics' Institute another year for pupils of the ninth grades and of the Free Academy. In order to make this successful it will be necessary to secure a suitable fund for this purpose. No estimate or appropriation was made for such purposes and we think the matter of sufficient importance to call the attention of the money raising authority to it. The benefits to be derived from such instruction are beyond dispute, and it is not creditable for the city to longer permit a private citizen to bear the burden of the expenditure for the same. We therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That a copy of this report be forwarded to the Common Council asking favorable action toward paying the expenses of said manual training and domestic science instruction, the exact details and extent of the expenditures to be considered before the council or its finance committee.

Respectfully submitted May 17, 1897.

JOHN S. KIENAN,
M. ROSENBERG,
A. B. HENDRIX,

To the Honorable, the Common Council, of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—There will be due June 4th the city's note, No. 1,166, for ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) issued for the Hemlock Lake Watershed Fund. Nearly all the other notes issued for this fund will mature in September, at which time they will have to be renewed, or the city's bonds sold to take care of their payment. At some further session of your Honorable body, you can decide what is best to be done—the renewal of notes or the issuing of bonds.

In the meantime I would like authority to issue the City's note for ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) for three months' time—a renewal of the above numbered note.

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS,
City Treasurer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to issue, under authority of chapter 1,018 of the laws of 1895, the city's note or notes for an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00); said note to run for a period not exceeding three months; to be negotiated under the direction of the Finance Committee, and countersigned by the Chairman thereof; interest or discount to be charged to the Contingent Fund, and the proceeds credited to the Hemlock Lake Watershed Fund.

By the Clerk—

City Clerk's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., May 25, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council, of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I would most earnestly request that authority be given for the employment of a competent person to classify, arrange and file the old papers in this office, to the end that such papers may be put in such a condition as to be readily accessible when occasion to consult them arises.

A large quantity of vouchers, petitions and other papers belonging to the records of the office are in such a state of confusion as to be worthless for purposes of reference as records. For many years it was apparently the practice to dispose of the papers which should be filed in the office by throwing them into paper boxes, many of which have fallen to pieces, their labels lost and their contents scattered. As a result of this method, or rather lack of method, it is now almost impossible to find any paper more than two years' old.

No reflection on the management of the office under my predecessors is intended. They undoubtedly did the best they could with the facilities at their command. For several years the office occupied cramped quarters. No filing cases were provided and consequently nothing was filed. It has frequently happened that a search of several hours was necessary to find a paper and in more than one instance the desired document could not be found at all. Recently a large filing case has been placed in the office and a room fitted up for the storage of documents. Soon after the office was removed to its present location the work of arranging all the papers in the office was undertaken but the time of the present office force is so completely occupied with current business that not much has been accomplished. With the aid of one clerk for a few weeks this work could be properly done and I am sure that the small expenditure necessary would be well repaid in increased facilities for public accommodation.

I would suggest that the question be referred to committee for investigation.

Respectfully,

THEO. S. PULVER,

City Clerk.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on City Property.

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.
Rochester, N. Y., May 25, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Law Committee beg leave to report as follows:

In the matter of the claim of Barnard P. Smith for removal of earth embankment at the approaches of the Emerson street lift bridge, we beg leave to say that the claim has been thoroughly considered by your committee, and we know of no reason why it should not be paid, except the technical ground that the work was ordered by one of the employes of the Water Works Department without proper authority. This, however, we do not regard as a sufficient ground for repudiating the claim. The work has been done, and the city has received the benefit. The amount of the bill is $602.37, and has been verified as to its amount by Mr. Radenhurst of the Water Works Department.

Your committee recommend the appointment of the following as Commissioners of Deeds: Homer H. Woodward, Andrew Ludolph, R. H. Miller, George J. McNall, E. F. Pruyne, James S. Taylor, Herbert J. Winn, Charles H. Carson.

In the matter of the publication of the revised penal ordinances, your committee would report that in accordance with resolution of the Common Council, proposals have been advertised for and ten bids have been received and considered. The lowest bidder is Mr. Winfield J. Spinning, who proposes to publish an edition of 1,500 copies, 500 to be bound in leather and 1,000 in jute manilla tag, all materials to be furnished, for $399 for an edition of 300 pages and ninety cents more or less for each page over or under 300 pages. We would therefore recommend that the Mayor of the city of Rochester be authorized to enter into a contract with the said Winfield J. Spinning for the publication of 1,500 copies of said revised penal ordinances as above said forth, said contract to be approved as to form by the Corporation Counsel.

We would further recommend that the said contract include the publication separately in pamphlet form of 500 copies each of the following penal ordinances: An ordinance relating to buildings; an ordinance relating to peddlers; an ordinance relating to streets; an ordinance relating to public entertainments; an ordinance relating to weights and measures; an ordinance relating to public vehicles. These ordinances will be called for frequently, and it will be convenient as well as economical to have them printed separately.

Respectfully submitted,
M. B. ADAMS,
T. W. FORD,
D. W. SELYE,
Law Committee.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Whereas, The Law Committee in accordance with resolution of the Common Council has solicited proposals for publishing the revised penal ordinances, and Whereas, Of the ten proposals received the bid of Winfield J. Spinning is the lowest.

Resolved, That the contract for the publication of the said penal ordinances be awarded to the said Winfield J. Spinning at ninety cents a page, including all necessary labor and materials, and be it further

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office.

Rochester, N. Y., June 2, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I have appointed Frederick P. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., a member of the board of trustees of the General Sinking Fund of the City of Rochester for the period provided for by law.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER.

Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

By the Clerk—

Corporation Counsel's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., June 8, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen: In relation to the construction of the asphalt sidepath on Driving Park avenue from Lake avenue to the river bridge, contemplated by final ordinance No. 6,745, adopted May 11, 1897, I beg leave to say, that under the charter a general public duty is imposed upon the city to keep its streets in reasonably safe condition for public travel, and ample provisions are contained in the charter for the discharge of this duty. The city may improve the whole or any part of a street. The expense of such improvement may be assessed upon the lots and parcels of land benefited thereby, or may be paid in whole or in part out of the public treasury. (Secs. 170, 172, 216).

It is my opinion that it is within the sound discretion of the common council, not acting arbitrarily, to improve the whole or any portion of Driving Park avenue in such manner and with such material as it may deem proper, provided a majority of the owners of property to be assessed therefor petition for the improvement, or three-fourths of all the members elected to the common council vote therefor after allegations have been heard. (Sec. 171). If a public street is not in a reasonably safe condition for public use, by all classes of vehicles, including bicycles, it is not only within the power but it is the duty of the city to cause the street to be put in such condition.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. RODENBECK,

Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,

Rochester, N. Y., June 4, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen: The Executive Board has duly notified the owners of property which it is proposed to acquire for the several improvements named below, and has to report that a number of the property owners appeared before the Board, and some made tenders and named prices that they would accept for the land; but because of the number interested who did not appear, and for the reason that the prices named were not such as the Executive Board could reasonably recommend for acceptance, it was thought best for all concerned that your honorable body cause commissioners to be appointed to ascertain the value of the respective parcels of land which it is deemed necessary to be purchased for the improvements named.

By Ald. Dewey:

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: My attention has recently been frequently called to the necessity of a new ordinance governing the use of the bicycle in this city. There are probably between 40,000 and 50,000 bicycles in constant use in this city. Accidents, frequently fatal, are of daily occurrence. The rights of the pedestrian are being infringed upon by the wheelman. Particularly is this the case at prominent street corners. Unless one stops and awaits his chance it is dangerous to cross a street, especially at night when the pedestrian can neither see nor hear the approaching wheel.

I believe the time has arrived when the city should place itself in line with nearly all large cities in this country and insist upon the use of both the bell and lamp. This would prove a great protection to pedestrians and wheelmen alike.

It is a fact with which you are well acquainted, that the police force of our city is totally inadequate to properly enforce the existing penal ordinances. It has suggested itself to me that the difficulty arising from this situation might be obviated by swearing in, as special officers, one or two hundred league wheelmen. The great body of the wheelmen are law-abiding and discreet. They should be protected, or be permitted to protect themselves from reckless riders. The special officers selected from among our business men, would have a wholesome tendency to check the existing evil.

I trust your honorable body will give the question careful consideration.

Respectfully yours,
ALVIN H. DEWEY,
Alderman Twelfth Ward.

By Ald. Dewey—

Rochester, N. Y., June 7, 1897.

Hon. Alvin H. Dewey, President Common Council, City of Rochester:

Dear Sir: Referring to the statement of Alderman Johnston at the last meeting of the common council, as published in the Democrat and Chronicle of the 26th ultimo, viz.: That the work of removing the dirt from Emerson street bridge was ordered by me, and that the dirt was placed upon my property and that the bill should not be paid until restitution was made, permit me to state that inasmuch as the statement above reflects upon me personally and was evidently intended to convey the impression that the transaction was questionable, I feel that a reply should come from me, and would respectfully ask the privilege of answering the alderman from the ninth through you.

First. The work was ordered by Mr. Radenhurst. I had nothing to do with it whatever, and was not consulted and had no knowledge of the matter until the work was finished. I supposed that this work was included in the contract until requested by Mr. Radenhurst to present the bill to the Council for payment. I did so, had the bill referred to the finance committee and appeared before that committee against the bill, under the impression that the work was included in the contract. I subsequently learned through Mr. Radenhurst that I was in error and that he had the work done to enable him to lay the water pipes.

Second. Referring to the manner in which the dirt was disposed of, the inclosed statements under oath furnished by the foreman and inspector will, I trust, furnish the representative from the ninth with sufficient information regarding this particular transaction.

Would further state that I had never seen Mr. Smith, the contractor, did not know him and never had any conversation with him until after the work was finished.

All of the above information would have been cheerfully placed at the disposal of the alderman from the ninth, had he asked for it.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN H. ASHTON.

W. H. DeWitt, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he was employed as foreman during the construction of Emerson street bridge; that the earth removed therefrom was distributed upon adjacent property when the consent of the owners could be obtained; that no charge was made for same that deponent has any knowledge of; that a portion was also placed upon the city dump on Emerson street; and Deponent further states that he received no orders for the earth to be placed upon property of Alderman Ashton and has no knowledge of it having been placed.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Adams—

COBB'S HILL COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., May 15, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your joint committee, appointed under the provisions of the resolution of Ald. Adams, passed March 16, 1897, respectfully presents its report as follows:

Immediately upon organizing by election of Charles J. Brown Chairman, and William W. Webb secretary, the committee requested the Chief Engineer of the Water Works to meet them, and after informal discussion of the general subject, a further request was made for a presentation by him of the main points, in a written communication which could be transmitted with the report of this committee. This paper is hereto annexed.

The committee held a number of meetings, hearing representatives of the Cobb's Hill property, and after a full consideration and discussion of the subject, presents as its conclusions:

First. That the city is now, or before one could be constructed, will be in need of an additional reservoir, the present storage of water not being sufficient to afford adequate protection, in view of the remoteness of the sources of supply, and other facts cited in the report of the Chief Engineer.

Second. That the Cobb's Hill site is in some respects the best site available for such an additional reservoir, as offering adequate space at the least expense for construction.

Third. That the enormous price asked by the owners of the land has absolutely no relation to its value, either to an individual or to the city, and our recommendation is that when funds are available, steps be taken either to purchase the land if possible at a price which we think should not now exceed four hundred dollars per acre, or if negotiation on this basis shall fail, that condemnation proceedings shall be instituted to acquire the property.

In conclusion, your committee begs to add that it has limited its inquiries to the need of additional storage of water, to the relative advantages of the various sites which are available, and to a fair valuation of the property which seems most desirable for the purpose, and has not conceived it to be any part of its duty to enter into an investigation of the financial condition of the city, or to advise your Honorable Body as to whether it is expedient to institute the proceedings suggested above, immediately. But we have no hesitation in concluding with the statement that, in our opinion, the steps necessary to give the city an additional reservoir of the capacity recommended by the Chief Engineer should be taken as soon as possible, and suggest that while we do not desire, and do not believe the citizens of Rochester desire, to take any unfair advantage of private owners in the acquirement of land for public uses, it is nevertheless only reasonable for a municipality, as for an individual, to buy such land when prices are low.

All of which is respectfully submitted by
 CHAS. J. BROWN,
 JAMES G. CUTLER,
 W. H. GORSLINE,
 W. W. WEBB.

REASONS FOR A NEW DISTRIBUTING RESERVOIR.

Charles J. Brown, Esq., Chairman of Joint Committee on New Distributing Reservoir:

Dear Sir:—In accordance with your Committee's request to present to them in writing the principal reasons for the construction of a new distributing reservoir for the water works of this city in the near future, the following general argument is herewith submitted for your consideration:

The source of the domestic water supply of Rochester is Hemlock lake, which is situated in a hilly region about 30 miles south. Its surface lies about 385 feet above the general level of the city, thus allowing the water to be conveyed thereto by gravity. The old conduit, together with the storage reservoir at Rush, and the distributing reservoir at Mt. Hope, was built during 1873-6. From the lake to a point about 10 miles northerly, this conduit consists of a 36-inch riveted wrought-iron pipe, made of plates 3-16 inch thick and laid to a hydraulic grade of about 2.5 feet per mile; but for the remainder of the distance to the city it consists of a 24-inch pipe, mostly of cast iron, laid to a hydraulic grade of about 13 feet per mile. The present delivering capacity of this conduit is about 6,600,000 gallons per day.

The storage reservoir at Rush is 9 miles south of Mt. Hope, and has a safe maximum capacity of about 63,400,000 gallons. The distributing reservoir at Mt. Hope, on the other hand, has a capacity of only about 22,500,000 gallons, and cannot be enlarged to any material extent laterally, owing to the absence of a sufficient area of adjacent land at the necessary elevation. It is also inexpedient to add much to its volume by raising the banks, as a considerably greater depth of water will tend to increase the percolation through the bottom; and the comparatively slight enlargement of capacity which might safely be gained by resorting to both of these expedients is not commensurate with the costs and risks involved.

The new conduit consists essentially of two sections, the first embracing the intake works at the lake and a 6-foot masonry conduit about 2.3 miles long, with a capacity of over 35,000,000 gallons per day, corresponding to the average yield of the combined watersheds of Hemlock and Canadice lakes; while the second section consists of a 38-inch riveted pipe, laid to a continuous hydraulic grade of about 9.00 feet per mile, from the end of the masonry conduit to Rush and Mt. Hope reservoirs, a total distance of 26.2 miles. If the permanent connections at the two reservoirs were completed, the present capacity of this pipe would be about 19,000,000 and 21,000,000 gallons per day, respectively; but as the discharge will doubtless reduce somewhat as the interior of the pipe becomes rough by accretions of rust and organic growths, the last-named figure will probably diminish to about 16,000,000 gallons per day in the course of time.

It is therefore evident that before the lapse of many years, the aggregate delivery of the two conduits will not be much over 23,000,000 gallons per day, if both of them can constantly be kept in order. This assumption, however, is not justifiable, inasmuch as the old conduit has already exhibited some signs of weakness, and hence it may fairly be anticipated that this line of supply will occasionally be shut off for repairs. It would also be very strange if the new conduit were to remain in good order indefinitely so that a temporary stoppage of delivery must likewise be taken into account. The question then arises as to the probable length of time that either one or both of the conduits will be thrown out of service.

Inasmuch as a large quantity of water is usually stored in Rush Reservoir, the consideration of this question may be limited to those portions of the conduits which lie between said reservoir and Mt. Hope. As already stated, the distance from Rush to Mt. Hope reservoir is about 9 miles, and both lines of pipe pass through a large extent of intervening low ground, whose surface is from 150 to 250 feet below the water level in Rush reservoir. Under ordinary conditions of operation, the water pressure in the conduits at these localities ranges from 50 to 80 lbs. per square inch; but if the inlet valves at Mt. Hope reservoir are closed for any reason, the pressures will at once rise to 65 and 110 pounds, respectively, with a further temporary increase of from 10 to 30 per cent., due to water ram caused by the more or less quick stoppage of the current in the pipes. It need not be pointed out that pressures of such magnitude produce severe stresses in the metal, and that undiscovered defects thus become constant sources of danger, especially in the case of large cast-iron tubes.

Another circumstance must also be borne in mind. In the first main depression north of Rush reservoir, where the ground is swampy and its surface is about 150 feet below the water level in said reservoir, both conduits are close together and are crossed by the Rochester branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad. The pipes are here protected to considerable extent by heavy side walls of masonry, which support strong iron beams for carrying the tracks; but if a derailment of a rapidly moving train should occur at this point, the probability is that both lines of pipe would be crushed, and that much further damage to the conduits would result from the escaping water. It may, perhaps, be argued that additional protection to the pipes shall be provided in this locality so as to reduce the danger mentioned. Such a plan would, however, prove very costly, and its practical efficiency becomes doubtful in view of the enormous forces to which the work may be subjected.

A similar condition occurs at the points where the West Shore railroad crosses the conduits. The two lines of pipe are here, however, about a half-mile apart, so that a derailment will probably affect only one conduit at a time. On the other hand, this locality is where the pipes are subjected to the greatest pressure, and the vibrations or tremors caused by the passage of trains are not conducive to the staunchness of the joints. Leakage at such points must therefore be expected occasionally, and when this is not quickly discovered and repaired, the pipe may become undermined and may finally break from settlement.

Furthermore, in both lines of pipe there are several main stop-valves and a large number of air-valves and blow-offs, all of which are more or less liable to get out of order and to require considerable time for putting in repair. In the old conduit, the pipes and main valves weigh from 1.20 to 1.75 tons each, while the main valves of the new conduit weigh about 5.25 tons each. It will thus be seen that heavy masses of material are to be transported whenever it becomes necessary to replace such pipes or valves, and that the time required to perform the work is largely dependent upon the condition of the roads and fields in which the conduits are laid. The weather is also an important element in the case, as it is not easy to find workmen capable of rendering the necessary forced labor, who are willing to risk their health, and perhaps even their lives, in the service of the public during a severe blizzard. The same remark also applies to the owners of horses which may be needed for transportation.

The most unfavorable conditions for making repairs occur in the winter, when deep snowdrifts abound, and the small natural watercourses and drainage ditches are obstructed by accumulations of snow and ice. Rapid transportation of heavy material is then impossible, as both men and horses soon exhaust their strength in floundering about the drifts. A proper roadway to the locality must first be formed, and when the same is over fields, a sufficient quantity of timber and plank must be provided to make bridges over ditches and watercourses. Meanwhile the main stop-valves on both sides of the break are to be closed, and the intervening section of conduit drained as far as possible. The obstruction of the watercourses, however, may cause much delay in getting rid of the water which has previously escaped from the pipe, and all available help must be employed in securing a free outlet.

Eight hours or more may easily be lost in this manner before access to the broken pipe can be gained, and if much undermining has occurred, a similar amount of time will be required in removing the water, mud and soft material below the surface of the ground. The excavation of the broken pipe and the adjacent ones may then proceed, provided that no further trouble is experienced from inflowing water, such as leakage of the main stop-valves, springs, etc. After the line has been properly mended by bringing sunken the conduit must be carefully refilled with water, all of the contained air being allowed to escape from the several air-valves. As the latter are operated by hand, access thereto must first be gained, for which considerable time may again be required, and finally the main stop-valves are to be reopened. Taking all the various processes of the work into account, it is therefore safe to say that in unfavorable weather, at least forty-eight hours will elapse before a broken pipe or valve can be replaced and the conduit restored to service.

It should be noted that the period of time can fairly be regarded as a minimum under adverse conditions, and that it will be prudent to make our estimate considerably longer when extremely severe weather prevails. Only a few years ago the repair of a leaky joint in the old conduit was necessarily deferred for several days, as it was almost impossible to reach the locality on account of excessive snow drifts. With a broken pipe, however, postponement would have been intolerable under the prevailing circumstances. So far as can be learned, no replacement of a broken pipe in the old conduit has been accomplished, even in pleasant weather, in less than two days, and in some cases three days were required before the line was again in full working order.

Attention may also be called to the fact that for some miles from Rush reservoir northerly, the old and new conduits are only about 20 feet apart. It is therefore possible that a serious break in one line may cause a rupture in the other by washing away the earth on which it rests. While occurrences of this kind have not happened here, and have rarely been noted elsewhere, yet their possibility should be taken into account, especially in localities where the water pressure is considerable and the soil loose.

From the foregoing, it is accordingly seen that either one of the two conduits between Rush and Mt. Hope reservoirs may reasonably be expected to be thrown out of service occasionally for not less than two or three days, and there is also a more or less remote possibility that both may be shut off simultaneously for such period. Obviously, the chance of such a misfortune is not susceptible of close computation, and each person must therefore be guided by his own judgment of its probability. If it happens, great annoyance to the public is sure to follow, as the consumption must immediately be restricted by throttling the feed mains to the city, and obviously no notice of such action can be given. It is also necessary to consider this misfortune as occurring at night, when a number of hours may elapse before its discovery, in which event a portion of the contents of Mt. Hope reservoir will escape by flowing back to the points of rupture; and furthermore, that it may happen when the reservoir is not entirely full. In both cases it may be assumed that the available storage will not exceed 18,000,000 gallons.

At the present time the average consumption of water from Hemlock Lake is about 10,250,000 gallons per day, but with the closest economy and reduction of pressure, as aforesaid, it may be possible to make the above-named supply of 18,000,000 gallons last for about two and one-half days, which is the time needed for making repairs under ordinarily unfavorable circumstances in winter. The consumption, however, must be regarded as increasing constantly from year to year, both with the steady increase of population and with new uses for the water; hence it must be expected that the time will soon arrive when the annoyances resulting from a reduction of the supply and pressure will become dangerous. Moreover, it should also be remembered that in the severest days of winter the consumption is often 25 per cent.

more than the average, owing to the prevalent practice by many unmetered consumers of allowing water to run to waste in order to prevent their service pipes from freezing.

The hopelessness of preventing this waste in a short space of time by any system of inspection or by appeals through the public press has been demonstrated too often, both in this city and elsewhere, to justify the expectation that in a future emergency any less severe measure than a great reduction of pressure will prove efficient; and by resorting thereto, hot water and steam boilers in the high districts of the city will at once be endangered and the risk of fire increased. Prudence therefore demands that a sufficient stock of water shall be kept in the distributing reservoir to meet this contingency, and hence we should not count upon more than 15,000,000 gallons for ordinary use during said period of two and one-half days while the conduits are being repaired, as aforesaid.

This quantity, however, represents a daily supply of only 6,000,000 gallons, or less than one-half the winter rate at the present time; and it will become proportionally less as such rate increases hereafter. The consideration of these figures will therefore be of interest to those who remember the distress which was experienced in the city for some time prior to the completion of the new conduit.

Viewed from an optimistic standpoint, it is evident from the foregoing that in the winter season the margin of absolute safety in the capacity of Mt. Hope reservoir is very small; but from a more cautious point of view, it may be said that some risk is already being taken. The magnitude of this risk cannot be computed, as it is dependent on a great many contingencies and possibilities, the chief one being whether both conduits between Rush and Mt. Hope will be broken at the same time. If the chance that this calamity will not occur be taken, then the construction of a new reservoir may be deferred for a time; otherwise the conclusion follows that steps toward such construction should be taken without much more delay. Assuming the former alternative to be chosen, we may next attempt to compute the number of years before the matter will become far more urgent than it is at present.

It has been pointed out above that the future combined capacity of both conduits will be about 23,000,000 gallons per day, and it must also be assumed that Mt. Hope reservoir will occasionally be emptied for necessary repairs. In this case the entire supply must be delivered directly into the city mains, and the rate of consumption must then not exceed the rate of discharge corresponding to the daily capacity mentioned. Experience, however, has shown that the consumption during certain hours of each day is generally about 30 per cent. greater than the average rate of use during the entire period of twenty-four hours, and that in case of fire during said hours, the maximum rate may easily become 50 per cent. more than the average. The limit of safety without the reservoir is therefore reached when the average consumption in twenty-four hours becomes about 15,500,000 gallons, or two-thirds of the aforesaid ultimate daily capacity, so that during the hours of maximum use the rate of consumption shall not exceed the full combined delivery of both pipes.

Having thus found the safe limit of average daily consumption directly from the two conduits, or without a distributing reservoir, the question next arises, when it will probably be reached. As already stated, the present average daily consumption from Hemlock Lake is 10,250,000 gallons, with a population of 170,000, or at the rate of 60 gallons per head per day. The statistics of many other cities, however, have shown that this rate increases with the population, and it is fair to presume that Rochester will not prove exceptional in this respect. A gradual increase to a consumption of 75 gallons per head per day from the same source may therefore be anticipated, in which event the aforesaid limit of 15,500,000 gallons per day will correspond to a population of about 200,000. Estimating that the city's rate of growth during the past twenty years will continue, it accordingly follows that Rochester will attain this number of inhabitants within five or six years; and hence at the end of this time serious annoyance, if not danger, may be expected with the water supply whenever Mt. Hope reservoir is empty.

The foregoing embraces the principal reasons for the early construction of a new distributing reservoir, and it may be remarked that the writer has endeavored to present them from a very conservative point of view. Much more might easily have been said about the desirability of having a large volume of water in store within or near the city's boundaries for use in case of emergency, and also about the risks which the absence of such storage involves; but it is believed that enough has been presented to enable each member of the committee to form an intelligent opinion. The problem is one of great importance, and requires the exercise of sound judgment rather than engineering knowledge, and for this reason it has been submitted to you for thorough consideration. My own position in the premises has already been expressed and published several times, but as the subject is essentially of a prudential nature, the opinion of an engineer concerning it is entitled to no more weight than that of any other intelligent person.

With reference to the site of the proposed new reservoir, nothing has been said above, inasmuch as this is another subject. It may, however, be mentioned that several locations have been examined, and that of these Cobb's Hill is, in my opinion, the most advantageous, since it admits of the construction of a larger reservoir than the others which are in or close to the city. A number of other sites can be found at some distance from the city, but no detailed surveys thereof have yet been undertaken. The size of the reservoir is also a proper subject for investigation, as a suitable location for a small basin is more easily found than for a large one. Another solution of the problem may also be found in the construction of a large reservoir on low ground, with adequate pumping machinery to deliver the water directly into the city mains at such times only at Mt. Hope reservoir may be inadequate. By this plan the cost of the pumps becomes the measure of the value of a site at a sufficient elevation to give a delivery by gravity. Several other alternatives are likewise open for consideration in case that exorbitant prices are demanded for the preferable gravity sites; but their discussion may be omitted for the present until the main questions of the necessity for a new reservoir and its proper size have been decided.

Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: The undersigned members of your special committee, appointed to consider the advisability of purchasing a site for an additional reservoir, while they agree in the main with the report presented by Messrs. Brown, Cutler, Gorsline and Webb, desire to present some further conclusions in the matter.

The time will come when the city will be compelled by necessity to buy a site for an additional reservoir; but that time is not now at hand. As the undersigned members of the committee view the question, the following facts present themselves:

First. The acquisition of an additional reservoir site is not absolutely necessary at the present time.

Second. The price asked for the Cobb's hill property is far beyond the value of the land, either to the city or to an individual.

Third. If condemnation proceedings must be resorted to, such proceedings could not be commenced until after the passage of enabling act by the legislature.

Fourth. The present condition of the city's finances are such as to absolutely preclude the possibility of any expenditure for the purchase of a reservoir site at this time.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Rochester, N. Y., May 15, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The undersigned, one of your joint committee appointed under the resolution of Ald. Adams, passed March 16, 1897, presents his report as follows:

Since the construction of our water works system this city has had two reservoirs, one at Mount Hope and the other at Rush; and during the same period, except for a short time recently, the supply of water for the city has been furnished by one conduit line.

Up to the present time these reservoirs have been of sufficient capacity for the storage of water, the purpose for which they were constructed.

For several years prior to 1895, difficulty had been experienced in delivering to this city through this one pipe line a sufficient quantity of water for the city's needs. This arose from the fact that the distributing capacity of the pipes had been somewhat lessened from the presence of foreign substance therein, and not from any want of capacity in the reservoirs.

To remedy this deficiency in the supply of water the city has recently expended $1,750,000 in building a new conduit line from Hemlock Lake.

The capacity of these two conduits is now far in excess of the city's present needs, and will be ample for all demands for years to come.

We are not getting the full benefit of the large sum of money expended upon the new conduit, for the reason that to make the present system complete it will be necessary to expend a sum of from $250,000 to $300,000 in laying large distributing mains. This sum should be expended at the rate of $50,000 per year for about five or six years, according to information received from the Chief Engineer.

It would seem as if it would be better to complete our present system and to get the full benefit therefrom, rather than to begin to purchase land for a new reservoir, which will result in another large expenditure, as the cost of the proposed site will be but a small item in the ultimate cost, the estimated cost of the proposed reservoir, exclusive of the cost of the site, being $750,000. The purchase of the proposed site is, therefore, but the entering wedge which will ultimately result in a cost to the city of nearly $1,000,000.

Taking into consideration the fact that since the construction of our water works system we have had but the two reservoirs, which have been of ample capacity, and also that during most of that time we have had but one conduit line, and that during those years the city's scarcity in the supply of water was caused by the diminished distributing capacity of the pipes and not on account of the capacity of the reservoir, and that we now have in addition to the old conduit a new one with pipes of large size, thereby still further lessening the danger from the breakage of pipes, and that we can in case the present reservoir gives out, supply water direct from Hemlock Lake, it would seem as if there is no need for the additional expense of a new reservoir.

The price asked for the land is entirely out of proportion to its actual value.

The city is not at the present time in a financial condition to warrant the taking of the initiatory steps which will within a few years result in the expenditure of so large a sum of money.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JACOB GERLING.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office.

Rochester, N. Y., June 11, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return to you, without my approval, the resolution adopted at your meeting of June 8, 1897, requesting the Overseer of the Poor and Clerk John Calder to attend at the city's expense the convention of the Overseers of the Poor to be held at Thousand Island Park June 2, 1897, and the National Conference of Charities to be held at Toronto July 7, 1897, for the following reasons:

Conceding that there exists a necessity for the attendance of the Overseer of the Poor at these conventions, and that the information derived by him from such attendance would be of sufficient benefit to the city to warrant the proposed expense so far as he is concerned, yet I do not see how that will apply to the clerk.

It would seem as if the Overseer of the Poor would be able to gain all the new ideas or information necessary to make, if possible, more perfect the workings of his department, without the city's being put to the double expense proposed.

Last year the city requested simply the Overseer of the Poor to attend the convention of the Overseers of the Poor to be held at Schenectady, N. Y. This year it is proposed to send two parties.

In my opinion, if it is necessary for any one to attend, the number should be limited to simply the Overseer of the Poor.

Very respectfully,
GEO. E. WARNER,
Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

The Chair stated the question to be, "Shall the resolution stand notwithstanding the disapproval of His Honor the Mayor?"

Ayes—Alds. Ford, Rauber, Edelman, Simmelink—4.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I beg leave to suggest the printing of the city charter. It seems to be necessary for a proper administration of the affairs of the city. Every officer of the city should have ready access to a complete charter. Otherwise serious loss might result to the city which might far exceed the cost of publication. Frequent reference to the charter is necessary in litigations in which the city is involved. We should be in a position to furnish the courts with our charter. Such requests have been made. The expense, I am informed, will not exceed $200 for an edition of a thousand copies in pamphlet form.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. RODENBECK,
Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By Ald. Adams—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., June 22, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—At page 489 of the proceedings of 1896, of your Honorable Body, a communication from the East Side Trunk Sewer Commission appears, requesting the issue of bonds in the sum of $10,000 for use of said commission to meet obligations incurred and expenses that may be necessary in bringing to a close the affairs of that commission. The $10,000 estimated was the amount which was deemed to be needed to meet all obligations of the commission so far as then known.

The $10,000 appropriated in July, 1896, has been expended in the construction of overflows authorized by the Common Council subsequent to that date, and which are now completed and the amounts due on said contracts in part paid. The commission is desirous of bringing its affairs to an end, and for this reason requests that the above amount be appropriated and placed at its disposal to pay the indebtedness which has or may be incurred prior to the termination of its duties under the law. It is therefore requested that your Honorable Body adopt a resolution authorizing the City Treasurer to make provision for the sum above stated, namely, $10,000, and that said amount be placed to the credit of the fund for the construction of the East Side trunk sewer.

Respectfully,
THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to issue, as may be necessary, under authority of chapter 347 of the laws of 1890, amended by chapter 74 of the laws of 1892, the city's note or notes, for an amount not exceeding $10,000 (ten thousand dollars); said notes to run for a period not exceeding twelve months; to be negotiated under the direction of the Finance Committee, and countersigned by the chairman thereof; interest or discount to be charged to the East Side Trunk Sewer Fund, and the proceeds credited to the East Side Trunk Sewer Fund.

By Ald. Adams—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., June 11, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I have this day been presented with three orders drawn on me as City Treasurer, by State Commissioner of Excise H. H. Lyman for the following amounts respectively: $55.56, $83.24 and $55.56, orders payable to Messrs. Amsden Bros.

I was obliged to decline payment, as I pay nothing from the general fund except by order or resolution of your Honorable Body.

These orders are a rebate for licenses returned, which will be an unknown quantity, both in number and amount.

County Treasurer Hamilton thinks the amount will not exceed $5,000 for the present year.

The city now has $915.68 in the Security Trust Co. remaining from the amount set aside last year for Refund License Account.

I would suggest that $4,000 be added to this account from the Contingent Fund, and that the Treasurer be directed to pay the orders issued by Commissioner Lyman as they are presented from this fund, or if you think better, then to request Mr. Lyman to make his orders on the City Clerk, and then let the Clerk make his order on the City Treasurer in the regular form.

The law on the subject is as follows: "And one order for the 2-3 of such rebate, directed to the fiscal officer of the proper locality, to be paid by such fiscal officer out of any excise or other moneys of such locality applicable thereto. If he has no such moneys of such locality in his possession or under his control, then the said fiscal officer shall at once borrow enough money upon the credit of the locality, and he hereby is authorized to do so, to pay said order, and shall pay the same." (From the Liquor Tax Law, pages 36 and 37.)

I have received from County Treasurer Hamilton license money for the year 1897, $161,686.02.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be and he hereby is authorized to transfer $4,000 from the Contingent Fund to the Refund License Account and to pay from said Refund License Account all orders drawn by the State Commissioner of Excise for the City's proportion of the rebate due on surrender liquor tax certificates as provided by the Liquor Tax Law.

Adopted.

By the Clerk—

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—While I have no desire to bore your Honorable Body, or to lumber up the proceedings with columns of communications, I still feel it my duty to call your attention to the necessity for taking some steps to comply with the law in relation to public baths. This law is mandatory and has been obeyed in all cities except our own. In Buffalo the baths have not been in operation quite a year, but are giving the best of satisfaction, over 6,000 baths being given during the month of April. The authorities there are so well pleased that they expect to erect two more bath houses the present season.

The primary cost of constructing and properly equipping a building suitable to the needs of our city would be between $10,000 and $12,000, and the annual cost of maintenance, if based on the expenses and experience of the Buffalo concern, would be from $1,200 to $1,500 per year.

The Buffalo house is fitted up with 14 shower baths with hot and cold water the year around. Separate hours are given for men, women, boys, and girls, and the applications are more than can be accommodated. A laundry is attached, where the poor people can wash their underclothing, and then after bathing themselves go out into the world clean in body and clothing, and I firmly believe, better men and women from a moral standpoint. Cleanliness is certainly next to godliness, and thousands of our poor people would be better citizens if they could have the comforts of a good hot bath and clean underclothing.

Dr. Wende, Buffalo's well-known and capable health officer, tells me that he believes the public baths have done much to better the health among the poor people. Contagious diseases do not find the same ready foothold among the cleanly that they do amid squalor and filth.

I thoroughly appreciate the fact that there are at present no funds applicable for the purpose; but it seems to me that all the preliminary work should be done this season and proper estimates prepared so an appropriation could be asked for in next year's tax levy. A site would have to be selected, plans drawn and estimates made, all of which requires time and careful thought. All this means hard work for some committee. It has occurred to me that it might be advisable to add a committee on "Public Baths" to your list of standing committees. If this should meet your approval, the committee would find ample work for some time to come, the results of which would materially benefit a large number of our people.

Respectfully yours,

ALVIN H. DEWEY.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Selve moved that the communication from the President be referred to a committee on Public Baths, to be appointed by the Chair. Carried.

June 18, 1897.

Theo. S. Pulver, City Clerk, Rochester, N. Y.:

Dear Sir:—Under date of June 2d, you kindly advised us of the generous action of the Honorable the Common Council of your city in promptly acceding invitation to be present in this city on Monday, July 5th, and participate in the corner-stone laying and 4th of July celebration. You further stated that it would be impossible to say how many of your city officials would be present, and that you would advise as soon as the delegation was made up.

We are particularly anxious to have the city of Rochester well represented, since one of your notable citizens, the Hon. Wm. A. Sutherland, is the Grand Master of Masons in the state of New York, which body will have charge of the corner-stone laying. I beg to suggest that it would be a gracious tribute to him and the favor most gratefully appreciated by the city of Binghamton if your city could be largely represented by its officials and citizens generally.

I herewith inclose partial programme and explanations, from which you will note that undoubtedly a very large attendance of city and other officials will be present, hence to arrange for proper entertainment and attention it becomes necessary that we should know as far in advance as possible the number and names of those who will attend from each city.

Awaiting your pleasure, I am
Yours truly,

GEO. E. GREEN, Mayor.

CITY PROPERTY COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your City Property Committee, to which was referred the resolution by Ald. Johnston, directing that Edward Emerick be continued in the employ of the city as custodian of the city clocks, would respectfully report:

That we do not find that there is any obligation on the part of the city to care for these clocks. None of them are the property of the city, being located in churches or in buildings owned by private individuals.

We do find, however, that for many years these clocks, some eight or nine in number, have been wound and kept in repair by a person whose services were paid for from the city treasury. When this arrangement was entered into or by what authority your committee has been unable to ascertain; but it is a fact that the public convenience has been greatly subserved by these clocks, and we have no doubt that public sentiment would approve the expenditure necessary to keep them in repair and in operation.

Your committee would therefore recommend that authority be given for the employment of a competent person to care for these clocks at a compensation not exceeding $35 per month to be paid from the Contingent Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

T. W. FORD,
M. J. CALIHAN,
M. R. ADAMS,
EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,

By the Clerk—

Health Department,

Rochester, N. Y., June 29, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Numerous complaints have come to this Department relating to the insanitary condition of the premises Nos. 147 and 149 Ravine avenue. Upon investigation I find that the complaints are very well founded. There is no sewer in front of said premises, and there is no doubt that the premises in their existing condition are a nuisance and detrimental to public health. I would, therefore, respectfully recommend that your Honorable Body pass an ordinance for the construction of a public sewer at that point of the street.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE W. GOLER, M. D.,

Health Officer.

Received, filed and published, and on motion of Ald. Selye referred to City Engineer to prepare ordinance.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

By the Clerk—
To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

The Myers ballot machines were used at the election held in November, 1896, under the contract made with the city. On account of some defects that were alleged to have been discovered in one or two machines, we did not at that time press for their acceptance. Since then the machine has been in every way perfected; it has been thoroughly tested, alike by mechanics and in public exhibitions, and is now in every way a perfect voting machine. We would, therefore, respectfully ask for a renewal of the contract formerly made with the city for the use of these machines.

Dated June 29, 1897.
AMERICAN BALLOT MACHINE CO.,
A. S. Hamilton, Treasurer.

Received, filed and published.
Ald. Adams moved that the communication be referred to the Finance Committee.

Ald. Crane moved as an amendment that the communication be referred to a special committee of five members of the Board to investigate and report back.

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Callihan, Green, Adams, Dewey, Cook, Kelly, Crane, Simmelink—9.

Nays—Alds. Ford, Rauber, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Pauckner, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—10.

Ald. Kelly moved that the communication be referred to the Law and Finance Committees. Carried.

By the Clerk—
Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., June 30, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval final ordinance No. 6,770, for Court street improvement, for the following reasons:

This ordinance calls for a Medina block stone pavement from St. Paul street to South Clinton street, and from South Clinton street to Union street a stone gutter three feet in width with curbs.

The greater part of the expense of this improvement will be borne by the lot owners between St. Paul street and South Clinton street.

No petition was filed asking for this improvement. A remonstrance was filed signed by all but one of the persons owning property between St. Paul and Clinton streets, asking that the improvement be postponed for one year. It would seem that the people who have to pay the expense of this improvement should have some rights in the matter. When they only ask for a delay of one year it would seem as if the request was a reasonable one, and should have been granted; especially as times will then be better and the people better able to pay for the improvement.

There is another reason why this ordinance should not be adopted in its present form. The Rochester Railway Company operates its cars over this street; yet, by the terms of the ordinance, they are not required to pay for any part of the expense of this improvement. On April 27, 1897, the Rochester Railway Company addressed a communication to the common council requesting a conference to ascertain if an arrangement could not be reached in reference to the amount to be paid by the company for the improvement of streets in which their car tracks were laid. In this communication the company requested that action on pending ordinances be deferred. This communication was referred to the committee on railways, and as I have been informed, such conferences have been had, and an offer made by the company as to what amount they were willing to pay. Taking this offer as a basis, the Rochester Railway Company will have to pay between seven and eight hundred dollars of the cost of the proposed improvement; but if this ordinance is adopted this sum will have to be paid by the lot owners. On June 8, 1897, a resolution was presented to the common council in which it was claimed that by the laws of this state the Rochester Railway Company is bound to keep in permanent repair the roadway between its tracks and two feet on the outside thereof, and requesting that all ordinances for the improvement of streets where car tracks are laid should contain a request to the railway company to so permanently repair that portion of the roadbed. This resolution was referred to the railway committee. This committee has not as yet reported upon the communication of the Rochester Railway Company or upon this resolution. It would seem as if it would be better to have a report made thereon before adopting ordinances by which this company is relieved entirely from any expense of such improvements.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER,

Mayor.

Ald. Green moved that action on the ordinance disapproved by the Mayor be postponed two weeks.

Carried.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., July 6, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

The license of the Rochester Bill Posting Company not having been revoked, the resolution of Alderman Adams directing the Corporation Counsel to take such steps and prosecute such action against said company as he may deem advisable, is for that reason disapproved.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER

Mayor.

Ald. Kelly in the chair.

The Chair stated the question to be: "Shall the resolution stand notwithstanding the disapproval of his honor, the mayor?"

ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:
Gentlemen:—Your Assessment Committee beg leave to submit the following report:

In the matter of the application of Carrie J. Whitehouse for cancellation of an assessment for the Hollenbeck street and Avenue D outlet sewer under final ordinance No. 5,238 against her premises known as lot 258 south side of Avenue C, we recommend that said assessment be canceled.

By Ald. FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—At the last meeting of the Council the salary of William L Sanders for services as policeman for June was stricken from the budget on information that his appointment was irregular. Mr. Sanders was appointed a temporary policeman by the board of police commissioners in February, 1897 and was advanced to a permanent position by a majority vote of that board in June, 1897. The city charter provides that temporary appointments may be made by the police commissioners only in cases of great emergency, which shall not extend beyond the time of the next ensuing regular or special meeting of the common council, and that permanent appointments may be made only by unanimous vote of the board. The question involved in the case of Mr. Sanders applies to six other appointments by the police commissioners, and the matter should be more fully investigated.

As the other appointees have been paid by the city, we recommend that the same course be taken with Mr. Sanders, and that he be paid for the services actually performed by him, pending such investigation and further report by this committee.

HENRY G. COOK,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. C. WILSON,
M. B. ADAMS.

Finance Committee.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized to draw an order payable from the Police Fund in favor of Wm. L. Sanders for the sum of $62.93 for services rendered in June, without prejudice to such further action as this Council may desire to take with reference to his appointment.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Ald. Tracy, Callihan, Ford, Green, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Cook, Pauckner, Crane, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—18.

ACTION UPON ORDINANCES.

FIRST ORDINANCES.

FIELD STREET, MONROE AVENUE, LABURNAM AND KEELER STREETS SEWER.

By Ald. Edelman—Resolved, That the City Engineer ascertain and report to this Council the expense of constructing a sewer through Field street, Monroe avenue, Laburnam and Keeler streets.

Adopted.

The Engineer submitted as such estimate $11,000.

By Ald. Edelman—Resolved, That the following improvement is necessary and should be made, viz.:

The construction of a sewer of suitable form and dimensions in Field street, from the city line to Monroe avenue; thence in Monroe avenue to Laburnam street; thence through Laburnam street to Keeler street; thence through Keeler street and across lots to the sewer in Bates street. Also the necessary manholes, surface sewers, lot laterals and branches, and the acquirement of the necessary rights of way for the construction of said sewer.

And the City Engineer, under the directions of this Council, having made an estimate of the whole expense thereof, and reported the same at $11,000, which, being deemed reasonable is hereby approved.

Resolved, Further, that the whole expense of such improvement is hereby directed to be assessed upon all of the following portion and part of the city, which this Council deems proper to be so assessed for and will be benefited by such improvement, to wit:

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., July 12, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of July 6, 1897, authorizing and directing the city property committee to employ a competent person to care for the various public clocks in churches and other public buildings, at a compensation not to exceed three hundred dollars per year, for the following reasons:

At a prior meeting of the common council, the city property committee made a report on this subject, as follows: "We do not find that there is any obligation on the part of the city to care for these clocks. None of them are the property of the city, being located in churches or in buildings owned by private individuals."

There is no provision of the city charter, either expressed or implied, which gives the common council power to employ a person for the purpose of taking care of and maintaining the property of individuals or corporations, as this resolution directs.

The committee correctly state that there is no obligation on the part of the city to care for these clocks. That being so, although it may be a convenience to some, yet the expenditure of this money would be unnecessary and illegal.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. WARNER, Mayor.

The Chair stated the question to be, "Shall the resolution stand notwithstanding the disapproval of His Honor, the Mayor?"

COMMUNICATIONS FROM OTHER CORPORATION OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By Ald. Cook—

City Treasurer's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., July 19, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: Five years have elapsed since the first issue of the East Side trunk sewer bonds, during which time we have paid for interest on same $131,239.58.

To reimburse the general fund, from which we paid this interest, $115,000 in notes of the popular loan issue of September 1, 1896, together with $10,000 for East Side trunk sewer purposes, were issued for one year's time at 6 per cent. The interest on these notes will, therefore, amount to $7,500.

The total amount of the issue of the East Side trunk sewer bonds thus far is $900,000—$750,000 bearing interest at three and one-half per cent., and the remaining $150,000 at four per cent.

Provided the issue is not increased within the next five years the amount necessary to meet the interest for that period will be $161,250. The first block of bonds ($25,000) will also be due in 1902. These amounts make a total of $324,989.58.

If your honorable body deem it advisable to charge the fund for interest on these amounts advanced from the general fund from time to time, allowing interest at 4 per cent., the amount received by the city for its deposits in the several banks during said period, the indebtedness of the East Side trunk sewer fund will be increased by $6,920.96, making a grand total of $331,910.54.

If, when the assessment is made, the rolls are made subject to discount, it will be then necessary to compute interest on the above amount.

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

By Ald. Cook—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., July 20, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: There will be due September 1st the city's notes for seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) and interest at the rate of 6 per cent. for one year, this being the amount of the popular loan, nearly all of which was taken by the citizens of Rochester.

Of this amount there was issued for local improvement purposes $425,000; for Hemlock lake water shed fund, $150,000; for East Side trunk sewer interest $115,000, and for East Side trunk sewer fund $10,000.

In regard to the above items, and what is best to be done toward their payment:

The item of $115,000 for East Side trunk sewer interest will have to be renewed, as the payment of same must come from the assessment rolls to be prepared by the city assessors.

The item of $10,000 for East Side trunk sewer fund can be paid by the issue of bonds, but I would advise that the total amount required by the East Side trunk sewer commission for the completion of the sewer be first decided upon, and that the bonds for same be issued at one time. It will be much cheaper this way.

The item of $150,000 for Hemlock lake water shed fund can be paid by the issue of bonds. As the city has borrowed $40,000 in excess of the above amount (notes not yet matured) I would advise the issue of the $200,000 bonds authorized for this purpose, and that the treasurer be instructed to prepare the same for delivery September 1st.

The item of $425,000 for local improvement purposes will have to be renewed.

I was in hopes that legislative action had been perfected that would allow the city to place the bonds for ten years' time at 4 per cent. interest; such bonds would command a good premium.

This must be done eventually, as we simply renew from year to year. I have asked the corporation counsel for a copy of the provision in the city charter under which local improvement bonds may be issued. His reply is as follows:

"The following is the provision of the city charter under which local improvement bonds may be issued:

"Sec. 170. The common council may maintain, improve, embellish and protect any public park, square or area in said city, and grade, sewer and pave the streets and alleys, or make or improve sidewalks about the same, or any part thereof. And they may cause the whole expense thereof to be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land where the parks, squares or areas are situated in proportion to the benefit which each lot or parcel will derive therefrom. It shall be lawful for the common council to borrow from time to time, by the issue of bonds bearing such rates of interest as it may deem proper to effect a sale thereof, not exceeding six per centum per annum, at not less than par, for such period as said common council may determine, not exceeding ten years, such sums as may be necessary to pay all costs, disbursements and other expenses incurred or to be incurred on account of work, labor, materials and local improvements heretofore or hereafter performed or furnished, or constructed, not in conflict with the provisions of any contract, however, therefor, under and by virtue of ordinances duly adopted as provided in this charter, the expense whereof is to be afterwards collected wholly or in part by assessment from the property benefited by such improvement; but no moneys shall be paid out of the proceeds of said bonds except upon a certificate in writing from the head of the department having charge of such work, stating that a payment is due and the amount of such payment. All assessments heretofore or hereafter made or collected for local improvements shall be paid into a fund to be known as the 'Local Improvement Fund,' to be applied toward the redemption of the bonds issued in pursuance of this section and the payment of any orders that may be issued in pursuance of any contracts heretofore entered into for any local improvements."

Gentlemen:—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York have about 500 mortgages on property in Rochester.

They wish tax searches on all their property and their agent, Mr. Danforth, requests a reduction from the regular rates for making searches, which are 50c each, except on corner lots, the charge for these being $1.

I have no authority to reduce the price. What are your instructions in the matter?

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The unpaid assessments for personal taxes beginning with the year 1885 and ending with the year 1896, amount to $26,601.50. Bills for these taxes have been sent out at different times, but as no provision has ever been made, of which I have been notified, for enforcing the collection of same, the amount is increased each year by assessments against new names on the rolls, as well as by some against individuals assessed in former years.

I submit herewith a statement showing the names against whom there are assessments, also the years in which said assessments were made, and the amounts of same. Cannot some action be taken through which this large debit balance may be closed on our books?
Yours respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your railroad committee, to whom was referred the subject of the improvement of streets in which the Rochester Railway Company has laid its tracks, begs leave to report that it is claimed by the Rochester Railway Company that its obligation with respect to public streets is limited to the making of repairs; that it cannot be compelled to construct a pavement where none previously existed or renew entirely a pavement with new or different material where the existing pavement has become worn out, or to be assessed therefor or bear any portion of the expense of constructing a new pavement. It insists that its obligation is merely to keep the street within its rails and tracks, and for two feet outside thereof, in a reasonably safe condition for general traffic. The corporation counsel holds that the general statutes regulating street surface railroads only require the company to have and keep in permanent repair that portion of the street within lines drawn two feet outside of the outside rail of its tracks and that the term "repair" does not include a case of the construction of an entirely new pavement. This view is also concurred in by the mayor. This construction of the statute has also received judicial sanction in the case of John Conway vs. the city of Rochester, otherwise known as the Lyell avenue case. From the decision rendered in this case, however, an appeal has been taken, and as there is a difference of opinion as to the final outcome, your committee deems it expedient to make an arrangement that will protect the property owners where improvements are about to be made.

The city engineer and the members of your committee are vigorously opposed to the construction of new pavements by the city up to or within a certain distance of the railway company's tracks, and the "repair" of the balance of the street by the company, as is being done in State and Exchange streets.

In view of the construction of the statute referred to, and the desirability of securing a uniform pavement throughout the entire width of a street, and in view of the fact that there are improvements pending, that it is desirable to have completed this year, your committee has agreed upon the following sums as equitable and advantageous for the city to accept from the railway company in lieu of its obligation to make repairs where new pavements are being constructed:

Kind of improvement.	Price per
	lin. ft. of double track	lin. ft. of single track.
Medina block stone on concrete	$2 75	$1 37 1-2

Sheet asphalt, 10 years' guarantee, on concrete..	2 75	1 37 1-2
Block asphalt on concrete foundation	2 75	1 37 1-2
Brick on concrete foundation ..	2 00	1 00
Medina stone grouted on gravel foundation ..	1 75	87 1-2

These amounts were agreed to by the Rochester Railway Company upon the following conditions:

The payments by the company are to be made with interest in the same installments as the assessment levied for the improvement. The company is to give a bond whenever required, with sufficient sureties to be approved by the mayor and as to form by the corporation counsel, to secure the performance of the terms of the recommendation; the city is to construct the entire improvement and remove the existing pavement and other materials sufficient to allow of the removal of the tracks of the company, and adjust the surface of the soil to the necessary grade, taking into consideration the kind of track construction to be laid. No sheet asphalt, unless guaranteed for ten years, and no macadam, wooden block or gravel shall be used between the tracks and rails of the company or for a space of two feet outside thereof. The company is at its own expense to remove its tracks if deemed necessary by the executive board and city engineer, during the course of the improvement; the form of track construction and the material used by the company to be that approved by the executive board and city engineer; the depth, form of section and weight of rail to be such as to permit of the proper construction of the pavement adopted; when a rail of less depth is permitted by the executive board the necessary depth is to be obtained by the use of chairs of a form satisfactory to the executive board and city engineer; if the present tie construction is used the tie is to be of good sound white oak, chestnut, hard pine, cedar or other equally durable material of sufficient number and size to support the rails and the space between and under the ties to the elevation of the bottom of the proposed concrete foundation is to be filled by the company with gravel or sand solidly tamped; if a concrete girder is adopted the form, size and material is to be satisfactory to the executive board and city engineer, and the space between the girder to be left by the company at the proper elevation for the pavement foundation; the company is to lay its tracks and adjust them to the proper line and grade of the street as directed by the executive board and city engineer.

The plan proposed is that when a pavement such as those specified above is to be constructed in place of an existing pavement, the city shall upon the adoption of the ordinance for the improvement adopt a resolution calling upon the railway company to formally agree to pay the sum specified in the ordinance, in accordance with the terms of this report, in lieu of its obligation to make repairs. This plan will not affect existing penal ordinances, franchises or laws, nor the obligation of the company with respect to the construction of pavements other than those specified, or to make repairs on streets so improved, or its liability for a failure to make such repairs.

This report does not bind either the railway company or the city.

By the Clerk—
Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., July 26, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen: The Executive Board is in receipt of complaints respecting the condition of the river under the western arch of the Main street river bridge. An inspector from this department has reported that there is a large accumulation of stone, ashes, lumber, garbage and other miscellaneous substances in the bed of the river underneath this arch, which is not only a nuisance but an obstruction to the flow of water, and consequently dangerous at flood time to the adjacent property. The Executive Board, not having authority to expend money for this purpose, urge upon your honorable body that provision should be made for the removal of this debris, not only to protect property but in the interests of public health.

Respectfully yours,
THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

By The Clerk—
Rochester, N. Y., July 28, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:
Gentlemen: The attention of this department has been drawn by the Executive Board to the condition of the river under the west arch of Main street bridge. From buildings within the last few years and from blasting out the bed of the river, a quantity of stone, earth and refuse wood has been piled up in the river bed beneath Main street bridge, and has until a few weeks wholly obstructed the passage of the water under the west arch of the bridge. A narrow channel five feet wide has been dug through this refuse so that the water might flow on. The extent of the refuse is about sixty feet in length, forty feet in width and six or more feet in depth. This obstruction catches much animal and vegetable refuse and a serious nuisance is being maintained beneath the river bridge. I respectfully suggest that means be provided to remove the obstruction.

Yours respectfully,
G. W. GOLER,
Health Officer.

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Board of Health of the city of Rochester, held July 21, 1897, the Health Officer complained that the premises on Montgomery alley between Church and Allen streets were in an insanitary condition by reason of no sewer. On motion of Commissioner Brickner the matter was referred to your honorable body, recommending that an ordinance be passed for the construction of a sewer at that place. A true copy from the minutes.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

By Ald. Cook—

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your Finance Committee would respectfully report on matters referred to the committee as follows:

The Mutual Life Insurance Company, through Mr. H. G. Danforth, has requested that the fee for searches made in the Treasurer's office be reduced and a special rate made to the company because of the large amount of work done for this corporation. There appears to be no adequate reason for discriminating in favor of the company against the small property owner, and we recommend that the request be denied.

The Board of Education has requested an appropriation to defray the expense of giving public school pupils a course in manual training and domestic sciences at the Mechanics' Institute. As the Board has already received its appropriation for the current year, to comply with the request would necessitate the issuance of the city's note. This your committee is unwilling to recommend, and we therefore ask that the request be denied.

In a communication presented at the last meeting, City Treasurer Williams called attention to the fact that notes aggregating $150,000, issued for the Hemlock Lake Watershed Fund, will be due September 1st, and that other notes issued for the same fund will mature during the next few months, aggregating $40,000. We recommend that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue bonds of the city to the amount of $200,000, the proceeds to be applied to the redemption of these notes.

Respectfully submitted,

H. G. COOK,
M. B. ADAMS,
J. C. WILSON,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,

Finance Committee.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATION OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 3, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The East Side Trunk Sewer Commission has authorized me to inform your honorable body that it is deemed necessary to request that the amount of ten thousand (10,000) dollars, which was recently stated in a communication as sufficient to meet current and contingent debts, should now be increased to twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars.

The requirement for this sum is based upon indebtedness actually incurred and approved for labor and material supplied in the performance of the work of the commission in construction of adjuncts to the sewer authorized by the Common Council, contingent claims predicated on difference of construction of the terms of the contract in connection with the section of the sewer passing through the Kondolf ice pond, salaries of commissioners, printing of proceedings in pamphlet form and finally, immediate repair of the overflow of Densmore and Thomas Creeks, the purchase of rights of way and the extension of the Densmore Creek overflow.

The necessity for the last named work was developed by the recent heavy rain storm, and provision must be made in the future for such immense rainfall, if heavy damages against the city for destruction of lauds, crops and buildings is to be obviated. In a word, the contingent claims above referred to were not anticipated when the requisition for ten thousand (10,000) dollars was presented, and the conditions which now exist and must be met makes it necessary that the amount of money estimated, viz.: twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, should be provided in order that the Commission may perform the duty which the law has imposed upon it.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee would respectfully report on matters referred to it as follows:

The request of the Park Commission for an appropriation of $2,500 to be used in trimming and removing shade trees on city streets has been considered. The necessity for this work is apparent and your committee would recommend that the sum of $1,250 be expended for the purpose suggested. As the maintenance fund of the Park Commission now has a credit balance of over $9,000 it is further recommended that the expense of the work be defrayed from this fund. If, because of this expenditure, the board should be confronted with a deficiency at the close of the fiscal year your honorable body can then be appealed to for authority to issue the city's note to make good the threatened deficiency.

Referring to the communication of the City Treasurer regarding the maturity of the "Popular Loan" notes on the first day of September, the amount of which is seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000), your Finance Committee feel that while these notes could be renewed at the same rate that they are now carrying (6 per cent.), with the present holders, without any difficulty whatever, it is quite possible that new notes for the whole amount, or such part of it as cannot be taken care of from moneys in the treasury, could be negotiated if not in this city, with New York parties, at a considerably less rate—say three and one-half or four per cent.—and thereby save the city several thousand dollars.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of July 28, 1897, providing that if the Finance Committee deemed it advisable that the City Treasurer and the chairman of the Finance Committee should go to New York to negotiate the sale of the Hemlock Lake Water Shed Bonds that they be authorized to do so, for the following reasons:

Having in a communication of this date disapproved of the sale of the bonds, the present resolution is for that reason disapproved. The sale of the bonds if made should be made by advertisement soliciting bids for the same; after that the necessary arrangements therefor can be made by correspondence; but if for any reason it should be absolutely necessary to visit New York to dispose of the bonds, this can be done by the City Treasurer alone, who is perfectly capable to attend to the business matters pertaining to the sale of the bonds to the best interest of the city without the aid or assistance of any one else.

Very respectfully,
GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Ald. Kelly moved that action on the resolution disapproved by the Mayor be postponed until the next meeting. Carried.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of July 28, 1897, providing for the printing of the city charter, for the sum of $209.88, for the following reasons:

At the last session of the legislature efforts were made by a number of our representative citizens to secure a new charter for our city. These efforts resulted in a charter passing the Assembly, but which failed in the Senate. A uniform charter for all cities of the second class was also passed by the Legislature but failed to be approved by the Governor. There can be no doubt that if it is the intention to pass and have signed a charter for our city, that the same can be accomplished soon after the opening of the next session of the Legislature. The movement in favor of a new charter not having been abandoned, but simply postponed until such session, it would seem as if it would be prudent to postpone the present printing until after such session, for if a new charter should be passed and approved the expenditure of the present sum for printing the old one would be entirely useless.

Second: If it is not the intention to have a new charter, then the printing of the old one should be postponed until after such session for the reason that a number of important amendments should be made to the present charter so that the same may all be printed together. Among such amendments is one requiring the Executive Board and the Common Council to solicit bids on all expenditures of over two hundred and fifty dollars; one reducing the amount of useless printing required by the present charter; one for providing for the issuing of bonds for local improvements and regulating the sale and disposition of the proceeds thereof. These amendments have all been heretofore adopted by the Common Council. Other amendments should also be adopted, among which should be one abolishing the Board of Education, and providing for a smaller board to be elected by the people or appointed by the Mayor.

No special harm can be done by postponing such printing, as we can get along for a few months longer with the old one.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

The Chair stated the question to be, "Shall the resolution stand notwithstanding the disapproval of His Honor the Mayor?"

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of July 23, 1897, directing the City Treasurer to issue $200,000 of "Water Shed Bonds of the City of Rochester," for the following reasons:

An expenditure of $190,000 has been made by the Hemlock Lake Commissioners for the purchase of lands at Hemlock Lake. To pay for this land the notes of the city have been issued to that amount, which notes will soon mature. The city has in its Sinking Fund the sum of $30,000 placed there by the Common Council to help meet the interest and principal on the proposed bonds when they mature.

In my opinion it is not good business methods to increase our already large bonded indebtedness $30,000 more, when we have that amount on hand applicable to the payment of these notes. The Common Council should in any event request the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to pay $30,000 of these notes. The city has in its sinking Fund the sum of $302,347. Of this sum there is sufficient money not specially appropriated for other purposes to pay off and discharge in full the $190,000 worth of notes. Our bonded indebtedness should not be increased unless absolutely necessary and having sufficient money on hand to pay these notes, it would seem as if it would be wise and prudent to pay them rather than increase our bonded indebtedness $200,000.

The resolution as adopted is defective in that it requires the avails of the bonds to be deposited with the City Treasurer and paid out on the order of the Hemlock Lake Commissioners. The city's notes having been issued, it would be better to direct the notes to be paid by the City Treasurer than to have the money paid out on the order of the Hemlock Lake Commissioners.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Kelly moved that action on the resolution disapproved by the Mayor be postponed until the next meeting. Carried.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., August 24, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The following is a copy of a communication received from the City Engineer, referring to the matter of the cost of the improvement of Mill street:

August 24, 1897.

To the Honorable the Executive Board of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The total cost of the improvement of Mill street under final ordinance No. 6,410, including inspection, is $22,611.89. The estimated cost was $21,000. The excess of cost over the estimate is $1,611.89.

The excess of cost was due to additional work on the sewers, lot laterals, water service pipes, area walls and flagstone walks.

The entire work was absolutely necessary to complete the improvement in accordance with the terms of the ordinance. The amount of this additional work could not be determined in advance of the opening of the street.

Yours respectfully,

E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

The statement of the City Engineer as above given is self explanatory, and the Executive Board therefore recommend that a supplementary ordinance be passed in order that the deficiency above stated may be made good, and that the assessment roll, when made up, may be sufficient to meet the total expenditure on account of this improvement.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The following are the amounts which will be required to meet the interest on the notes of the "popular loan" issue which are due the first day of September:

On $10,000, East Side trunk sewer notes (interest chargeable to same fund)	$ 600 00
On $115,000, East Side trunk sewer notes (interest chargeable to same fund)	6,900 00
On $425,000 Local Improvement notes (interest chargeable to same fund)	15,675 00
On $150,000, Hemlock Lake Water-shed notes (interest chargeable to same fund)	9,000 00

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By Ald. Adams—

City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of the construction of the subway at University avenue I beg leave to say, that I have examined the proposed contract between the city and the railroad company and I find that certain additional work is necessary in order to make a complete improvement. In addition to the work to be done by the railroad company it will be necessary to make additional excavations, perhaps construct additional retaining walls, pave the subway and its approaches and construct sidewalks, construct a sewer through the subway to drain the same and grade Henry street.

My estimate of the expense of this additional work is as follows: For additional excavations, $3,000; for additional retaining walls, $5,500; for pavements and sidewalks, $14,500; for sewer, $14,000; for grading Barum street (formerly called Henry street), $1,000; total, $38,000.

These additional improvements, with the exception of the sewers, can be made after the work proposed to be done by the railroad company is completed and the expense can be collected from such local territory as your Common Council may deem benefited.

It will be necessary to construct a sewer at once, and I suggest the adoption of an ordinance for that purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

By Ald. Pauckner—

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of the drainage of Field street and that portion of Monroe avenue from Bates street to the canal, I would respectfully advise that the present sewer under the south walk of Monroe avenue be deepened, enlarged and extended to Field street; also that a sewer be constructed in Field street from Monroe avenue to a point at or near the city line. The drainage of the north side of Monroe avenue to be taken care of by a sewer under the north walk emptying into the Bates street sewer. I believe this method of taking care of the drainage of this territory will give better results than that covered by the pending ordinances through Kusse street or Laburnam crescent.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

Ald. Pauckner moved that the City Engineer's communication be referred to the Streets and Sewers Committee. Carried.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Common Council, city:

Gentlemen:—I inclose herewith for your inspection a small chart which is copyrighted, and of which I am the owner. This chart is intended for the use of inspectors of election, in counting their split ballots. It not only facilitates the very tedious work of counting, but also makes it absolutely correct. The chart which I inclose herewith is not a full size, as that can only be determined by the number of candidates on each ticket and the number of tickets to be voted for. With this chart at least 300 split tickets can be counted in about an hour. I shall be very glad to go before any committee that you might refer this matter to, and explain the workings of it. Complete instructions will be printed on each chart; the system is very simple.

Trusting you will consider the matter, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

EDWARD OSBORNE SR.,

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Law Committee begs leave to submit the following report:

The re-division of the several wards of the city into election districts makes it necessary to procure and post maps showing the boundaries of the new districts. Your committee has solicited bids from several lithographing firms in the city. Two proposals have been received for furnishing 15 maps for each district, printed on paper of the same quality as last year, maps to be delivered by September 25th.

The bid of the Rochester Lithographing Co. is $1.90 per district; that of the Stecher Lithographing Co. $1.09 per district.

Your committee would recommend that the contract be awarded to the Stecher Lithographing Company at the price named in the company's bid.

We also recommend the appointment of the following named persons as Commissioners of Deeds: Mabel H. Webber, Nellie C. Bergman, Peter C. Jepsen, Jr., Fred J. Schminke, Thomas E. Carroll and John P. Morse.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 24, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee begs leave to submit the following report:

In relation to the issue of watershed bonds, the resolution for which was vetoed by his honor, the mayor, we beg leave to say that there seems to be no alternative for your committee except the issuance of these bonds. Section 11 of the city charter, which created the sinking fund for the city, provides that certain moneys should be credited to the fund by the city treasurer. This provision is mandatory and was drafted in the form in which it now exists at the suggestion of the finance committee of the common council of 1894, so that there would be certain moneys placed to the credit of the fund each year. It was also contemplated that the common council might desire to place other moneys in the fund and the act further provides that the amounts specifically directed to be placed to the credit of the fund with the "additions and accretions thereto" should constitute the fund. The word "additions" referring to the amounts which have from time to time been placed to the credit of the fund by the common council and the word "accretions" to interest on the fund and any profits that might be realized from investments. The act in more than one place provides that the fund is to be used solely in the redemption of the city's bonds. There is no authority in the act for the payment of any notes issued by the city. This act provides for the purchase of lands around Hemlock lake to protect our water supply. These lands were to be paid for by the issuance of bonds. Pending the sale of such bonds promissory notes of the city were authorized to be issued.

The notes issued and which mature September 1, 1897, are notes issued under this authority. The issuance of notes was a temporary expedient. Bonds were required to be issued by the statute. It not merely authorizes but directs the issuance of bonds by the common council. The bonds were to run for a period not exceeding fifty years, and a special sinking fund was to be provided for their redemption. Under the statutes your committee believes that there is no warrant for the payment of the notes in question out of the sinking fund, and that unless renewed they must be paid out of the proceeds of the issuance of bonds. We are so advised by the corporation counsel and his conclusions are supported by the opinion of Mr. Cogswell, which the corporation counsel procured at his own expense, and which opinion is hereby attached.

The city treasurer, at the suggestion of your committee, has been in correspondence with brokers and investors in bonded securities to ascertain whether or not city bonds drawing 3 per cent. can be floated. Many replies have been received, but very many letters still remain unanswered. Until complete returns have been received it is deemed inadvisable to make any recommendation in the matter.

The consideration of the question of issuing watershed bonds has been delayed so long that it will be impossible to effect a sale of such bonds before September 1, when the notes fall due. It will, therefore, be necessary to re-issue the notes. Meanwhile your committee will continue its investigation and will report whether or not the bonds can be sold on a basis of 3 per cent interest.

We therefore ask authority to issue notes of the city to the amount of $150,000 to take up notes heretofore issued on account of the Hemlock lake watershed act, due September 1, 1897.

There will also fall due September 1, 1897, notes issued on account of the East Side trunk sewer act. Your committee desires authority to issue the city's notes to an amount not exceeding $10,600 to meet notes falling due on this account, $10,000 being the face of said notes and $600 the interest on same. Your committee also desires authority to issue notes of the city for the sum of $6,900 to meet the interest on notes for $15,000 heretofore issued on account of the East Side trunk sewer interest account.

On September 4, 1897, notes of the city will fall due amounting to $10,000, issued on account of the Hemlock lake watershed act. Your committee desires authority with which to pay this amount.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY G. COOK,
M. B. ADAMS,
J. C. WILSON,
J. MILLER KELLY,
 Finance Committee.

I have examined the above report of the Finance Committee and hereby certify that the figures contained therein are correct.

OPINION OF W. F. COGSWELL.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1897.

Dear Sir:—In your letter of August 16th, you informed me that there is now in charge of the trustees of the Sinking Fund of this city about three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000), a portion of which has been paid into the fund, pursuant to the specific directions of the Sinking Fund act (section III. of the city charter as amended by chapter 520 of the laws of 1894), and the balance derived from sundry other sources credited to that fund, pursuant to the directions of the Common Council; that the city has borrowed money upon its notes pursuant to the last clause of section 4 of the act hereinafter referred to; and you ask my opinion as to whether these notes can be paid and discharged out of any moneys in the Sinking Fund, and, if not, whether bonds of the city, to be issued under chapter 1,018 of the laws of 1895, generally known as the watershed act, must be issued to take up such notes.

I am clearly of the opinion that no portion of the Sinking Fund can be used to pay the city's floating indebtedness. The very term implies a fund consecrated to extinguishment of the funded indebtedness; and this idea is emphasized more than once in the act, which provides that the amount credited to the fund "shall constitute a fund for the redemption of the city's bonded debt and for that purpose only." And, in another place, that "said Sinking Fund shall be used solely in the redemption and payment of the city's bonded debt."

I do not understand that there is any question about this, but I am informed that it is claimed that the moneys credited to the Sinking Fund from sources other than those specially mentioned in section III. of the city charter as amended, have not been properly credited to that fund, and that therefore those moneys may be withdrawn and applied to the payment of the city's notes.

The act in question, after specifying various sources from which money may be derived, directs that the "amount so credited and the additions and accretions thereto shall constitute a fund for the redemption of the city's bonded debt." Waiving for the moment the question whether the moneys which have been directed by the Common Council to be credited to the Sinking Fund fall within the terms "additions thereto," it seems to me that the question is scarcely a practical one. The money has been credited to the fund and is now in charge of its trustees, and I think that no one would feel safe in advising them that they had any right to use the same for any purpose other than that provided in the act.

But, in addition, I have no doubt that the moneys are properly in the Sinking Fund. By section 40 of the charter, it is provided that "the Common Council shall have the management and control of the fiscal and prudential affairs of said city and all property, real and personal, belonging to the city, and may make such orders and by-laws relating to the same as it shall deem proper and necessary." I think it clearly falls within the power of the Common Council to direct moneys received from such sources as those from which the Sinking Fund has been re-enforced, or, indeed, from any source not otherwise specifically appropriated, to be credited to the Sinking Fund as it shall deem proper and necessary for the best interest of the city.

Your further question, whether bonds must be issued under the watershed act to take up the notes issued in pursuance thereof, seems to be answered by the words of the statute, which not only provides that the Common Council is authorized, but also that it is directed to issue such bonds to run for a period not exceeding fifty years, to pay the expenses of acquiring the title to lands acquired for the sanitary protection of the sources of the water supply of the city. No language that I can use can make my answer to this question any plainer than that of the statute itself.

Yours respectfully,
WILLIAM F. COGSWELL.

UNIVERSITY AVENUE SUBWAY SEWER.

By Ald. Adams—Whereas, The tracks of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company cross at grade the highway known as University avenue, and it is the desire of said railroad company and the city that the grade of said highway should be altered so that the highway shall be made to pass underneath the railroad tracks by means of a subway and bridge. And

Whereas, The N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. has agreed at its own expense to construct a steel bridge of sufficient capacity to carry its tracks over said avenue and make certain excavations as will more particularly appear by the contract proposed between said company and the city. And

Whereas, The City Engineer has reported the work necessary to make a complete improvement, which includes the construction of a sewer to drain the same, therefore

Resolved, That the following improvement is necessary and should be made as a part of said subway, to wit:

The construction of a sewer of suitable form and dimensions from the westerly side of said subway to the East Side trunk sewer in said University avenue, together with the necessary lot laterals, surface sewers, man-holes, etc.

And whereas the City Engineer, under direction of this Council, has made an estimate of the expense of the work and reports the same to this Council at $14,000, which being deemed reasonable, is hereby approved.

Resolved, Further, that the whole expense of constructing said sewer is hereby directed to be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land within the following portion or part of the city which this Council deems proper to be so assessed for and will be benefited by said subway and sewer, to wit:

Beginning at the intersection of South Culver street and Leighton avenue; thence westerly along Leighton avenue, including one tier of lots on the north side thereof, to Barnum street, formerly East Henry street; thence still westerly along Leighton avenue, excluding one tier of lots not exceeding 150 feet in depth on the south side thereof to North Goodman street; thence southerly along North Goodman street, excluding one tier of lots not exceeding 150 feet in depth on the east side thereof, to University avenue; thence still southerly along North Goodman street, including one tier of lots on the west side thereof, excepting the lots on the southeast and southwest corners of University avenue and North Goodman street to East avenue; thence westerly along East avenue, including one tier of lots on the north side thereof, to North Union street; thence easterly along East avenue, including one tier of lots on the south side thereof to South Culver street; thence northerly along South Culver street to the place of beginning.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATION OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By the Clerk—

Board of Park Commissioners,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1897.

Mr. Theo S. Pulver, City Clerk:

Dear Sir: At a regular meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners, held August 30th instant, the following resolution was adopted:

“By Commissioner Brown:

“Whereas, The Rochester Bill Posting Company has recently made application to the Common Council for permission to erect a bill board on Avenue E, corner of North St. Paul street; and

“Whereas, Said bill board, if erected at this location, would be an unsightly object, detracting from the attractiveness of the approach to Seneca park; therefore

“Resolved, That this Board does most strenuously object to the erection of a bill board at this location, and respectfully urges upon the Common Council to withhold permission for the same.”

Yours truly,

M. O. STONE, Secretary.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By the Clerk—

Law Department,
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—At a meeting of the Common Council held August 24, 1897, the following resolution was adopted:

By Ald. Johnston—Resolved, That the Corporation Council be and hereby is requested to advise the council at its next regular meeting, if the provisions in the latter part of section 4, of chapter 386 of the state laws of 1894, authorizing an issue of $250,000 worth of bonds to pay for an enlarged water distributing system, are mandatory, and if so, whether they have been fully complied with.

This section of the statute referred to is as follows:

“In order to provide for the payment of interest of the bonds hereby authorized to be issued by said city, there shall be added to the general city taxes of the city at large in the year when the first issue of bonds hereby authorized shall be made and each year thereafter, such sum of money in each of said years as shall be required to pay the interest upon the bonds which shall have been issued, pursuant to the provisions of this act. To provide for the payment of the principal of said bonds it shall be the duty of the Treasurer of said city to estimate and ascertain the amounts required to be added to the general city taxes of said city by virtue of this act and to transmit a statement each year to said Common Council in time to have such amount included in the general city tax of said city for that year, and it shall be the duty of said Common Council to cause such amount to be included in such general city tax and to provide annually by tax for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act."

With reference to the first question submitted I beg leave to say, that the statute is mandatory for the following reasons:

First: The language itself is mandatory in terms. It makes it the "duty" of the City Treasurer to report the amounts required to be added to the general city taxes to pay the principal on the bonds and makes it the "duty" of the Common Council to cause such amounts to be included in the general city taxes and to provide annually by tax for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds issued pursuant to the act. It provides that the Treasurer "shall" report and the Common Council "shall" provide annually by tax for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds.

Second: The holders of the bonds issued under the act are interested in the observance of the provisions referred to. They were enacted for their benefit that there might be funds applicable to the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds when due.

Third: The public are interested in having the statute complied with. The observance of its provisions distributes the burden of paying the bonds.

Fourth: The object and intent of the statute is that provision should be made annually in the tax levy for meeting the principal and interest of the bonds. The statute sought to impose upon the Treasurer and Common Council the duty of providing sufficient moneys annually to pay the interest on the bonds and meet the principal when due.

With reference to the second question I am informed that no provision has been made for the payment of the principal of the bonds as required by the statute.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. RODENBECK,
Corporation Counsel.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CORPORATION OFFICERS, DEPARTMENTS AND BOARDS.

By the Clerk—Office of the Executive Board, Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 14, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The matter of the purchase of the land under ordinance No. 6,810, entitled "Campbell Street Opening and Widening," referred to the Executive Board, has been considered and the owners of the property were summoned before the Board to state what sum or sums they would accept for the lands proposed to be taken.

One of the parties in interest made a proffer of his land free of expense upon certain conditions, while the other stated the sum he would accept under certain conditions, neither of which propositions was deemed acceptable by the Executive Board; and I am therefore instructed to recommend to your Honorable Body that a commission be appointed and the land acquired under the usual condemnation proceedings.

Respectfully yours,
THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published. By Ald. Reichenberger—Whereas, No agreement for the purchase of lands necessary to be taken for the opening and widening of Campbell street under final ordinance No. 6,810 can be made, therefore,

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be and he hereby is directed to take and institute such proceedings from time to time as may be necessary to acquire the lands or right or easement therein necessary for said opening and widening as provided by section 174 of the city charter.

Adopted.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., ept. 14, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—The Executive Board received proposals for the construction of a wrought iron fence on North St. Paul street, from Scrantom street to a point 450 feet north, in accordance with the resolution adopted by your Honorable Body.

Inquiry into the manner which the city could be reimbursed for the outlay for this work led to the information that the piece of land where it was proposed to erect the fence was assessed upon the assessment rolls to parties unknown, and that all local assessments on that property have for a number of years been so assessed, and must therefore be paid by the city.

In view of this fact the Executive Board respectfully suggests that provision be made for the payment of the amount the contract calls for, which is between $700 and $800, otherwise such expense would necessarily have to be paid from the Highway Fund. It therefore follows that if your Honorable Body designate that the amount so expended may be paid from the Contingent Fund the Executive Board will proceed to award the contract and have the fence constructed.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In relation to the collection of that portion of the expense of improving Plymouth park so-called, which was excluded from the assessment for the improvement of Plymouth avenue under final ordinance No. 4,562, I beg leave to say that this expense seems to have been excluded upon the supposition that the present roadway in the park formed no part of Plymouth avenue. I can find no warrant for this conclusion. An examination of the records shows that Caledon square (now Plymouth park) as originally laid out was simply a widening of Plymouth avenue. (Liber 4 of deeds, page 226; liber 8 of maps, page 46.) This being so the work done in the park itself and the lots around the park should have been included in making up the assessment. The expense can now be collected only by the adoption of a supplemental ordinance assessing the amount omitted upon the territory embraced in the original ordinance, the language of which I believe is sufficient to cover the lots around Plymouth park.

Section 214 of the city charter warrants the assessment suggested. It provides that "if it shall appear that any greater sum of money than was originally assessed has been expended for the benefit of the same property originally assessed, although not embraced in the improvement as ordered by the said commissioners, the said commissioners may in like manner direct an assessment of the same upon the lots and parcels of land benefited thereby."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions of the city charter I therefore recommend the adoption of a supplemental ordinance levying the amount omitted upon the territory described in the final ordinance including one tier of lots around Plymouth park and lands held by the city.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. RODENBECK,
Corporation Counsel.

COMMUNICATIONS.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board.
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I am instructed by the Executive Board to refer to you two claims for damages, which accompany this communication. One claim is that of J. Muisus for injuries to a horse, which he alleges were sustained June 25th last, because of the bad condition of the roadway in Goodman street. For loss of services of the horse and other expenses he asks the sum of $39.50.

The other claim is that of Mrs. Michael Horn, for losses sustained by her on account of destruction of clothing and furniture owing to the basement of the house in which she lived being flooded with water at the time of the heavy storm of July last.

The Executive Board respectfully suggests that this be referred to the proper committee, at which time such information and particulars respecting both claims can be given more in detail by the Executive Board.

Respectfully,

THOMAS J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

Received, filed and published.

City Engineer's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1897.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with your request, I herewith submit the following brief statement showing the necessity for additional help in this office to complete the maps required by the assessors in making the assessment for the East Side trunk sewer.

In order to make a fair and equitable division of the cost of the sewer upon the territory embraced in the ordinance, it will be necessary to divide said territory into several classes corresponding to the benefits derived from each class by the construction of the sewer. Some of the territory embraced in the ordinance is still farming lands, not having been subdivided for building purposes, and probably will not be so divided for many years. It is plain, therefore, that the ordinary method of assessing the cost of a sewer by frontage is out of the question. It will be necessary to take into account not only the frontage of the lots, but the area of the subdivisions as well.

In order to make a valid assessment, the area of the several lots must be stated to a reasonable degree of accuracy. The ordinance for the East Side trunk sewer covers the entire territory east of the Genesee river. A part of this territory drains directly into the river and will receive no benefit, and, therefore should be assessed at a nominal rate, and no amount of time need be spent in getting accurate areas in this territory.

Another portion of the territory receives a partial benefit, and this territory will need to be sharply defined from that receiving full benefit. Of the territory receiving full or partial benefits, we have accurate maps of that portion located in the first fourteen wards of the city covered by the Ryan survey. Of the balance of the territory about one-half has been fully covered by the new survey of the old fifteenth and sixteenth wards now in progress. The balance, something like 2,700 acres, has not yet been fully covered by the new survey. The old maps of this territory, made in 1872, are known to be inaccurate; they are simply compilations from such records as were available when they were made. They also do not show the subdivisions of the property to the present time.

In the territory already covered by the new survey of the fifteenth and sixteenth wards, a large amount of work in getting the data in available shape for the assessors is still required. In order that the assessors be provided with the necessary maps and area of the different subdivisions of all the territory so that the assessment can be completed within a period of four or five months, it will be necessary to increase, temporarily, both the field and office force in this department. The field notes obtained and the maps made in connection with this work will be used in the completion of the survey of the fifteenth and sixteenth wards and the additional force will result in the earlier completion of this important work. It is impossible at this time to make an accurate estimate of the extra work required.

I would respectfully ask authority of your honorable body to employ three draughtsmen at a salary not exceeding $80 per month each, for about four months; also four rodmen at a salary of not more than $2.50 per day each, for about three months, and six chainmen at a salary of $2 per day each for about three months. It may also be advisable to employ, temporarily, three additional assistants who are familiar with the subdivisions of the territory in question for a portion of the time during the four months at an average cost of about $100 per month each.

There will also be some incidental expenses which will probably not exceed $200, making the total estimated amount about $4,000. The above estimate in my judgment represents a maximum amount.

The city engineer should have some discretion in the matter and not be compelled to put on the entire force at one time, but use the additional force as should be found advisable, as the work goes on. It probably will be advisable not to put this force on at the beginning, but to employ the draughtsmen and a portion of the other men. It may also be desirable to increase the number temporarily, during the progress of the work, and dispense with the services of a large number of them sooner than would otherwise be done, the average not being exceeded.

Yours respectfully,

E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Law Committee has had under consideration a proposition of Mr. Edward Osborne to furnish copies of the chart of which he is the inventor for the use of election officers.

Your committee is fully convinced of the necessity for some such device. It is a well known fact that at every election numerous and oftentimes serious mistakes are made in the counting of the votes. Particularly is this apt to be the case in municipal elections, where the amount of "splitting" greatly exceeds that at state or national elections. We are informed that at the last municipal election in this city not more than twenty-five per cent. of the returns were properly prepared. In many cases the total number of votes returned for the different candidates for a given office did not tally with the total number of ballots cast. In many districts the count of the vote was not completed until more than six hours after the close of the polls.

As elections come only once a year the election officers have very little opportunity to familiarize themselves with the work of counting ballots. We believe that the Osborne chart would greatly facilitate the work of counting and go a long way toward insuring the accuracy of the count. In view of the importance of an accurate count, your committee is of the opinion that the adoption of the Osborne chart is highly advisable, and we recommend that the Mayor be authorized to enter into contract with the owner for furnishing a sufficient number of copies for the use of the 91 election boards of the city at a cost not to exceed $250.

We also recommend the appointment of the following named persons as Commissioners of Deeds: Milton E. Gibbs, Frederick L. Dutcher, George H. Brown, Edwin J. Seager, Fred D. Sedgwick and Bertha M. Wing.

Respectfully submitted,
M. B. ADAMS,
T. W. FORD,
EDW. ENGLEHARDT,
ALVIN H. DEWEY.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized to execute a contract with the owner of the Osborne chart for 2,000 copies of said chart for the use of the election boards of the city in counting the split ballots cast at the ensuing election; said contract to be approved as to form by the Corporation Counsel; the cost not to exceed $250.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Rauber, Adams, Edelman, Beard, Johnston, Selye, Ward, Dewey, Pauckner, Kelly, Crane, Simmelink, Englehardt, Reichenberger—15.

By Ald. Adams—Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel on behalf of the city and the Executive Board be authorized to take an appeal in Moffett, Hodgkins & Clarke Co. vs. The City of Rochester and procure the necessary sureties to a bond for $250, and prepare and execute on behalf of the city such other papers as may be necessary to perfect such appeal, attaching thereto the corporate seal of said city if required, such sureties to be fully indemnified by the city in case of any recovery on such bond.

Adopted.

Mr. T. J. Neville, Clerk of the Executive Board, Rochester, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—Your communication to Mr. Tanager, our agent at Rochester, has been referred to me. It refers to resolutions adopted by the Common Council September 14, 1897, in which the R., W. & O. are required to construct an iron fence on both sides of the bridge carrying North St. Paul street over its tracks.

I would say in reply that we would be more than pleased to comply if this serious objection did not exist, i. e., by removing the present fence, which is 6 feet high, it will take away a safeguard in regard to teams passing and re-passing at that point, as there have been cases where horses have seen trains passing under this bridge and have become unmanageable and a runaway was the result, causing considerable damage at that time. If you can see your way clear how to overcome this objection, please write me further.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed.)

A. S. WESTON.

By Ald. Adams—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 26, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I would respectfully call your attention to the amount of city's notes falling due in the near future.

Authority for their renewal must be given at the next regular meeting of the Council, or at an adjourned or special meeting of the same, as they all become due before the first regular meeting in November.

Of these notes $190,000.00 were issued for Hemlock Lake Watershed Fund purposes, and mature as follows:

Note No. 1,181, for $75,000.00, due October 30th, with interest for two months at 3.75 per cent.

Note No. 1,182, for $75,000.00, due October 30th, with interest for two months at 3.75 per cent.

Note No. 1,193, for $15,000.00, due November 1st.

Note No. 1,185, for $10,000.00, due November 4th, with interest for two months at 4 per cent.

Note No. 1,169, for $15,000.00, due November 6th.

Total, $190,000.00.

Note No. 1,163, for $40,000.00, issued on account of Local Improvement Fund, will also be due November 5th.

All of the above notes are payable at the office of the Union Trust Co., of New York city.

I would suggest that the $40,000.00 Local Improvement note be renewed for eight months, as the regular orders to be met from payments of local improvements will not permit an earlier date for the payment of this note.

If it is the intention of the present Council to order the watershed bonds to be issued, would suggest the time of renewal be three months, as this will give ample time for the preparing and sale of bonds.

If you wish to leave the matter to the new Council, would suggest that the time of renewal be four months.

It will be useless to renew for one month, as it will be impossible—unless you order the bonds to be issued at the meeting to be held Oct. 26th—to prepare the bonds and advertise them as directed by law, and receive returns in time to take up the notes as they mature.

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Mr. T. S. Pulver, City Clerk:

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Education of this city, held November 15th inst., the following resolution and request to the Common Council was adopted.

Respectfully,

M. NOYES.

By Com. Gillette—Whereas, There was included in the annual estimate of this board made to the Common Council last January the sum of $2,000 for the purpose of taking the bi-ennial census in this city pursuant to chapter 550 of the laws of 1895, and

Whereas, The state department since required more details to be taken than was expected at that time and the census had to be taken during the month of October last and was so taken and finished, and the certificate of the state superintendent accordingly having been received, and

Whereas, The state allows to each enumerator the sum of $3 for each day's work of eight hours, and

Whereas, There is due to said census enumerators accordingly the sum of $3,650 after making proper deductions from some of said bills and the aforesaid sum of $2,000 is now on hand applicable to said payment, but the same is not sufficient to pay said enumerators; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That pursuant to said statute, which requires that the expenses of said bi-ennial census shall be paid by each city through its Board of Education, the Common Council of this city be requested to appropriate the difference, being the further sum of $1,650, for the purpose of paying said enumerators and place the same to the credit of the Contingent Fund, Board of Education. Bills for enumerators' services have been rendered in detail and are subject to the audit of the Finance Committee of this board and of the City Auditor and of payment by this board, as other bills are.

Adopted.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By Ald. Pauckner—

Fire Marshal's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I would respectfully suggest to your honorable body that the name of the committee having supervision of the erection of buildings in the city be changed from "Wooden Building Committee" to "Building Committee."

The present title of the committee is misleading and confusing to the public. Since the passage of the new building ordinance, which took effect July 1st, the erection of all new buildings, of whatever material constructed, within the corporate limits of the city, is under the jurisdiction of this committee.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN A. P. WALTER,
Fire Marshal.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Pauckner—Resolved, That rule 15 of the rules governing the board be amended to read as follows:

XV. Committees—how constituted. The following shall be the standing committees of the board, and shall consist of five members each, and shall be announced at the first meeting of each board, or as soon thereafter as circumstances will admit, subject to be changed or increased as the board may order:

1. Finance.
2. Law.
3. Lamps and Electricity.
4. Railroads.
5. Support and Relief of the Poor.
6. City Property.
7. Contingent Expenses.
8. Assessments.
9. Maps and Surveys.
10. Mount Hope and Public Parks.
11. Charter Amendments.
12. Police, Excise, and Markets.
13. Water-works.
14. Buildings.
15. Public Improvements.
16. Streets and Sewers.
17. Schools and Public Health.

Laid on the table until the next meeting.

By the Clerk—

Fire Marshal's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1897.

The Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen:—This office has of late received a great many complaints in regard to the poor quality of kerosene oil being sold in this city and its surroundings.

After making an investigation I find that the competition in its sale by the oil companies has reduced the wholesale price below a figure at which good oil can be sold, and that the only test now provided by the statutes and our charter is a flash test of 100 or 110 degrees, and that the oil in the market complies with the law in this respect, the trouble not being with the flash test but with the gravity, and to secure a good burning oil it should have a gravity of 48 and not less than 47 degrees, while a great deal of the oil sold runs as low as 46 gravity or less.

There not now being any law or ordinance prescribing a gravity test for illuminating oil, I would recommend to your honorable body the passage of a city ordinance regulating the gravity of the oil sold in this city, or what would be better still, to request our representatives at Albany to secure the passage of a statute requiring a uniform gravity test of the oil sold throughout this state, as it would be very much easier for the oil companies to comply with it in that shape than to make a special test oil for any particular locality, and I have been assured by a representative of one of the companies that they would be perfectly willing to comply with a uniform law on the matter.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN A. P. WALTER,
Fire Marshal.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—I am authorized by the Executive Board to inform you that the funds appropriated for expenditure in the Highway Department have been practically exhausted, and it will be necessary, in order to continue the work of collection of ashes, the making ordinary repairs of streets, cleaning of crosswalks, removal of snow, and any other labor that may come within the care of the Executive Board in this department, to provide such an amount of money as you may deem proper. It has been estimated by the Board that for the ordinary purposes above named the sum of at least $25,000 will be necessary to take care of the streets until the first of January.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published.

Cook—Resolved, That the City Treasurer be and he hereby is authorized and directed to issue, in anticipation of taxes to be levied under authority of sections 80 and 81 of the city charter, the city's note for an amount not exceeding three thousand dollars; said note to run for a period not exceeding four months; to be negotiated under the direction of the Finance Committee and countersigned by the chairman thereof; interest or discount to be charged to the Contingent Fund and the proceeds to be credited to the Highway Fund of the Executive Board.

By the Clerk—

City Assessors' Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—We most respectfully request that an appropriation of $2,000 be granted the Assessors to enable them to complete the East Side sewer assessment rolls. It is necessary to have the services of a competent surveyor to go over the territory and define that part that will eventually be obliged to turn their drainage into this sewer. The direct and indirect benefits can not be arrived at in any other way, and as this first assessment will be the foundation for all future ones on this work, it is very important that great pains be taken in the spreading of this tax. The estimate of $2,000 includes the employment of from four to six clerks in addition to the surveyor.

Very respectfully,

H. C. MUNN,

E. B. BURGESS,

E. A. KALBFLEISCH.

City Assessors.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

The undersigned, the National Voting Machine Company, of this city, desire to call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that we have completed a voting machine, which we believe we can demonstrate to your honorable body is the simplest and best device for voting that has ever been put upon the market. It is a machine by which a voter may cast his ballot in absolute secrecy, and can himself tell at the same time that his vote has been counted.

We are in a position to furnish the voting machine for the city of Rochester to be used at the next election for all or any of the election districts therein, and we ask your honorable body to inspect the machine which we now have on exhibition at our office, No. 12 Front street, in this city. We claim for this machine that it is noiseless; the ballot cast is absolutely secret, and the machine cannot get out of order. We can demonstrate to the satisfaction of every one that this machine will record every ballot cast, and for the person for whom the vote is cast. While we believe we have the best machine now made, and one that is fully protected by United States patents and has been approved by acknowledged mechanical experts, we still feel that if your honorable body cannot, after careful inspection, enter into a contract with our company for all or a great part of the machines to be used at the next election, that a contract should be made with some company for the manufacture of voting machines, inasmuch as time has demonstrated that the voting machine is the most satisfactory mode of declaring a voter's preference. We are in a position to enter into a contract for supplying the city of Rochester with all the ballot machines the city may require for the next election, and we trust that, if after an inspection, your body finds the claims which we now make are warranted, that this company be given an opportunity of placing its machines in a part, if not the whole, of the election districts of this city.

We might in conclusion state that the use of this machine in all the cities of New York state was fully authorized by chapter 449 of the laws of 1897.

THE NATIONAL MACHINE COMPANY.

By T. W. ATKINSON, Manager.
Received, filed and published.

By the Clerk—

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—It has come to our notice through the public press that this present Common Council, having less than six weeks more to serve, is about to act upon the question of buying voting machines for the city of Rochester. We, therefore, while submitting that such action at this date may seem to the taxpayers and others interested somewhat remarkable, nevertheless cheerfully announce that we are in readiness to furnish to the city of Rochester not only the best, but the only machine so far invented capable of performing all the functions legally demanded of a voting machine.

We respectfully request an opportunity to satisfy the Common Council that our machine is the only machine thus far manufactured which can be relied upon to satisfy the people of the city of Rochester.

Very respectfully yours,

THE UNITED STATES VOTING MACHINE COMPANY.

By Ald. Adams—

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON VOTING MACHINES.

November 22, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: On the 29th of June last the American Ballot Machine Company presented a communication to the common council requesting a renewal of the contract formerly made with the city for the use of the ballot machines manufactured by them representing that the machine since the election in which they were used had been in every way perfected, had been thoroughly tested, alike by mechanics and in public exhibitions, and were in every way perfect voting machines. On the 6th of July the United States Voting Machine Company presented a communication to the common council requesting an inspection of the machines manufactured by them, generally known as the Davis machine, and stating that the company was prepared to furnish such machines for the ensuing election.

These two communications were referred to a joint committee consisting of the law and finance committees.

A session of these committees was held at the corporation counsel's office at which representatives were present from both of the companies mentioned.

No written recommendations were presented on behalf of the Davis machine. On behalf of the Myers machine there was presented petitions signed by 4,500 residents of this city approving of the machine and expressing a desire for its use in future elections.

There was also presented to your committee a statement from expert mechanics favoring the Myers machine, signed by William Streeter, superintendent at Sargent & Greenleaf's lock factory; William Gleason, president of the Gleason Tool Company; Thomas R. Baxendale, of the firm of T. W. & W. J. Baxendale; W. W. Whittlesey, an expert tool maker; W. D. Wishart, master mechanic at Bausch & Lomb's optical works; C. J. Palmer, machinist; P. H. Yawman, of the firm of Yawman & Erbe; Frank H. Clement and Adam Long. This statement represented that the machine gave a secret vote, as no one is able to tell who was voted for; that it gave an accurate count, as the knobs that are pushed in and locked will record one vote for each candidate when the voter passes through the exit door; that the full ticket can be voted, as any voter may vote for the full number of candidates nominated by any party if he desired to do so, and that the voter cannot exceed permission given him by law, as he cannot in any way repeat his vote or vote for one more than is nominated by any party. The following is a copy of the recommendation of these experts in full:

"Rochester, N. Y., June 12, 1897.

"After carefully examining the new and improved Myers ballot machine, we find that:

"The frame is rigid, which enables the machine to do its work properly, even on a weak or uneven floor, or while in motion, when tipped up on one side and shaken during the operation of voting.

"The counter compartment doors are hinged, a great improvement on former method of sliding, and also well deafened, so that sound cannot be located.

"The locks and knobs are such as should be used.

"The floor is solid and roughened so that no one is liable to slip on it.

"The vestibule is lighted by openings in exit door.

"The booth is ventilated, so that the heat of the lamp is carried off.

"A reflector lantern has been provided to assist in setting and reading the counters, as well as to give additional light to the voting compartment.

"A bell has been added that rings when exit door is opened, notifying voter and inspectors that the vote is recorded and knobs released, and that 1 has been added on the open counter.

"All working parts are nickel-plated on copper, to insure them against rust.

"The vestibule is enlarged and the doors made two inches wider than formerly, so that the largest men can pass through without discomfort.

"The whole appearance of the machine shows that it has been constructed by competent mechanics.

"After testing, we find the claims of the American Ballot Machine Co. seem to be correct.

"That the machine gives a secret vote, as no one is able to tell who is voted for.

"That it gives an accurate count, as the knobs that are pushed in and locked, will record one vote for each candidate indicated, when the voter passes through the exit door.

"That the full ticket can be voted, as any voter may vote for the full number of candidates nominated by any party, if he desires to do so.

"That the voter cannot exceed permission given him by law, as he cannot in any way repeat his vote, or vote for one more than is nominated by any party."

William Streeter,
William Gleason,
Thomas R. Baxendale,
W. Wirt Whittlesey,
W. D. Wishart,
C. J. Palmer,
P. H. Yawman,
Frank H. Clement,
Adam Young."

After hearing the representatives of both machines, and in order to secure the benefit of the judgment of additional experts, your committee deemed it advisable to select five expert mechanics to examine these machines. John Kane, of J. S. Graham Machine Co.; C. A. Macy, of the Machinery Construction Co.; Henry J. Dengler, of Connell & Dengler Machine Co.; Valentine Sander, of Sargent & Greenleaf lock factory, and H. W. Smith, of the Rochester Machine Screw Co., were selected as experts by your committee. These gentlemen made an examination of the Myers machine and presented to your committee, at a meeting held Tuesday, July 27th, a communication signed by all of them, coinciding with the views entertained by the experts who had examined the machines on behalf of the company to the extent that the machine gave a secret vote, as no one is able to tell who is voted for, and gave an accurate count, as the knobs that are pushed in and locked will record one vote for each candidate indicated when the voter passes through the exit door, and in addition found that the material and construction of the machine had been greatly improved over former machines of the company. A copy of this communication follows:

"Rochester, N. Y., July 26, 1897.

"To the Chairman and Members of the Law and Finance Committee of the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

"Gentlemen: The undersigned mechanics, appointed by you to inspect and report on the mechanical construction and merits of the American ballot machine with a view to their adoption by you, have the honor to report as follows:

"We find that the machine gives a secret vote, as no one is able to tell who is voted for.

"That the machine gives an accurate count, as the knobs that are pushed in and locked will record one vote for each candidate indicated when voter passes through exit door.

"That we believe that the material and construction of the machine to be a great improvement over their former machines.

"Yours truly,
John Kane,
C. A. Macy,
Henry J. Dengler,
Valentine Sander,
H. W. Smith."

Subsequently the experts selected by your committee gave to your committee a resolution signed by four of their number, as follows:

"Resolved, That after a careful examination of ballot machines by comparison and our knowledge of the state of the art in such machines, we decline to recommend the present use of the Myers ballot machines.

John Kane,
C. A. Macy,
Henry J. Dengler,
Valentine Sander."

It will be seen from an examination of the report of the experts selected by the company and those selected by your committee that they agree after an examination of the Myers machine in three essential particulars, namely: That the machine gives a secret vote, as no one is able to tell who is voted for; gives an accurate count, as the knobs that are pushed in and locked, will record one vote for each candidate indicated when the voter passes through the exit door, and that the material and construction of the machines are a great improvement over former machines.

We find as a result of the personal examinations made by us and from the opinions of the experts that the Myers machine gives a secret vote, and an accurate count, as stated by the experts on both sides, and that it has been greatly improved as to material and construction. We agree with the experts appointed by your committee that ballot machines may not have reached a state of perfection, but we do not think that the use of ballot machines should be discouraged on that account. We believe that the art has reached a sufficient stage of perfection to warrant the adoption of some voting machines. Without passing upon the relative merits of the Myers and Davis machines, we feel that there are other considerations which should prompt the selection of the Myers machine in preference to the Davis machine. The Myers machine was used at the election held in 1896, and because of failures to work satisfactorily, this council declined to pay for their use, and the company has received nothing for the use of the machines at that election. The Myers Machine Company is a local industry. Their plant is located in this city, while the Davis machine is manufactured outside of the city. Many thousand dollars have been expended by the Myers Machine Company and their successor in experimenting and perfecting the Myers machine. If this plant is encouraged and built up, it will redound to the benefit of our city. For the reasons stated, we believe that a contract for the use of ballot machines, if made at all, should be made with the American Ballot Machine Company.

We therefore recommend that the Myers ballot machine be used at the election to be held in 1898, and that any resolution adopted to give effect to this recommendation provide that any sale be void unless the machines operate satisfactorily, so that if the machines should be used and should not be satisfactory the city would not be liable to pay for their use.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By the Clerk—

Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, Nov. 30, 1897.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of "Boyd place extension," referred to the Executive Board to negotiate for the purchase of the lands necessary for said improvement, I am directed to report that the several property owners on each side of the proposed street were invited to state what sums they would accept for the land which is necessary to be acquired, and in reply in three instances they stated that they would deed their interests, if any, to the city without cost for a public street. In two cases the owners expressed decided opposition to the proposed street. As they did not claim more than an easement in the street they did not offer to accept any sum for the same.

The Executive Board, therefore, recommend the appointment of a commission if the improvement is to be carried to a completion.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

Received, filed and published.

Alderman Henry G. Cook, Chairman Finance Committee:

Dear Sir:—With reference to the title to the strip of land on North St. Paul street, from Scrantom street north, I have looked into the matter and find that the property has been sold to the city for unpaid taxes and the city has acquired title to the premises, which title, however, can only become absolute by a foreclosure of the unpaid taxes through which the city derives its title.

The situation practically is this: The city owns the fee to the property, but the former owner may redeem by paying the unpaid taxes thereon, and such right to redeem may be cut off by a foreclosure of the unpaid taxes for which the property was sold.

Sincerely,
E. J. DWYER,
Asst. Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published.

By the Clerk—

City Clerk's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 30, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of
the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The Corporation Counsel has advised your honorable body that a supplemental ordinance should be adopted, providing that the cost of improving Plymouth park under final ordinance No. 4,562 be assessed upon the territory described in said ordinance, including one tier of lots around Plymouth park and lands held by the city.

The City Treasurer has reported that the amount to be assessed, not provided for in the original assessment, is $10,884.75.

I would respectfully suggest that this matter be referred to the City Engineer to prepare the necessary supplemental ordinance as recommended by the Corporation Counsel.

Respectfully submitted,

T. S. PULVER,
City Clerk.

Received, filed and published and referred to City Engineer to prepare an ordinance.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Adams—

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of
the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Finance Committee begs leave to report as follows:

The petition of Nathan Botsford to have taxes on property situated on North St. Paul street cancelled has been considered. The same petition has been before your Assessment Committee, which reported adversely on the matter, and your Finance Committee would recommend that the petition be denied.

The communication from the Executive Board, recommending that the expense of constructing an iron fence on the west side of North St. Paul street north of Scrantom street be defrayed from the Contingent Fund, was referred to the law department for an opinion. Assistant Corporation Counsel Dwyer has advised the committee that the city has nominal title to the property on which it is proposed to erect this fence, but that the former owner still has an equity of redemption. Absolute title to the property can be obtained by a foreclosure proceeding and your committee would recommend that this course be adopted, as the improvement is necessary, and it would not be advisable to construct the fence upon property which might become private property.

At the meeting of August 3d your committee presented a report recommending that the Park Commission be authorized to expend the sum of $1,250 for the care of trees in the small city parks and streets, pursuant to a request from the commission for an appropriation of $2,500. Your committee is informed that the work has been done and that in consequence the commission is threatened with a deficiency in its Maintenance Fund. It is therefore recommended that the city's note for an amount not exceeding $1,250 be issued and the proceeds credited to this fund.

At the last meeting of this Council a communication was presented from the Executive Board, requesting an appropriation of $25,000 for the Highway Fund. At this same meeting an appropriation of $3,000 was authorized, your committee being unwilling without more explicit information as to the necessity therefor to grant the full amount asked.

Your committee is informed that the fund is again practically exhausted and that unless an appropriation is authorized at this meeting the necessary work of the department, such as the collection of ashes and cleaning of crosswalks, etc., will be suspended. In view of the situation your committee, after consultation with the Mayor, has decided to recommend an appropriation of $3,000, with the understanding that no more money will be granted until the Executive Board has furnished this Council with an itemized statement showing in detail the amounts that will be required for the needs of the department for the balance of the fiscal year.

Respectfully submitted,

M. B. ADAMS,
J. C. WILSON,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. MILLER KELLY.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 6, 1897.

To the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Inclosed please find two tax notices served upon me on the 6th day of December by Seymour Boughton. Please refer the same to the proper committee.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Law.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 1, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of November 23, 1897, directing the executive board to negotiate for the right of way for Boyd place opening for the following reasons:

The ordinance for the opening of Boyd place should be reconsidered and repealed for the reasons specified in a veto of the ordinance filed May 7, 1897. If, however, it is determined to open Boyd place, then the ordinance should be amended by taking in additional territory to be assessed for the expense of the proposed improvement. The only persons who have asked me to approve this ordinance reside on Wilmer street. Though they claim that they would be benefited by the improvement, an examination of the ordinance will show that they are not assessed for any part of the expense. If their property will be benefited they should be willing to share the expense. The owners of property on Oxford street should not be compelled to pay the expense when they receive no benefit from the opening.

The matter should again be examined by the common council, as I am satisfied that if the ordinance is allowed to stand as it is an injustice will be done to the people owning property on Oxford street.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Dewey moved that action on the resolution disapproved by the Mayor be postponed until the next regular meeting. Carried.

By the Clerk—

Mayor's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 1, 1897.

I hereby return to you without my approval the resolution adopted at your meeting of November 23, 1897, directing the issuing of the city's note for an amount not to exceed $10,000, and also directing that the proceeds thereof be credited to the Hemlock lake water-shed fund, for the following reasons:

On September 14, 1897, the finance committee reported in favor of issuing of bonds to the amount of $200,000 to pay $190,000 notes then outstanding and the balance of $10,000 to be credited to the water-shed fund; the bonds to be purchased and held by the sinking fund commissioners. The finance committee's report was not adopted, it lacking one vote. Since that time no attempt has been made to issue the bonds, but notes have been issued to take up the old ones, and it is now proposed to issue a note for $10,000 in addition. The bonds should be issued as agreed and the matter closed up at one time.

The Hemlock lake water-shed commissioners have to their credit the sum of $3,390, so there is no necessity for this note being issued at the present time.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

The Chair stated the question to be: "Shall the resolution stand notwithstanding the disapproval of his honor, the Mayor.

By the Clerk—
Office of the Executive Board,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 3, 1897.

To the Finance Committee:
Gentlemen: The Executive Board instructs me to present to you the annexed statement respecting the expenditures of money from the Highway Fund for the year 1897, and also give such other data as they think would enable you to form some judgment as to what the street department would need for expenditures during the current month of December, or, until January 1, 1898.

The expenditures for the current month can only be predicated upon the expenses incurred by the highway department in the corresponding month of past years. It is fair to assume that under ordinary conditions such expenditures will be about the same as in former years; but it is not within the power of the Board to furnish you with the exact amount that will be required to conduct this branch of the public service until January 1st next. The Board therefore respectfully submits the data herein referred to.

Respectfully,
THOS. J. NEVILLE, Clerk.

By the Clerk—

Office of Superintendent of Schools,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

Mr. T. S. Pulver, City Clerk:
Dear Sir: The Board of Education at a regular session held December 6th instant, adopted the following resolution.

Respectfully,
MILTON NOYES,
Clerk of Board.

By Commissioner Judson—Resolved, That this Board asks the Common Council to immediately appropriate the sum of $3,100 to the credit of the Contingent Fund of this Board for the sole purpose of purchasing coal for the heating of our public school buildings.

The following reasons make this demand necessary at this time: The unusual length of the cold weather of last spring made fires necessary up to and into the month of June.

This fall heat had to be supplied much earlier and kept up more constantly than usual. These unexpected calls consumed the amount of coal which is usually held in reserve for November and December. The number of boilers and furnaces has been increased and new stack furnaces necessary for the Smead, Northcott system.

We have used less coal by a large number of tons up to the first of November than was used during the whole fiscal year 1896. It should also be remembered that the Fuel and Fire Fixtures Committee in the annual estimate of January last asked for the sum of $31,795.

Whereas, under the appropriation made by the council, it received but $25,256. This cut of $6,500 was made necessary by the cut of about 20 per cent. which the Common Council made in this Board's estimate for the Contingent Fund, from which the coal account is paid.

We have made a careful estimate of the needs of the various schools, to cover the remainder of this fiscal year, and find said sum of $3,100 is absolutely necessary for the purchase of coal to cover said time. The provisions of the city charter prohibit this Board from incurring obligations beyond the amount of money devoted for the particular purpose. It is through no fault of this Board that the above-named conditions now exist. Wherefore be it

Resolved, That the foregoing request be adopted.

Carried.
Received, filed and published and referred to Finance Committee.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I have this day transferred from Hemlock Lake Commissioners' Fund $507.08, this being the amount of interest paid by the bank on deposits placed to the credit of the Hemlock Lake Watershed Commissioners.

The law in regard to this fund directs that all costs of discount or interest on notes for funds advanced the commission shall be charged to the Contingent Fund, so all interest received on deposits should be credited to the Contingent Fund.

I trust that this action will meet with your approval.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully report that the balance in the bank to the credit of the Hemlock Lake Commission is $2,562.72.

I am in receipt of a letter from the secretary of the Commission, reporting that they have drawn checks for the balance in the bank; that they have further items of $6,750.00 now due and request me to make arrangements for the same, so that their checks will be honored.

What are your instructions on the subject?

Respectfully,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully report that the amount remaining in the bank for refund of licenses is but $223.04.

The amount of payments from this fund is an unknown quantity, as no one knows how soon parties will surrender their licenses, and demand payment for unexpired time.

I would suggest that $2,000.00 be transferred from the Contingent Fund to the credit of this account.

The amount paid into the treasury this year on account of this fund is over $168,000.00.

Respectfully,
S. B. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By Ald. Wilson—
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: At the request of Alderman Wilson, I beg leave to submit the following report relative to the necessity of additional overflow capacity at the head of the Genesee Valley canal outlet sewer.

The territory draining into this sewer at its junction with the Genesee street and outlet sewer near Plymouth avenue grade crossing covers about 192 acres and at the head of the sewer about 1,000 feet westerly, about 495 acres more come in making a total of 687 acres, coming into this section of said sewer.

This sewer was designed to carry but a small part of the storm water from this large territory; the balance must be taken care of by overflows into the river.

The immediate necessity for additional overflow capacity was demonstrated very clearly during the storm of July 11th last, when a section of the Genesee Valley canal sewer just east of the Plymouth avenue crossing burst by the pressure of water, and the sewer was badly damaged.

I would respectfully recommend the adoption of the ordinance introduced at this meeting for the relief of this sewer by the construction of necessary overflows and outlets.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Kelly—
City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

To the Hon. the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit the following memoranda relative to an ordinance for a sewer in Sherman street from a point about 100 feet north of Lyell avenue to the West Side trunk sewer; estimate $9,000, which comes before you at this meeting for final action.

The present sewers in the portion of Sherman street covered by the ordinance are:

First. A box stone sewer 2 feet high, 1-2 feet wide, from Otis street to the sewer in Lyell avenue.

Second. A 12-inch pipe sewer from Otis street to the West Side trunk sewer. The bottom of the stone sewer in Lyell avenue is 8.20 feet below the surface; at Connor park about 6.10 feet; at St. James park 5.47 feet; at Myrtle Hill park 3.58 feet, and at Otis street about 4.50 feet. The grade being only 1 foot in 720 feet.

On the 4th of the present month there was a depth of 8 1-2 inches of mud and 1 1-2 inches of water in the sewer at Myrtle Hill park. At St. James park the mud was 6 inches deep and the water 4 inches. With the light grade of this sewer these deposits cannot be prevented.

With ordinary heavy rains this sewer will run full. The effective depth for drainage is, therefore, 2 feet less than given above for bottom depth. It will thus be seen that this stone sewer is wholly unfit for a permanent sewer for the whole of this territory.

The 12-inch pipe sewer is 10 feet in depth and of ample size to drain the territory from Otis street to said West Side sewer.

The West Side Sewer Commission, having a knowledge of the above facts, in planning the West Side sewer, included in the territory to be drained and assessed all the territory tributary to Sherman street between said sewer and the south line of a tier of lots on the south side of Myrtle Hill park. The balance of Sherman street and its tributary territory is still in the Lyell avenue and Saxton street outlet.

The portion of Sherman street in most urgent need of a sewer is from Myrtle Hill park to Otis street. I would recommend, therefore, that the present ordinance be indefinitely postponed and a new ordinance introduced for a sewer of suitable size from a point near the center of Myrtle Hill park to the West Side sewer. This recommendation is in accordance with the sentiment expressed at a meeting of the taxpayers on said street, held at Kruger's hall, in November last.

For the portion of the street now in the Lyell avenue and Saxton street territory, I would recommend the following plan: Whenever the Lyell avenue outlet shall be deepened through Orchard and Lime street, the sewer in this portion of Sherman street can be rebuilt and deepened; or, if it is desired to pave Sherman street before said outlet is deepened, the present stone sewer can be left and whenever deeper sewers are required separate small sewers for sewage can be built on each side of the street between the walk and curb, leaving the present stone sewer for storm water, and thus the pavement will not be disturbed.

It should be stated that a connection has been put in across Lyell avenue to provide for this. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours truly,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

By Ald. Pauckner—
City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7, 1897.

Ald. William Pauckner, City:

Dear Sir: Dr. E. H. Howard, superintendent of the State Hospital, has requested the Executive Board to extend the pipe sewer located on the north side of Elmwood avenue, in front of the hospital premises, to the easterly line of said premises, a distance of 400 feet. This sewer is the outlet through which the storm water from the district south of Highland avenue finds its outlet. It is of 24-inch pipe at this point and empties into the open ditch at a point about 400 feet east of the east line of the state property.

Dr. Howard desires to build a sidewalk and grade the street and otherwise improve the street at this point, and he asks that the sewer be extended as aforesaid to enable him to do so. Dr. Howard will furnish all the common labor for the work if the city will furnish the tile. The cost to the city would be about $600. I recommend that the tile be furnished as requested.

Yours respectfully,
E. A. FISHER,
City Engineer.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Pauckner—Resolved, That the Executive Board be authorized and directed to furnish sufficient tile so that the open ditch in front of the State Hospital grounds on Elmwood avenue can be filled in and a sidewalk constructed, provided the superintendent of said hospital does the work of laying the tile and grading, the cost not to exceed $600 and the amount to be paid from the Contingent Fund.

Adopted.

AN ACT to amend the charter of the city of Rochester, relating to local improvement bonds and assessments for improvements.

The people of the state of New York, enacted in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. An act entitled "An act to further amend chapter one hundred and forty-three of the laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-one, entitled 'An act to amend and consolidate the several acts in relation to the charter of the city of Rochester,' and to consolidate therewith the several acts in relation to the charter of said city," passed February nineteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty, being chapter fourteen of the laws of eighteen hundred and eighty, as heretofore amended, is hereby designated as the charter of said city.

Sec. 2. Section one hundred and seventy of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 170. Whenever by order of the common council any new street or alley shall be laid out, opened or worked in said city, or any sewer, tunnel, drain, vault or bridge shall be extended to or beyond the city limits, or any other public improvement is to be made, it shall be the duty of the common council to determine what portion, if any, of the expense thereof ought to be paid from the public treasury and what portion, if any, ought to be paid by local assessment, and to direct that the whole expense to be paid by a local assessment be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land to be benefited thereby in proportion to the benefit which each will derive therefrom. The common council may maintain, improve, embellish as it may deem advisable and protect any public park, street, square or area in said city, and grade, sewer and pave the streets and alleys thereof and make, grade and improve sidewalks about the same or any part thereof. And they may cause the whole expense thereof to be assessed upon all the lots and parcels of land where the parks, streets, squares or areas are situated in proportion to the benefit which each lot or parcel will derive therefrom. It shall be lawful for the common council, by a three-fourths vote of the members elected, to borrow from time to time by the issue of bonds an amount not exceeding one million dollars, bearing such rates of interest as it may deem proper to effect a sale thereof, not exceeding five per centum per annum at not less than par for such period as said common council may determine, the proceeds of which shall be used in paying the costs, disbursements and other expenses incurred or to be incurred on account of work, labor, materials and local improvements heretofore or hereafter performed or furnished or constructed, not in conflict with the provisions of any contract however therefor, under and by virtue of ordinances duly adopted as provided in this charter, the expense whereof is to be afterwards collected wholly or in part by assessment from the property benefited by such improvement, but no moneys shall be paid out of the proceeds of said bonds except upon a certificate in writing from the head of the department having charge of such work stating that the same has been acceptably performed, that a payment is due and the amount of such payment. All assessments heretofore or hereafter made or collected for local improvements shall be paid into a fund to be known as the "local improvement fund," to be applied toward the redemption of the bonds issued in pursuance of this section and the payment of any orders that may be issued in pursuance of any contracts heretofore entered into for any local improvement. The proceeds of such bonds shall be deposited in a special account to be known as the "local improvement" account in whatever banks or trust companies the council may from time to time designate. The treasurer shall keep a separate set of records for said local improvement fund and account, which records shall show:

1. The proceeds of all moneys received by the issue and sale of bonds.

2. The amounts of all orders paid, said payments to be classified and charged separately to the special improvement for which they were given.

3. The amounts of all assessments paid, said payments to be classified and credited separately to the special improvement for which they are due; said payments to be subdivided so as to show the amount of interest in all payments where interest is included.

4a. The amount of interest received or accrued from bank balances.

4b. The amount of interest received from any and all past due assessments.

4c. The amount of interest paid or due upon any and all outstanding bonds.

5. All payments of principal made from the aforesaid bonds.

The city treasurer shall submit periodically to the council a balance sheet either summarized or in detail showing the condition of said local improvement fund and account at the close of business during the months of March, June, September and December in each year or said balance sheet may be submitted monthly if practicable to do so. Any amount of surplus interest accruing through the local improvement fund and account shall be used exclusively for the payment of such of the city's bonded indebtedness as the common council may direct.

Sec. 3. Section one hundred and ninety-eight of said charter is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 198. Whenever the common council shall determine that the whole or any part of the expense of any improvement shall be defrayed by a local assessment and the expense of such improvement shall exceed in the aggregate the sum of one thousand dollars, it may be paid one-third in cash and the balance in the city's notes payable in one and two years with interest thereon not exceeding six per centum per annum, and in case such expenses shall exceed ten thousand dollars it may be paid one-third in cash and the balance in the city's notes, payable in one, two, three and four years respectively with interest thereon not exceeding six per centum per annum, and the city may get its notes discounted for the above purpose. The common council may determine at the time of fixing the amount to be assessed if the same shall exceed one thousand dollars, that the taxpayers pay their assessments in not more than three equal payments; one-third within sixty days from the time that the treasurer shall advertise the same as hereinbefore provided, one-third within one year, and one-third within two years from the time of confirmation of such roll. And in case the amounts to be assessed, ascertained as herein provided, shall exceed ten thousand dollars, the common council may determine, as aforesaid, that the taxpayers may pay their assessments in not more than five equal payments, one within thirty days from the time that the treasurer shall advertise the same, as hereinbefore provided, and the balance within one, two, three and four years, respectively, after such confirmation. The entire expense of every local improvement assessed and paid, as aforesaid, shall be ascertained by the city treasurer, including any damages or awards for the taking of lands, rights or easements, together with any interest paid or to accrue on the orders or notes issued by the city to pay the expense of such improvement, and interest on such sums shall be reckoned to the time the last installment of such assessment shall become due. Persons or the owners of land so assessed who shall make any payment previous to the maturity of said last installment therein shall be entitled to a discount at the same rate as is paid on the city's notes or orders issued to pay for such improvement. Instead of proceeding as hereinbefore provided in this section, the common council may direct that the expense of any improvement heretofore or hereafter made, to be defrayed in whole or in part by a local assessment, shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of local improvement bonds, and in such case the assessments for such improvement shall be made as hereinbefore provided in this section. Such assessments shall be extended over a continuous period, so that the ratable amount due in any one year shall not exceed a sum equal to five per centum of the assessed value of any piece of property involved, as shown by the last annual assessment roll for general city taxes; provided, however, that such period does not exceed nine years. In case such computation makes the period exceed nine years, then the aforesaid method of computation shall be disregarded, and the time of payment shall be limited to nine years, in equal annual installments, as herein provided. The city assessors or special commissioners shall note upon all such assessment rolls, at the time of their presentation, the number of years recommended for the payment of all assessments therein, and they are hereby authorized to use, in their discretion, subject to the approval of the common council, any smaller percentage than five in determining the time for payment to be recommended; provided, always, that such time shall not exceed nine years. The first payment of any such assessment shall be due on the first day of the second month following the month in which said assessment roll shall have been received by the city treasurer, and succeeding payments shall be due on the first day of said month in each succeeding year. On all amounts not paid during the month in which they are due, the treasurer shall charge interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, but nothing shall prevent the prepayment, in whole or in part, of any assessment, and in the event of such prepayment, the treasurer shall charge interest on the amount prepaid from the time the assessment was first due, to the time in which such payment was made. The city treasurer or other officials shall act promptly in all matters pertaining to the completion of the assessment rolls and placing them in the treasurer's office for collection, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to advise the common council at its first regular meetings in January, April, July and October in each year of any and all completed local improvements, whose assessment rolls remain unconfirmed. Whenever the expense connected with any improvement to be defrayed in whole or in part by local assessments shall be reported to the common council, it shall be the duty of the common council to adjust and report the same to the city assessors or special commissioners, to be assessed upon the property benefited as provided herein. When, however, a majority of the taxpayers on any street prior to the confirmation of any assessment roll for an improvement on such street shall petition that an extension of time from five to fifteen years be given them to pay such assessment, and where such improvement has been guaranteed, as hereinbefore set forth, for any number of years, not more than fifteen, the Common Council may, by a majority vote of all the members elected thereto, with the approval of the mayor, and upon the prior recommendation of the city engineer, provide that the assessments therefor shall be and become due and payable in any number, not less than five and not more than fifteen equal annual installments, but in no case shall longer time be given than that for which the city has been duly guaranteed to be held free from cost or expense in maintaining or keeping such improvement in repair; and that the first installment of any such assessment shall be due on the first day of the second month following the month in which such assessment roll shall have been received by the city treasurer, and that one of such installments, together with interest thereon, from and after the date of the confirmation of such assessment, at the rate specified in the bonds issued on account thereof, as herein provided, upon the whole amount of the entire assessment remaining unpaid, shall be payable on the first day of said month in each succeeding year until the whole of such assessment and the interest thereon shall be paid. The owner of any piece of property so assessed may, at any time, pay to the treasurer the entire assessment upon his property, with interest at the rate aforesaid, up to the time of such payment, and thereupon said property shall be discharged from the lien of such assessment. All the provisions of the charter with reference to the issuing, the rate of interest, the sale, the application of the proceeds and the payment of improvement bonds, shall be applicable to such improvements; provided, however, that bonds issued on account of any such improvement shall be made payable in the same number of equal annual installments as is provided in such ordinance for the payment of the assessments for such improvements. The common council are hereby authorized to issue and sell, as provided by law, any bonds hereinbefore mentioned.

Sec. 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the matter of the claims against the city through construction of its telephone line to Hemlock lake be referred to the executive board with full power to take such course as it may be advised, and that the mayor be authorized to execute any papers necessary and to attach thereto the corporate seal.

To the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

The resolution adopted at your meeting of November 30, 1897, directing the Corporation Counsel to institute proceedings to have a commission appointed in reference to the Boyd place opening, is returned without my approval for the following reasons:

First. The resolution directing the Executive Board to negotiate with the owners of the property for the right of way having been vetoed and not having been acted upon by the Common Council, the resolution in question cannot legally be adopted.

Second. The negotiations by the Executive Board with the owners cannot be had until after the approval of the resolution authorizing such negotiations.

Third. The resolution is disapproved for the reasons set forth in the two former vetoes of the Boyd place opening.

Very respectfully,

GEO. E. WARNER, Mayor.

Received, filed and published.

City Engineer's Office,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 21, 1897.
To the Honorable the Map and Survey Committee of the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In my annual report of last year attention was called to the necessity for a filing case to preserve copies of deeds that we make for use in the survey of the city.

We need a case of about two hundred drawers to take the deeds now on hand and those we expect to copy during the winter.

I would therefore respectfully suggest that I be empowered to obtain proposals for such a case and under direction of your committee make a contract therefor at an expense not to exceed $300.

Yours respectfully,
E. A. FISHER, City Engineer.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

By the Clerk—

Rochester Trades Assembly,
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 20, 1897.
To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Dear Sir:—At a regular meeting of the Rochester Trades Assembly held on December 16th the following resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Board of Park Commissioners of the city of Rochester has violated the provisions of the labor law by the employment of its laborers for more than eight hours per day, and,

Whereas, Certain park policemen have put in a claim for over time against said board at the rate of 25 cents per hour, and

Whereas, Said claims appear to be just and reasonable in view of the fact that said park policemen were compelled to work 10 hours per day and received pay only for a legal day's work of eight hours, therefore,

Resolved, That this body respectfully request and urge the Board of Park Commissioners of the city of Rochester to pay said claims, and further,

Resolved, That we urge the Common Council of the city of Rochester to pay said claims should the Park Commissioners refuse to audit the same, and further

Resolved, That we urge upon the Board of Park Commissioners and the Common Council a compliance with the eight hour law in all its details and

Resolved, That this body respectfully request and urge that resident citizens and taxpayers of the city of Rochester be employed in and around the parks in preference to non-residents or farmers, and further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the Board of Park Commissioners and the Common Council of the city of Rochester.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Assessment Committee beg leave to submit the following report:

In the petitions of Frederick Wirley and Fred Hartleben we recommend that the same be granted.

In the matter of the petition of Caroline Meyers we recommend that the same be denied.

In the matter of the petition of Augustus Bowen for cancellation of an assessment against him for Harvard street extension we find that the assessment against him is far in excess of the benefits derived by him for the extension of Harvard street, and recommend that the assessment roll heretofore adopted by the Common Council be reconsidered and a re-assessment ordered. We think that the assessment against the premises of Mr. Bowen should not, in view of all the circumstances of the case, exceed the amount of the award made to him by the Commissioners of Appraisal. We therefore recommend that the petition of Mr. Bowen be denied and that he be given proper redress in the making up of the re-assessment for said extension.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. BEARD,

JOHN R. SIMMPLINK,

JOSEPH C. WILSON,

JOHN S. EDWARDS,

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: Your finance committee has had under consideration the request of the city engineer for additional help in his department to complete the maps required by the assessors in making the assessment for the East Side trunk sewer. In order to make a fair and equitable division of the cost of the sewer upon the territory embraced in the ordinance, it will be necessary to divide said territory into several classes corresponding to the benefits derived by the construction of the sewer. In order to make a valid assessment the area of the several lots embraced in the assessable territory must be ascertained with a reasonable degree of accuracy. At the present time the city engineer has accurate maps of only a portion of this territory. To complete accurate maps of the remaining territory a large amount of work must be done and to complete this work within a reasonable period it will be necessary to temporarily increase the office force in the city engineer's department. Some three months ago the city engineer submitted an estimate of $4,000 as the cost of this work. Since that time some progress has been made and the engineer is now of the opinion that a less amount will suffice. Your committee would recommend that the city engineer be authorized to employ increased office and field men to assist in completing maps at an expense not to exceed $3,000.

The board of education has requested an appropriation of $3,100 for the purchase of coal for the public school buildings. The communication from the board sets forth that by reason of the protracted cold weather of last spring fires were necessary until June, and that in the fall fires were needed much earlier than usual. Attention is also called to the fact that the amount of the appropriation in the annual tax levy for the purchase of coal was smaller by several thousand dollars than the board's estimate. Your committee is informed that unless funds are provided at once for the purchase of coal it will be necessary to close several of the public schools. It is therefore recommended that the request be granted.

In the annual appropriation for the support of the public schools the sum of $2,000 was included to defray the expense of the biennial school census. The bills presented by the enumerators aggregate $3,650, and the board of education has requested an additional appropriation of $1,650 to meet these obligations. Your committee is informed that the bills of the enumerators have not been passed upon by the auditor. It may fairly be presumed that deductions will, in some cases, be made by this official. We therefore recommend that the council authorize an appropriation sufficient to liquidate those claims when the exact amount necessary shall have been determined by the auditor.

Your committee finds it necessary to make further provision for the highway fund. On December 20th there was less than $1,000 to the credit of the fund. For the balance of the fiscal year $6,000 will be required to meet the street department pay rolls. An itemized statement, submitted at the request of the committee, which is hereto annexed and made a part of this report, shows that there are on file with the executive board approved bills for expenditures through the highway fund and yet unpaid, aggregating over $8,000. Your committee conferred with Mayor Warner on the subject, and both his honor and the committee were of the opinion that a sufficient amount should be appropriated at once to enable the board to pay these bills and meet the weekly pay rolls. It is therefore recommended that the city's note for an amount not exceeding $14,000 be issued for the benefit of the highway fund.

Respectfully submitted,

 JOSEPH C. WILSON,
 JOSEPH A. CRANE,
 Finance Committee.

BUILDING COMMITTEE REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 21, 1897,

To the Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen:—Your Committee on Buildings, in compliance with the resolution of Alderman Selye of November 23d last, in regard to the permit for remodeling a frame and the erection of a brick building by Mr. Charles E. Dickinson at No. 219 Lake avenue, after an investigation and viewing of the premises as directed by your resolution would report as follows: First, that we find that the legal one week's notices have been served by Messrs. Walker & Briggs, architects for Mr. Dickinson.

Second, that the proposed building is an unsafe and unsanitary structure for that residence quarter of the city.

Third, that Mr. Dickinson's lot and the adjoining lots are about 200 feet in depth and that he has a stable in rear of said lot, with stables on each side of the adjoining lots. In case of a fire in the barn or rear part of the proposed structure there would be no way for the fire department to get at and check said fire except through an underground drive-way which Mr. Dickinson, having covered the whole of his lot, proposes to construct under the south side of said house. This would be unsafe and dangerous to the department and its apparatus and leaving it only one alternative, that of getting at said fire through the grounds of his neighbors, which would naturally result in a good deal of damage to them by his proposed structure of an apartment house, and should not be allowed, as being against the public good and welfare in addition to the foregoing reasons.

We find the neighbors interested unanimously opposed to the granting of the permit applied for.

Your Committee and Fire Marshal would therefore recommend to your honorable body that the application be denied.

Respectfully yours,

WM. PAUCKNER,

HENRY G. COOK,

RAILROAD COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Your Railroad Committee has considered the communication of the Rochester Railway Company, requesting permission to lay a siding on Church street in front of the Federal building. The request is made at the instance of the postoffice department.

Your committee is informed that at the present time the operation of the lines using Church street is more or less interfered with by reason of the fact that when the two mall cars now in use are being loaded the movement of cars carrying passengers is considerably retarded. By the use of the siding this difficulty will be obviated.

Your committee would therefore recommend that the company be permitted to lay the siding under the supervision of the Executive Board.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES JOHNSTON,
W. C. GREEN,

REPORT SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON FREE PUBLIC BATHS.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your special committee upon public baths do report as follows:

Section 1, of the laws of 1895, relating to free public baths reads as follows: "All cities of the first and second class shall establish and maintain such number of free public baths as the local board of health may determine to be necessary. Each bath shall be kept open not less than fourteen hours each day, and both hot and cold water shall be provided. The erection, and maintenance of river or ocean baths shall not be deemed a compliance with the requirements of this section. Any city, village or town having less than 50,000 inhabitants may establish and maintain free public baths and any city, village or town may loan its credit or may appropriate of its public funds for baths."

This law went into effect April 18, 1895. On May 23, 1895, the local board of health, on motion of Commissioner Brickner in compliance with the above law, adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That two public baths be established and maintained at public expense," and sent the resolution to this council for action thereon. Nothing, however, was done in the matter and on February 10, 1897, Senator C. R. Parsons sent a communication to this board on the propriety and expediency of complying with this law. Still nothing was done by this council until June 22, 1897, when the council's attention being again drawn to the law, by a communication of President of the Council Dewey, a resolution was adopted empowering the president to appoint a special committee to frame a compliance with the law.

Your committee was duly appointed, the public baths of Buffalo were visited by a sub-committee, the subject has been considered in all its phases and your committee recommends that it be given power to immediately advertise for tender of sites for two free public baths—oné on each side of the river and within the following described limits: Commencing on the east side of the river at Court street bridge; thence easterly along both sides of Court street to Stone street; thence northerly on both sides of Stone street to Main street; thence easterly along Main street to Clinton street; thence northerly on both sides of Clinton street to Central avenue; thence westerly on both sides of Central avenue to the Genesee river; thence along the river to the place of beginning.

On the west side of the river the limits to begin at Main street bridge; thence westerly to Sophia street; thence northerly on both sides of Sophia street to Allen street; thence easterly on both sides of Allen street to State street; thence northerly on State street to Central avenue; thence easterly along Central avenue to the river; thence along the river to Main street. The lots tendered to be not less than forty feet wide and not less than sixty feet long; the persons tendering the same to enter into an agreement to provide a search of the lot offered at their own expense showing the property tendered to be free from all incumbrance of any sort whatever.

Your committee also suggests that when the time arrives for a consideration of the proper equipment of the bath houses that a committee consisting of the mayor and two members of the council visit Buffalo and inquire into the experience of that city in regard to said question.

The limits above described are advised by your committee to prevent the tender of sites that would not in its opinion be available for the purpose inasmuch as the number of baths is to be but two. Within the limits described lie a majority of the large factories and said territory is most easily reached by street car lines.

In Buffalo, so constant has been the demand for baths by men that it has been found impracticable to open the baths for women at night. If these limits are determined upon alternate nights might be side aside for women.

A communication from the health officer of Buffalo is hereto annexed and made a part of this report.

In accordance with the foregoing report, your committee respectfully suggests the adoption of the accompanying resolution.

Respectfully submitted.

D. W. SELYE,
WILLIAM C. GREEN,
JOHN B. SIMMELINK,
WILLIAM S. BEARD,
WILLIAM H. TRACY.

Special Committee on Free Public Baths.

By Ald. Selye—Resolved, That the Special Committee on Free Public Baths be, and hereby is, directed to advertise for tenders of sites for free public baths in accordance with the foregoing report, reserving all rights to reject said tenders, and report such tenders with recommendations to this Board at a meeting to be held December 28, 1897.

Adopted.

By the Clerk--

REPORT OF THE EAST SIDE TRUNK SEWER COMMISSION—STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

The East Side trunk sewer commission hereby beg leave to submit the following report:

After full consideration as to the most desirable method of presenting a report of its transactions, the commission deemed it as both economical and fully as satisfactory to the property owners assessed for this expensive sewer, as well as to the general public, to present a financial statement giving in itemized form the amount received and disbursed on account of the construction of this sewer, from the date of the creation of the commission until the present time.

The proceedings of the commission in its briefest form would make a volume of several hundred pages, the printing of which would be an item of considerable expense, while the appended statement of expenditures, it is believed, will answer all practical purposes. The full text, however, of the proceedings has been compiled and typewritten, and this copy, as well as all contracts, vouchers, papers and memoranda belonging to or connected with the work of the commission, have been filed with the city clerk for reference or examination.

Also all surveys, maps, plans and all working drawings, together with all properties made use of by the commission, have been turned over to the proper city departments.

The necessity for the construction of the East Side trunk sewer grew out of the damage suits entered for pollution of the streams in the towns of Brighton and Irondequoit, and the courts held that the city should, without unnecessary delay, proceed to abate the nuisance of which complaint was made.

To this end, Emil Kuichling was employed as engineer, to examine, determine and report upon a scheme for the construction of a sewer which should intercept the several sewers creating the nuisances in the towns above named and diverting the sewage elsewhere, and a full and exhaustive report was made by the engineer and presented to the common council in 1889, after which an ordinance was adopted for the proposed work.

The Common Council, thereupon, in compliance with the terms of an act of the legislature, appointed H. H. Edgerton, William H. Gorsline and John F. Alden, commissioners, on June 23, 1891, and in conjunction with the then members of the executive board and their successors in office, were authorized to construct the sewer.

The commission met on the 29th day of June, 1891, organized and at once proceeded to the performance of their work. The necessary assistants were employed, and as soon thereafter as surveys and plans could be made, contracts were let and work progressed steadily and expeditiously from April, 1892, until July, 1894, when the main line was completed, after which overflows were built and such other details finished as were necessary to the completion of the system.

The sewer and its more important adjuncts have been built, but there are still several storm overflows and details which are not of immediate necessity, yet sooner or later must be added to the system in order to obviate damages to lands or other property which will possibly result from heavy rainfalls.

The sense of the commission is, therefore, that the work they were appointed to do has been practically finished, and no necessity longer exists for its continuance as an official body, and in consequence it is requested by the undersigned that your honorable body, upon the assembling of the legislature in January, 1898, procure such an amendment to the law as shall release the commission from further responsibility and duty under the present law; and any further work or additions which may, hereafter, be necessary may be done under the order and supervision of your honorable body and the executive board.

Respectfully submitted,

H. H. EDGERTON,
JOHN F. ALDEN,
WM. H. GORSLINE,
THOMAS McMILLAN,
FRED. C. SEITZ,
OSCAR KNEBEL.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1897.

To the Finance Committee of the Common Council:

Gentlemen: As is known to you, the Hemlock Lake Commission have made application for an appropriation of $10,000 on the 9th day of August, 1897. They are now and ever since have been waiting for funds to fulfill contracts made on part of the vendors. We have deferred payments to these parties upon one pretext and another, until actions for purchase price are imminent. We call this matter to your attention at this time, so that you may place the appropriation asked for to the credit of this Board, for the purpose of avoiding threatened suits.

Yours truly,
SOL WILE, Sec'y.

By Ald. Tracy—

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Your Public Improvement Committee begs leave to present the following report:

On the 23d day of September, 1897, your committee met in pursuance to a resolution of your honorable body, which read as follows:

"By Alderman Tracy—Resolved, That the Public Improvement Committee be and hereby is authorized and instructed to make a thorough examination of the asphalt paving question in all its phases, and that it be authorized to issue subpoenas, to take testimony, to employ assistants and to incur expense for these several purposes, not to exceed $200.00, said amount or such portions thereof as may be used to be paid from the Contingent Fund."

From the 23d of September until the 23d of October your committee held twelve sessions, or an average of three a week, and during that time twenty-five witnesses were examined.

A stenographer was employed and his minutes of the testimony cover over 200 typewritten pages.

During its investigation the committee was assisted, for the greater portion of the time, by Corporation Counsel Rodenbeck, and throughout the entire investigation by Abraham Benedict and Alexander Otis, who represented interested taxpayers.

It was shown that on several occasions the local asphalt companies secured or attempted to secure petitions favoring their several products for street improvements by giving to those who circulated petitions for the same, rebates equivalent in some cases, to the total cost of the improvement.

Such practice, while it may be within the law, seems an unfair discrimination, which when known, should stop any consideration of the bids of persons or corporations making the same.

It appears to your committee, judging from the closeness of the bids and by the rotation of successful bidding by the various asphalt companies, that an understanding exists by which the work is apportioned between them.

It also appears from the testimony that several kinds of asphalt are in use in many other cities of the state which are not used here, but whether said asphalt was as good as that used in Rochester was not shown, nor was it proven that the companies engaged in laying these other asphalts have the necessary skill and experience to lay the same.

However, it is your committee's opinion that under proper safeguards, such as the City Engineer and the Executive Board shall determine, and in accordance with the following suggestions, such other asphalts should be admitted to use upon our streets.

Several members of the local asphalt companies rested upon their right to refuse to testify before your committee.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM N. TRACY,
JAMES JOHNSTON,
EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
T. W. FORD,

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Tracy—Resolved, "That all ordinances for asphalt improvement hereafter introduced in the Common Council shall be so drawn as to admit of competition from all asphalts which have been laid in any city east of the Mississippi river, and within the 40th and 45th parallel of north latitude, for three years, and which have proved satisfactory, and under a guarantee of at least ten years' duration, said guarantee to be protected by a cash reserve of at least ten per cent. of the amount of the final estimate for the asphalt pavement and in addition thereto, of a good and sufficient bond to the amount of not less than 40 per cent. of the estimated cost of the asphalt pavement."

And be it further resolved, "That the Executive Board be and hereby is requested not to consider the bid of any person or corporation, who after having (between the 1st day of April and the first day of November) been notified by said board to repair any asphalt pavement laid by him or it, and having failed to do so, provided, of course, that said notification be within the time of the guarantee given by said person or corporation."

Adopted.

Nays—Alds. Johnston, Ward, Pauckner—3.

By Ald Johnston—

Law Department,

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 9, 1897.

To the Honorable, The Common Council:

Gentlemen: In reply to the resolution of Ald. Rauber requesting me to furnish the Board with an opinion with reference to a resolution introduced by Ald. Ford, to repeal an ordinance providing for the opening of a new street from Central avenue to Granger street, I beg leave to say, that condemnation proceedings were taken under the ordinance referred to. The report of the commissioners of appraisal was unsatisfactory. This Board directed an application to be made to the court for new commissioners. Before this application was made an action was commenced by Matilda Schneider accompanied by a temporary injunction restraining the application. The question in the case relates to the power of the Council to set aside reports in condemnation proceedings and secure further appraisals by new commissioners. The General Term held that the provisions of the city charter authorizing the appointment of new commissioners were valid and set aside the injunction. From this decision an appeal has been taken by Mrs. Schneider to the Court of Appeals. The appeal has not been heard. If the action were discontinued the city would have a decision of the General Term unreversed sustaining the validity of the charter provision referred to.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. RODENBECK,
Corporation Counsel.

Received, filed and published.

Ald. Rauber moved that action on the resolution be postponed four weeks. Carried by the following vote:

Ayes—Alds. Tracy, Green, Rauber, Edelman, Beard, Ward, Dewey, Cook, Pauckner, Kelly, Crane, Simmelink, Englehardt, Wilson, Reichenberger—15.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
 Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1897.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—In regard to our Sinking Fund which now makes so good a showing: Will it not be best for the Treasurer to have separate bank accounts made for same, setting aside the amounts that have been added to the fund, for the purpose of paying special named bonds?

If this is done, then in future, whatever these deposits earn in interest, or whatever is added to them from each succeeding tax levy, shows up in the accounts. At present we have the fund all in one bank account, the interest not being separated for any special named bonds, but on my ledger it shows that certain amounts are to be used for the redemption of certain named issues of bonds.

I think it would be better to separate the account as much as possible, reporting each month as required by you the total amount in the general Sinking Fund, and showing further how much of this is to be used for the redemption of Hemlock lake watershed bonds, park bonds and Genesee Valley R. R.
 bonds, and so on, naming each issue of bonds that has a special Sinking Fund.

If this meets with your approval, please direct or instruct me what your wishes are in the matter.

Very respectfully,

S. B. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred to Committee on Finance.

By the Clerk—

City Treasurer's Office,
 Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of
 the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I would respectfully request an appropriation for clerk hire in Treasurer's office for the year 1898 (not including the salary of the City Treasurer) of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

I trust that you will take into consideration the responsibilities of the office, the hours of service of the employes, and also remember that the salary of the search clerk is more than covered by the receipts for searches made in this office, and which receipts are now credited to the Contingent Fund.

With due respect to the employes of other departments, and the amount of compensation they receive, as compared to the employes of Treasurer's office and the amounts paid them, you have not done the latter justice in the past. I do not believe in cutting the salary of any man, if he earns same, but do not think that the clerks in some of the departments should be paid $600 or $700 a year more than the clerks of the City Treasurer's office, when the responsibility is not so great, or the hours of service as long.

I think that the Treasurer should at least be consulted when the subject of compensation of his clerks is acted upon, and I trust, gentlemen, that you will show me that courtesy.

Very respectfully yours,

S. B. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Received, filed and published and referred
 to Committee on Finance.

 tion Company for collecting garbage for month of December.

Very respectfully,

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1897.

To the Board of Park Commissioners:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the law, I present my yearly report to you for transmission to the Common Council.

The following described piece of property purchased from the Reynolds estate on November 21, 1896, was omitted from my report last year.

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the City of Rochester, county of Monroe, and state of New York, bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at a point in the center of the Westfall road, at which point the said Westfall road defects at right angles to the north between the lands of the estate of M. F.

Reynolds and Genesee Valley Park; thence southerly on the center of the said Westfall road to the south side of said Westfall road; thence westerly on the south line of the said Westfall road produced westerly across the lands of M. F. Reynolds estate about 421 feet to the east line of lands owned by B. M. Baker; thence northerly on the east line of lands owned by the said B. M. Baker to the center of the Genesee river; thence easterly on the center of the said Genesee river to a point of the present Westfall road produced northerly; thence southerly in a straight line to the place of beginning, containing 3 354-1000 acres of land. Reference being had to a map of said lands filed in Liber 10 of Maps, page 2, Monroe County Clerk's office, in the matter of the application of the city of Rochester to acquire lands for park purposes.

This conveyance is made subject to the rights of the public in the said Westfall road. The consideration was $1,500.

In the matter of acquiring the land known as the Baker property, to which I referred in my last yearly report, I would say that the case has been carried to the Appellate Court and that the decision of the Court has been reversed, with costs to the appellant.

At Seneca Park on the east, a bird house 32x12 and 9 feet high was built to accommodate the birds that have been collected for the aviary. A few pens were made for rabbits and Guinea pigs. The shelter has been made habitable for the winter by putting in a partition dividing the large room in two parts, and putting in a paper ceiling so that the smaller room thus made might be warmed, thus enabling the tenant to live in the shelter during the winter. The north piazza has been enclosed to afford additional protection from the cold and to furnish room in which to store the park seats and tables. The animal cages have been enclosed for winter, and the small tool house has been floored and celled so that a man working in there can keep warm. Considerable planting was done in Seneca Park during the spring, but it was so dry during the fall that the planting was deferred. A few walks were graded in the park, and manure was drawn nearly the whole season from the city yards. Several piles of stones were drawn from the park and were used for a foundation for a park road next to St. Paul street. The remainder of the work done in Seneca Park was the regular work of maintenance. At Highland Park, the children's pavilion was covered with two coats of Crockett's spar composition. Along the new road from Highland avenue to Elmwood avenue, about 1,000 trees and shrubs were planted. Over 5,000 annuals and summer bedding plants raised in hot-beds were planted round the pavilion. During the summer the display of flowering shrubs and flowers in Highland Park was very fine, and the attendance during the week in which there was an unusual display, as when the one hundred varieties of lilacs were in bloom, was very large.

The shrub collection in Highland Park includes 52 families, 140 genera, and about 1,100 species and varieties, and all are in good health and vigor. Some of the shrubs are not quite hardy in this latitude and require protection with boxes, branches or leaves. The planting of these tender shrubs in large masses for ornamental purposes would be objectionable on account of this protection, but a few grown in a collection for variety, can easily be taken care of. On July 10th "The Genesee Falls Band" gave a very fine concert at Highland Park. The expense of the concert was borne by Messrs. Ellwanger & Barry, who have heretofore given land valued at about $20,000, a children's pavilion valued at $7,000, and trees and shrubs worth hundreds of dollars. At Genesee Valley Park, a bicycle path 4,400 feet long and 6 feet wide has been built round Red Creek, giving access to the fine trees that line the banks of Red Creek, and also better access to the fine meadows.

A bicycle path, about one-half of a mile in length has been extended to the fine river view near the old hickory tree that is called General Jackson. The cinder path on the west side of the river, one and a half miles in length, connecting with the Scottsville path, has been repaired by drawing on cinders and rolling them. This path has opened the west side of Genesee Valley Park to use, and thousands of persons have used the path during the summer. A number of trees were taken from the overcrowded young forest planting and planted on the east side of the river north of Elmwood avenue. About two hundred trees were planted round the merry-go-round west of the picnic grove. Many of the trees in the old Frost nursery have been transplanted so that they will not be ruined by crowding.

The remainder of the work in Genesee Valley park has been the regular maintenance. Many more of the trees in the young forest should be transplanted into the nurseries for future use. Although these trees are only ten years from the seed, many of them are twenty-five feet high.

The city parks have been cared for as usual by the force specially employed for that purpose. The demand for trimming street trees and taking out dead, unsightly and overcrowded trees has been great. Three or four gangs of men, instead of one gang, could be well employed in caring for the street trees. I believe that the beauty of the trees, and the healthfulness of the residents of the city can be greatly increased by the removal of at least one-half of the trees in the streets. One good healthy, well-formed and well-nourished tree is worth more than several diseased, stunted and starved trees. The trees in the following named streets have been trimmed during the year: Adams street, Andrews street, Averill avenue, Arlington street, Andover avenue, Atkinson street, Bronson avenue, Clifton street, Cameron street, Clinton place, Cypress street, Chestnut street, Culver park, Exchange street, Edward street, First street, Fourth street, Frost avenue, Gibbs street, Grove street, Glenwood park, Hawthorn street, Harvard street, Hickory street, Jefferson avenue, Lake avenue, Lyell avenue, Myrtle Hill park, North street, North avenue, New York street, Oak street, Oregon street, Pierpont avenue, Plymouth avenue, Rome street, South Clinton street, Sophia street, St. Clair street, Selye terrace, Sherman street, South Fitzhugh street, Spencer street, Wellington street, Warwick street, Ward park, Waverly place, Westminster place, Woodbury street. Fifty-six dead trees and 158 trees growing too closely to other trees have been cut down.

Seneca parkway is improving in appearance, as the four hundred elm trees are all growing. Several new houses have been erected there during the year. Gorsline park has been extended into Seneca park so that an entrance to Seneca park has been made from Lake avenue through Gorsline park. The improvements in Lake View park are completed, except the manuring, grass-seeding and shrub and bed planting designed by the landscape architect. The city parks have not been guarded by the park policemen as they were last year. On account of the reduction of the appropriation it was necessary to reduce the number of policemen, and to give those employed fewer days work than during 1896. Two bicycles were purchased for mounted policemen, and they greatly facilitated the work of patrolling the parks. One was used in Seneca Park and one in Genesee Valley park. In addition to the deer in the parks, a pair of Wapiti, or American Elk, were purchased, and they have been a great attraction to park visitors. At Seneca park a number of rabbits Guinea pige, raccoons, hawks, owls, an eagle, a crow, gray, black, red, fox and flying squirrels and Chinese pheasants, all hardy and easily cared for have been procured. Many of the animals have been given or loaned, and a few have been purchased. A fine black bear has been loaned by the Page Woven Wire Fence Co. The Shropshire sheep at Genesee Valley park, although not considered a part of the animal collection for amusement, as they are kept to crop the grass in the meadows, and are a necessity, and also a great attraction and admired by almost every one. 151 surplus sheep and lambs have been sold for $673, and 1,038 pounds of wool for $186.64.

Respectfully submitted,

C. C. LANEY,
Superintendent of Parks.

Respectfully,
 THOS. J. NEVILLE,

Received, filed and published.
 By the Clerk—
 Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1897.

Mr. T. S. Pulver, City Clerk:

Dear Sir: The enclosed report and estimate were adopted by the Board of Education of this city at a regular meeting thereof, held December 27th instant. Requesting that you will submit the same to the Common Council on the 30th instant, I am
 Very respectfully,

MILTON NOYES,
 Superintendent of Public Schools.

Com. Durand presented the following estimate:
 To the Board of Education:

Gentlemen: Recent legislation respecting city departments requires that this board at this time submit a statement of the amounts necessary to meet the expenses of the public schools during the coming year, together with the statement of the transactions of this board for the current fiscal year.
 The receipts and expenditures in the five charter funds under control of the Board of Education for the current year, excluding balances on hand January 1, 1897, are as follows:

	Receipts.	Payments.
Building fund		$ 8,382 82
Repair fund	$ 15,000 00	18,095 26
Library fund	2,149 05	3,029 90

Contingent fund ... 106,894 69 113,186 11
 Teachers' fund 347,100 87 342,478 19

The foregoing receipts comprise actual moneys appropriated by the city and state and exclude balances on hand reported in the annual report to the council of December, 1896.

The small appropriations made in 1897 should not control for the next fiscal year.
 It is not possible to give at this date all the specific wants in detail, but after a careful estimate of probable and necessary expenses we submit the following as the respective amounts which will be required from the city on behalf of the public schools of the city of Rochester for the fiscal year 1898:

Building fund $100,000
 Repair fund 15,000
 Library fund 3,000
 Teachers' fund 300,000
 Contingent fund 130,000

The foregoing takes into consideration the probable amounts which will be received by the Board of Education from all other sources. The increasing expenses incident to the natural growth of the schools require to be met year by year, however economically school affairs may be administered.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following:
 Resolved, That the Board of Education does hereby certify, pursuant to requirements, that the foregoing estimate is the amount of money necessary to meet the expenses of the department of public schools of this city to be appropriated by said city for the fiscal year 1898.

Resolved, That the superintendent transmit a copy of this estimate to the Common Council on the last Thursday of December instant.

Respectfully submitted the 27th day of December, 1897.

JOHN E. DURAND,
 WILLIS K. GILLETTE,
 VAL. STEUERWALD,
 CHAS. H. JUDSON,
 Finance Committee.

Approved and adopted.

FIRE MARSHAL'S ANNUAL REPORT.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen: I would respectfully report the following as the business transacted at this office for the year 1897:

No. of inspections made	284
No. of complaints investigated and adjusted	97
No. of defective and unsafe buildings caused to be repaired	16
No. of unsafe buildings condemned and removed	17
No. awaiting repairs or removal	1
No. of building petitions investigated and granted under the direction of the Building committee, during the year	453

I have also attended to the erection, removal and storage of the city's election houses or booths and the distribution, collection and storage of furniture, ballot boxes, under the direction of your Contingent Expense Committee.

The operation of the new building ordinance adopted by your honorable body on the 26th of May last and which took effect on July 1st, while entailing a large amount of clerical work on this office, has been in the main satisfactory and is a great improvement upon the old one which had been in force, without amendment or alteration of any kind from 1880 until 1897, or for a period of seventeen years and which permitted a very lax state of affairs to exist, long outgrown by a city the size of ours.

The experience of this office during the last six months has shown the advisability of amending the same in a few particulars in the interest and welfare of the community which will I think make its operation more satisfactory and meet all requirements for some time to come.

In conclusion I wish to extend my thanks to the members of your building and contingent expense committee for their courtesy and assistance given me in the performance of the duties of this office during the year just closing.

Very respectfully yours,

J. A. P. WALTER,
Fire Marshal.

The work of the department for the year may be considered in the following order:

I.—SURVEY OF THE LAND BORDERING ON THE SHORES OF HEMLOCK LAKE.

The work done during the year has been under the charge as heretofore, of Assistant Engineer William B. Sackett. The purpose of this survey was fully set forth in my report of last year.

In order to locate the division lines of the original lots, a survey extending about one mile from the shore on each side of the southern portion of the lake had to be made. The necessary deeds and searches were not finished in time to allow the completion of this work during the past year. The present condition of the survey may be briefly stated as follows:

The total frontage on the lake, measured on the high water line referred to, is 84,300 feet, or very nearly 16 miles. Of the parcels of land on this frontage a complete survey has been made of about 15 miles; of the balance, nearly all of the work necessary to locate the division lines at the lake frontage has been done. The work, so far as completed, has been plotted on a large map to the scale of 100 feet per inch. A smaller map to a scale of 400 feet per inch, covering the entire territory embraced in the survey, is now under way. The expenses of the survey, outside of salaries, are paid by the Hemlock Lake Watershed Commission. The proportion of salaries properly chargeable to this survey and map for the past year, is $658.77.

II.—THE SURVEY OF THE TERRITORY COMPRISED IN THE OLD FIFTEENTH AND SIXTEENTH WARDS.

This survey is under the charge of Assistant Engineer Charles L. Raymond. L. Y. McConnell has had charge of the field party engaged in this survey, and Mr. George Hebard of the office work; Mr. Raymond having general supervision of the entire work. The work now completed is as follows:

On the West Side complete surveys have been made, comprising an area of about 1,990 acres, covering all that portion of the city not heretofore covered by the Ryan survey, excepting that portion lying between Maple and Sawyer streets, which, including the overlap necessary to connect with the Ryan survey's, comprises an area of about 750 acres.

On the East Side the field work of that portion lying south of East avenue, covering an area of about 2,270 acres, is completed. The remaining portion of the East Side lying north of East avenue, covering an area of about 2,940 acres, has been divided into large blocks containing an average of about 420 acres each, and the lines bounding said blocks have been traversed.

While some of the work of filling in the survey of these blocks has been done, the larger portion of that part lying north of East avenue yet remains to be surveyed.

It was stated in the report of last year, that in order to make a proper survey of the territory under consideration it was necessary to overlap the outside boundaries of the survey of the first fourteen wards by J. C. Ryan, and also to extend somewhat outside the city limits. Taking this fact into account, the total area covered by the Fifteenth and Sixteenth wards survey amounts to approximately 7,950 acres. Of this 7,950 acres the field work on 4,260 acres has been fully completed. The field work on 2,940 acres has been partially completed, leaving an amount of 750 acres on the West Side on which no work has been done.

The office calculations preliminary to the plotting of the maps on the West Side, and of the completed portion of the East Side territory, have been mostly completed. A total number of 600 tracings have been made to date; 8,600 deeds have been copied from the Monroe County Clerk's records, and about 14,000 sheets, with headings, for filling in the deeds, taken from the assessors' books. The work during the year has been carried on so as to be made use of in connection with several street openings, as has been done in past years. The proportion of salaries properly chargeable to this survey, is $3,503.00.

IMPROVEMENTS COMPLETED DURING THE YEAR.

Sixty-nine public improvements have been completed during the year at a total cost of about $410,084.48, subdivided as follows:
 For pavements (4.44 miles) and grading streets (0.42 miles).....$303,018 39
 For sidewalks (4.85 miles) 9,895 82
 For sewers (5.43 miles) 72,675 23
 For miscellaneous 24,495 04

Total as above $410,084 48
 The 4.44 miles of streets were classified as follows:

	Miles.	Sq. Yds.	Yd. per
Medina stone (on concrete)	0.45	5,874.4	2.05
Medina block stone (on concrete)	0.12	2,813.6	2.60
Medina block stone (on concrete) in asphalt streets	15.282	0	2.90
Asphalt	3.68	49,863.3	2.44
Trap rock macadam	0.14	1,629.0	.95
Gravel	0.05	1,032.6	.50

The 4.85 miles of new sidewalk built under contract is divided into 4.35 miles of cement walk and 0.50 miles of plank walk.

Complete tables showing all the details of the above work will be furnished for publication in the report of the Executive Board.

SEWERS.

The total length of sewers fully completed during the year, built under ordinances is 5.43 miles, costing $72,675.23.

In addition to the above, overflows from the East Side trunk sewer at Mt. Hope avenue and Griffith street have been built having a total length of 420 feet or 0.08 miles.

The following general information relating to the East Side trunk sewer may be of interest:

The total length of this sewer including its various completed overflows as shown by the statistics given in the book of records on file in this office is 10,917 miles made up as follows.

	Miles.
East Side trunk sewer from Genesee river to center of Mt. Hope avenue	8.450
Densmore creek overflow outlet from trunk sewer to Forest House road	0.627
University avenue overflow outlet from trunk sewer to Thomas creek	0.962
Griffith street dry weather flow outlet, sewer	0.096
Old 4th, 7th and 12th wards new storm water outlet under canal, canal feeder to river	0.436
Poplar street storm water outlet, Sanford street via Gregory street to Genesee river	0.266
Griffith street and Mt. Hope avenue branches of new storm water outlet under Erie canal and canal feeder	0.080
Total	10.917

This last work was done under the supervision of this office the past year.

It may also be stated in this report that the West Side trunk sewer has been fully completed during the past year. Of the total length of 18,331 feet or 3.47 miles, 6,960 feet, or 1.32 miles, is wholly within the city limits; 5,516 feet, or 1.04 miles, is built along the northerly city line, being partly in the city and partly in the town of Gates. The balance, 5,855 feet, or 1.11 miles, is wholly within the town of Gates.

An opportunity for carefully observing the character of the work on this sewer was offered to the public by the West Side trunk sewer commissioners on two occasions. First, for that portion east of the Erie canal, on November 17, 1896; and second, for that portion west of the Erie canal, on November 10, 1897. The inspections showed careful planning in all the details, and good, durable work.

BRIDGES.

The only work completed on bridges during the past year is the finishing of a small wooden truss bridge on the Westfall road across Red creek, at the southern boundary of Genesee Valley park. This bridge is on the line between the city of Rochester and the town of Brighton, and the cost was equally divided between the city and the town.

Work is now in progress by the state of New York upon a new lift bridge across the Erie canal on Exchange street. This bridge will be without overhead structure of any kind. The width of roadway is 50 feet, center to center of trusses, with sidewalks on each side 10 feet in width.

Work on the canal under the nine million dollar ($9,000,000) appropriation for the deepening of the canal, is in progress through the city, excepting across the Genesee river aqueduct. The plans for said work provide that the surface of the water in the canal shall not be changed, and therefore the bridges crossing the canal will not be interfered with by the new construction. The deepening of the canal 2 feet required the lowering of a number of water pipes and the following changes in sewers passing under the canal:

1. FAVOR STREET SEWER.

It was found to be feasible to divert the drainage of this small territory into the sewer in West avenue without detriment to anyone, and this was accordingly done, and the sewer crossing the canal north of West avenue bridge abandoned.

2. SCOTT ALLEY SEWER.

A modification in the cross section of this sewer was made which allowed the necessary depth in the canal, and at the same time did not interfere with the usefulness of the sewer. This work was done during last winter.

3. EXCHANGE STREET SEWER.

It was necessary to lower this sewer under the canal about 5 feet to allow for the construction of the pits for the new bridge. To admit of this lowering the sewer had to be reconstructed from a point about 50 feet south of Main street to the Erie canal. This work is now going on. That portion of the sewer under the canal will be built by the state in connection with the new bridge. Hydraulic cylinders for operating the bridge will drain into this sewer.

4. THE BRANCH OVERFLOWS

Of the new outlet for the Griffith street and Mt. Hope avenue territory were constructed with reference to the new bottom elevation of the canal.

The above comprises all the work of lowering sewers crossing the Erie canal, made necessary by deepening the canal.

FLOW OF THE GENESEE RIVER.

Measurements of the elevation of the water at the Court street dam have been continued during the year, as heretofore, and the tables corresponding thereto will be published, with others, in the report of the Executive Board.

STREET SPRINKLING.

Contracts have been prepared for the sprinkling of 280 streets or parts of streets, amounting in the aggregate to 85.3 miles, 1,612,653 square yards, and costing $25,587.35.

DRAFTING DEPARTMENT.

Mr. William M. Rebasz, Chief Draftsman, reports the following details of work done in this department for the year 1897:

One hundred and sixty-two original maps and plans for public improvements. This number includes those necessary for the preparation of all ordinances, whether finally adopted or not.

Three hundred and fifty-seven tracings of maps and plans of all kinds.

Four hundred and eighty-six blue prints for various purposes.

Sixty-eight maps accompanying statements showing details of cost of improvements were delivered to the Board of Assessors.

Thirty-four maps relating to street openings, encroachments, etc., were delivered to the Executive Board.

Fifty-two maps for use in legal proceedings were delivered to the Corporation Counsel. Also numerous photographs were taken for the use of the same official in pending damage suits.

Twelve streets have been renumbered under resolution of your honorable body. A list of streets having duplicate names was prepared at the request of your committee on streets and sewers. This list embraced about 200 streets. Considerable time was spent by your committee in the preparation of a report outlining a plan for relief from this nuisance. Your committee was assisted in this work by Mr. Rebasz. Final action has not yet been taken upon said report.

The work of bringing the record maps of public improvements up to date has progressed favorably during the year. If it is possible to devote the usual time to this work during the winter, the records will be complete to January 1, 1898, before opening work for the coming season.

Considerable work has also been done in this department for the Hemlock Lake Watershed Commissioners, also for the work under the charge of the East Side Trunk Sewer Commissioners.

Considerable time was also spent in the preparation of tables during the asphalt investigation; also for the tabulation and canvassing of the election returns.

During the year this office has been equipped with a large frame, made by the Morse Machine Company, of this city, for use in blue print work. This frame will take tracings 8 1-2 feet in length and 3 1-2 feet in width.

A camera suitable for use in taking such photographs as are required during the construction of work, has been added to the equipment of the office.

Considerable time was spent during a portion of the year in connection with the inquiry into asphalt pavements, instituted by the Improvement Committee. A large amount of valuable data was collected relative to the matter, most of it under a promise to send copies of the tables containing such data to the city officials furnishing me with the information desired. It is my intention, therefore, to include such tables, and other information relating to the construction of pavements in this city, in an appendix to my report to the Executive Board.

During the year your railroad Committee devoted much time in an effort to secure uniform pavements in streets occupied by street railway tracks, and finally arrived at an understanding with the Rochester Railway Company in regard to streets having been once improved, by which the said company agrees to pay sums equal to one-half the cost of a permanent pavement, for a width of 18 feet, when a street is re-paved. This arrangement is not binding upon either the railway company or the city except as it is adopted in the case of each particular street where an ordinance is passed for a re-pavement.

I would suggest a change in the method of house numbering, so that new numbers may be placed on all buildings when a street is re-numbered. As the Executive Board has supervision over this matter, and can compel owners to put on new numbers when a street is re-numbered under resolution of the Common Council, it will be necessary that the notifications to property owners be sent out in the name of the Board.

The employes of the office remained the same during the year as at the close of last, with one exception. Mr. A. L. Covill, transitman, resigned August 1st, to accept another position. Mr. H. R. Moulthrop, having passed the Civil Service examination, was temporarily assigned to duty as transitman, without raise of salary.

The appropriations for the expense of the office during the year should be $25,000.

In conclusion, I take pleasure in acknowledging the uniformly kind and courteous treatment, and valuable aid and counsel, received from the members of your honorable body, the Executive Board and its employes, and the various other departments of the city government; also the earnest and efficient service of all my assistants.

Respectfully submitted.

E. A. FISHER, City Engineer.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CITY CLERK.

City Clerk's Office,

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1897.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—Pursuant to section 11 of chapter 604 of the laws of 1895 I submit the following report showing the number of licenses issued by the Mayor during the fiscal year now closing; and the amount of revenue derived therefrom:

Cartmen	151	$151 00
Hackmen	49	49 00
Pawnbrokers	6	600 00
Theaters	5	300 00
Bill posters	4	40 00
Peddlers	143	715 00
Shows	8	160 00
Lunch wagons	4	200 00
Auctioneers	2	100 00

Totals

372 $2,315 00
The total revenue derived from licenses is less than in 1896—due principally to the fact that the peddlers' ordinance as amended exempts a large class who formerly were required to pay a license fee.

The number of Commissioners of deeds who have qualified during the year is 500, the receipts from which were $125.00, deposited with the Treasurer to the credit of the Contingent Fund.

Respectfully submitted,
THEODORE S. PULVER, City Clerk.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

By Ald. Cook—

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: Your Finance Committee beg leave to submit the following report:

In a communication to this Council dated November 23, 1897, the City Assessors requested that they be authorized to incur an expense of $2,000 for the services of a surveyor to assist them in preparing the assessment for the East Side trunk sewer.

The Assessors state that without the advice of a competent surveyor they will be unable to form an intelligent and just conclusion as to the manner in which the assessment should be graded. As the first assessment will be the guide for all future assessments it is very important that the territory receiving direct and indirect benefits be defined.

The maps necessary for the guidance of the assessors are being prepared by the City Engineer. This work has so far progressed that the Assessors can now avail themselves of the services of the expert assistant.

Your committee would therefore recommend that the Assessors be authorized to employ an expert assistant to prepare the East Side trunk sewer assessment at an expense not to exceed $2,000.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY G. COOK,
M. B. ADAMS,
J. C. WILSON,
JOSEPH A. CRANE,
J. MILLER KELLY.

Received, filed and published.

By Ald. Cook—Resolved, That the City Assessors be, and they hereby are authorized to employ a surveyor and such clerical help as may be necessary to assist in the preparation of the assessment for the East Side trunk sewer at an expense not to exceed $2,000.

Laid on table under the rules.

ANNUAL COMMITTEE REPORTS.

By Ald. Ford—

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CITY PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of Rochester:

Gentlemen: Your City Property Committee would respectfully submit the following statement, showing the condition of the fund in its charge, with expenditures therefrom to date, December 30, 1897, with accompanying explanation:

Receipts.
Balance from 1896	$ 3,817 33
Appropriation in tax levy	18,650 06
Rental of Front street city building	131 25
Sale of old materials	21 68
Total	$22,620 32
Expenditures.
Salaries	$ 5,270 18
Repairs, plumbing, etc.	2,832 08
Lighting city building	2,568 04
Furniture, electric wiring, etc.	6,602 74
Supplies	1,071 03
Coal	2,605 26
Miscellaneous	92 67
Balance, Dec. 30, 1897	1,111 90
Total	$22,620 32

The total of claims against the fund, audited but yet unpaid is $341.30. In addition to these there have been filed in the City Clerk's office bills against the fund amounting to $259.32. The amount of indebtedness contracted by your committee for necessary repairs, supplies, etc., bills for which have not yet been presented or filed, will not exceed $350.00.

Your committee is therefore able to report that after all bills have been paid and all indebtedness contracted by it has been discharged, there will still remain a balance to the credit of the fund.

For the consideration of the next council and its City Property Committee, your committee would recommend the purchase of a new boiler for the city hall building. The present boiler now in use has been operated nearly twenty-five years, and is no longer either safe or serviceable.

Respectfully submitted,
T. W. FORD,
M. J. CALIHAN,
M. B. ADAMS,
EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
W. H. TRACY.

LAW COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your Law Committee begs leave to report as required by the city charter, that it has held many meetings during the year and has transacted a great amount of important and routine business, which it is not deemed advisable to set forth at length in this report.

We have been assisted by members of the Law Department in our work, to whom we extend our acknowledgment for their services.

We do not present a detailed statement of the transactions of that department as has been the custom for many years because of the wish of the Corporation Counsel that he might present such a statement at the close of his official term of office.

With reference to the amount necessary to meet the expenses of the law department during the coming year, we recommend that a small appropriation be made for incidental expenses, in addition to the moneys required to meet the salaries of the members of the department.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
 M. B. ADAMS,
 EDWARD ENGLEHARDT,
 T. W. FORD,
 HENRY G. COOK,

Your committee views with satisfaction the existence of a surplus in the Poor Fund. This is especially gratifying when the increased demands upon the department are considered; there being at this time fifty more families upon the books than appeared at the close of the last fiscal year. The stone yard which has been in successful operation for the past four years, alleviating distress at a small cost to the city, and which has been the means of inculcating a self-sustaining spirit among the applicants for aid, will, in a short time, be again reopened to continue the work that has been productive of such beneficial results in the past. The transfer from this department to the Board of Health of all contagious disease cases, cannot be too highly commended. Prior to the inauguration of this system, when a contagious disease case was reported to the poor office, an investigator was detailed to inquire into the facts and necessities of the case. This employe, by reason of investigating ordinary cases and in the performance of his other routine duties, increased the danger of contagion in a marked degree. The mode of procedure now in vogue of immediately intrusting all contagious disease cases to the Board of Health, obviates all chances of spreading disease by this department and has had a salutary effect.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WATER WORKS COMMITTEE.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Rochester

Gentlemen: Your Water Works Committee herewith submit their annual report for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1897.

The number of petitions for the extension of water mains on file in the office of the Executive Board at the commencement of the year was 52, and the estimated cost of laying the pipes and appurtenances thus asked for, amounted to about $95,000. In addition thereto your committee was strongly urged to improve the inadequate water supply for fire protection in the northeastern quarter of the city by laying new large distributing mains in St. Joseph street, from Central avenue to Herman street; in Herman street, from St. Joseph street to Hudson avenue; in Hudson avenue, from Herman street to Drayton street; and in Cleveland street, from Hudson avenue to North street, at an estimated expense of $26,705. Also to provide about $4,800 for lowering eight (8) lines of water mains under the bed of the Erie canal, which was required by the superintendent of state public works to be done in advance of the proposed deepening of said canal.

After a careful consideration of the various petitions and requests, your committee decided to recommend that $50,000 be appropriated from the general tax levy of 1897, for the extension of certain small mains where most needed, the laying of a part of the large distributing mains, the enlarging of existing and laying of auxiliary pipes and lateral branches in streets where permanent pavements were contemplated; the lowering of pipes under the Erie canal, and reimbursement of parties who had advanced funds for extensions of mains during 1896.

On submitting these recommendations to your finance committee, it was deemed expedient to omit the laying of the aforesaid distributing mains, and to recommend an appropriation only of $20,000 for the other items above enumerated.

The following statement shows the available funds for such extensions and repayments, and also the amount advanced for a small extension which was asked for late in the autumn after the appropriation had been exhausted.

I.

Amount to the credit of the Water Pipe Extension Fund, January 1, 1897, mostly due on obligations incurred during 1896. $12,737 93

II.

Amount authorized to be raised by tax levy on March 30, 1896:

1. For extending mains, enlarging existing pipes in streets where permanent pavements were to be laid; and lowering eight (8) lines of pipe under Erie canal. $19,087 42
2. For repaying sums advanced by certain parties in 1896 for extensions of mains after the appropriation of that year had been exhausted. 912 58

20,000 00

III.

Amount paid into the city treasury by the Mutual Benefit Savings & Loan Association of Rochester, N. Y., for the extension of a 6-inch main in Glenwood avenue, from Oriole street to a point 83 feet west, under resolution of council, September 28, 1897. $120 00

Less amount returned, being the difference between the actual cost of the work and the sum advanced 23 51

Total amount placed to the credit of the water pipe fund. $32,834 42

As the said appropriation of $20,000 did not become available until about May 1, 1897, the unexpended balance of $12,737.93 to the credit of the fund at the beginning of the year was meanwhile used in paying the amounts retained from the final estimates of water pipe extension contracts performed in 1896, also in completing certain unfinished work, lowering the said mains under the Erie canal before the opening of navigation, and in the purchase of materials and payment of salaries.

Table No. I. hereto attached shows the extensions made in accordance with the direction of your committee and paid for out of the Water Pipe Extension Fund.

Table No. II. shows the extensions and alterations made in accordance with resolutions of the Common Council, and paid for out of the unexpended balance of $7,969.44 left in the Water Distributing System Fund, January 1, 1897.

These extensions and alterations consist in the laying of a 30-inch pipe and connections across Lyell avenue from Oak street to Thompson street, the replacement of the 8-inch domestic pipe in Exchange street, from Court street to Troup street by a 16-inch pipe and the replacement of small domestic and Holly pipes by large ones in Center street, from State street to Brown's race, and in Mill street, from Center street to Exchange place.

In consequence of the passage of certain statute laws which permit the Executive Board to supply water from the city mains to premises adjoining the city limits in the towns of Brighton, Greece, Gates and Irondequoit, several private individuals and corporations applied to said board during the past year for such use, and have been allowed to lay pipes and appurtenances in different localities at their own expense as set forth in Table No. III., hereto attached.

It may be remarked in this connection that the Executive Board is authorized by the statutes mentioned, to determine the expediency of granting such applications, and is directed "to collect for the water thus furnished in addition to the rates established and in force for like uses of water in said city, such further sum as shall seem to said board to be just and equitable;" Also that in pursuance of such direction, said board has decided to charge for such use of water, an annual payment of one-half of one per cent. of the value of all property thus supplied, together with a charge of 20 cents per 1,000 gallons to private individuals, and 14 cents per 1,000 gallons to manufacturing establishments, for all water so consumed.

Table No. IV. shows the amounts refunded to various parties by whom the cost of extending water mains was advanced in 1896 after the appropriation for extending water mains had been exhausted subject to repayment without interest, also the streets in which such extensions were made.

The only advance during the past year for the extension of water pipe within the city was by the Mutual Benefit Savings & Loan Association of Rochester, N. Y., for the laying of a 6-inch domestic main in Glenwood avenue, from Oriole street to a point 93 feet west of the west line of Oriole street as per resolution of the Common Council, dated September 28, 1897. The actual cost of this work was $96.49 which is to be returned to said association without interest at the pleasure of the Common Council.

The description, length and cost of water mains which have been laid in the years 1890, 1891, 1892 and 1895, with funds advanced by private parties and for which no reimbursement has yet been made by the city, as all but one of the streets, Westminster street laid in 1895, have not yet been dedicated to public use, are detailed in Table No. V.

During the past year 3.43 miles of pipe regarded as new water mains have been laid, and 1.25 miles of smaller pipe have been removed. After deducting the length of all pipes removed there are now in the city 273.11 miles of water mains, of which 254.49 belong to the domestic system and 18.62 to the Holly system.

There have been added during the year 38 fire hydrants of which 37 are on the domestic and one on the Holly system.

The total number of hydrants in the city is now 2,690, of which 2,395 are on the domestic and 295 are on the Holly system. Furthermore 15 fire hydrants have been set on private lines of large service pipe connected with the domestic system in the outskirts, namely 3 at the Monroe County Alms House and Penitentiary, 1 at the works of the Standard Sewer Pipe Company on the continuation of Lexington avenue in the town of Gates and eleven (11) at the Kodak Park Works in the town of Greece. All of these private hydrants are sealed and are to be used only in case of fire.

The number of stop valves in water mains has also been increased during the season by 78, of which 73 are on the domestic and 5 on the Holly system. The total number of such valves now in place is 2,753, of which 2,495 are on the domestic and 258 on the Holly system; and there are also 462 stop valves in large service pipes.

It may also be added that 42 petitions for extending water mains are now on file in the office of the Executive Board and that the estimated cost of complying with the work requested is about $85,000.

The relative merits of these various demands together with the question of providing for larger distributing mains in the Seventh and Eighth wards as above mentioned, are left to the consideration of the next committee.

Respectfully submitted,

DeVILLO WHITE SELYE,
T. W. FORD,
JAMES JOHNSTON,
STEPHEN RAUBER,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LAMP AND ELECTRICITY COMMITTEE.

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen: Your Committee on Lamps and Electricity would respectfully submit the following report on the transactions of the department of lamps and electricity for the year ending December 31, 1897:

The contract under which the city has been lighted for the past five years expired July 1, 1897. Acting under resolution of your honorable body, your committee advertised for and received bids. The advertisement was so worded that the city would get the benefit of competition from the Citizens' Light & Power Co., a company young in the field and having no contract with the city. When the bids were opened it was found that the Citizens Light & Power Co. had only bid on a portion of the city, and not on the city as a whole. The bids of the Rochester Gas & Electric Co. covered both propositions. Their bid of 25 cents per night for lights of 2,000 candle power, and 20 cents per night for incandescent arcs, meant a saving of about $68,000 to the people of Rochester, when compared with the bid of the Citizens Light & Power Co. Your committee, therefore, reported in favor of awarding the contract to this company. Your honorable body saw fit to act favorably upon our recommendation, and at once directed the mayor to execute a five-year contract with the Rochester Gas & Electric Co., on the terms as mentioned above. The contract was so executed, and is now in full force.

Your committee deems it not out of place at this time to congratulate the people of our beautiful city, on the reputation of being the best-lighted city in the United States. In fact, there are only three or four cities in the whole world that so nearly turn night into day as does Rochester. We believe that the money that this costs is well expended. We believe the people want, not only the comfort which comes from a well-lighted city, but the feeling of security. The robber, sneak thief and thug are the only enemies of a well-lighted municipality.

During the past year the city has been further beautified, and made more metropolitan by the removal of overhead wires and unsightly poles.

As shown by the annexed tables, the expense of the street lighting for the year has been $212,635.04. The system has been extended by the addition of 241 lamps; one hundred and twenty-three 2,000 C. P. arcs and one hundred and eighteen incandescent arcs. Thirty-three 2,000 C. P. lights have been discontinued, leaving a net increase during the year of ninety lamps. One gas lamp has been added, and eighty-three discontinued.

During the year the incandescent arc system has been extended on West avenue, from Erie canal to Madison street; on State street, from Center street to Lyell avenue; on South St. Paul street, from Main street to Court street; on Court street, from South St. Paul street to Clinton street; on Mill street, from Exchange place to Central avenue; Exchange street, from Main street to Adams street.

The past year the Rochester Gas & Electric Co., in accordance with the terms of their contract with the city, have extended their underground conduit system on the streets, and for the distances shown in the following statement:

ESTIMATED COST OF LIGHTING FOR 1898.

2,160 arc lights, 25c ...	$197,100 00

At present 14 arc lights at 25c	1,277 50
	2,226 50

It is somewhat difficult for your committee to estimate accurately the number of lights that will be added during the coming year, but we feel that in any event, the number ought not to exceed one hundred, divided about as follows:

25 lights increase for 12 months	$2,281 25
25 lights increase for 9 months	1,710 90
25 lights increase for 6 months	1,140 60
25 lights increase for 3 months	570 30
	5,703 05

Salary	300 00
Total	$231,343 10
Balance on hand	2,369 18

Appropriation needed$228,973 92

In making up the above estimate no allowance has been made for cost of gas lamps that will be discontinued, when arc lights are placed in the territory now lit by gas. This is an impossible proposition to figure upon, as no one can know the exact location of the new arc lights, until they are ordered by the Common Council. It is, however, a fair proposition to allow this estimate on gas lamps to stand, as the small difference would probably be used up in incidental expenses, for which no estimate has been made. Experience has shown that the item of incidental expenses runs into several hundred dollars each year, and consists of such items as the removal of old lamps, posts, etc.
